Brelsch,	Mihm,	Mills,	Stroup,
Breth,

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk return the same to the Senate with information that the House has passed the same with amendments in which the concurrence of the Senate is requested.

Agreeably to order.

The House proceeded to the consideration on final passage of Senate Bill No. 603, entitled:

An Act relating to sewerage facilities in realty subdivisions imposing duties on the recorders of deeds and prescribing penalties.

RECONSIDERATION OF VOTE

Mr. LIPPINCOTT. Mr. Speaker, I move that the vote by which this bill passed third reading be reconsidered.

Mr. ROYER. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

On the question recurring.

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. LIPPINCOTT asked unanimous consent to offer an amendment at this time.

The SPEAKER. The amendment will be read by the Clerk for information.

Amend Sec. 2, page 2, line 10, by striking out "subdivisions" and inserting in lieu thereof "subdivision's".

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent to the offering of an amendment at this time? Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendment?

Mr. STIMMEL. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Delaware, Mr. Lippincott.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Delaware, Mr. Lippincott, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. LIPPINCOTT. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. STIMMEL. Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman please explain what these amendments do.

Mr. LIPPINCOTT. The amendment that was just offered merely adds an apostrophe to one word in the bill. The amendment was requested by the Legislative Reference Bureau and was necessary to put the bill in proper shape.

Mr. STIMMEL. I thank the gentleman.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

They were agreed to.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading as amended?

It was agreed to.

Ordered, that the bill as amended lie over for printing.

BILLS ON THIRD READING

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. McCORMACK asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, during the debate on the radar bill, I made a statement to the effect that the Republican party was trying to kill the bill and bury it. I find as a result of the vote, I was very wrong and I congratulate them on their statesmanship.

MOTION TO INSTRUCT CONFERENCE COMMITTEE

Mr. McCORMACK. Mr. Speaker, I move that the Conference Committee on the part of the House appointed on Senate Bill No. 97, Printer's No. 147, be instructed to not recede from the amendments inserted by the House.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. McCORMACK. Mr. Speaker, this was the motion that was required after my parliamentary inquiry this morning with respect to whether or not it was competent for the House to instruct a conference committee.

Senate Bill 97 is the wire tap bill. As we passed it in the House, we permitted the district attorneys, the Attorney General and the heads of police departments to apply to the court of quarter sessions for permission to tap a wire, I do not want to go into that.

Of course, the Senate failed to concur in our amendments. A conference committee was appointed, and I offer this motion with my colleague, Mr. Ellberg, at this time to instruct the conference committee appointed by this House to keep the bill the way it was passed in the House and not to recede from the amendments that we made in this House at the time the bill passed the vote.

Mr. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, I would like to speak briefly on the motion.

If there is one thing this House stands for it is that we have the greatest confidence in our committee system. We stick by our committees in this House whether we are in the minority or whether we are in the majority. I, personally, have the greatest amount of confidence in our conference committees. We certainly do not want to send anybody into a conference committee fully instructed. If that were the case, we might just as well resolve ourselves here into a committee of the whole and do the conference jobs ourselves. Therefore, I ask you to vote down this motion.

Another reason I submit is, there are members of the minority on this conference committee, both in the House and Senate, as well as Members of the majority who have another chance to vote on the conference report when the conference report is presented. If we do not like the conference report, we can vote that down and discharge the conferees and appoint a new conference committee. So I think the rights of everybody are protected. I think it would establish a dangerous precedent here to try to instruct a conference committee on how they should write, or not write, a conference report.

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, I rise to oppose this motion also.

To pass a motion of this kind could very definitely kill this bill, whereas, if it goes into the hands of a conference committee that is not instructed, it is possible to save the bill.

It is obvious that the majority conferees are in accord with the thinking of the gentleman who made the motion from the prevailing side and that is the reason why the House passed the bill as it did. So by assumption I believe he can be quite assured those conferees and the majority in the House will go into that conference committee and advocate the bill as he sees it. It would be the height of folly, in my opinion, to so instruct this committee, because if the Senate refused to budge we would not have a conference report; we could not have one. As it is now this bill will come back in one form or another in all probability for us to pass on, and as Mr. Johnson has very properly said, if this House by that time changes its mind about its original decision, we can discharge our conferees and appoint others in accordance with our thinking.

Mr. LEONARD. Mr. Speaker, both Floor Leaders have expressed my sentiments 100 percent.

MOTION WITHDRAWN

Mr. McCORMACK. Mr. Speaker, I would like to withdraw the motion if my colleague will agree with me.

BILLS PASSED OVER

The SPEAKER. Without objection, the remaining bills on today's calendar will be passed over. The Chair hears none.

Governor's Office, Harrisburg, June 12, 1957.

To the Honorable, the House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

I have the honor to inform you that I have this day approved and signed House Concurrent Resolution recalling from the Governor House Bill No. 974, Printer's No. 294, for the purpose of amendment.

Accordingly, the original bill is herewith returned.

GEORGE M. LEADER

RECONSIDERATION OF VOTE

Mr. WILLIAMS. Mr. Speaker, I move that the vote by which this bill passed finally be reconsidered.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The SPEAKER. How did the gentleman from Washington, Mr. Williams vote on the first passage of this bill?

Mr. WILLIAMS. Mr. Speaker, I voted with the prevailing side.

The SPEAKER. How did the gentleman from Greene, Mr. McCann vote on the final passage of this bill?

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, I voted with the prevailing side.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

It was agreed to.

Mr. WILLIAMS. Mr. Speaker, I move that the vote by which this bill passed third reading be reconsidered.

The motion was agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. WILLIAMS asked unanimous consent to offer an amendment at this time.

The SPEAKER. The amendment will be read by the Clerk for information.

Amend the title, page 1, line 8 of the title, by inserting after "shall" "hold examinations and to designate the boards before whom."

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent to the offering of an amendment at this time? Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendment?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading as amended?

It was agreed to.

Ordered, That the bill as amended lie over for printing.

RESOLUTION

CONGRATULATIONS

Mrs. PASHLEY, Mrs. ANDERSON, Messrs. TOLL and AMARANDO offered a resolution which was read, considered and unanimously adopted as follows:

In the House of Representatives, June 12, 1957.

Whereas, today is the birthday of the Honorable Mary A. Varallo, a member of the House of Representatives, and Chairman of the State Democratic Caucus of the House of Representatives; and

Whereas, the Honorable Mary A. Varallo is the first woman to hold such high office in the House history; and

Whereas, the Honorable Mary A. Varallo is serving her sixth term as a Representative from Philadelphia and is President of the Women's Democratic Club of Philadelphia; and

Whereas, the Honorable Mary A. Varallo has always been a leading champion of women's rights and has always been fighting for the needy, the sick, and those benefitted by the program for Health, Welfare and Education; now therefore, be it

Resolved, that the members of the House of Representatives congratulates the Honorable Mary A. Varallo on her birthday and extends best wishes for her health and her further success in her endeavors; and be it further Resolved, that a copy of this Resolution be presented to the Honorable Mary A. Varallo and her husband Alfred.

The SPEAKER. The Chair recognizes the lady from Philadelphia, Mrs. Varallo, and wishes her a very happy birthday.

Mrs. VARALLO. Mr. Speaker, and Members of the House, I did not know that anyone knew that today was my birthday.

As soon as I walked into the Hall today a Page boy stopped me and handed me an envelope. I looked at the envelope and it was a birthday greeting from Mr. Gibson, the Whip on the other side of the House.

Then I came over and sat at my desk and I saw the beautiful birthday greetings from Speaker Helm.

I want to thank the Speaker, Mr. Gibson and all the Members of the House for this lovely resolution. Thank you very much.

MEMBERS CONGRATULATED

The SPEAKER. The Chair is also informed that today is the birthday of the gentleman from Cameron, Mr. Rovanssek, and the gentleman from Forest, Mr. Davis. The Chair congratulates them.

LEAVE OF ABSENCE

By unanimous consent leave of absence was granted as follows:

Mr. Petrosky for Mr. BRETH for today.

RECESS

The SPEAKER. Without objection, the Chair will declare a recess until 7:00 p. m. EST. The Chair hears none, and a recess is declared.

AFTER RECESS

The time of recess having expired, the House was called to order.

The SPEAKER (W. Stuart Helm) IN THE CHAIR

The SPEAKER. The Chair requests the gentleman from Lancaster, Mr. Murray, Chairman of the Program Committee to preside.

Mr. PAUL G. MURRAY PRESIDING

The CHAIRMAN. This evening we pause in our deliberations and lay aside political differences to pay tribute to the leadership of this House, and to express our gratitude to them for the superb job they have done this session of 1957.

The House Legislative Chorus, under the direction of the gentleman from Delaware, Mr. DENGLER, and consisting of Messrs. CIOFFI, DeLONG, FILO, GOODLING, IDE, GRAMLICH, JUMP, LOPRESTI, WENDELL H. MILLER, NAUGLE, ROVANSEK and WEIDNER rendered the following selections:

"Battle Hymn of the Republic"—Waring Arrangement

"All Kinds of Women"—Daniel

"Johnny Schmoker"—Dengler-Walton Arrangement

The Chorus was accompanied by Miss Virginia Gramlich on the piano.

Selections were rendered by Mr. LIPPINCOTT on the harmonica and a duet by Mr. LIPPINCOTT and Mr. Johnson, followed by group singing.

The CHAIRMAN. The Chair wishes to thank Mr. Dengler and the Legislative Chorus for a splendid performance.

RESOLUTION

CONGRATULATING THE SPEAKER

Mr. JOHNSON offered a resolution which was read by Mr. Post as follows:

In the House of Representatives, June 12, 1957.

In this, the 142nd Session of the General Assembly, the House of Representatives has again witnessed the wisdom of selecting as its Speaker, a man of not only outstanding legislative ability but also one who has demonstrated that fairness and impartiality are essential ingredients of leadership.

The Honorable W. Stuart Helm, as Speaker of this House, has fully justified the confidence of the members in electing him to this all-important position and he has well earned the admiration and respect of his colleagues by the outstanding manner in which he has conducted the proceedings of this legislative body.

His eminent fairness in every ruling made from the chair and his honest desire to allow every person to be heard has instilled in every member of this House a feeling of good fellowship, and a sense of pride in our presiding officer. Throughout this entire session of the Legislature, when at times tensions were long and tempers short, our Speaker has remained a source of strength which could always be depended upon to maintain an orderly and businesslike atmosphere. His honest and patient determination has been a prime factor in bringing this session to a speedy and successful conclusion; therefore be it

Resolved, That this House of Representatives hereby congratulates the Honorable W. Stuart Helm for the success with which he has accomplished the difficult tasks of Speaker of the House of Representatives and for the position of leadership and personal popularity he has attained; and be it further

Resolved, That we, as individual members of this House of Representatives, thank him for his courteous treatment of all questions which have been raised, and for the proficiency in handling the affairs of this legislative body in a business-like manner; and be it further

Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be transmitted by the Chief Clerk to the Honorable W. Stuart Helm.

On the question,

Will the House adopt the resolution?

The CHAIRMAN. The Chair recognizes the Majority Leader, the gentleman from McKean, Mr. Johnson.

Mr. JOHNSON. Mr. Chairman, tonight we are gathered together in what we call our farewell ceremony. I want to say to those who are here tonight as our guests, our visitors, I welcomed you to the Hall of the House on our opening day back in January, and we welcome you again tonight to see us in the closing hours of what we hope will go down in history as a very fine, outstanding legislative session.

The large volume of books that you see on the desks of the Members are but mute testimony of long hours of hard work that have gone into this session, wherein we as Members have honestly and fairly tried to legislate wisely and well for the good of our great Commonwealth.

In order to have an orderly session, in order to have our proceedings go along in a fair, impartial and orderly manner, it was necessary that we elect as our Speaker a man who unquestionably could do the job.

In the gentleman from Armstrong, Mr. Helm, we found that very person. I am sure all of you join with me in stating that he certainly has been an outstanding Speaker. He has certainly conducted each session of this General Assembly with promptness, with exactitude and with great order. He has brought credit, not only to himself, but to the General Assembly as well.

As I have said at this microphone, we of the General Assembly this session have tried to raise ourselves in the esteem of the people of this state. I believe we have accomplished this job by our promptness, by our forthrightness and by the job we have done here day after day since we went into session in January.

Our Speaker, as well as all of us, has worked hard. None of us realize, I am sure, that after a day's session is over, down in his office he has additional duties to perform, bills to refer to committees, Members to see about their various problems, various contacts with the Senate, and other jobs to do besides presiding over this august assembly.

I am sure we all know that he has done the job capably and well. I am sure tonight you all join me in congratulating our Speaker on a job well done, and we certainly wish him many, many better things in the days to come.

The CHAIRMAN. The Chair recognizes the Minority Leader, the gentleman from Berks, Mr. Readinger.

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Chairman, fellow Members and guests, I sensed when the Chairman called on me a few moments ago that I was being called in error, but I am happy to say that I am pleased to play second fiddle to a great Majority Leader in paying tribute to our great Speaker.

The other day when I was asked to say a few words in connection with the resolution in tribute to the Speaker, I started to think of the nice things I could say about Mr. Helm. I got interrupted at the moment and later on when I got thinking about it again, I said to myself, well, why should I bother thinking about this in advance because the only things I ever think about the Speaker are nice things, so I will just wait until the night comes and I will say some of them.

It has been a pleasure to serve under the leadership of Speaker Helm. I have known him a long time, and I know he is a man of great intellect and integrity. When he was elected Speaker last January I knew that when this session came to a close every one of us would agree that he had been a fair, efficient and a very excellent speaker.

I take great pleasure in paying tribute to him tonight.

The CHAIRMAN. The Chair recognizes our elder statesman and former Speaker, the gentleman from Cambria, Mr. Andrews.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Chairman, were I privileged to play the part of wisdom, I would yield in favor of the gentleman from Delaware and ask the privilege of filing my remarks for the record.

You know, this is the only night in the session when we deal with facts and rate men as they are. The by-play of yesterday is frequently the fiction and this night is invariably the truth.

Now all that I had expected to say has been said in the very eloquent resolution by the gentleman from McKean and by the gentleman from Berks. Nevertheless, I feel that I should sing my own individual litany of gratitude, and say what is in my heart about our Speaker, and perhaps a few rambling words about this House and its past.

So tonight it is my happy mission to be privileged on behalf of the membership of this House to express our mutual regard and growing affection for the gentleman from Armstrong, the Speaker of this House, who as far as we are concerned and as far as the majority is concerned, has established himself in our affections and in our memories.

Of course, I realize that what we say tonight is "Like poppies spread

A moment bright, their bloom is shed" or

"Like the snowfall in the river

A moment white, then gone forever."

But, Mr. Chairman, memories and achievements survive. It is a sobering thought that every act and thought of ours are realities that we cast into the stream of life and once in that stream they never can be removed. They are realities that become an abiding part of the current until that current merges with the eternal sea beyond. Every action and thought plays its own part in either purifying or contaminating that remorseless stream, and we can all be proud tonight that our Speaker, in his official functioning and in his private and personal living, has not functioned as a corroding force.

Mr. Chairman, Speakers of this House are links in a chain, a chain that represents our traditions and our practices, and each Speaker, in his turn, consciously or unconsciously, leaves his imprint for better or for worse upon our parliamentary pattern. For better or for worse, Speakers come and go, but the pattern the Speaker inherits is never quite the same when he departs.

I doubt whether any Member of this House, other than myself, can testify as a witness to actual happenings on this floor in the past which emphasize the extent of the changes that have been made in this body, changes brought by the years, changes brought by each succeeding Speaker.

As real old timers, Eddie Moore and I are survivors of the old guard—a member who struggled to turn the tide against things as they were, and Eddie Moore, was, in the main, the engineer who drew the blueprints for our existing order.

As a newspaper man my memories of this House run back to 1903. My observations of this House as a Member began in 1933. When I first knew Harrisburg, the redlight district was the area between the Capitol building and the railroad tracks. Some Members of this House in those days brought their redlight companions into this very Chamber and sometimes seated them in the seats of the Members on the floor of this House while the House was in session.

I in my time have seen inebriated men reel down the aisles of this House, fall flat on their faces in the aisles and be literally dragged out, profanely protesting, as the Sergeant-at-Arms was dragging them out.

Pending legislation or desire to address the House are now privileged. Members who want to address the House can do so, but there was a time when Members who desired to speak against legislation favored by the House leadership were silenced after one minute by a motion of the previous question. There was a time when Members telegraphed their disapproval of what was being said by clattering the ink stands on their desks.

I have seen Members of this House rise in their places, clamor for recognition, and failing to secure it, stood on their desks, shouting, "Mr. Speaker, Mr. Speaker," while the business of the House was conducted at the desk as though nothing was happening, and no one knew what was happening except the Speaker, the Majority Leader and the Parliamentarian. The Parliamentarian and the Majority Leader, I repeat, were the only ones who had the faintest notion of what was going on.

Members of this House would be greatly surprised if suddenly someone began throwing spitballs or tossing wads of paper torn from their files, or actually tossing the files themselves. Eddie Moore and I can remember the day when a Member of this House, an exuberant soul, mounted into the gallery and, from that exalted perch, tossed a heavy file, one of these files you see on the desk, in the direction of a political foe.

I do not have the time, nor would you have the patience that would permit me, to recall all of the incidents that once conspired to convert this very House into a parliamentary chamber of horrors. But the scene has changed because throughout the years we have had Speakers and a Parliamentarian who is a perfectionist, a Parliamentarian who has never ceased to plan procedures designed to dignify our parliamentary practices. Our Parliamentarian and our present Speaker make a great team.

Speaker Helm has the happy faculty of being dignified without ever being pompous. There are some men, you know, who can positively strut sitting down. Speaker Helm is not that sort of person. In the rough and tumble of daily living we place a great value upon physical reactions. Sometimes physical reactions are the means and the price of survival, but important as they are, moral reactions are more significant.

A Speaker of this House must be honest intellectually. Stuart Helm does not need to ponder in order to be honest; he is honest instinctively. A Speaker should be fair and impartial in his rulings. Stuart Helm is fair and impartial instinctively. The man has a core of integrity that not even power can tarnish. He has a dry wit that frequently relieves tension, just as he has a passion for precision. He perhaps comes more nearly achieving push-button perfection in the handling of the interminable parliamentary routine that tries patience and stamina than any of those who have served in the post in our House.

As we near the end of the session, our Speaker may envision the end of his trials and tribulations, but not so. The duties of his office will pursue him. He may find that he is like the man who sad and disconsolate, heard a voice that said: "Cheer up my friend! Cheer up, for things could be worse." So he cheered up and sure enough things got worse.

And now, Mr. Chairman, I would be remiss if I did not pronounce my own individual litany of gratitude, gratitude to the Speaker for his continuing thoughtful consideration; to the Majority Leader, a man who charms and constantly amazes me. He has the happy faculty of being able to stir up partisan fires without engendering personal rancor. And speaking for this side of the House, I might remark he has done a really wonderful job in a sadly mistaken cause.

Again and again I salute the Parliamentarian who has served this House with all the devotion a mother accords an idiot child,—a phrase I have borrowed.

I salute the Minority leader whose gift for untarnished and unrequited friendship will ever be a cherished memory.

I salute the Chief Clerk, the Secretary, and the staff that assists them. Without the services of that staff, there would be no record of our doings, and without those assistants we would flounder in a maze from which we could not extricate ourselves.

I salute the competent Minority Caucus Chairlady. I say that has been a soultrying job.

I want to recommend to the consideration of all and sundry the gentleman from Lancaster, who I am sure is a purchasing agent supreme. I salute the Members of the majority and I say blessed be the minority. You know, the majority wins all the battles, but the minority wins the war. Peruse the records of legislation the stone rejected today becomes the cornerstone tomorrow. Legislation sneered at and rejected a decade or two ago is now accepted as commonplace. I say to the freshmen Members of this House, rejoice while you can because the few partisan victories you win today will be forgotten tomorrow. Those partisan victories are the yeast of progress rather than the bread.

I speak to this House in behalf of the dignity with which our offices are clothed. The world is on the march. Nations long sleeping are intoxicated with a new wine they are pouring into old bottles. We do not know the goal that marching millions will achieve we only know that our world will never be the same again.

However perilous the future, the greatest of all disasters would be to retreat. The pendulum swings. It is our part to steady it on the upbeat. We, the Members of this House, are a part of the world scene, but our direct responsibility comprises 11 million people for whom we function as a legislative staff. We will function well only so long as the sometimes flickering flame of conscience, which we can never, never entirely kill, however much we try, consumes the dross of self interest, a conscience which dedicates itself to the service of the millions whose servants and agents we are. Is it not better to serve the millions than just to serve oneself?

In closing, Mr. Chairman, I again salute our Speaker, a gentleman unafraid.

On the question recurring,

Will the House adopt the resolution?

It was unanimously adopted by a rising vote.

The CHAIRMAN. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Lancaster, Mr. Royer.

Mr. ROYER. Mr. Chairman, it is indeed a great honor and a privilege to be chosen to present our gift to the Speaker.

May I now direct my remarks to the Speaker of the House:

We, of the House, consider ourselves fortunate in having you as our Speaker because of the many qualities of dignified leadership which you possess and have exhibited. The confidence we placed in you at the beginning of the session has been more than fulfilled.

In the matter of punctuality, we knew that the gavel would fall at the appointed hour.

As to order and decorum, I have never seen it in a finer degree. Wasted time was kept to a minimum.

Your honesty and integrity have earned you the highest esteem of the entire membership.

You have presided over this House as a Speaker should, with fairness and without partiality to any group or any person. Your leadership has been an inspiration to all Members and has elevated to a higher level, the esteem in which the public holds this legislative body.

To use the words of Pope, you have conducted your office as a "Statesman, yet friend of truth, of soul sincere, in action faithful, and in honor clear, who broke no promise, served no private end, who gain'd no title and who lost no friend, ennobled by himself, by all approved."

It is said the most essential thing for happiness is the gift of friendship. The gift which we have selected for you is an expression of our friendship and we hope it will be thoroughly enjoyed by you, Mrs. Helm, and your daughters.

Will the gentleman from Armstrong, Mr. Helm and Mrs. Helm, present themselves in the well of the House.

Mr. Speaker on behalf of your colleagues, the Members of this House, I present to you our gift, a magnificent color TV set.

The CHAIRMAN. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Armstrong, Mr. Helm, the Speaker of the House of Representatives.

Mr. HELM. Mr. Chairman, ladies and gentlemen of the House, and friends, I think the best expression that I could possibly use at this moment is, thank you from the bottom of our hearts.

I want to thank you on this occasion for permitting me to be your Speaker during the 1957-58 session.

It has been said that anticipation is better than reality. In some cases this may be true. Serving as your Speaker, however, has proven to be far better than I had expected or hoped—mainly because of you.

I would not want you to think by the foregoing statement, however, that all of it has been a "bed of roses." What is, that is worthwhile?

It was my good fortune, prior to assuming my present position, to have served as a Member under Speakers of outstanding characteristics. This, coupled with S. Edward Moore, the House Parliamentarian, gave me the background and the "right arm" that to my mind are necessary requisites for any potential Speaker.

I think it is fitting at this moment to publicly express my sincere gratitude to Eddie for his guidance and co-operation. Whether you, the Members, know it or not, he is the guiding light not only here on the floor of the House, but also on the first floor of the Capitol, where we occupy adjoining offices. Without him it would have been impossible to carry on with any degree of efficiency.

Of course, my thanks goes to many, many others. At the moment I would like to mention but a few.

First, I would like to express my thanks and sincere appreciation to my wife and my two daughters, for having them permit me to serve as a part-time husband and father. I am sure there are many times they have seen Daddy leave for Harrisburg that they would have been much happier to have had him stay at home. They have been very understanding and I do appreciate it very deeply.

To the gentleman from McKean, Mr. Johnson, and to the gentleman from Warren, Mr. Gibson, I consider your team work unsurpassed. I am sure a common interest made it so.

To the leadership of the Minority Party, your cooperation has contributed immeasurably to the efficient conduct of business in this House.

To the officers and employes of the House, certainly you deserve your rightful share of credit in helping to give the people of this Commonwealth what I think, and what I like to think, was a fruitful session. Please accept my sincere thanks.

To my staff, I take this opportunity to thank them for their wonderful cooperation. Permit me to say that I was lucky to surround myself with a group that was of a single mind, and that to be of service to you, the Members of this House. They have performed that function without question.

I would certainly be remiss if I did not express my sincere thanks and appreciation to every Member of this House, regardless of party. You have been fair, you have been considerate, and believe me I really appreciate it from the bottom of my heart.

It was my aim, and I believe that to some degree the mark has been met, to make this a congenial, friendly session. Perhaps to some of you my gestures were superfluous and unnecessary in the conduct of making laws. I hope, however, these demonstrations of friendliness will be remembered as a part of this session.

There are so many, many things I will remember about this session. Among them, of course, the cherry "Hello" that I received on the rostrum one day from the lady from Philadelphia, Miss Duffy; the outstanding cooperation that I received from the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. O'Brien; and of course, I must mention this last gentleman, with his keen sense of fairness, the gentleman from Westmoreland, Mr. Lovett.

To every Member on the majority side, may I express to you my sincere appreciation for your extreme loyalty which has never faltered for one instance.

I suppose it could be said of me that I am a sentimentalist. I am sentimental to the extent that at the beginning of the session I started a scrapbook. Today it is filled with expressions of friendliness, mementos and an odd assortment of items which will be meaningful to my family and myself in future years. For all of this, I simply say thank you.

In closing, I would like to remind you that we represent our counties at least until December 31, 1958. The facilities and services of the Speaker's office are open to one and all until that time.

Thank you all from the very, very bottom of my heart.

The CHAIRMAN. The Chair recognizes the Chief Clerk of the House, Mr. Lloyd H. Wood.

The CHIEF CLERK. Mr. Chairman, I was thinking today that up until this session about 70 distinguished Pennsylvanians have presided over the House of Representatives of the General Assembly. The record they have compiled is spread upon the brighter pages of the history of this Commonwealth.

Our Speaker has added further luster to that already brilliant record. You have been advised that he has presided over this House impartially. He possesses poise and an intimate knowledge of the legislative process. He has judiciously, you have also been told, injected his dry and engaging sense of humor into the proceedings, thereby preventing tensions from running too high.

He is extremely capable and efficient and is dedicated to the duties of his office.

Mr. Speaker, it is my happy and cherished privilege to present to you, whom I choose to characterize as a personality of pure gold, as a symbol of your office, a gavel of pure ivory.

The CHAIRMAN. The chair recognizes the Speaker of the House, Mr. Helm.

The SPEAKER. Mr. Chief Clerk and Members, I have been present here and witnessed this presentation on eight former sessions. Little did I realize two years ago that the pleasure of receiving such a gift as this would be mine tonight.

I can assure it will be one of my most prized mementos, and something that will bring back fond memories to me over the years to come. Thank you very much.

The CHAIRMAN. The chair recognizes the gentleman from Warren, Mr. Gibson, the Majority Whip.

RESOLUTION

CONGRATULATING THE MAJORITY LEADER

Mr GIBSON offered a resolution which was read by Mr. Post as follows:

In the House of Representatives, June 12, 1957.

The Honorable Albert W. Johnson has throughout this session of the General Assembly served tirelessly, faithfully, and with outstanding ability as the Majority Leader of the House of Representatives.

Though this arduous task is not a new one to Mr. Johnson, it is one which requires sincere devotion and unselfish giving from a deep reservoir of intelligence and understanding. "Al" Johnson has again proven himself most capable of the duties entrusted to him.

Mr. Johnson's honesty, friendliness, straightforwardness, and his even temper have enabled him to discuss matters of importance with persons of diverse opinions and to reach mutually satisfactory solutions. That quality of friendly, though steadfast leadership which he has continuously displayed, has gained for him the admiration and respect of every member of this legislative body.

Albert W. Johnson's thorough knowledge of the law and the workings of our State government, together with his amicability and unusual understanding of human nature combine to make him one of the most outstanding legislators to ever set foot in these halls, therefore be it

RESOLVED, That a copy of this resolution be transmitted by the Chief Clerk to the Honorable Albert W. Johnson as a token of the friendly esteem in which he is held by each member of this House of Representatives.

On the question,

Will the House adopt the resolution?

The CHAIRMAN. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Warren, Mr. Gibson.

Mr. GIBSON. Mr. Chairman and Members of the House, you have heard the reading of the resolution. We have heard glorifying oratory of the Minority Whip, the former Speaker, Mr. Andrews. We have heard Mr. Johnson and Mr. Readinger speak in glowing phrases of our Speaker.

All of this falls short of the thoughts and feelings in our heart, not only for the Speaker, but for the work horse on the floor. This is Al Johnson's second time around the track. A little while ago when Al Readinger said he could only think good thoughts of Stuart Helm, it reminded me of a little story that may be appropriate here.

We have dealt a good deal in this session with topics in which psychiatrists have been involved. This was a chap who felt the need of a psychiatrist. The psychiatrist interviewed him and said, "Well now, I would like to know just what you think about under various circumstances."

He held up a card with straight lines on it and said, "Now, sir, what does this remind you of?"

The man said "Women."

Well, the psychiatrist was not too abashed about that. He held up another card, with circles on it, and he said, "Now what does this card remind you of?"

The chap looked at it a moment and he said, "Women."

So the psychiatrist thought he would try again. He pulled out another card and held it up. This card had cubes on it. The psychiatrist said, "Well now, sir, what does this card remind you of, what are you thinking about?"

The man said, "Women."

The psychiatrist said, "Now, sir, will you just tell me why these three cards, with their various designs, cause you to think about women?"

He said, "That is all I think about."

I presume that Al Readinger has felt that way pretty much about Stu Helm the last few weeks and months, and more so, I think, about Al Johnson, because as you know, Al Johnson is Al Readinger's counterpart on this side of the House.

Ladies and gentlemen, it has been a real privilege for me to have this opportunity to serve with Albert Johnson, a man of honesty and integrity, as assistant floor leader. I think not all of our accomplishments are measured in legislative values. I think we have all seen men and women here in the Hall of the House who have grown in the weeks and months from the trials and tribulations which we have had to face, the telegrams, the letters and the pressures from all sorts of groups.

It has been a really inspiring thing to see these men and women who came here last January, many of them inexperienced, with the help and guidance of our floor leader, Albert Johnson, grow into men and women who have shown character, who have demonstrated their honesty and integrity and their sincere desire to take care of the people in their districts, their constituents.

In a large measure that is because we have been willing to follow the leadership that has been offered us. The old saying is, "Nothing succeeds like success. I think we have all recognized, from the confidence which has imbued this session of the Legislature, that from the beginning there has existed a continuity of objective, which we have all pursued with confidence. The spearhead of that has been Al Johnson and the leadership that he has held out to us.

In closing, Mr. Chairman, I would like to pay tribute not only to Al Johnson, but to Virginia, his wife, for her willingness to sacrifice and help her husband. I remember two or three weeks ago one Sunday morning after a very trying session, I called Al about ten o'clock. It was pretty late for me and I thought it was time for everyone to be up, but I had a hard time convincing Virginia that I should talk to Albert. She said he was tired and he was resting. That sort of thing has been a big help to him.

Mr. Chairman, as a final word, I think I express the feelings of all the Members on this side of the House, and I believe of those men and women on the other side, that we have a great deal of respect for his honesty, integrity and ability to laugh when times were hard and tough and the going rough.

The CHAIRMAN. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Berks, Mr. Readinger.

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Chairman, I am rising to support the resolution before us. It is a genuine pleasure to say that the thoughts expressed in that resolution are most true.

At the beginning of this 1957 session I can recall extending to Mr. Johnson my deepest sympathies for the job he was about to undertake. Having laid down that burden as Majority Floor Leader, I knew what I was talking about. I knew that he had been the Majority Floor Leader before, had served in that capacity with distinction, and was a credit to his party and to himself; nevertheless, I did really sympathize with him.

I have never known a Majority Floor Leader who was more sincere, more honest, more intellectual and more efficient than Al Johnson. He is one of the hardest working majority floor leaders I have ever known, and that includes myself.

When he was debating the general appropriations bill the other week, which took several hours, and was there on the floor answering question after question concerning the appropriation cuts, I frankly sat there and was proud of him for the work and the research I knew he had done, the time he had spent to be prepared to answer all the questions which were directed to him.

I have more than once been amazed at his complete control, or power of persuasion, over the majority. Time after time Hi Andrews and I would talk ourselves hoarse thinking that we could crack the barrier, but to no avail, except one day last week when—I do not know what happened—one of your bills went down. Of course, Hi Andrews came over and congratulated me, which I declined to accept because I thought the bill was so bad that nobody could be for it.

Nevertheless, it takes a man of intellect, a man of courage and an honest man to continue to merit the support which you have given to your floor leader, Al Johnson. I think he has been a credit to the entire Legislature.

We have differed violently in our philosophy and our thinking, but when Al Johnson believes something is right, he not only gets the background and studies it, but he stands up for it as long as he is able to do so. Despite our best efforts to show him how wrong he has been in many things, he has been a good leader.

On the question recurring,

Will the House adopt the resolution?

It was unanimously adopted.

The CHAIRMAN. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Greene, Mr. McCann.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Chairman, it is indeed a pleasure to be able to speak in behalf of all the Members of the House and the wonderful friends of the Majority Leader, as a part of our program here this evening.

We have tonight selected something for this wonderful man, who has made world-famous the county of McKean, the town of Smethport, to bring to him and to his family our deepest token of appreciation. We would like to say that with our gift go our wishes for numerous days, hours and years of continued enjoyment.

Would the gentleman from McKean, Mr. Johnson, and Mrs. Johnson, present themselves in the well of the House?

Mr. and Mrs. Johnson, this is a little token of appreciation, both from the Members of the House and from your countless thousands of loyal friends, with our good wishes.

The CHAIRMAN. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from McKean, Mr. Johnson, the Majority Leader.

Mr. JOHNSON. Mr. Chairman, on behalf of my wife and myself, I certainly want to thank you all from the bottom of my heart for that lovely gift. It is a beautiful TV set and we shall certainly enjoy it, I am sure, for a number of years to come.

I am reminded that in the 1953 session, when I received a TV set on the occasion of my then having been floor leader, I said I was sure that my wife would enjoy the set immensely because of the many long and lonesome hours she spent at home in Smethport when I was down here at my job. The punch line was when Hi Andrews, our esteemed statesman and then Minority Leader, got up and said, "Well, my wife won't trade me for a TV set." I am sure my wife won't have to do that now because the session is very nearly over, and I hope to have many happy days back in my very lovely town of Smethport.

It certainly has been a wonderful session and I am sure we have all enjoyed ourselves immensely. As I have said before, we have a done a lot of hard work.

I want to say to the Members of the majority party that someone remarked the other day that they had never, in the history of the Legislature, seen a more devoted, more loyal group of men than the present members of the majority party in this General Assembly. It has been amazing the way they have cooperated with their leadership. Many times they may have been asked to vote for something that maybe they would have liked changed a little, they have stuck together and that is the democratic way, majority rules, and that is one of the reasons for this nation being as great as it is.

I cannot very well say to the minority that they are His Majesty's loyal opposition; they are His Majesty's loyal proponents, and as his proponents they have done their job admirably and well.

The debates they have carried on in earnestness and sincerity have been orderly and scholarly, and they have certainly presented the position of their party very, very well. I cherish their friendship and the kindness they have shown to me in my job as Majority Leader of the 1957 session of the General Assembly.

I think some word should be said about the officers of the House this session. I have been here six terms, and I do not know of a session when a desk has operated as well and as efficiently as it has this session.

The former Speaker, Mr. Andrews, started the policy in this House that only those here should be recorded on roll calls, and that we conduct the General Assembly in a manner entirely different from other years. The officers of the House this session have carried on that tradition.

Of course, we have that great Parliamentarian, the most outstanding man on the books in the entire nation, Eddie Moore. I do not know what this General Assembly would do without him, but I am sure he will be with us for many, many years. He has certainly been an honor and a credit to the state of Pennsylvania. We all love and adore our parliamentarian, Eddie Moore.

I think one group that we should really mention, nobody ever gives them a word of praise, and that is the so-called Legislative Engineers who have graced the Halls of this General Assembly. They, too, do their part in making a session a success. They are, of course, skilled in the very job they have to do, and lend their knowledge and their patience to us. You will always find in talking to a particular man who is representing a group that he knows what he is talking about, and can give you some very, very fine advice.

I am certainly grateful to my own office staff, Miss Gramlich and the rest, who have shown by their devotion that a job can be done down in the office and not up here on the floor of the House. My office has been run in an admirable, capable and efficient way, and I am eternally grateful to Miss Gramlich and the rest of them for a very excellent job as far as my own office is concerned.

Representative Gibson and I have our office next to the stenographic pool. Someone said recently that the stenographic pool has been a marvel of efficiency and capability this session and that is, of course, due to the very excellent leadership of Miss Hughes, and the rest of her staff. I am sure you all join me in complimenting the girls in the pool for so ably doing the job they were called upon to do.

As we leave these Halls we carry with us, of course, the friendships to one another, many, many happy memories of good times together, as well as hard work. I am sure that to those of us who have been here this session the issues are clearly drawn.

I think the minority party, as I have said, has clearly set up the issues, just as we have set up the issues. It has been skillfully contested on both sides. As we leave these Halls and go to our several homes, we on each side will carry the message to the people of what we tried to do for them. What we did was try to stand up for what we thought was right. Regardless of whether we are back here again next time, I am sure we will all remember this session of the General Assembly.

I do not know of a better way in which to close than in the words in that song "Roll on Pennsylvania," which are "Keep your flag flying high, on the mountains, in the sky, roll on Pennsylvania, roll on." Thank you.

The CHAIRMAN. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Cambria, Mr. Lopresti.

RESOLUTION

CONGRATULATING THE MINORITY LEADER

Mr. LOPRESTI offered a resolution which was read by Mr. Post as follows:

In the House of Representatives, June 12, 1957.

Whether his party be in the majority or minority, there is one man within our midst who has proven his capability to conduct himself and present his party's views in such manner as to hold the admiration and respect of us all. This outstanding legislator and citizen is the Honorable Albert S. Readinger.

As Minority Leader "Al" Readinger has industriously faced the task of maintaining a clear view of the facts, understanding and interpreting the attitudes of the various interests within his party and the possible effects of controversial legislation, and keeping his willing followers in close harmony. He has demonstrated a tolerant attitude toward his fellowman, and a congenial spirit which has made it possible to disagree on issues while maintaining strong personal ties of friendship. He has continuously displayed those qualities of leadership with which very few are endowed; therefore be it

Resolved, That the House of Representatives pay tribute to the Honorable Albert S. Readinger for the dignity and honor with which he has represented his party as Minority Leader and for his friendliness and the inspiration of his presence among us; and be it further

Resolved, That as a symbol of the respect and friendship of the membership of this House of Representatives, the Chief Clerk is hereby directed to transmit a copy of this resolution to Mr. Readinger.

On the question,

Will the House adopt the resolution?

The CHAIRMAN. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Cambria, Mr. Lopresti.

Mr. LOPRESTI. Mr. Chairman, I am most happy to participate in these ceremonies this evening. First of all, I think this House should congratulate itself upon this honorable custom.

Shakespeare wrote, in Julius Caesar, that the good that men do is often interred with their bones. Were it not for this wonderful ceremony we might paraphrase those words and say the good our leaders do often is interred in the Legislative Journal.

So I think this House should congratulate itself on the marvelous custom of calling attention on these closing days to the marvelous work of our leaders.

I am happy to have the privilege to say a few words tonight about our Minority Leader. In its Minority Leader the Democrat party has a person of varied talents and many sterling qualities. Among those talents we must list, first of all, he is a legislator of distinction. Secondly, he is a violinist of quality. Third, he is a lawyer of great ability, and fourth, I am sure he is destined to become a jurist of great wisdom and dignity.

In addition, I am told, by those who saw him diving at our annual picnic a week or two ago that he is also an aquatic performer of great skill. And so, as I say, we have a man of many talents in our Minority Leader.

In addition to discussing his talents, I want to dwell just a few moments upon his many sterling qualities. First and foremost among these fine qualities is that of an even temper. I have noted over the years that when everyone around him was losing his head, Al remained calm, cool and collected.

It was a long time ago, much too long to recall, I have since gotten gray, that I first met our Minority Leader, and even though he was young, he was then possessed of these same qualities. He was very friendly and he never, never became angry or excited at any other person. In addition to this quality of even temperedness, he possesses a great ability to analyze questions as they appear before this legislative body. In a few words, it was always easy for him to get to the meat of what was being discussed and come out with a logical, concise statement setting forth the position of the minority.

We of this House are conscious of the fact that he is now seeking to be promoted, and we know that the people of his county are going to elect him as one of their judges. We are aware of the great loss that we will suffer in the minority, but that loss is tempered somewhat when we realize the great wisdom he will bring to the bench of his county.

Therefore, we want to wish him tonight the best of luck, and we might say we all are happy to have run across Al Readinger in our path during our lifetime.

The CHAIRMAN. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from McKean, Mr. Johnson, the Majority Leader.

Mr. JOHNSON. Mr. Chairman, it certainly gives me a great deal of pleasure to participate in this phase of the program wherein we are paying honor and tribute to the great Minority Leader, Albert S. Readinger.

Before I go on, I will have to tell you a little anecdote. Every now and then on TV they pull what you call a "bloop." I remember last fall my wife and I were in Newcastle during the political campaign, and we were listening to the TV at night just before retiring.

The announcer said, "Well, President Eisenhower today went out to his farm, and in the afternoon he went for a ride with his grandson on a fringe with a surrey on the top." I guess I will have to repeat that—fringe with a surrey on the top.

This reminds me, the other day someone said they tuned in the TV at Lancaster and the commentator was taking Albert W. Johnson, the Majority Leader of the Legislature, over the coals. He flashed a picture on the screen and it was a picture of Albert S. Readinger. The only trouble was they pronounced my name correctly in that case.

Mr. Readinger has certainly shown to all of us, in his long career in the Legislature, that he has been a very, very able legislator. Last session talk about a Majority Leader having to stand up and take the gaff! We all felt really sorry for poor Mr. Readinger when he only had 106 or 107 Members, and it certainly was a great tribute to him how the majority then stood up and backed him to the hilt.

I suppose we probably said then that you were cutting your own throats, which you did, because we are in the majority, just like you are saying now we are cutting our throats, but we will prove that you are wrong.

Now Al, as the Minority Leader, has been an equally able person. I have the pleasure of marking the calendar with him every day at the desk, going over the calendar and setting up the day's business. If I have to say it myself, we have been a good team together. Al is a very affable, amiable fellow. He is good natured. He gives in very easily. His demands are few. I tell him we are going to mark this bill over today and he says, "It's all right with me." It has been an operation which has been very, very pleasant and you find out what a fine fellow Mr. Readinger is.

He has a very fine wife, and a lovely daughter. We certainly want to join with everybody in giving him an expression of our very high esteem, and we certainly wish him the greatest amount of success in his future endeavors.

On the question recurring,

Will the House adopt the resolution?

It was unanimously adopted.

The CHAIRMAN. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Greene, Mr. McCann.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Chairman, this is our parting gift to that distinguished gentleman from Berks County, for we believe, all of us as Members of this House, this will be our last gift to this great floor leader who in this session is the Minority Leader in the House.

From his countless friends who have been a part of his everyday life in the Halls of this House, and from the Members of the House of Representatives and their friends, we have selected for this great gentleman from Berks County a little token which we feel will certainly be most useful in his future occupation as a jurist of the bench of Berks County.

Will the gentleman from Berks, Mr. Readinger, and his lovely wife, present themselves to the well of the House?

From all of us, each and every one, a sincere little token of our appreciation, and the well wishes for many years of future use.

The CHAIRMAN. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Berks, Mr. Readinger, the Minority Leader.

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Chairman, Members and friends, on behalf of Mrs. Readinger and myself I would like to say thank you very, very much for the beautiful silver gift which we have received tonight.

"I would like to say thanks to all the Members, the staff and employees of the House for the wonderful service and cooperation that I have enjoyed as floor leader and as a Member of this House.

I would like to say, thanks to my wife for her forbearance in my being away as much as I have been during these legislative sessions. Also to the members of my staff who have served faithfully and well.

It is very touching to be one of the recipients of the nice things one hears at a ceremony like this, and to receive such a wonderful gift. It is something that we will have for many, many years to remember the wonderful days I have been able to spend here as a Member of this House.

I have been privileged to be here 21 years, and it is possible that this will be my last session. While this evening and these things I have heard tonight are wonderful to remember, they are not quite as wonderful as the remembrance of the genuine affection, cooperation, and friendships which I have enjoyed over these many years. To be able to meet with men and women all over Pennsylvania, to be able to understand each other's viewpoints, even though we do not agree, and to know that after many, many weeks and months sometimes of hard battling, we can still be good friends and respect each other's opinions, integrity and honesty, is indeed a wonderful thing.

I am very happy tonight to know that I have known you as many years as I have. Thank you very much.

The CHAIRMAN. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Greene, Mr. McCann.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Chairman, the Majority Whip whom so many have said such kind words about this evening, has certainly proven to be one of our kind friends, and one whom we have learned to love and respect. He has certainly done an outstanding job in the majority party during trying moments during this session.

From all of us in the House of Representatives, and from his countless friends and particularly the well wishers of that wonderful county that he represents we have selected a token of our appreciation to this wonderful gentleman.

Mr. Gibson and Mrs. Gibson we send with this gift our best wishes for many days and many hours of the most wonderful useful pleasure to you and to your very lovely wife.

Will Mrs. Gibson and Mr. Gibson present themselves to the well of the House?

Mr. Gibson and Mrs. Gibson, from the Members of the House the best wishes for many hours of most pleasant enjoyment our little token of appreciation.

The CHAIRMAN. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Warren, Mr. Gibson, the Majority Whip.

Mr. GIBSON. Mr. Chairman, friends, Mrs. Gibson and I are very, very grateful for this wonderful gift. It is a Hi-Fi set. I think someone must have felt that we needed a little soft dinner music to soothe our seething souls.

Mr. Chairman, I would like to take this opportunity to express my appreciation to the Committee Chairman, the monitors and to all the women and men who have been so helpful and with whom I have had the opportunity to work. It has been a real privilege. We have enjoyed it. I just loved being here. My wife is getting so that she rather likes it too.

We are going to enjoy this Hi-Fi set. Thank you very much.

The CHAIRMAN. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Greene, Mr. McCann.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Chairman, the Minority Whip of the House of Representatives, who certainly is our distinguished elder statesman, is tonight in his position. We in the House of Representatives, along with his countless friends, have selected a small token of our appreciation.

The Committee chosen to select the gifts had a most difficult task of selecting a gift for this distinguished statesman. It was my recommendation that they purchase him a tobacco farm, ship him down to the farm, and give him the gift so that he would forever and ever have enough tobacco to keep him going.

I was overruled in that selection, so we have selected a little token to show our appreciation for this wonderful gentleman, the Minority Whip from Cambria County.

Will the distinguished statesman, Mr. Andrews, present himself to the well of the House?

Mr. Andrews, on behalf of the House Members and your legion of friends, our little token of appreciation. May you once and forever enjoy those party records you so thoughtfully were kind enough to consider. This little gift is a wish for a thousand years of good memories.

The CHAIRMAN. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Cambria, Mr. Andrews, the Minority Whip.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Chairman, I do not know whether the elevator man does not have a better judgment than some of those who refer to me as an elder statesman. Yesterday morning the new elevator man says, "What floor are you going to, Bud?"

I believe I am regaining a lost youth. It also may be that I stand in the evening twilight to salute those who gaze eagerly into the dawn. I would have this gift that you have been so kind to give to me to be symbolic, because whatever the discord, whatever the confusion, whatever the passing disagreements, there is in all of it a spirit that makes it possible for melody to linger on.

So I say to you whatever may come, there will always be in our home a symbol to make it certain that out of your generosity and your appreciation, the melody will linger on.

The CHAIRMAN. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Greene, Mr. McCann.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Chairman, the Honorable Lloyd H. Wood, who serves as our Chief Clerk, we, particularly on the minority side, have learned to love and respect.

We have learned to take him in our confidence and discuss with him our problems regarding our Members and their needs, from whose office will issue the supplies and items too numerous to mention here on the floor of the House.

At all times, on all occasions his office has certainly functioned with the greatest of efficiency. From all the Members of the House of Representatives and from all of his friends, we wish to present a little token of appreciation to this wonderful Chief Clerk, the Honorable Lloyd H. Wood.

Mould Mr. Wood present himself to the well of the House?

Governor, from all of us in the House and all your thousands of friends, a little wish of glad tidings, which we hope you will remember for years to come, enjoying this gift together with your treasured memories of continued outstanding years of service to the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

The CHAIRMAN. The Chair recognizes the Chief Clerk of the House, Mr. Lloyd H. Wood.

Mr. LLOYD H. WOOD. Mr. Chairman, the hour waxeth late. I have already appeared once on the program, but I could not let this opportunity pass without expressing my gratitude and thanks for that beautiful gift.

So let it suffice to say that up to now although I have been underviewed, I am overwhelmed.

Thank you very much.

The CHAIRMAN. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Greene, Mr. McCann.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Chairman, from the Members of the House of Representatives to that great cattle rustler from the northwestern part of Pennsylvania, the Secretary of the House of Representatives, we have selected a little token of our appreciation. I, for one, wanted to see that he got the best bull shipping equipment in the world, but I was over-ruled. In past sessions, as a Member of the House of Representatives, he always talked about that wonderful cattle ranch in Erie County.

From all of us and from his legion of great friends we present a little token of our appreciation to our affectionate friend, known as "Doc." Will the Secretary of the House, Mr. Waterhouse, present himself to the well of the House?

"Doc" from all of us, every single Member of this House and your legion of friends, a little token of our appreciation. May you enjoy it for many years to come.

The CHAIRMAN. The Chair recognizes the Secretary of the House, Mr. W. W. Waterhouse.

Mr. WATERHOUSE. Mr. Chairman, laides and gentlemen, my friends, I certainly want to thank you for this very lovely present. I might say that I am too overwhelmed, also overwhelmed, I might say.

The man who bought these presents, I think probably figured he could get them cheaper by the dozen. However, he certainly showed extremely good judgment.

I was a little bit concerned about what I might get. The first thing he said to me was, "We are going to buy a little something, Doc. Is there anything you would like?"

I said, "Oh, I don't know."

Then he said: "How about a horse?"

I said: "I have a horse."

Then he thought a little bit and he said: "How about some hogs?"

I said "I got some hogs."

Then he said: "Well, how about a steer?"

I said, "No, I tangled with some of those two years ago."

So he said, "Well, you can go to so and so. I will just pick something out for yourself."

I do want to tell you folks that all this "malarkey" about my not being a farmer isn't true. They kidded me a little bit about a suit. I told them up our way you have to milk cows in this kind of a suit. That is the truth. But they still are giving me the business.

I want to thank you and I want to tell you again how much I have appreciated working for you this session, and it certainly has been a pleasure to work with the fellows that I am working with. Lloyd Wood is a man of great wit and humor and one certainly never could tire of any job if he was working with an excellent fellow like him.

I has been a pleasure to work under the Speaker. He is one of the most outstanding men, I think, who has ever been in that Chair. Hiram Andrews, of course, was another great Speaker, but to me the one greatest of all is the one we have now.

I thank you from the bottom of my heart.

The CHAIRMAN. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Greene, Mr. McCann.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Chairman, one of the last gifts that we shall present here in the House this evening as a part of this program is for the gentleman that over the years has probably, without a question of doubt, done more for the House of Representatives than anyone, the Parliamentarian.

From all of us and from his thousands and thousands of friends who were former Members of this House, and from each and every Member of the House in this Session, we wish to present a little gift to Eddie Moore, the Parliamentarian.

Words themselves cannot express our feeling to this man of great wisdom. The selection of gifts is certainly most difficult for such a wonderful person.

We hope he will have many uses for the gift we have selected for him this evening in our closing out ceremony.

Will the Parliamentarian, Mr. Moore and Mrs. Moore, present themselves to the well of the House?

Mrs. Moore and Eddie, we present our little token to you two. May you have a lot of enjoyment and with it go the well wishes from every House Member.

The CHAIRMAN. The Chair recognizes the Parliamentarian of the House, Mr. S. Edward Moore.

Mr. S. EDWARD MOORE. Mr. Chairman, there just are not any words adequate to express ones feelings on an occasion like this, except "My cup runneth over."

Although I deeply appreciate this magnificent gift, I value so very much more the friendship of the Members of this House which it represents.

The Speaker at our house, my dear wife, requested me to say her "thanks" to your House. That makes it unanimous.

Thank you.

The CHAIRMAN. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Greene, Mr. McCann.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Chairman, time itself would make it too difficult in the closing out ceremony to handle the numerous other gifts that the committee has purchased and given to our many, many employees who are a part of the operation of our House. Each and every Member wishes to each of them continued success, and our best wishes go with the gift that we have selected for all of the employes of the House of Representatives.

In closing, I would like to say that the Committee owes a sincere "thank you" to Pomeroy's, who so kindly sent their men here to wrap the gifts, furnished the decorations and put the particular gifts in the proper position for the program tonight.

We did hope to have some signs that would let you people know who had done all of this particular work, but we now express our appreciation to Pomeroy's for the wonderful job they have done in wrapping these gifts as well as the other gifts that have been given. We say a very sincere "Thank you" from all of the Members of the House of Representatives.

Thank you.

The CHAIRMAN. The Chair recognizes the Page, George Hilder, who has a special duty to perform.

PAGE George Hilder. Mr. Chairman, this gentleman has not had much to say during this entire session and the Pages have probably got away with a lot.

At this time we wish to give to him this small gift to show our appreciation which comes from the bottom of our hearts.

The CHAIRMAN. Immediately following the Singing of "God Bless America," Speaker and Mrs. Helm, the House leaders, Co-chairmen, the program committee and wives will be very happy to receive and greet Members and friends directly in front of the rostrum.

Please proceed down the aisle to my left. Then leave by the aisle to my extreme right, as directed by the state police.

The Chair requests the Secretary of the House, Mr. Waterhouse, to escort the Speaker and Mrs. Helm, the House Leaders and their wives to their places in the receiving line.

At the conclusion of the ceremonies, refreshments will be served to all in the new House Caucus Room on the first floor next to the Speaker's office. Every one is cordially invited.

Dr. Dengler and the House Legislative Chorus will lead us in singing "God Bless America."

The SPEAKER (W. Stuart Helm) IN THE CHAIR

REPORT OF COMMITTEE OF CONFERENCE ON HOUSE BILL No. 282

Mr. BREON. Mr. Speaker, I present the report of the Committee of Conference on House Bill No. 282.

The SPEAKER. The report will lie over for printing under the Rules.

The SPEAKER. The Chair thanks the lady for being so patient in waiting to adjourn the House.

Mrs. VARALLO. It was a pleasure, thank you.

ADJOURNMENT

Mrs. VARALLO. Mr. Speaker, I move that this House do now adjourn until Thursday, June 13, 1957 at 10:00 a.m. EST.

The motion was agreed to, and (at 10:08 p.m. EST) the House adjourned.

SENATE

THURSDAY, June 13, 1957

The Senate met at 12:00 o'clock, Meridian, Eastern Standard Time.

The PRESIDING OFFICER (Robert D. Fleming) in the Chair.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Chair wishes to announce that the President pro tempore, the Honorable M. Harvey Tayler, has requested the Chair to preside.

PRAYER

The following prayer was offered by the gentleman from Berks, Mr. Ruth.

Our Dear Lord and Savior, again we come into Thy presence. We thank Thee for life and for all its opportunities. We thank Thee for health and all that it enables us to do. We thank Thee for that kindly feeling we have one toward another, not only here but to all peoples everywhere.

May we always so live that when our work is finished, our lives may merit Thy saying to us, "Well done."

Guide us in our work today that we may do the best we can so that Thy name may have all the honor and the glory. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED

The PRESIDING OFFICER. A quorum of the Senate being present, the Clerk will read the Journal of the preceding session.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of the preceding session, when, on motion of Mr. MAHANY and Mr. KOPRIVER, JR., further reading was dispensed with, and the Journal was approved.

NAYS—0

Two-thirds of all the Senators having voted "aye," the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Governor be informed accordingly.

EXECUTIVE SESSION RISES

Mr. WATSON. Mr. President, I move that the Executive Session do now rise.

Mr. WATKINS. Mr. President, I second the motion. The motion was agreed to.

SENATE RESOLUTION, SERIAL No. 49, REPORTED FROM COMMITTEE AND LAID ON THE TABLE

Mr. RUTH. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to make report from committee at this time.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. RUTH, from the Committee on Rules, to which was referred resolution offered by Messrs. Mallery, Mahany, Stevenson, Sarraf, Dent and McMenamin on June 12, 1957, reported the same without amendment as follows:

DIRECTING THE JOINT STATE GOVERNMENT COMMISSION TO EXPLORE METHODS WHEREBY THE EMPLOYMENT OPPORTUNITIES OPEN TO OLDER PERSONS MAY BE EXPANDED.

In the Senate, June 12, 1957.

Whereas, the employment problems faced by our older citizens are of vital concern to the Commonwealth; and

Whereas, employment opportunities for many older persons are effectively restricted by the provisions of existing pension and retirement plans which impose a cost differential upon those employers who would employ older persons; and

Whereas, the benefits to the Commonwealth from a reduction in the number of unemployed older persons are such that ways and means need be found to eliminate the cost differential to employers incident to the employment of older persons; therefore, be it

Resolved, That the Joint State Government Commission be directed to explore methods whereby the employment opportunities open to older persons may be expanded by eliminating the pension cost differential to employers; and be it further

Resolved, That the Joint State Government Commission report to the next regular session of the General Assembly its findings and recommendations with drafts of legislation necessary to carry the recommendations into effect.

Laid over for one day under the Rules.

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 197, entitled:

An Act making an appropriation to the Elwyn Training School at Elwyn in the County of Delaware Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and prescribing certain conditions upon which the appropriation will be available to the school.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading?

APPROPRIATION BILL OVER IN ORDER

Mr. RUTH. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that House Bill No. 197, Printer's No. 661, on third reading, go over in its order.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Is there objection?

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, may we be at ease a few moments?

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Senate will be at ease. (The Senate was at ease.)

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, Senator Yosko advises me that he is attempting to get some information on House Bill No. 197. Therefore, we will agree to pass this bill over in its order.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. There being no objection, the bill will go over in its order.

APPROPRIATION BILL ON THIRD READING AND FINAL PASSAGE

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 270, entitled:

An Act making an appropriation to the Department of Military Affairs to be used by the Pennsylvania Aeronautics Commission for the encouragement and development of aeronautics.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

Miller,

A majority of all the Senators having voted "aye," the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present said bill to the House of Representatives for concurrence.

APPROPRIATION BILLS OVER IN ORDER

Mr. RUTH. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that the following bills, on third reading, go over in their order:

House Bill No. 529, Printer's No. 921; and

House Bill No. 530, Printer's No. 790.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

APPROPRIATION BILL ON THIRD READING, DEFEATED ON FINAL PASSAGE

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 531, entitled:

An Act making an appropriation to the Orlando S. Johnson Industrial School of Scranton Pennsylvania for maintenance and purchase of supplies and equipment.

And said bill having been read at length the third time,
On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading?

REQUEST THAT APPROPRIATION BILL GO OVER IN ORDER

Mr. RUTH. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that House Bill No. 531, Printer's No. 664, on third reading, go over in its order.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Is there objection?

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I object to this bill going over in its order.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading?

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I rise to a question of parliamentary inquiry.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The gentleman will state it.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, will the Chair tell me whether House Bill No. 531 comes into the category of nonpreferred appropriations?

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Chair would agree that it is in the category of nonpreferred appropriations and will require a two-thirds vote of the Senate.

Mr. DENT. Thank you.

Mr. President and Members of the Senate, I can easily understand the mental processes that are going on in the mind of my worthy opponent on the other side. He notes that this is a bill dealing with Lackawanna County and feels that, as such, we are on the hot spot and would have to vote in order to pass this appropriation for fear there might be some embarrassment to the Democratic Membership. I assure you that we will not be embarrassed if you call the roll. Because of Caucus action on this side, we will have to vote "no."

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

(During the calling of the roll, the following occurred):

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, may I ask how I am recorded as voting on this bill?

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The gentleman from Crawford is recorded as voting "aye."

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I desire to change my vote from "aye" to "no."

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The gentleman from Crawford will be so recorded.

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, may I inquire of the Chair how I am recorded as voting on this bill?

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The gentleman from Potter is recorded as voting "aye."

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, I desire to change my vote from "aye" to "no."

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The gentleman from Potter will be so recorded.

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—26

Blass,	Koprivier, Jr.,	Propert,	Walker,
Chapman,	Kromer,	Scott,	Watkins,
Ehrgood,	Madigan,	Stevenson,	Watson,

Donolow,

Less than a constitutional majority of all the Senators having voted "aye," the question was determined in the negative.

RECONSIDERATION OF HOUSE BILL No. 531

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now reconsider the vote by which House Bill No. 531, entitled:

An Act making an appropriation to the Orlando S. Johnson Industrial School of Scranton Pennsylvania for maintenance and purchase of supplies and equipment just failed of passage on final passage.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. How did the Senator vote?

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I voted with the prevailing side.

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. How did the Senator vote?

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, I voted with the prevailing side.

The motion was agreed to.

And the question recurring.

Shall the bill pass finally?

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I am going to request that House Bill No. 531 be voted upon for the second time but before I do that, I rise to a question of parliamentary inquiry.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The gentleman will state it.

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, if we vote on this bill again and it fails to pass, will it be possible to take the bill up again after that?

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Chair would say, in answer to your question, that it would not be possible to take it up again. If a bill fails twice, it has failed completely.

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I hope that all of the Members of the Senate will now vote for House Bill No. 531. I expect to vote for it.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I do not like to use this type of language for the record, but I might say that what is sauce for the goose is sauce for the gander. It still takes thirty-four votes for any one of the bills on this Calendar that are nonpreferred. If it is going to be that kind of an ending to this Session, I am sorry it has to be that way. We are only asking for the same courtesies that we have always given.

We have a right to hold nonpreferred appropriations until we see what happens to the preferred appropriations. That has been historical in this Senate. If it is now going to be a case of killing this bill for Lackawanna County, then I assure you the same two-thirds will be here when you need it.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. SCHMIDT. Mr. President, I rise to a question of parliamentary inquiry.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The gentleman will state it.

Mr. SCHMIDT. Mr. President, is it not possible that should this bill come up and be defeated a second time, it can again be brought up by suspension of the rules?

The PRESIDING OFFICER. In answer to the inquiry of the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Schmidt, the Chair would quote from the Decisions of the House of Representatives:

"The Speaker pro tempore decided that a bill having been negatived then reconsidered, and again negatived, motion to again reconsider is out of order.

"The point of order was raised that the bill having been once defeated, reconsidered and again defeated could not be reconsidered the second time."

Mr. SCHMIDT. Mr. President, might I ask whether or not there is any constitutional restriction upon the consideration of a bill more than twice?

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I believe you can find in the Legislative Journal a more recent decision. I think a decision was made by the present Lieutenant-Governor, who was presiding at the time, when we voted for a second time on the famous Leader Classified Income Tax. We ran it around the track twice and Governor Furman ruled that if that were done, a bill could not subsequently be brought up again during the same Session.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The statement of the gentleman is well taken. The Chair does recall the ruling of the present Lieutenant-Governor Furman that a bill could not again be reconsidered, after having been twice defeated.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, we will accept the ruling of the Chair to be the order of the day. If it is killed twice, it is killed.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—27

Berger,	Kessler,	Propert,	Walker,
Blass,	Koprivier, Jr.,	Scott,	Watkins,

REQUEST TO CALL UP HOUSE BILL No. 197

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I call up, from Page 1 of today's Third Reading Calendar, House Bill No. 197, Printer's No. 661, which went over in its order.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Is there objection?

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I agreed that those bills would go over in order, as requested by the Democratic Whip who was presiding over there at the time.

Mr. DENT. With the permission of the Whip, I will withdraw the request.

Mr. WATKINS. Mr. President, I object to House Bill No. 197, Printer's No. 661, being called up at this time. I ask that the bill go over in its order.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. At the moment, the bill is over in order.

Mr. DENT. It looks, Mr. President, as though we will have to kill all the Democratic bills today and allow the Republican bills to go over in order. However, just as surely as we are in this room, this afternoon, harkening back to the words of Senator Taylor, to whom I have listened for many years when it came to affairs of this kind, "Compromise is a two-way street."

Mr. WATKINS. Mr. President, I see no reason for the delay in voting on these bills. I would like to explain my position in asking for this bill to go over in order, and I understand it has gone over in order.

Mr. President, I do not care to make this institution in my county a testing ground or make a guinea pig out of it. After the ruling, which was just made by the Chair, I would not jeopardize their program by having this bill voted down, as Senator Dent would like.

Mr. President, I think we are wasting time and certainly lowering the colors of this Senate by the tactics which are being used here today, and which we have been experiencing this entire week. I feel there is nothing wrong and there is no reason at all for the Minority side to refuse to give the necessary votes for these appropriations. It is just a matter of stubbornness, bargaining and playing for something that Governor Leader wants to cram down our throats. I, for one, think such delaying tactics are malicious and surely not conducive to the dignity of this Senate.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, the battleground, the tools and the weapons were not selected by this side of the Senate. I think every person in this room knows that certain bills were requested to go over in order by the Republican side and certain bills were requested to go over in order by the Democratic side. I do not believe that we can be accused, by any stretch of the imagination, of having selected either the grounds for battle or the weapons to be used.

Mr. President, for the information of Senator Watkins, we think just as much of the Orlando S. Johnson Industrial School, of Scranton, as he thinks of the Elwyn Training School in Delaware County. Therefore, there is no difference in our feeling for these institutions which are receiving these moneys. However, it just so happens that one is in a Democratic county, and we are in the unfortunate position of being in the minority and a powerful majority is trying to use its power to do things which should not be done in a parliamentary body.

When the laws of this great State of ours were laid down by the founding fathers, and our Constitution was written and rewritten, it was written with specific guarantees that at no time could a tyrannical position be taken by a majority. That is why the rules are such in this Legislative Hall, in order that the minority has left to it the rules of order.

There is nothing wrong with applying the legal means left to a minority to guarantee justice, and that is all this is. It is nothing else. It is not any plan nor black scheme, conjured in the mind of Governor Leader or any other leader. This was done on the spur of the moment, right here on the floor. You allowed House Bill No. 529 and House Bill No. 530 to go over in order to reach, on the Calendar, a bill which affected a Democratic Senator. That Democratic Senator, although he was released by his colleagues, chose not to select that kind of a fight. He chose to stand with his colleagues, because standing with them was right. It is right, Mr. President. Whether you call up House Bill No. 197 today, tomorrow or the next day, or whenever you do call it up, you will require from this side the same courtesy which we have always given and which we now seem not to be able to receive from you.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I wish to advise the Majority that we, on this side, are determined in our activities. They made a guinea pig out of the Scranton school and it has gone down the drain.

We stood here on this floor, the other day, trying to explain to you what we were trying to do. I believe I proved to the Republican side of the Senate the need for additional funds for retarded children and for child care. I tried to prove my point even by charts. However, you sat over there and snickered and laughed and voted down every amendment. This is the only weapon we can use.

I want you to know that you can carry these bills over in order from now until kingdom come, but unless somebody gives a little bit on the other side, I, for one—and I think I am speaking for the Democratic side—will vote down these special bills until you do come across.

Mr. YOSKO. Mr. President, even if we were to call up House Bill No. 197 and vote on it today, I, for one, could not vote for it in its present form, and I would ask my colleagues to vote against it with me.

The Governor's budget for the Elwyn Training School calls for an appropriation of $1,500,000. This Senate has insisted on reducing the Governor's budget requests, and the Republican Members have reduced the Governor's budget requests to the tune of about $94,000,000. However, when the bill was drafted, instead of complying with the amount which was set up in the Governor's budget for the Elwyn Training School, the amount was increased to $1,862,000. Yesterday, that sum was jacked up to $2,194,000, which I think is far out of line. If the figures used in other appropriations are to be a lesser figure than those contained in the Governor's budget, I do not know why this particular institution should be an exception.

Mr. President, I think the per diem cost in this bill for the Elwyn Training School calls for $1,330 per capita per annum. However, the appropriations to the 187 medical-surgical hospitals in this State, apparently, are not given the same treatment. In the last biennium, they were allowed $8.00 a day. I understand that amount was to be increased to $9.00 a day for this biennium. When we received the total number of patient days, and multiplied it by $9.00, it amounted to $28,000,000. Yet, the Republican Majority insists that it will only give $24,000,000 for this purpose. When you calculate the figures involved, it comes out to about $7.56 a day, which means that the medical-surgical hospitals are getting a reduction for this biennium, compared to what they received in the last biennium, instead of an increase. Yet, this particular school, Mr. President, will give itself an increase. This just does not make sense to me. We have no preferred institutions, so let us treat them all alike.

Right now, Mr. President, I am doing a little bit of investigating myself, in order to find out what is going on with this and some other schools that were given an increase.

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, first I want to say that House Bill No. 197, House Bill No. 529 and House Bill No. 530 were passed over, not temporarily, but passed over in order, at the request of Senator Ruth. I went along with that request. The next bill which came up was House Bill No. 531. We did not search around to find some bill which affected a Democratic Senator's District. I thought surely you were not going to use House Bill No. 1700, which is the General Appropriation Bill, as a club or bludgeon, in order to obtain the votes for these bills. In other words, since I have been a Member of the Senate, I have always felt that each bill should stand on its own merits. I feel that we should not use one piece of legislation as a club over another piece of legislation.

However Mr. President, it seems as though that is the way the Democrats want to act. They are even willing to use these poor youngsters up there in Senator McMenemy's District, who go to the Orlando S. Johnson Industrial School, as part of the club. I did not think they were that heartless, but now that I found out they are, I am willing that we refrain from acting upon the remainder of the House appropriations bills at this time.

Mr. McMENAMIN. Mr. President, now is a fine time for the Majority Leader to worry about the poor youngsters at the Orlando S. Johnson Industrial School, after he has killed its appropriation by his rash action today, which may result in a severe curtailment of the school's facilities in the coming biennium.

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I beg to differ with Senator McMenemy. It was not by my vote that this bill was killed. It was by Senator McMenemy's vote and the vote of every other Democratic Senator. I, as well as all the other Republican Senators, voted for this bill.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, they say there are many ways of killing a cat besides skinning it. It was the direct vote of Senator Mahany and Senator Berger, when they changed their votes to put themselves into a position to move for the reconsideration of this bill in order to run it around the track a second time, which killed it permanently. There was no action on this side which put the bill in a position to be killed permanently. Other than the action of the Majority Leader.

Mr. McMENAMIN. Mr. President, we, of the Democratic Minority, have been fighting a fight here for the best part of this week for the people of Pennsylvania to receive adequate appropriations, not only for the Johnson Industrial School but for mental health, child care and so forth. We have spoken at length on these subjects for several days. In my experience, as a Senator, this is the first time I have seen this type of action, where a bill is voted on twice in the same day, with Republican leaders changing their votes in order for them to call the bill up for a second vote on the same day.

Mr. President, I think the people of Scranton and Lackawanna County are concerned, as much as Senator Dent is, with the rights of minorities. That is the reason we voted as we did. We have to avail ourselves of the few powers the Constitution provides for the minority in this General Assembly, in order to obtain the greatest good for the greatest number of people.

MOTION FOR RECONSIDERATION OF HOUSE BILL No. 531

Mr. SCHMIDT. Mr. President, inasmuch as the gentlemen on the other side of the aisle are very much interested in the Orlando S. Johnson School, in Scranton, I do, at this time, move you that the rules of this Senate be suspended and that the vote by which House Bill No. 531 was defeated be reconsidered.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I rise to a point of order.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The gentleman will state it. Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I understand there is a constitutional provision which forbids reconsideration of the vote on a bill the second time.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The gentleman will have to give the Chair a moment.

The motion made by the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Schmidt, is out of order. However, the only motion which would be in order at the present time would be a motion to rescind the action taken by the Senate on House Bill No. 531.

RECESS

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, the Republican Senators have not caucused on the Third Reading Calendar as yet. We would, therefore, like sufficient time in order to do that. I do not know whether Senator Dent would like to have a similar caucus.

Mr. President, I now request a recess of the Senate until 3:00 o'clock p. m., Eastern Standard Time, for the purpose of holding a Republican Caucus.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Are there any objections? The Chair hears no objection, and declares a recess of the Senate until 3:00 o'clock, p. m., Eastern Standard Time.

AFTER RECESS

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The time of recess having elapsed, the Senate will be in order.

HOUSE MESSAGES

HOUSE BILLS FOR CONCURRENCE

The Clerk of the House of Representatives being introduced, presented for concurrence bills of the House, as follows:

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to offer amendments at this time.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

The Clerk read the amendments as follows:

Amend section 1 (section 1502), page 2, line 9, by striking out "to" and inserting where it appears the first time: "for"; Amend section 1 (section 1502), page 2, line 10, by inserting after "towards": "any"; Amend section 1 (section 1502), page 2, line 10, by inserting after "non-profit": "associations or corporations which provide."

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the amendments?

AMENDMENTS ADOPTED

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I move that the Senate adopt the amendments just read by the Clerk.

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

Ordered, That the bill as amended lie over for printing.

BILLS OVER IN ORDER TEMPORARILY

Mr. WHALLEY. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that the following bills, on third reading, go over in their order, temporarily:

House Bill No. 372, Printer's No. 594; and

House Bill No. 376, Printer's No. 595.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

BILL ON THIRD READING AND FINAL PASSAGE

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 415, entitled:

An Act amending the act of June 24, 1939 (P. L. 872) entitled "The Penal Code" prescribing penalties for giving false information to telephone operators in certain cases.

BILL ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order,

Then Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 439, entitled:

An Act relating to motion-picture films reels or stereopticon views or slides providing a system of listing the first showing of each film reel or view and a system or registration of exhibitors sellers lessors and users of films reels or views disapproval of films reels or views which are obscene or incite to crime and of the banners posters and other like advertising matter used in connection therewith imposing powers and duties upon the Pennsylvania State Board of Censors and providing Penalties for the violation of this act.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

And the amendments made thereto to having been printed as required by the Constitution,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I notice that Senate Bill No. 439 is on the list of the American Federation of Labor as being one of the bills which they oppose. In fact, it is the only bill on their list, which is on our Calendar, that they are now opposing.

Therefore, Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Westmoreland, Senator Dent, or someone else on the other side who usually confers with the labor representatives, as to the reason why labor is against this particular bill.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Will the gentleman from Westmoreland, Mr. Dent, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. DENT. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. MAHANY. Senator Dent, can you tell me why the American Federation of Labor is opposing Senate Bill No. 439?

Mr. DENT. I cannot tell you exactly why, Senator. There was some talk about the projectionist, and I am looking around the Senate to see whether there is a spokesman here. I will be glad to talk to him and give you the answer as quickly as possible. I think it can be straightened out. I do not think it is anything serious.

Mr. MAHANY. I would certainly like to get it straightened out because I do not want to vote for a bill that labor is opposing, at this late stage in my career.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

REQUEST THAT BILL GO OVER IN ORDER TEMPORARILY

Mr. YOSKO. Mr. President, until such time as this matter is straightened out, I ask unanimous consent that Senate Bill No. 439, Printer's No. 323, on final passage, go over in its order, temporarily.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Is there objection?

RECONSIDERATION OF SENATE BILL No. 439

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, rather than have the bill go over in its order temporarily, on final passage, I move that the Senate do now reconsider the vote by which Senate Bill No. 439 passed third reading.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. How did the Senator vote?
Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I voted with the prevailing side.

Mr. WHALLEY. Mr. President, I second the motion.
The PRESIDING OFFICER. How did the Senator vote?
Mr. WHALLEY. Mr. President, I voted with the prevailing side.

The motion was agreed to.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading?

BILLS OVER IN ORDER

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Senate Bill No. 439, Printer's No. 323, on third reading, go over in its order.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. WHALLEY. Mr. President I ask unanimous consent that Senate Bill No. 468, Printer's No. 362, on third reading, go over in its order.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

BILLS ON THIRD READING AND FINAL PASSAGE

Agreeably to order,

BILL OVER IN ORDER

Mr. WHALLEY. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that House Bill No. 560, Printer's No. 435, on third reading, go over in its order.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

BILLS ON THIRD READING AND FINAL PASSAGE

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 562, entitled:

An Act amending the act of June 23, 1931 (P. L. 932), entitled "The Third Class City Code" fixing minimum salaries for paid firemen in certain cases.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. MALLERY. Mr. President, I had a conversation with the Mayor of Altoona, the Honorable Robert Anthony, a Democrat, whom I have always respected as a member of the Blair County Bar. He is doing the best he can to provide good government for the city of Altoona.

Altoona is quite well known as a city where most of the citizens own their own property. Many of those citizens are living on retirement. I think we all realize that those who have only their retirement upon which to depend, in these days when the cost of living has risen to the highest point it ever has in the history of the Country, have great difficulty in paying taxes and existing on what remains.

No one in this Senate is more concerned nor more interested in seeing to it that our employees of third class cities—in fact, in all branches of government—are adequately paid. In Altoona there has been set up a method to handle this matter. So far as I have been able to learn, it is satisfactory to the police and the firemen. The mayor or council appoints a committee of representative citizens, all men of high standing in the city, who meet with the firemen and consider their needs and the ability of the city to provide adequate salaries.

As far as I know, satisfactory arrangements have always been made and, in fact, I know that the same procedure will be open to the firemen and all municipal employees again. If there has been any complaint which I have heard expressed in our public press, it has been the condemnation of this Legislature, telling the people back home how to operate their government. The press, in my opinion, correctly criticized Members of the Legislature for imposing higher costs on local government without providing adequate financial assistance.

Mr. President, we talk about home rule. We are always in favor of home rule. Yet, we sit here in the Senate of Pennsylvania and impose added costs on local government without any knowledge of the problems confronting those governing our cities, boroughs, townships and counties. No doubt there are cities, such as Harrisburg, which can afford higher pay for all municipal employees.

Mr. President, Altoona has 133 paid firemen and the salary paid them is $3,800. More than half a million dollars is now required to pay the present salaries of the firemen. If their salaries are increased to $4,500, an additional sum of $93,100 will be required. In all fairness, if this bill passes, the salaries of policemen and all other city employees should be increased. Council will have to do one of two things, either increase taxes or discharge thirty-five firemen, thus adding to the large number of men in the city who are unemployed. I, for one, certainly do not want to be a party to adding to our unemployment rolls.

Mr. YOSKO. Mr. President, on behalf of this bill, I can only say that I know for a fact there are many, many firemen who are paid less than laborers are paid today. Firemen perform a yeoman service for the public. The very people who were indicated here, the property owners, have their property protected by the firemen, sometimes at the risk of the firemen's lives. Firemen, like everybody else, have families and must support them. I do not see anything wrong with giving firemen a minimum salary after they have served a number of years.

From the statistics in my possession, there are about five third class cities which now pay their firemen $4,500 a year; some cities pay more. However, the average salary is about $4,100. I see nothing wrong with raising that minimum salary to $4,500, as I said before, after those firemen, who protect the lives and the properties of the citizens of this Commonwealth, have served a number of years. I think every Member of the Senate should vote in favor of this bill.

And the question recurring,
Shall the bill pass finally?

(During the calling of the roll, the following occurred:)

Mr. WOLFE. Mr. President, not having heard my name called, I desire to be recorded as voting "no."

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The gentleman from Union will be so recorded.

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—42

Barr,	Flack,	Mullin,	Van Sant,
Berger,	Harney,	Murray,	Wade,
Blass,	Hays,	Pechan,	Wagner,
Camiel,	Koprivier, Jr.,	Propert,	Walker,

NAYS—7

Kessler,	McMenamin,	Stevenson,	Wolfe,
Mallery,	Silvert,	Stiefel,

A majority of all the Senators having voted "aye," the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present said bill to the House of Representatives for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 619, entitled:

An Act amending the act of May 17, 1929 (P. L. 1798) entitled "Law Fixing Annual Charge on Forest Lands" changing limitations on the responsibility of the Commonwealth to pay charges to counties on certain Federal forest reserves and making an appropriation.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. SEYLER. Mr. President, I rise to a question of parliamentary inquiry.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The gentleman will state it.

Mr. SEYLER. Mr. President, I note that this bill carries an appropriation. I note also that it does not appear with the appropriation bills. I am for the bill, but I merely wish to inquire whether this bill has been referred to the Appropriation Committee and, alternately, if it has not, whether it needs to be?

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Chair would state that it does not make any difference whether this bill appears with the appropriation bills. The question of whether or not it has been in the Appropriations Committee is not pertinent if the Senate desires to approve it or reject it at this time.

Mr. SEYLER. Mr. President, a further parliamentary inquiry.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The gentleman will state it.

Mr. SEYLER. Mr. President, is the statement you have just made true of all bills; that no bills really need to be referred to the Appropriations Committee?

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Chair would say that if a bill appears on the Calendar and no Member of the Senate, whether he be of the Minority or the Majority, moves to re-refer it to the Committee on Appropriations, the bill would remain on the Calendar.

Mr. SEYLER. My point, Mr. President, to continue the parliamentary inquiry, is to ask, if a bill has never been referred to the Appropriations Committee but carries an appropriation and is passed finally by this Senate, whether there is any reason why that bill is not just as good as a bill which has gone through the Appropriations Committee carrying an appropriation?

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The rules of the Senate provide that a bill, when introduced, shall be referred to the proper committee. In this case, the proper committee was the Committee on Forests and Waters, Game and Fish, from whence it came.

Any Member of the Senate who, at that time, thought the bill should be re-referred to another committee would be in a position to make this clear. However, it would not affect the validity of the bill.

Mr. SEYLER. I thank you.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—49

Barr,	Hays,	Mullin,	Taylor,
Berger,	Kessler,	Murray,	Van Sant,

REQUEST TO INTRODUCE BILLS

Mr. SCHMIDT. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to introduce bills at this time.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Is there objection?

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, for the information of Senator Schmidt, we fully expect to adjourn within the next three legislative days. Therefore, any bill which he now presents would have no chance of passage. I hope he does not want to have the taxpayers of Pennsylvania pay for printing bills which absolutely have no chance of passage.

With that knowledge, I wonder if Senator Schmidt still wants to proceed with the presentation of these bills.

Mr. SCHMIDT. Mr. President, may we be at ease a moment?

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Senate will be at ease. (The Senate was at ease.)

Mr. SCHMIDT. Mr. President, at this time I will not offer these bills until we have had a chance to discuss them.

ANNOUNCEMENT BY THE CHAIR

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Chair would like to request that all Committee Chairmen return their bills to the office of the Senate Librarian prior to the end of the Session.

BILL ON SECOND READING AMENDED

Agreeably to order,

The rule requiring bills to be considered in Committee of the Whole being in this case dispensed with,

The Senate proceeded to the second reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1509, entitled:

An Act creating the Student Loan and Fellowship Fund providing for loans of money to persons pursuing courses of study in preparation for professional or technical positions with the Commonwealth conferring powers and imposing duties upon the State Council of Education Department of Justice Superintendent of Public Instruction Auditor General and State Treasurer and making an appropriation

The first section was read.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the section?

Mr. SILVERT. Mr. President, during this Session, Senator Ehrgood and I introduced a bill for loans to students. This bill would have required no appropriation for the State and would have set up a fund, through contributions of people of means and corporations who had the money with which to do it.

The bill was reported from committee and, for reasons unknown to both Senator Ehrgood and myself, it was recommitted.

House Bill No. 1509 provides for loans to students and makes an appropriation of $250,000. We are not opposed to this bill. The only trouble with it is that it is unconstitutional in the manner in which it is drawn. The Attorney General's Office has prepared amendments which I am about to offer, to make this bill constitutional.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the section?

Mr. SILVERT offered the following amendments:

Amend the bill, page 1, by inserting after line 9: "Section 1. For the purpose of this act the term 'trainee' shall mean an employee of an administrative department or independent administrative board or commission of the Commonwealth receiving on-the-job training in an institution of higher learning located within the Commonwealth enrolled or having an application for enrollment pending as a candidate for a degree in a technical or professional field";

Amend Section 1, page 2, line 1, by striking out "1" and inserting: "2"; Amend Section 1, page 2, line 2, by striking out "field" and inserting "fields"; Amend Section 1, page 2, lines 5 and 6, by striking out "Student Loan" in line 5 and "and Fellowship" in line 7 and inserting: "Commonwealth Employees' Training"; Amend Section 1, page 2, line 6 and 7, by striking out "Student Loan" in line 6 and "and Fellowship" in line 7 and inserting: "Commonwealth Employees' Training"; Amend Section 1, page 2, lines 8 and 9, by striking out "be used for the purpose of making loans authorized by" in line 8 and "this act" in line 9 and inserting: "the use of the administrative departments and independent administrative boards and commissions as herein provided".

They were agreed to.

The section was agreed to as amended.

The second section was read.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the section?

Mr. SILVERT offered the following amendments:

Amend Section 2, page 2, line 11, by striking out "2" and inserting "3"; Amend Section 2, page 2, line 11, by striking out "Student Loan and Fellowship" and inserting: "Commonwealth Employees' Training"; Amend Section 2, page 2, lines 13 to 15, by striking out all of said lines and inserting: "by used to pay salaries of trainees"; Amend Section 2, page 2, line 16, by striking out "loans made" and inserting: "trainees employed by the several administrative departments and independent administrative boards and commissions".

They were agreed to.

The section was agreed to as amended.

The third section was read.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the section?

Mr. SILVERT offered the following amendments:

Amend Section 3, page 3, lines 1 to 6, by striking out all of said lines and inserting: "Section 4. To qualify for employment as a trainee a person must "(1) Be a resident of the Commonwealth for at least one (1) year and be enrolled or have an application for enrollment pending in an institution of higher learning in Pennsylvania as a candidate for a technical or professional degree; "(2) Satisfactorily pass a competitive examination conducted under the supervision of the State Civil Service Commission; and "(3) Be otherwise qualified according to standards of qualification for employment set by the administrative department or independent administrative board or commission in which the trainee is to be employed."

They were agreed to.

The section was agreed to as amended.

The fourth section was read.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the section?

Mr. SILVERT offered the following amendment:

Amend Section 4, page 3, lines 7 to 20, and page 4, lines 1 to 3, by striking out all of said lines and inserting: "Section 5. Competitive examinations shall be held at such times and places and by such school officials or citizens of the Commonwealth as are designated by the rules and regulations of the State Civil Service Commission and on such subjects as the State Civil Service Commission deems essential to qualify persons for on-the-job training in the several administrative departments and independent administrative boards and commissions in which the Executive Board has determined that trainees shall be employed. Upon request of the head of an administrative department or independent administrative board or commission the State Civil Service Commission shall furnish such person a list of the persons qualified for employment as trainees in such administrative department or independent administrative board or commission. Expenses incurred in conducting and administering such competitive examinations shall be paid out of moneys from time to time in the Commonwealth Employees' Training Fund."

They were agreed to.

The section was agreed to as amended.

The fifth section was read.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the section?

Mr. SILVERT offered the following amendment.

Amend Section 5, page 4, lines 4 to 17, by striking out all of said lines and inserting: "Section 6. Before commencing employment as a trainee in an administrative department or independent administrative board or commission a person shall execute a contract of employment whereby he promises to perform services for the Commonwealth for a term twice the length of the period during which he will receive on-the-job training prior to being awarded a professional or technical degree, and whereby as an employee of the Commonwealth he promises to perform continuous service for the Commonwealth during periods of the year when he is not receiving on-the-job training in an educational institution. In consideration of these promises the administrative department or independent administrative board or commission in which such person is to be employed shall agree to employ such person so long as such person's services are necessary and valuable for the performance of the duties of the administrative department or independent administrative board or commission or so long as the person maintains an academic standing satisfactory to the proper authorities of the educational institution attended by such person, at a salary schedule to be set by the administrative department or independent administrative board or commission. All contracts executed pursuant to this act shall be approved as to form and legality by the Department of Justice and shall be signed for the Commonwealth by the head of the administrative department or independent administrative board or commission in which the contracting person is employed, the Auditor General and the State Treasurer. Nothing in this act shall prevent the Commonwealth from recovering damages in a civil action for breach of any contract executed pursuant to this act."

It was agreed to.

The section was agreed to as amended.

The sixth section was read.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the section?

Mr. SILVERT offered the following amendments:

Amend Section 6, page 4, line 18, by striking out "6" and inserting: "7"; Amend Section 6 page 4, line 18, by striking out "person otherwise qualifying for a loan" and inserting: "trainee"; Amend Section 6, page 5, lines 1 and 2, by striking out "applying for receiving and repaying such a loan" in line 1 and "any" in line 2 and inserting: "contracting for employment with an administrative department or independent administrative board or commission".

They were agreed to.
The section was agreed to as amended.
The Seventh section was read.
On the question,
Will the Senate agree to the section?
Mr. SILVERT offered the following amendments:
Amend Section 7, page 5, line 5, by striking out "7" and inserting: "8"; Amend Section 7, page 5, line 7, by striking out "Student Loan and Fellowship" and inserting: "Commonwealth Employees' Training"; Amend Section 7, page 5, line 8, by striking out "1" and inserting: "2"; Amend the bill, page 5, by inserting after line 8: "Section 9. This act shall take effect immediately".

They were agreed to.
The section was agreed to as amended.
The title was read.
On the question,
Will the Senate agree to the title?
Mr. SILVERT offered the following amendments:
Amend the title, page 1, line 1 of the title, by striking out "Student Loan and Fellowship" and inserting: "Commonwealth Employees' Training";
Amend the title, page 1, line 1 of the title, by striking out "loans" and inserting: "the payment";
Amend the title, page 1, line 2 of the title, by striking out "money" and inserting: "salaries";
Amend the title, page 1, line 2 of the title, by striking out "persons" and inserting: "employees of the Commonwealth engaged in on-the-job training by";
Amend the title, page 1, lines 2 and 3 of the title, by striking out "preparation" in line 2 and "for" in line 3;
Amend the title, page 1, line 3, by striking out "or" and inserting: "and"; Amend the title, page 1, line 3, by striking out "positions with the Commonwealth" and inserting: "fields"; Amend the title, page 1, lines 5 and 6 by striking out "Superintendent of Public" in line 5 and "Instruction" in line 6; Amend the title, page 1, line 6, by inserting after "General": "certain heads of administrative departments and independent administrative boards and commissions, the State Civil Service Commission".

They were agreed to.

An Act authorizing the Pennsylvania Historical and Museum Commissions to acquire land on which is located the Wolf Academy in East Allen Township Northampton County providing for its restoration and preservation as a historical site and making an appropriation.

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to,
Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

BILL RE-REFERRED

Mr. WHALLEY. Mr. President, I move that House Bill No. 1631, the bill just read, be re-referred to the Committee on Appropriations.
Mr. TAYLOR. Mr. President, I second the motion.
The motion was agreed to.

FIRST READING CALENDAR

BILL ON FIRST READING

Agreeably to order,
The Senate proceeded to the first reading and consideration of House Bill No. 797, entitled:

An Act amending the act of May 22, 1933 (P. L. 853) entitled "The General County Assessment Law," designating items to be included in the valuation of industrial property.

And said bill having been read at length the first time,
Ordered, To be laid aside for second reading.

MOTION TO RECOMMIT BILL

Mr. SCHMIDT. Mr. President, I move that House Bill No. 797, the bill just read, be recommitted to the Committee on Rules.

Mr. SEYLER. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I object to this motion, and ask my colleagues to vote "no".

Mr. SCHMIDT. Mr. President, in support of the motion I have just made, at this late date in the Session, a matter of such great importance to the county of Allegheny, in particular, is deserving of much more deliberation than can be given to this bill at this time.

There was a resolution introduced in this Senate by Senator Koprivier and Senator Fleming I believe, which suggested that this matter be referred to the Joint State Government Commission for a complete study and provided that recommendations be brought back to the next Session of this Legislature.

Mr. President and Members of the Senate, the companies concerned with this bill have stated that if this bill were passed, they would permit the present existing assessment on machinery to remain on the assessment books of the county of Allegheny for a period of five years. If they are sincere in this statement, the delay in the passage of this legislation at this Session of the Legislature, prior to a complete study by the Joint State Government Commission, would not in any way hurt these companies. As I have stated, they have voluntarily made a pledge and a promise to the communities in Allegheny County that they would not object to the assessment remaining on their machinery as real estate assessment.

Therefore, Mr. President, I request sincerely that we recommit this bill. This means a matter of life and death, financially, to quite a number of communities in Allegheny County. You are going to squeeze them, financially; you are going to do much harm to them. This is true particularly in many of the school districts.

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President—

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Crawford, Mr. Mahany.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I rise to a point of order.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The gentleman will state it.

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I dislike raising a point of order on my colleague but the hour is growing late, and I believe Senator Schmidt knows he cannot debate the merits of a bill on a motion to recommit. That is the reason I want the bill to be moved up. When it does appear on third reading, Senator Schmidt will be given ample opportunity to debate the merits or the demerits of this bill, and I am sure there will be other Members who will argue on its behalf. In that way, we can hear both sides of the argument. If Senator Schmidt insists on presenting just his side on this motion to recommit, and there is no opportunity for the other side to argue, it will not be fair.

Therefore, Mr. President, I raise a point of order and ask for a ruling from the Chair as to whether or not the gentleman's remarks on the merits of the bill are in order.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The point of order is well taken. The merits of a bill are not debatable on a motion to recommit. The only thing debatable would be the advisability of recommitment.

Mr. SCHMIDT. Mr. President, I believe the statements I have made are absolutely in line with the advisability of recommitting this bill.

Mr. President, I sincerely ask all the Members of the Senate to consider the situation which would be created, and vote for the recommitment of this bill.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

(A voice vote having been taken, the question was determined in the negative.)

SENATE RESOLUTION, SERIAL No. 104, TAKEN FROM TABLE

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I call from the table Senate Resolution, Serial No. 104.

The resolution was read by the Clerk as follows:

JOINT STATE GOVERNMENT COMMISSION TO STUDY AND EXAMINE THE JUDICIAL SYSTEM OF THIS COMMONWEALTH

In the Senate, January 22, 1957.

The courts in our Commonwealth are being faced with a tremendous backlog of untried civil and criminal cases. One explanation may be that there has been very little change in our judicial system in the Commonwealth since Colonial days.

The increase in population through the years, the improvement of economic and financial conditions and the large expansion of commercial and industrial activity, has brought a great increase in legal action in both the civil and criminal divisions. Thus a tremendous backlog is developing year after year with the result that cases are not being disposed of with the rapidity they should be. This condition is due to the great modern demands that have arisen as a result of our progress. It becomes necessary to reorganize the judicial system so that it can meet modern demands and also be put on an efficient and business like basis.

In some instances, the backlog of criminal cases has developed into approximately five thousand and the civil cases approximately six thousand. Our judges have so many duties sitting on both criminal and civil cases that it becomes almost impossible to keep up to date. In many nonbail criminal cases, in some jurisdictions, the defendants are not tried as promptly as they should be and some are held in prison untried for as long as eight to nine months.

If this problem is not met and solved as quickly as possible, we may find in the not too distant future that the entire judicial system of this Commonwealth may break down; therefore be it

Resolved, That the Joint State Government Commission be directed to make a thorough study and examination of the judicial system in this Commonwealth; and be it further

Resolved, That the Joint State Government Commission report to the next regular session of the General Assembly its findings and recommendations with drafts of legislation necessary to carry the recommendations into effect.

On the question,

Will the Senate adopt the resolution?

SENATE RESOLUTION, SERIAL No. 104, ADOPTED

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I move that the Senate adopt the resolution just read by the Clerk.

Mr. WHALLEY. Mr. President, I second the motion. The motion was agreed to and the resolution was adopted.

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION, SERIAL No. 114, TAKEN FROM TABLE

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I call from the table Senate Concurrent Resolution, Serial No. 114.

The resolution was read by the Clerk as follows:

MEMORIALIZING CONGRESS TO IMMEDIATELY ENACT LEGISLATION WHICH WILL SEEK A MODIFICATION OF ALL AGREEMENTS GIVING FOREIGN NATIONS CRIMINAL JURISDICTION OVER UNITED STATES SERVICE PERSONNEL

In the Senate, March 20, 1957.

The members of our armed forces serving abroad, their civilian component and the dependents of each, are now subject to the criminal jurisdiction of more than fifty countries in which they may be on duty by reason of the NATO Status of Forces Treaty, the Administrative Agreement with Japan, and Executive Agreements with other nations. These agreements penalize our servicemen who are serving abroad by depriving them of many of the rights granted by our Constitution, which they have sworn to defend.

The Senate deplores the arrangements now existing which make service in our armed forces abroad a hazard by depriving our servicemen, their civilian component and dependents of the rights and guarantees of our Constitution.

The General Assembly therefore expresses its belief that all United States service personnel stationed abroad should be tried by United States military tribunals under the Uniform Code of Military Justice for offenses committed on foreign soil, therefore be it

Resolved, (the House of Representatives concurring) That the Congress of the United States be memorialized to immediately enact legislation which will seek a modification of all agreements giving foreign nations criminal jurisdiction over United States service personnel stationed there in order that the United States may regain exclusive jurisdiction over members of its armed forces or if necessary the Congress should terminate or denounce these agreements, and be it further

Resolved, That copies of this resolution be sent to the President and Vice President of the United States; to all Senators and members of the House of Representatives of the United States and that copies be filed with the Clerk of the House of Representatives and the Clerk of the Senate of the United States.

On the question,

Will the Senate adopt the resolution?

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION, SERIAL No. 114, ADOPTED

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I move that the Senate adopt the resolution just read by the Clerk.

Mr. WHALLEY. Mr. President, I second the motion. On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. SEYLER. Mr. President, I take this way of letting everyone know that I am voting "no" on this resolution, because I will be drowned out by the "yeas" and "nays." My reason for doing this is because I believe this is a question of international policy on the part of the United States Government. I do not consider our getting into this matter to be the business of this Senate, even though I know that we do send many resolutions whereby we advise Congress of our distinguished opinion and our expert opinion. However, this is a matter which seems to me to have particularly delicate significance in the world at present. It is quite possible that the success of our occupying forces, in many friendly countries, may be prejudiced by an unwise position taken on this matter.

I do not know, Mr. President—and I am not in a position to say—whether the policy advocated in this resolution is wise or whether it is unwise. I do, however, have a feeling that the situation of the State Department and the President will not be helped by a lot of people, in a more or less irresponsible manner, speaking out publicly and getting on the record for our enemies in the world, as well as our friends, to read.

Therefore, Mr. President, I certainly wish to be recorded as voting "no."

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

The motion was agreed to and the resolution was adopted.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the House of Representatives for concurrence.

REPORTS FROM COMMITTEES

Mr. SCOTT. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to make reports from committees at this time.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. SCOTT, from the Committee on Highways, reported as committed, House Bill No. 147, entitled:

An Act amending the act of May 1, 1929 (P. L. 905) entitled "The Vehicle Code," providing additional enforcement procedures on traffic violations in cities of the third class.

An Act enlarging the rights and powers of married women as to property and contracts and repealing certain provisions.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE OF CONFERENCE ON SENATE BILL No. 97

Mr. SCOTT. Mr. President, I submit the report of the Committee of Conference on Senate Bill No. 97, entitled:

An Act to define and prohibit unauthorized interception, divulgence or use of telephone and telegraph communications; providing criminal penalties and civil damages, including attorneys' fees, for the violation thereof and limiting the admissibility of evidence.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The report will appear on tomorrow's Calendar.

HOUSE BILL No. 372 CALLED UP

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I call up, from page 9 of today's Third Reading Calendar, House Bill No. 372, Printer's No. 594, which went over in its order temporarily. We were under the impression that this bill needed amendment, but we find we were mistaken.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

BILL ON THIRD READING AND FINAL PASSAGE

HOUSE BILL No. 1419 CALLED UP

Mr. WADE. Mr. President, I call up, from page 19 of today's Third Reading Calendar, House Bill no. 1419, Printer's No. 838, which went over in its order temporarily.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

BILL ON THIRD READING AMENDED

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1419, entitled:

An Act amending the act of June 1 1933 (P. L. 1172), entitled "Borough Rural State Highway Law" changing or deleting certain routes and adding certain new routes

And said bill having been read at length the third time,

On the question,

Will the senate agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. WADE. Mr. President, on behalf of Senator Stevenson, Senator Flack, Senator Walker and myself, I ask unanimous consent to offer amendments at this time.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

THURSDAY, June 13, 1957

The House met at 10:00 a.m. EST.

The SPEAKER (W. Stuart Helm) in the Chair.

PRAYER

Reverend Walter Kennedy, Pastor of the Templeton and Goheenville Presbyterian Churches, Armstrong County, guest Chaplain and guest of the Speaker, offered the following prayer:

Our Father God, Thou art our refuge and strength. When the day has been long and the hills steep we have been refreshed by Him who is our strength.

In these exhausting times give, we pray Thee, to these legislators, wisdom, courage and strength according to their need. May their insight into the needs of the people of this great Commonwealth lead them to plan intelligently for those needs.

Bless the President of these United States, the Governor of this Commonwealth and all who are charged with the making, interpreting and executing our laws.

For Thine is the kingdom, and power and the glory. Amen.

With the information that the Senate has passed the same without amendment.

BROWNIE TROOP 155 WELCOMED

The SPEAKER. The Chair welcomes to the Hall of the House Brownie Troop No. 155 from Columbia, Lancaster County, here today under the leadership of Mrs. Lester Shoff and Mrs. William Worley.

They are the guests of the delegation from Lancaster County, Messrs. Eshleman, Murray, Royer and Wood.

The Chair welcomes the delegation and hopes that they enjoy their visit in the Hall of the House today.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. RAGOT. I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state it.

Mr. Speaker, on Tuesday, the Senator from Northampton County saw fit to criticize the three Republican Members of the House from Northampton County. Articles appeared in the issues of June 11, 1957 of the Easton Express and the Allentown Morning Call, in which a statement is reported issued by the Senator from Northampton County, Chairman of the Investigating Committee authorized by the 1955 session of the General Assembly to investigate the Delaware River Joint Toll Bridge Commission.

On May 22, 1957, the three Assemblymen from Northampton County introduced Resolution 113, Serial No. 118, which was presented because of the nearness of adjournment of this session of the Legislature and because no report had been made of the findings of the Committee and its recommendations, together with the accounting and audit of the funds appropriated to it.

The Resolution called for a report to be filed before June 1, 1957 so that if legislation were to be presented as a result of the report, there would be sufficient time to do so in this session. At this late date, the Senator from Northampton County, Chairman of the Investigating Committee, sees fit to criticize the Resolution presented by the three Republican Assemblymen from Northampton County, claiming that we omitted one paragraph, that we forgot to inquire why the Bucks County Court has not disposed of the motion to quash the indictments against three former members of the Bridge Commission and a former staff member.

In answer to this we wish to state that before criticizing the Republicans from Northampton County the Senator from Northampton County, Chairman of the Investigating Committee, should explain why he has failed to do his duty as mandated by the former session of this Legislature.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. ANDREWS asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, I would simply observe that, in my opinion, the remarks made by the gentleman from Northampton were not privileged but were permissible as a statement to be made to the House with its permission, but that they were not proper remarks under a question of personal privilege.

The SPEAKER. The Chair had been informed that the gentleman from Northampton had been personally criticized in the Senate, and felt that the gentleman had a perfect right to defend himself under personal privilege.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. STIMMEL asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, I rise to voice my objection to what I deem a most unfair opinion, recently expressed, of the membership of this House. The other day in our mail boxes was a duplication of an article written by a Mr. Clarence W. Funk, Editor of the Farm Bureau Mirror. It was entitled "Expendible Legislators."

I assume that most of the Members have read this article and to save time I will submit a copy to be printed in the Legislative Journal and suggest that it be particularly noted that this editorial was reprinted by the Pennsylvania Department of Agriculture.

I resent the implication that we lack the courage to assess taxes for necessary state services. I know that many like myself, have put their political future in dire jeopardy in the past when they had the courage to vote for a sales tax at a time when a vote for any broad base tax was considered political suicide.

I also question very much that the farmer has been "short changed" this session. Time and the record will indicate that he has not been short changed in my opinion. All of us here today, I am sure, are proud of our Pennsylvania farmers. They are honest, sincere, hard-working, God-fearing people, and I, for one, would be the last to do them an intentional disservice or disfavor.

The opinion represented in this editorial is that of one individual who seemingly fails to realize that, unless we are willing to pay limitless taxes for socialization and nationalization there is just so much money to be efficiently spent.

I also very much doubt if there is any substantial support to this gentleman's opinion by the average Pennsylvania farmer.

Let me further say this very sheet indicates that the cost of its printing to brain-wash, propagandize and coerce this body was paid for by the Pennsylvania Department of Agriculture and I submit to His Excellency, the Governor, that this bit of shennanigans is worthy of his scrutiny.

One might properly ask, is there any appropriation in the budget to this department to pay for propaganda leaflets?

Finally, Mr. Speaker, I resent the use of the word politician in the sense that a politician is a poisonous snake, a distasteful type of person, or one of meager mind. I say, "Thank God for our form of government, for its men and women, yes for its politicians who made it great."

PERMISSION TO INTERROGATE

Mr. ANDREWS asked and obtained unanimous consent to interrogate the gentleman from Lehigh, Mr. Stimmel.

Mr. ANDREWS. Is it true that a department of the Commonwealth's government has issued a pamphlet or a leaflet which reflects upon the integrity or wisdom of Members of this House?

Mr. STIMMEL. I think it is suggested in this leaflet. In my opinion, at least, that is so, yes sir.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I would suggest that this pamphlet, this leaflet be submitted to a bipartisan committee for the purpose of ascertaining whether a department of this state government has exceeded the proprieties in questioning the discretion of the Members of this House.

I agree that a department can conduct a propaganda campaign in behalf of a program, but I do say, Mr. Speaker, that no department is privileged to question the integrity, the wisdom of those who oppose the department's program, and if the matter is as serious as the gentleman from Lehigh states, I suggest that we look into it and find whether the department has exceeded its range of proper propriety.

PERMISSION TO INTERROGATE

Mr. McCANN asked and obtained unanimous consent to interrogate the gentleman from Lehigh, Mr. Stimmel.

Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman from Lehigh inform the House if this is a reprint of an editorial from a magazine or a pamphlet called "The Mirror"?

Mr. STIMMEL. It is a reprint of the Farm Bureau Mirror, the date is not on this particular leaflet.

Mr. McCANN. Is this the same piece of literature, this editorial that you have in your hands, that has at the bottom of it "Department of Agriculture"?

Mr. STIMMEL. It has not only "Department of Agriculture," it has "Duplicated by Pennsylvania Department of Agriculture."

Mr. McCANN. I thank the gentleman, Mr. Speaker.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. McCANN asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, it is my understanding that the pamphlet of which the gentleman from Lehigh spoke is from the magazine editorial which appeared in a farm magazine.

I have checked with the Department of Agriculture and I would like to have the two gentlemen involved check also and find out, as I have found out, that there were no state funds of any kind used in the reproduction or distribution of that editorial. The check that pays for the cost of printing and distributing that editorial is certified and the check is drawn.

I would like to recommend that they take into their consideration that that is not state money, not done at state expense. The Department of Agriculture part that appears at the bottom of the editorial has to do with the mailing privileges. I would like the people involved to check those facts immediately as part of their conference.

BILLS ON FIRST READING

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the first reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 416, entitled:

An Act amending the act of June 1, 1956 (P. L. 1944) entitled "An act providing a permanent allocation of a part of the fuels and liquids fuels tax proceeds to cities boroughs incorporated towns and townships for their road street and bridge purposes * * *" continuing a conditional appropriation beyond the calendar year 1957.

And said bill having been read at length the first time,
Ordered, To be laid aside for second reading.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. READINGER asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, I understand that the last Printer's No. for House Bills is 924, and the last Printer's Number for Senate Bills at this time is 394.

Some of the bills on second reading are not in print and on the Members' desks this moment. I would suggest that we allow them to be read for the second time, with the understanding that we can amend on third reading if we desire, and that no bill be moved to a vote until we have had an opportunity to study it and caucus on it. I recommend that we do that.

The SPEAKER. The Chair will proceed on that basis.

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. FILO. I rise to a parliamentary inquiry.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state it.

Mr. FILO. Mr. Speaker, just for my own information, there has been a question as to whether House Bill 1657 was a preferred or non-preferred bill. I would like the Chair to enlighten me as to whether any decision has been handed down as to whether it is a preferred or non-preferred bill.

The SPEAKER. The Chair will read the communication from the Legal Department of the House of Representatives, the Legislative Reference Bureau. It is addressed to the Chair.

House Bill No. 1657, Printer's No. 642, does not require a vote of two-thirds of all members of the House. Under House Rule 44, only bills appropriating money to any charitable or educational institution, not under the absolute control of the Commonwealth, require a vote of two-thirds of all members elected. House Bill No. 1657 appropriates money to the several fire companies of the City of Harrisburg for certain definite services to be rendered.

In my opinion, fire companies are not charitable institutions and they are not educational institu-

Very truly yours,
/s/ BURT R. GLIDDEN
Director

Does that answer the gentleman's inquiry?
Mr. FILO. I thank you, Mr. Speaker.

RESOLUTION INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

By Mr. JUMP.

RESOLUTION No. 139.

In the House of Representatives, June 13, 1957.

One hundred years ago, Charles Stegmaier founded the Stegmaier Brewing Company at Wilkes-Barre, Pennsylvania.

From the humble plant employing only five men, the Company has grown hand-in-hand with the economy of the Commonwealth and now covers three city blocks and is the employer of 500 men.

The Stegmaier Brewing Company, in addition to giving employment to hundreds of Pennsylvanians, is the consumer of 200 tons of coal each week, thereby contributing to the welfare of the coal industry.

Stegmaier Brewing Company is an example of the type of growth which all of the State's existing industry should experience to insure the Commonwealth's continued role as a major industrial state; therefore be it

Resolved, That the members of the House of Representatives congratulate the Stegmaier Brewing Company on its 100 Anniversary as a Pennsylvania industry, and extend appreciation for its important role in the welfare of Pennsylvania and the Wyoming Valley; and be it further

Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be forwarded to the President of the Stegmaier Brewing Company.

Referred to the Committee on Rules.

RECESS

The SPEAKER. Without objection, the Chair will declare a recess until 2:00 P.M. EST for the purpose of holding a Democrat and a Republican caucus and for the purpose of having lunch.

Members are requested to take the first half hour of the recess for having their lunch.

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, it was so noisy at my desk that I could not hear the length of the recess.

The SPEAKER. The Chair agrees with the gentleman.

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, will you repeat the time of the recess?

The SPEAKER. Recess will be declared until 2:00 p.m., EST. That will be a recess of two hours and ten minutes.

Mr. READINGER. I would then request the Democrats to meet in our caucus room at 1:45 DST.; 12:45 EST.; quarter to one.

The SPEAKER. One hour from now.

Mr. READINGER. Correct.

One hour for lunch. The Republicans will take thirty minutes.

Mr. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, I have noticed in the last few days that when we set the lunch hour for thirty minutes it was not quite long enough. I believe if our Members would arrive at 12:30 p. m., standard or 1:30 p. m., daylight time, it would give them adequate time for lunch.

The SPEAKER. The hungry Republicans are given a forty minute lunch hour.

The SPEAKER. Without objection, the Chair now declares a recess until 2:00 p. m., EST.

AFTER RECESS

The time of recess having expired, the House was called to order.

The SPEAKER (W. Stuart Helm) IN THE CHAIR

NEW HAMPSHIRE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION

The SPEAKER laid before the House New Hampshire Concurrent Resolution memorializing the Federal Government to refrain from enacting new grant aid programs and reexamine all such existing programs and end or reduce the costs wherever possible.

CONCURRENT RESOLUTION

RECALLING HOUSE BILL No. 1330 FROM THE GOVERNOR

Mr. O'DELL offered a resolution which was read, considered and adopted as follows:

In the House of Representatives, June 13, 1957.

Resolved (if the Senate concur) that House Bill No. 1330, Printer's No. 575, entitled "An act regulating sales at auction requiring licenses for persons conducting such sales imposing duties on certain political subdivisions and officers thereof providing penalties and repealing inconsistent laws," be recalled from the Governor for the purpose of amendment.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

RESOLUTION INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

By Messrs. AUSTIN M. LEE, BRUCKER, MRS. B. Z. MILLER and CARSON RESOLUTION No. 140.

In the House of Representatives, June 13, 1957.

By virtue of the City-County Consolidation Amendment to the State Constitution adopted by the electorate on November 6, 1951 as interpreted by the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania the personnel of all former county offices in the City of Philadelphia became city employees subject to the Civil Service and other provisions of the Philadelphia Home Rule Charter, also

The functions of certain offices to wit, the Sheriff, Clerk of Quarter Sessions Court, City (formerly county) Commissioners, Registration Commissioners and Board of Revision of Taxes have since continued to be carried out under the applicable statutes of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, in the same manner as theretofore, and

There have been repeated requests and proposals for Legislative action effecting or authorizing the abolition, consolidation, merger or reorganization of said offices or some of them and

The offices involved are concerned inter alia with the service of process, custody of prisoners, indictments for crime, payments of support, conduct of elections, registration of voters, assessment of real and personal property and land damages in eminent domain thus involving and affecting the most vital and important civil and property rights of all citizens, and

The abolition, consolidation, merger or reorganization of said offices or some of them must be affected or authorized only after the establishment of an orderly, sensible program and upon consideration of each function or group of functions sought to be consolidated, merged or reorganized, and further upon consideration of each office to be abolished in the light of the following factors:

1. Can each function or group of functions be more efficiently expeditiously and equitably carried out in a fashion other than as at present?

2. Can these offices or any of them be abolished without positive damage to the balance or efficacy of the municipal governmental structure?

3. Which function or group of functions represents an appropriate field for the granting of additional Home Rule powers?

4. What safeguards are required to insure adequate protection of the civil and property rights of each and every citizen or resident of the City of Philadelphia?

5. How may we best insure that the benefits promised by the completion of consolidation will inexorably insure to all Philadelphias?

Be It Therefore Resolved

That the Joint State Government Commission be authorized and directed to conduct a study of City-County Consolidation for Philadelphia and make a report of its findings and recommendations to the next General Assembly.

Referred to the Committee on Rules.

PERMISSION GRANTED COMMITTEE TO MEET DURING SESSION

Mr. VARNER asked and obtained permission for the Committee on Boroughs to meet during the session of the House.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON CONFERENCE ON HOUSE BILL No. 250

Mr. STONER. Mr Speaker, I present the report of the Committee of Conference on House Bill No 250.

The SPEAKER. The report will lie over for printing under the Rules.

BILLS ON FINAL PASSAGE POSTPONED

Agreeably to order,

The bill having been called up from the postponed calendar by Mr. GAILEY.

The House resumed the consideration on third reading of House Bill No. 1096, entitled:

An Act amending the "Public School Code of 1949" approved March 10, 1949 (P. L. 30) revising and changing provisions relating to nonresident children attending public schools their privileges the responsibility of their custodians payment of tuition and records of the children.

RECONSIDERATION OF VOTE

Mr. GAILEY. Mr. Speaker, I move that the vote by which this bill passed third reading be reconsidered.

Mr. KORNIS. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. GAILEY asked unanimous consent to offer amendments at this time.

The SPEAKER. The amendments will be read by the Clerk for information.

Amend Sec. 1 (Sec. 1305), page 3, line 19, by striking out "birth"

Amend Sec. 1 (Sec. 1305), page 3, line 20, by striking out "the names of his parents"

Ordered, That the bill as amended lie over for printing.

Agreeably to order,

The bill having been called up from the postponed calendar by Mr. EWING.

The House resumed the consideration on third reading of House Bill No. 1212, entitled:

An Act amending the "Second Class County Code" approved July 28, 1953 (P. L. 723) increasing the amount of pensions in certain cases.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. KAMYK. Mr. Speaker, my colleague from Allegheny, Mr. Filo, was supposed to debate this bill but he is not in his seat. I understand he is at a committee meeting.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Filo, is presently in the Hall of the House. Does the gentleman desire to debate House Bill No. 1212, Printer's No. 378?

Mr. FILO. Mr. Speaker, I rise to oppose House Bill 1212, and I want to offer an editorial by the Pittsburgh Post Gazette of Friday, May 10. While the editorial may be a little premature in that it was passed in the House, I would like the Members to know that the editorial states, thusly:

STOP THIS PENSION RAID

The State Legislature is considering a raid on Allegheny County's employe pension fund which could wreck it.

The House has passed a bill which would increase payments to some 350 County pensioners at an additional cost of $100,000 a year. Members of the County Retirement Board say this threatens the solvency of the $13,000,000 pension fund, which as of now is actuarially sound

This fund is built and maintained on the basis of 50-50 contributions as between the County and its employees. An employee can retire with a minimum of 15 years of service.

The bill now before the Senate would increase by about 30 per cent the pensions of employees who retired prior to Sept. 1, 1953. Because of that arbitrary cutoff date, the legislation would clearly discriminate against employees who retired since then. The favored pensioners would receive sums amounting to about 65 per cent of their former pay.

This raid is led by a little group of pensioners including a couple of former assistant district attorneys who are still practicing law. One of them put $2,340.29 into the fund and has already taken out $24,325; another put in $2,224.27 and has taken out $14,734.51. Another example is that of a woman who put in $93 and has already drawn $26,000.

As the law now stands, a retired county employee can draw a pension up to $375 a month. When Social Security benefits are added to that, effective July 1, the pensioner isn't too badly off. Certainly not in sufficient need to imperil the investment in the retirement fund.

Legislators should remember that the County retirement fund does not operate like the City's. If there is deficiency in the City, it is made up from tax funds. But there is no such provision for the County's fund, which must be actuarially sound. This fund is not the obligation of the County or of the County Institution District. The Commissioners are empowered to appropriate only enough to match the contributions of employees.

It's high time the Legislature exercised responsibility in dealing with purely local affairs. It ought to turn thumbs down to the little group seeking retroactive pension increases from Allegheny County.

If the gentlemen of the House remember, a few days I put in an amendment allowing the people who actually, I would say, own this fund be allowed to take a referendum vote as to whether these people should be eligible to receive higher pensions.

Mr. Speaker, I have a letter here that I will not read. It was sent by the Retirement Board of Allegheny County and signed by the Secretary, James Knox.

I would like to add to the list of those who are receiving present benefits under the fund, and I will show you just what they have been getting and how much they are paying in. There are some 266 cases in the County of Allegheny that are receiving this pension.

I want to read a case, Case No. 13. This particular person paid in $511.36, and to date has received $25,480.

I would like to read you Case No. 18. This person paid in $409.99 and to date has received $28,285.60.

Another case, Number 54, paid into the Pension Fund $222.26 and to date has received $20,231.21.

Another case paid in $207 and received $20,000 some.

I know that the gentleman from the other side, the sponsor of the bill, will state, as has been stated, that this Pension Fund is very sound at the present time. But, you must remember that quite a number of these people who want this particular raise were only parttime employees in Allegheny County. By the same token, these very same people, whom I have cited for having received amounts in excess of $20,000, were the ones that were paying in the little amounts, and this pension fund had gone broke in the 1930's.

We certainly do not want this to happen again. I think these people who pay into the fund have a contractual right to receive the money they are putting in. I do not want to see this fund go broke. I think it is certainly a local problem and I do not believe the Members of this House should meddle into the fund of Allegheny County's Retirement Board.

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. Mr. Speaker, as Ambassador Plenipotentiary for my co-religionist from Dublin, Mayor Briscoe, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Filo.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Filo, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. FILO. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman has stated and set forth certain figures. If a man is making $50 a month, under the pension plan, how much does he pay into the fund each year?

Mr. FILO. He would be paying $25 a month and that would be twelve times $25. You figure it out; you are an attorney.

I might say that I am paying into this fund in six months more than some of these pensioned people have paid in the 20 years time they have been in this pension, as in the case I read to you of where a person paid $202 and received $20,000. I am paying more in six months than that person paid in 20 years.

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. Mr. Speaker, since the gentleman has given himself as an example, I might, with his indulgence, ask him whether he is in the category that pays $25 a month?

Mr. FILO. Mr. Speaker, it is no secret that by the recent raise that we received in Allegheny County I just managed to crawl into that bracket.

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. Mr. Speaker, since the gentleman is in that bracket of $25 a month, he will pay into the fund $300 a year, is that correct?

Mr. FILO. I believe the figure is correct.

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. Now, if the gentleman was in the pension fund for 20 years, his total contributions would be $6,000 is that correct?

Mr. FILO. That is true.

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. If after 20 years, for political cause, you are retired at the age of 50, you will then begin to draw a pension of $3,000 a year, is that correct?

Mr. FILO. I believe the figure is fairly correct.

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. If, with the Lord's help, you live for 20 years, will you tell the Members of this House how many thousands of dollars you will draw for your $6,000.

Mr. FILO. That, I have no knowledge of, Mr. Speaker. The good Lord only knows that.

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. Well, if the gentleman lives 20 years, he will have drawn $60,000 for his $6,000 investment.

Mr. FILO. That word "if" is a big thing, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. That is all. Thank you.

Mr. Speaker, I want to impress upon the Members of this House that, in my opinion, the Pension Fund of Allegheny County for the county employes is financially sound but actuarially unsound. That may sound like a contradiction, but I point this out to you. A man who enters the pension fund at the age of 40 is in the same percentage group as a man who enters at the age of 21 years. Every pension fund is in the nature of an annuity. Therefore it is unsound for a man at the age of 40 to pay the same percentage rate as a man of 21.

Now the pension fund is financially sound. It has $13 million in reserve. Last session, for the benefit of the political big-shots of Allegheny County, we never heard a word from the gentleman on the other side, when for a few dollars extra pay in the fund their pensions were automatically increased from $250 to $375 a month.

I am not making a plea for a gentleman who happens to have a side job and who is financially sound, but my plea is primarily for the benefit of people who are aged and who need this assistance.

I ask you to be guided in your decision on this particular bill by the facts which I now relate. The average age of the people whom I am trying to aid is 74 and one half years. Their life expectancy is 8.9. Frankly this particular change in the law would cost the pension fund approximately $70,000 a year. Based upon life expectancy it is my opinion it will cost the fund a half million dollars.

Who am I trying to aid by this half million dollars? I am trying to aid some old janitress, some old mechanic. Here are the groups by ages who will be benefited. There are six 85 to 90, forty-eight 80 to 85, forty-four 75 to 80, thirty-three 70 to 75, thirty-one 65 to 70, eleven from 60 to 65, eight from 55 to 60, and one from 50 to 55.

Therefore, you can appreciate that we are trying to do something for the man who needs assistance. I call to your particular attention again that there are people in this fund who only get $40 a month. Do you want to put them on Public Assistance or do you want to give them a square deal?

I would also like to call to the attention of the gentleman on the other side, who always think that the laborer is doing the right thing, that the particular piece of legislation has been endorsed by the American Federation of Labor. Now let us see whether they follow their political leaders or follow the wishes of people in labor who think that these old timers should get a square deal.

I do not want to raid the pension fund of Allegheny County. I do not want to do anything that would endanger the pension fund. I also want to call to your attention that I observed that Mr. Filo had a sheet of paper in his hand which apparently came from the Retirement Fund of Allegheny County.

On May 17, 1957, I talked to John P. Hestor, the Solicitor for the Retirement Fund of Allegheny County, and I told him that my calculation was that it would cost $70,000 a year. I told him that if he would furnish me with information that this particular change in the law would cost the fund $100,000 or more a year, I would withdraw my support and change my mind. To this day I have not received this information.

I, therefore, ask, not only the Republicans, but the Democrats, to vote for this bill and give these old-timers, who are the main beneficiaries, a square deal and a chance to live decently and properly during the last years of their lives.

Mr. FILO. Mr. Speaker, I would like to bring to the attention of the House the statement that the gentleman made about this fund being actuarially unsound. By the same token, I feel that if this legislation should go through it certainly would make it more actuarially unsound.

Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Goldstein.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Goldstein, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. FILO. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman if he saw an article in the Pittsburgh Press headlined "Pension Bonanza At The Courthouse," the result of which about 150 people have recently inquired as to their status regarding this pension fund?

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. Mr. Speaker, I recall reading an article of that character and I took into consideration that probably 400 people would retire from the pension fund who had been on the payroll of the commissioners office for 20 years or more. I estimated that their particular cost to the retirement fund would be $1 million a year. I have in my possession the history of the pension fund for the last few years, which shows that its assets had increased annually $1 million per year.

Mr. FILO. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman if he is aware of how much it would cost the County of Allegheny pension fund if these 150 people, who recently inquired regarding their pension status would retire?

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. I have not figured out 150, but I told you that I figured 400 at $200 to $250 a month would cost the fund about $1 million.

Mr. FILO. Is the gentleman aware of the fact that there are over 400 at the present time on the pension payroll?

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. I am and I expect to see a great deal more go on the pension fund in the next few months or years.

I also want to call to the particular attention of the gentleman from Allegheny the cost of the increased benefits we gave the gentlemen under the bill as amended in 1955 increasing their pension rights 50 percent from $250 to $375 and that they were given those rights even though they paid into the fund only a month or two. If the retirement fund was so zealous of the rights of the members of the fund, these gentlemen should have been down in Harrisburg watching the fund in 1955 as they are doing today.

Mr. FILO. Mr. Speaker, I would like to put forth another question to the gentleman, and I am sure he will answer in the Negative.

I would like to know if any of the numerous insurance companies throughout the state of Pennsylvania and the nation that have similar plans called annuity plans have come forth and said, "We are not paying you enough for the amount of money you have paid." Could you tell me whether any company in the state of Pennsylvania or the nation has even made such a proposal?

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. When you enter into a contract with a private corporation, the contract is binding and I do not know of any corporation that would give increased benefits.

Mr. FILO. By the same token, Mr. Speaker—

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. Don't interrupt me, I am not finished.

However, Mr. Filo, the facts show that we passed a Constitutional amendment by the voice of the people, which Constitutional amendment said that whenever the Legislature felt that a public employe was entitled to additional benefits the contractual obligation between the pensioner and the fund could be altered. All I am trying to do is to enforce that Constitutional mandate of the people of this state.

Mr. Filo. Mr. Speaker, I would like to further ask the gentleman concerning his statement that the pensioner, the man who pays into the insurance plan, has a binding contract. Is not the county pension plan a binding contract also when you enter into it?

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. Subject to the right of a Legislature to amend that.

Mr. FILO. Mr. Speaker, I appeal to the Members of this House to think wisely and carefully before they vote on this bill. I am sure no one wants any pension plan to go broke and that is, in my opinion, what would happen if such legislation is passed here.

Mr. JENKINS. Mr. Speaker, I am a member of the retirement fund that would be affected. I feel adversely to the enactment of House Bill 1212. Some observations have been made relative to the large size of the fund. I feel this is an instance of appearance being deceiving. It is true that this fund has been increased sharply in the value of its assets over the recent past, but the reasons for the increase are these:

1. Employe members eligible for retirement have been delaying their retirement probably to avail themselves of social security coverage which is imminent for a large number of County employes. It is expected that a sizeable number of employes will retire after July 1, 1957, when they will obtain full social security coverage. Additionally, the County Commissioners have announced that a program for retirement at age 65 will be instituted this summer.

2. Employe contributions are now set at five percent on salaries and wages up to $500 per month. This relatively high rate has swelled the funds' assets.

I am opposed to House Bill 1212 as it is now written. This bill has glaring inequities in that it discriminates against employes who retire subsequent to the date set forth in this act.

I am further opposed to the Retirement Fund Act as it is now written because I feel that the present system of benefits discriminates against younger employes and/or their survivors. For example, an employe with 30 years' service not yet 60 and thus ineligible for retirement under the act dies, his survivors receive only the net amount of his contributions. They receive no interest though the fund has earned the same, nor do they receive any share of the county's contributions. This, I submit, is inequitable.

Another inequity that prevails results when a member leaves the county service. He receives only his net contributions upon leaving. However, on returning to the county service, he must repay the amount withdrawn with six percent interest for the period withdrawn. To further compound the inequity, should he again leave county service, he could receive only his net contributions, excluding even the six percent interest paid by him on his return to the county service.

I believe this bill represents an unwarranted, unjust, and immoral interference by the Legislature with the operation of a fund with which the Legislature should have no concern. I feel this bill amounts to a confiscation by legislative act of contributors' funds for the benefit of individuals who, the record shows, have already, on the basis of their contributions, been fairly treated.

Mr. Speaker, the employes of the Allegheny County office in which I am employed have asked me to urge the Members of this House to oppose House Bill 1212.

Mr. WALSH. Mr. Speaker and Members of this House, while this bill was being debated by Mr. Filo and the gentleman from Allegheny, my co-nationalist by proxy, Mr. Goldstein, I noticed that no one was paying any attention to what was going on.

I am speaking as a Member of this House that has crossed party lines for the sake of good legislation. This is not a party issue. This is an issue between the people of Allegheny County covered by the retirement system and the Retirement Board. We have a good retirement system there and I think it should be kept that way.

I feel, as was brought out by Mr. Goldstein, that labor has taken a stand on this bill. Labor has no more right to take a stand on this bill than Mr. Goldstein had last night to get up here singing with the Irish. I feel if labor were interested in any kind of legislation affecting labor, they would have been out yesterday for the bill which was allowing the convicts in the workhouses to make goods. I crossed party lines and voted for that bill because I think it was in the best interests of the people. So I feel that if we are going to have home rule we should let the people who are paying into this retirement board have something to say about it. I do not think we, as Legislators, have any right to go back and have to tell these people who are paying into this retirement board year after year that they have to open it up and give extra money to these people who have been out 10 or 12 years.

I ask you all to vote against this bill.

Miss DUFFY. I would just like to say, Mr. Speaker, that I will defend Mr. Goldstein's right to sing with the Irish and I would be proud to accept him as an Irishman any time.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

MOTION TO RECOMMIT

Mr. WALSH. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be recommitted to the Committee on Cities—Counties First—Second and Second Class A.

The motion was not agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the years and days were taken and were as follows:

POSTMASTERS WELCOMED

The SPEAKER. The Chair welcomes to the Hall of the House a delegation of postmasters from the state of Pennsylvania, who are here in Harrisburg attending their convention.

ANNOUNCEMENT

The SPEAKER. The Chair wishes to make an announcement of importance to this House concerning the glossy prints and biographies for the 1957-1958 Pennsylvania Manual. Those Members who have not compiled with Miss Richey's request of January 11, please do so before the end of the Session. It is important that biographies and glossy prints be supplied before the sine die adjournment because the engraving plates are being made now. If the Members desire their biographies and pictures in the Manual this request should be compiled with at once.

BILL ON FINAL PASSAGE POSTPONED

Agreeably to order,

The bill having been called up from the postponed calendar by Mr. ASHTON.

The House resumed the consideration on third reading of House Bill No. 1507, entitled:

An Act amending the "Local Tax Enabling Law" approved June 25 1947 (P. L. 1145) fixing maximum overall limit of tax revenues in school districts of the second third and fourth class

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

BILL RECOMMITTED

Mr. ASHTON. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be recommitted to the Committee on Education for correction.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. ASHTON. Mr. Speaker, House Bill 1507 was designed to give our school districts more elbow room in their latitude of taxation. However, it appears that some school districts are adversely affected and the effect on some of them, particularly since amendment, is just the opposite from the intention of the bill. Therefore, I want to move that House Bill 1507 be recommitted to the Committee on Education for correction.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion?

It was agreed to.

BILLS ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 281, entitled:

An Act amending "The Liquid Fuels Tax Act" approved May 21 1931 (P. L. 149) permitting county commissioners to use liquid fuel tax funds for construction of airports

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the Yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

NAYS—3

Andrews, Farabaugh, Galley,

NOT VOTING—15

Brelsich, Dougherty, McCormack, Stone,
Breth, Hamilton, Mihm, Wescott,
Capano, Heavey, Reidenbach, Wheeler,
Cianfrani, Kornick, Schwartz,

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 720, entitled:

An Act prohibiting discrimination because of age in any union contract

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate any one of the sponsors of this bill.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Rigby, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. RIGBY. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, if I apply to an employer for a job, can I under this bill sue the son-of-a-gun?

Mr. RIGBY. I don't know whether the employer will be a son-of-a-gun or not, Mr. Andrews, but if you read Section 2, it says: "Any union organization bargaining agent or individual violating this act shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be sentenced to pay a fine not exceeding $500." I imagine that the son-of-a-gun could be sued.

Mr. ANDREWS. All right, Mr. Speaker. Further, if he had any jobs, he cannot refuse me a job on account of age even when I am 90 under this bill.

Mr. RIGBY. Mr. Speaker, I believe the gentleman is not talking about 720, according to his question. House Bill 720 just says that "No union contract shall discriminate against any individual because of age." I imagine there would be a lot of people willing to hire you, Mr. Andrews, you are very capable.

Mr. ANDREWS. No, I am serious. What I am trying to get is not a facetious answer. I want to know whether, under the terms of this bill, either a union or anybody else is liable irrespective of age, 80, 90, 100, if they refuse an applicant a job on the ground of age?

Mr. RIGBY. I still say, Mr. Andrews, that no union contract shall discriminate against any individual because of age. The intent of the bill is that no union contract should have a clause against age in it. That is, you could not sign a contract between the employer and the union where age would be a problem. I believe if you are old enough to work, you are old enough to join the union.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, is there any one that can interpret this bill? Anyone of the lawyers? It is a very short bill. I would ask any one of the lawyers to interpret the actual effect of this bill if written into law as to whether it must admit a prospective employee irrespective of age? Mr. Goldstein? Mr. Readinger? Even the gentleman from Blair?

The SPEAKER. Is there an attorney in the membership of the House who desires to answer the interrogation of the gentleman from Cambria, Mr. Andrews?

Mr. ANDREWS. I'll summon to my assistance the prospective judge from Berks County.

Mr. RIGBY. Mr. Speaker, maybe for a retainer one of the lawyers will give him that answer.

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, I am not volunteering because of my great wisdom as a lawyer or as a prospective judge, but I will volunteer because I would like to point out why it is a bad bill. Perhaps in the process of interrogating Mr. Rigby, we can show why it is a bad bill.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Rigby, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. RIGBY. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. READINGER. This bill has a title on it, "An Act prohibiting discrimination because of age in any union contract," but if you will look at page 1 of the bill, it not only says that "No union contract shall discriminate against any individual because of age or limit segregate or classify the membership of a union organization in any manner which would deprive or tend to deprive such individual of otherwise lawful employment opportunities or otherwise adversely affect his status as an employee."

Now that could be a far cry or be a long way off from age if any union contract would be entered into. Of course, you do not have a union contract unless you have an employer on the other side. The employer could insist on a certain clause being put into one of these contracts which apart from age might classify certain members of that union and might adversely affect their status as employees because of what both the employer and the union consider to be a proper classification. So that you not only have age involved in this but you have many other things that could be involved.

Furthermore, Section 2 says that only the union organization bargaining agent or individual shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. How about the employer who might insist on a certain type of clause, other than the age clause being put in which might adversely affect the status of some member of that union in other respects? I think this bill is so poorly drawn and so full of holes that we should recommit it without any more discussion.

Mr. RIGBY. Mr. Readinger, I discussed with some Members on your side the offering of amendments to that particular section. I agreed to be responsible for those amendments being introduced in the Senate. I thought that had been agreed upon. Maybe I was wrong. Maybe I misinterpreted it.

Mr. READINGER. Even if it had been agreed upon, I would still recommit this bill. I would not want to trust this to anybody else. It is biased and prejudiced as to union. Perhaps the intention was not so to do, but that is what has been drawn here.

Mr. RIGBY. I hope you are not inferring that I am anti-union or that this bill was introduced as an anti-union bill.

Mr. READINGER. I say the intention probably was not to do that. As the gentleman states, he has agreed already to amendments, but the bill itself is so badly drawn that I think it ought to be recommitted and brought out of committee drawn properly. If the only thing you intend to deal with is age, then you certainly need a lot of amendments to this bill. I would not want to pass this out of the House in any form until it was in proper shape.

Mr. RIGBY. I believe we could trust it to the Senate. I thought that was what the agreement was.

Mr. READINGER. Well, Mr. Speaker, now that we have enlightened Mr. Andrews on his legal rights if he applies for a job, I will make a motion to recommit House Bill 720 to the Committee on Appropriations for further study.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

BILL RECOMMITTED

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be recommitted to the Committee on Labor Relations for the purpose of further study.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. RIGBY. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a parliamentary inquiry.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state it.

Mr. RIGBY. Mr. Speaker, is a recommitment in order at this time?

The SPEAKER. The motion is in order.

Mr. RIGBY. Then, Mr. Speaker, I would like to request the Members on our side to vote down this recommitment motion because the intent of this bill was primarily for the purpose of protecting the aged and over-aged worker reseeking employment and getting employment.

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, may I ask Mr. Rigby one question before this motion is voted on?

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Rigby, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. RIGBY. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. READINGER. I would like to ask the gentleman whether it was his intention also to amend Section 2 to make an employer who takes part in entering one of these contracts guilty of a misdemeanor also?

Mr. RIGBY. That was the amendment that we discussed, Mr. Readinger.

Mr. READINGER. And was the gentleman also intending to amend Section 1 so that it is limited solely to age and nothing else?

Mr. RIGBY. Yes, sir.

Mr. READINGER. I thank the gentleman.

Mr. RIGBY. I am only interested, Mr. Readinger, in protecting the aged workers.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion?

It was agreed to.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 771, entitled:

An Act providing for the registration examination and supervision of employee welfare funds in certain cases by the Secretary of Banking and in certain cases by the Commissioner of Insurance and making appropriations.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. AGNEW, asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, when House Bill No. 770 was debated at length and rather fairly, I thought, last Monday, there was a remark made by the gentleman from Beaver, Mr. Smith, questioning my attitude in respect to labor leaders and the purposes behind the introduction of the package of labor bills.

I thought in all fairness to those of us who sponsored those bills and to those of us who voted for House Bill 770, I should explain just what my attitude is and just what the purposes are.

My purpose in introducing this legislation is nothing more, nothing less, than to protect the rights and define the rights of members of labor organizations in intra-union matters.

As I explained on the floor on Monday, I have publicly declared against right-to-work legislation. I will never sponsor nor vote for any measure which might conceivably weaken the economic power of labor organizations.

I do believe that there is a very definite need for this type of legislation. I believe that within a period of time labor organizations themselves will come to the forefront and join with some of us who attempted to pioneer in this field and pass legislation which will regulate in the interests of more democratic, more clean, more honest unionism within labor organizations as they exist today.

I have stated both verbally and in writing that it is my opinion the vast majority of labor organizations are well operated today.

It is also my opinion that the vast majority of banks are well operated today, yet we have both state and federal legislation regulating banks and banking. It is my opinion that most corporations are well operated today and yet we have an extensive series of legislative acts, both federal and state regulating the intra-corporate acts of business corporations.

I believe, and I am very sincere about this, that labor unions inasmuch as they are very powerful organizations and rightly so, and inasmuch as they can contribute great wealth to general funds and to welfare funds, and inasmuch as they have these vast powers, they also have inherently vast responsibilities, not only to their own members but to the general public, to the nation, and to the several states.

I think those of us who have introduced these bills have made major accomplishments in this attempt. During the debate on House Bill 770, responsible leaders from the majority admitted that the purpose behind the bill was good. They objected only technically to the manner in which the bill was drawn. I think under those circumstances I would certainly be willing to cooperate with Members of the present minority next session in drafting legislation for that purpose, upon which perhaps we all can agree.

Certainly House Bill 771, which will be debated here today, is not an anti-union measure. It is an attempt to be a substantial aid. I imagine that there will be technical objections then. I am interested to hear what they are. But in any event the Pennsylvania Federation of Labor, by its own initiative, introduced its own welfare fund bill in this House last week.

I believe this is the first time in the history of legislation in this country that any major labor organization has by its own initiative introduced a legislative proposal that would regulate one of its own activities.

I think this is marvelous progress. I very firmly believe that if House Bill 771 had not been on the calendar this would not have been done.

So we who sponsored this bill would like to take some of the credit for it.

I would like to say, Mr. Speaker, and then I would like to debate specifically the provisions of House Bill 771, that I enjoyed the comments of the gentleman from Washington, Mr. Flynn, and the comments of the gentleman from Beaver, Mr. Smith, during the debate on Monday. Both of them are officers or ex-officers of their local unions. I congratulate them upon their activity within organized labor, but I would like to say to them that the sooner men like the gentleman from Washington and the gentleman from Beaver can see that there are some sinners and not all saints in organized labor, the better off unionism will be.

Now specifically, I would like to debate briefly the provisions of House Bill 771.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

The SPEAKER. For what purpose does the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Toll, rise?

Mr. TOLL. Mr. Speaker, to ask if the gentleman will yield before he begins to debate the merits of House Bill 771, so that I can make a motion in view of his preliminary statement?

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Allegheny,

Mr. Agnew, yield to the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Toll?

Mr. AGNEW. I will yield for the purpose of amendment only.

Mr. TOLL. I am asking the gentleman to yield for the purpose of a motion.

QUESTION OF INFORMATION

Mr. PETROSKY. I rise to a question of information.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state it.

Mr. PETROSKY. Mr. Speaker, did not the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Agnew, speak under unanimous consent of the House to make a statement rather than speak upon House Bill No. 771?

The SPEAKER. The gentleman requested unanimous consent to make a statement and received it, and was privileged to speak.

Mr. PETROSKY. Mr. Speaker, that is correct. After he completed his statement under unanimous consent, does the Chair now have House Bill No. 771 before the House for discussion?

The SPEAKER. That is correct. The bill is before the House for discussion.

Mr. PETROSKY. Then we ask the indulgence of the Chair to afford unanimous consent to the minority side at this time to make a statement in view of the statements made by the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Agnew, on the other side.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Allegheny Mr. Agnew, has the floor. If the gentleman is willing to yield the floor, the Chair will recognize the gentleman for that purpose.

Mr. AGNEW. I will yield for the purpose of a statement but I will not yield for the purpose of a motion.

The SPEAKER. Does the gentleman from Westmoreland, Mr. Petrosky, desire to make a statement?

Mr. PETROSKY. Yes, Mr. Speaker.

The SPEAKER. Does the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Toll, understand that the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Agnew, is yielding for the purpose of a statement?

Mr. TOLL. Yes, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, would the gentleman yield for a question?

Mr. AGNEW. The gentleman will.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman states he will yield for a question.

Mr. READINGER. Did the gentleman ask this House for unanimous consent to discuss matters concerning his own attitude toward a series of bills which he introduced in this House?

Mr. AGNEW. Mr. Speaker, I rose to debate the bill, but so that I would not be called on a point of order I asked for unanimous consent to make a statement first concerning the reasons why the bills were introduced and the purposes behind the bills and the attitudes of the sponsors, inasmuch as there had been some discussion about them. I intended then to debate the merits of the bill.

Mr. READINGER. Will the gentleman not agree that if a motion to recommit this bill had been made at the time he rose to debate the bill, that that would be the matter before the House, the motion to recommit?

Mr. AGNEW. If a motion had been made before I was recognized that is true.

Mr. READINGER. In other words the gentleman is willing to use the unanimous consent given to him by this House to insist on debating this bill before a motion to recommit can be made, is that correct?

Mr. AGNEW. Mr. Speaker, I would tell the gentleman from Berks, since he has thus forced my hand, that I will not yield for a motion to recommit because I intend to make such a motion myself.

The SPEAKER. For what purpose does the gentleman from Beaver, Mr. Smith, rise?

Mr. SMITH. To make a brief statement in defense of myself.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Allegheny has the floor.

Mr. SMITH. Would he yield for a second?

Mr. AGNEW. Mr. Speaker, I have no objection to the gentleman defending himself. I was not aware that he needed any defense, but I am perfectly willing to let him speak.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. SMITH asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, yesterday when I was debating the bill I said nothing about the sponsors of the bill. I have all the respect in the world for them, but I did object to this kind of legislation.

Furthermore, I cannot be responsible for the gentleman from Allegheny's conscience bothering him. I have nothing to do with that. It is one of those things when you get in debate and I am sure that at no time did I say anything regarding the sponsors. I do not know how he could accuse me of that.

Therefore, I simply rise to say that I have no part of any particular deal like that or feeling towards him.

Mr. AGNEW. For the benefit of the gentleman from Beaver, Mr. Smith, I was referring to the debate on Monday in which he interrogated me. After the interrogation he mentioned that my answer was typical of my attitude toward labor leaders generally, and I thought for the information of the House, my attitude toward labor leaders generally ought to be spread upon the record.

Mr. SMITH. Mr. Speaker, may I explain that?

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Agnew, yield to the gentleman from Beaver, Mr. Smith?

Mr. AGNEW. I yield to the gentleman, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. SMITH. Mr. Speaker, after the gentleman was through talking to me at that time, I told him that I was through with my interrogation. I merely asked him a question which he did not answer, and then after he refused to answer he made a statement about the union he belonged to being in court, which was really uncalled for. I assumed from his not answering the question that he felt that way about the unions. That was the only thing that I could take from it. I did not ask him for a story or a speech on a particular thing.

The SPEAKER. The Chair is sure that both gentlemen understand each other.

On the question recurring.

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. AGNEW. Mr. Speaker, I wish to save the time of the House, and if the membership of the House will bear with me for approximately five minutes we will be through with House Bill 771.

First, I would like to say that I would ask the gentleman from Beaver, and those on his side of the House, to read the House resolution introduced at this session and co-sponsored by me, the gentleman from Lebanon, Mr. Seltzer, and the gentleman from Berks, Mr. Adams, which I wrote and which sets forth my feelings and my opinions about labor organizations and those who are privileged to be officers in labor organizations. Enough for that subject.

Now, Mr. Speaker, on House Bill 771, I wish the House to know that I am making a brief statement prior to making a motion to recommit the bill.

I do want this House to know, and I do want the record to show, that House Bill 771 is the type of welfare fund bill that the national AFL-CIO has been trying to have enacted into legislation for at least three years. There are two types of welfare fund bills. One is referred to as the NAM bill and one is referred to as the AFL-CIO bill. This is the union bill.

This bill applies to all employe funds for benefits, for sickness, death, unemployment, retirement, and so on and so forth. It applies to all such funds, whether they be operated jointly by management and labor, solely by management, or solely by labor. It might interest the Members of this House to know that there is in Pennsylvania, as close as we can estimate, more money put into these funds during a biennium for Pennsylvania workers, whether they belong to unions or not, than we spend out of the General Fund budget in this Commonwealth. More than $1.5 billion a biennium goes into these funds.

It might also interest the Members of this House to know that there is no statutory regulation of these funds at all. Those that are "trusteed" by banks or insurance companies are regulated to that extent by the various state and federal departments, but to a large extent there is no supervision of these trust funds. The AFL agrees, the CIO agrees, every responsible organization agrees that there must be legislation in this field.

Unfortunately, even though our Bill 771, which was introduced as the New York law, signed by Governor Harriman last year, which is the NAM bill in effect, amended to become the union bill, it has still not gained the support of Pennsylvania labor leaders, and frankly even if we can pass it in the House today it is impossible for it to become law this session.

I might point out to the gentleman from Berks, Mr. Readinger, who I have been informed, was most desirous of defeating this bill today, that he postponed the bill introduced last week, the AFL Pennsylvania Federation of Labor Employe Welfare Fund bill, which is 99-44/100 the same bill as House Bill 771.

I imagine the other side had some technical reasons why they could not go along with this bill. I would like to say that the Members of this House, both the present majority and the present minority, had better for the protection of those who work in Pennsylvania, enact no later than the next session, legislation similar to House Bill 771 and legislation similar to House Bill 770.

I will be more than happy to sit down with any representatives of organized labor or if they are not willing, any conscientious Member or Members on the other side of this House, and have proper legislation ready for the next session of this Legislature, whether or not I come back.

I would appreciate it if I could have some cooperation from the Members on the other side of the House for that purpose. I think it would be a political bonanza for the Republican party to pass such legislation, but rather than see the thing get involved in political credit and blame, I think it is important that it should have bi-partisan sponsorship at the next session. If the Pennsylvania labor leaders do not wish to see my name on the bill because of a certain sensitivity which I choose to ignore at the present time, it makes no difference to me whether I introduce the bill or not.

Because of the fact that it is extremely unlikely that House Bill 771 could become law at this session, Mr. Speaker, I will make a motion to recommit.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

BILL RECOMMITTED

Mr. AGNEW. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be recommitted to the Committee on Labor Relations.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I am sorry that the motion has been made.

House Bill 771, barring a few technical features easily remedied, is a good bill in my opinion. I am rising because I want to be on record. The vote will probably be a voice vote and there will be no record.

I want to say that I am sorry the motion has been made and if the bill came before the House for final action I would support it. I have read it, and barring one or two technical afflictions, it is a sound bill in the support of which every Member of this House could join and to which no thoughtful labor leader or member of the rank and file could possibly object.

Mr. TOLL. Mr. Speaker, I would like to support the motion to recommit, but I would also like to state the reasons why I support this motion.

I think it should go back to committee because it needs correction. I would like to point out some of the corrections it needs, with the permission of the Speaker and the Members of the House. I will be very brief.

Mr. Agnew referred to a bill which Mr. Readinger and Mr. Johnson introduced at the request of the American Federation of Labor, which is on the same subject as the CIO bill, but is clearly so much better and so much more comprehensive than House Bill 771 that if 771 was amended in committee to be like 1721 it would be an acceptable bill to all laboring people of Pennsylvania.

This bill is nowhere near the type of bill it should be, and contrary to the statement that it represents 90 percent of the type of provisions that it should have, I want to point out to you that 92-percent of the contracts are not covered by 771. Those contracts are unilateral contracts in which the insurance companies handle the fund on a group insurance basis and the employer and the labor union are not involved. Now that type of contract has been specifically excluded from 771, so that insurance contracts are not involved.

Furthermore, the penalties which are contained in the bill which Representative Readinger sponsored are considerably more severe than the penalties contained in 771. As a matter of fact, in House Bill 771 the penalties have been reduced to $100. Now, I cannot, for the life of me, see why the sponsor of this bill would consider it a good bill, when in Washington the Douglas-Murray-Ives bill was accepted by the Eisenhower administration, and it was very similar to House Bill 1721.

I think this House Bill 771 should go back to the committee and should be amended. It is unfortunate that this session is ending, but if the sponsor of the bill had paid attention to the new bill that was introduced, he would have had enough time to correct House Bill 771 so that the labor unions could support it. It is a very good idea, but it is a very bad bill, and that is why I support the motion.

Mr. AGNEW. Mr. Speaker, I have no wish to get into any floor argument with the Representative from Philadelphia, but I would like to state for the record that almost every statement he made was a misstatement of fact, and I would like, without going into any more detail in answer to him say that a high ranking member of the Pennsylvania Federation of Labor last week said to me, "Agnew, there is nothing wrong with 771 as it stands right now. The only reason we cannot support it is that it has your name on it."

Mr. MAXWELL. Mr. Speaker, Members of the House, after listening to the long speech of the gentleman from Allegheny County, Mr. Angnew, I think I can very well sum up the meaning and his attitude in a well-known phrase. I will say this, "Methinks the gentleman doth protest too much." If this is a voice vote I want it recorded that I am opposed to this bill.

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, I am going to support this motion to recommit because I think the terms of House Bill 1721 should be written into this bill and it can best be done in committee. The bill could be reported from that committee again tomorrow.

I have no pride of authorship in the sponsorship of House Bill 1721, and I do not believe Mr. Johnson or Mr. Spray particularly care who the sponsors are of the legislation of this type as written.

I wholeheartedly agree with Mr. Andrews that legislation of this kind should be enacted and promptly. It should not be made to wait for two years, and if what Mr. Agnew says about the similarity between this present bill, House Bill 771 and the new bill, House Bill 1721, that they are 99-44/100th percent, or whatever he said, similar, then I think he should have no objection to having this bill come out of the Committee of Labor Relations as amended in accordance with House Bill 1721. Then we can probably all agree to the passage of the bill.

I say again, I do not think we should wait until the 1959 session to put some kind of regulatory legislation on the books. There is an honest difference of opinion existing as to how it should be done, whether it should be done through the Department of Banking or the Department of Insurance. I believe House Bill 1721 provides for enforcement and regulations through the Department of Insurance. It is my suggestion that we recommit this bill today, bring it out tomorrow as amended, and pass it to the Senate.

Mr. AGNEW. Mr. Speaker, I would like to point out for the benefit of the Members of this House that House Bill 771 was introduced on March 11, which was more than three months ago. That gave the Members on the other side of this House who are interested in such legislation, and gave the leaders of organized labor in Pennsylvania, more than three months to introduce their own bill or to suggest amendments to my bill.

As a matter of fact I wrote a letter to the four top labor lobbyists in Pennsylvania, and I specifically invited suggestions and amendments. I think it is a case, on the other side of this House, of too little too late. Admittedly my bill is at least 80 percent of the job that has to be done, in my opinion it is 100 percent of the job, but I think the worst critic of the bill would admit that it is 80 percent of the job that very desperately needs to be done. I think my bill is vastly superior to House Bill 1721 in that it provides for the trustees of any such funds to furnish every employee a statement concerning benefits and eligibility for benefits, and prohibits them from changing them without a 30 day requirement. Now, that same provision is in the AFL bill, but it is not nearly as well worded, and it does not go as far.

I want a little more than lip service for this type of program, from the other side of the House. My bill has been in since March 11th, and I have not had a constructive criticism or suggestion from the other side until it got on the floor. We have not had any regulatory legislation in this field from time immemorial. I am willing to wait two more years, but I want your cooperation then, and if I do not get it, it is going to be a matter of public knowledge that I didn't. That is all I can do. Either you state that you are willing to take House Bill 771 the way it is—we only have four more legislative days—or we go another two years without very desperately needed legislation in this field.

My motion to recommit still stands.

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, before we close the debate on this motion, I would like to ask who is being picayune now?

The fact is, do we get this type of legislation this session or do we not? Not whose bill we get. I do not think the statement made by the gentleman does him much credit. The fact that nobody has come to him with any constructive criticism for the last three months, or three weeks, is entirely beside the point. The fact is this bill is before us now. We made suggestions as to how it can be passed and he is, in a sense saying, "either take my bill or forget the whole thing." I do not think that is a very fitting statement.

Mr. AGNEW. Mr. Speaker, I wish, in the most friendly manner, to interrogate the Minority Floor Leader.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Berks, Mr. Readinger, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. READINGER. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. AGNEW. Mr. Speaker, I would ask the Minority Floor Leader, the gentleman from Berks, Mr. Readinger, in view of the time schedule, how he proposes that either House Bill 771 as amended or House Bill 1721 could become law at this session of the Legislature?

Mr. READINGER. By staying in session until it is passed. Nobody has any assurance that we will be out of here next Monday, Tuesday or Wednesday; we may be here until next Friday.

If your bill were put back in committee and reported out tomorrow as amended, if the amendments could be agreed upon, it can be passed by this House finally on Monday. It could go to the Senate and be passed finally by the Senate on Wednesday. There are enough legislative days to pass it between now and next Wednesday.

Mr. AGNEW. Mr. Speaker, I thank the gentleman. It is my prime desire, my only desire to have some sort of legislation such as this enacted at this session. I am not entirely certain that the suggestion of the gentleman from Berks is feasible, but it is the only suggestion, whether it is feasible or not, that this House has before it as this time.

I am more than willing to cooperate, either by amending House Bill 771 or bringing House Bill 1721 out of committee immediately, if that be the wish of that committee. I will leave that decision entirely up to the Minority Leader and those on his side of the House. It makes little or no difference to me. In view of that I think we are in unanimous agreement that we shall vote for this motion to recommit.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion?

It was agreed to.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 781, entitled:

An Act to amend the act approved the twenty-second day of August one thousand nine hundred fifty-three (P. L. 1373) entitled "Authorizing the Department of Property and Supplies with the approval of the Governor to acquire a tract of land comprised of three smaller tracts together with the improvements thereon erected in Susquehanna Township Dauphin County Pennsylvania consisting of approximately seven acres for use of the State Farm Products Show Commission and making an appropriation" by increasing the appropriation.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1303, entitled:

An Act amending the "Public School Code of 1949" approved March-10, 1949 (P. L. 30) making certain requirements relating to education and training of handicapped children optional with school districts of the second class.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. MOSCRIP. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Berks, Mr. Yatron.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Berks, Mr. Yatron, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. YATRON. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. MOSCRIP. Will the gentleman explain briefly just what the effect of the amendment to this bill is?

Mr. YATRON. Mr. Speaker, in our particular city, the city of Reading, a second class school district, we are in the process right now of having plans drawn up for the construction of a new school for the training of the physically and mentally handicapped children.

According to the present Act, all second, third, and fourth class school districts that have schools for the training of the handicapped are under the jurisdiction of the county board of school directors and we would like to have this changed to make it optional and that it should read that all third and fourth class districts, and any second class district consenting to be bound by the provisions of the act. That is all we are trying to do. The reason for it is that we feel that our board is capable and in position to set the policies for our school district, as we are presently doing for the regular school district.

Mr. MOSCRIP. Did I understand the gentleman correctly that this inserts an optional feature for the second class district and it is more or less compulsory for third and fourth?

Mr. YATRON. Yes.

Mr. MOSCRIP. Does the gentleman feel, Mr. Speaker, that this would generally further the cause of training of the handicapped and mentally retarded children?

Mr. YATRON. I do not think so because presently we have three schools in our school district in which we are now training the physically handicapped children and this in no way will affect the children because we are taking care of them throughout the entire county of Berks.

Mr. MOSCRIP. Am I correct in inferring, Mr. Speaker, from the gentleman's remarks that this bill if passed would further their effort to improve conditions for these mentally retarded children?

Mr. YATRON. I think it would, sir.

Mr. MOSCRIP. I thank the gentleman.

Mr. Speaker, from the explanation the gentleman has given this seems to be a step in the right direction in our mentally retarded program. I would ask the Members to support the bill.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1340, entitled:

An Act requiring the approval of the electorate prior to the erection and construction of public housing projects.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

MOTION TO RECOMMIT

Mr. TOLL. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be recommitted to the Committee on State Government.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. BRUCKER. Mr. Speaker, I rise to oppose this motion.

This bill, I understand, was discussed at some length in the committee on two different occasions and was reported favorably to the House. I ask the House to vote down this motion.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion?

It was not agreed to.

BILL PASSED OVER

There being no objection

House Bill No. 1340, Printer's No. 742 was passed over at the request of Mr. JOHNSON.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. JOHNSON asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, someone will say "That slave driver is back at the microphone again." Really, we have such a heavy calendar and so many debatable bills on this calendar we find it is necessary that we return this evening following a recess, at 9:00. I just feel the membership should know that.

Also, I would like to admonish the Members that tomorrow is going to be a tremendously important day.

There are going to be conference committee meetings. There will be controversial bills called up from the calendar, and we therefore urge every Member to be in his or her seat tomorrow for a hard, full working day.

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to ask one question of the Majority Floor Leader.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from McKean, Mr. Johnson, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. JOHNSON. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. READINGER. I would like to ask the gentleman whether, at the beginning of this session, he said this would be a short businesslike session or did he say it would be a short execution-like session?

Mr. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, I should have said both.

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. GELFAND. I rise to a parliamentary inquiry.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state it.

Mr. GELFAND. Mr. Speaker, does the membership of the House have any say as to when the House should convene or adjourn?

The SPEAKER. The membership of the House has nothing to say about it. All they do is vote on any adjournment or any recess.

MOTION TO ADJOURN

Mr. GELFAND. Mr. Speaker, I would at this time like to make a motion to adjourn this House at the finish of this session, at whatever time we adjourn from sitting presently until tomorrow morning at 10:00 a. m.

The SPEAKER. A motion to adjourn is always in order.

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. JOHNSON. I rise to a parliamentary inquiry.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state it.

Mr. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, it is respectfully submitted that it is not a proper motion to adjourn. It is in the alternative or in the negative, it merely says that when we finish our proceedings today we adjourn until tomorrow morning. I do not believe it is a proper motion to adjourn.

The SPEAKER. The Chair understood that the gentleman's motion was to adjourn now.

Mr. GELFAND. Mr. Speaker, my motion was to adjourn from whatever time we recess from the meeting we are now having.

The SPEAKER. That is not a proper parliamentary motion.

Mr. GELFAND. All right, then I will make the motion to adjourn as of now until 10:00 o'clock Standard Time tomorrow.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

The SPEAKER. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Cambria, Mr. Andrews.

Mr. ANDREWS. I was simply standing guard to make certain the Majority Leader didn't debate the motion.

The SPEAKER. For the information of the gentleman from Cambria, the Majority Leader has a right to debate the motion to adjourn for two minutes address also the Minority Leader, under the new Rules adopted by this House.

Mr. ANDREWS. That's one that got by.

The SPEAKER. It is very unusual for anything to get by the gentleman from Cambria.

The SPEAKER. Does the Minority Leader desire to debate the motion?

Mr. READINGER. I forget the new rule. I think I get a minute to explain do I not?

The SPEAKER. The Parliamentarian has informed the Chair that the gentleman has two minutes.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

It was not agreed to.

BILLS ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1466, entitled:

An Act amending the "Fourth Class County Retirement Law" approved July 8, 1941 (P. L. 298) providing for an option in electing a retirement allowance.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

QUESTION OF INFORMATION

Mr. LOVETT. I rise to a question of information.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state it.

Mr. LOVETT. Mr. Speaker, does this House have anything to do with the passing over of bills or saying which shall not be considered, or these consent calendars, or what is—

The SPEAKER. The Chair stated without objection the bills would be passed over.

Mr. LOVETT. I object, Mr. Speaker.

The SPEAKER. For the information of the gentleman from Westmoreland, the Chair is trying to operate under the direction of the Majority and Minority Leaders. Will the gentleman confer with the Minority Leader? The Chair thanks the gentleman.

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk return the same to the Senate with information that the House of Representatives has passed the same without amendment.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 377, entitled:

An Act amending the act of January 21, 1947 (P. L. 3) entitled "An act relating to officers and employes of the General Assembly . . ." changing the compensation of certain officers and employes.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. MOSCRIP. Mr. Speaker, it has apparently been the policy of the Chair to avoid controversial bills prior to the recess. There will be considerable debate, trying to dispose of this, but if the Chair desires me to proceed I will.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will proceed.

Mr. MOSCRIP. Mr. Speaker, I rise in opposition to this bill. Before I state my reasons for the opposition, I want to make it very clear to the personnel who presently hold the positions involved in this bill that I have no personal grievance against them, that I am registering no complaint by inference as to the quality of the service they have furnished.

I object to this bill on a matter of principle. I think it is ill-timed in a session in which the majority party at least has dedicated itself to a matter of hold-the-line economy. This bill as can easily be seen by reading it raises the salaries of the staff of the Senate and the House, the chief clerk and the secretaries, parliamentarian and so on rather substantially.

A number of people have made the point that there are a lot of people in the government who are drawing large salaries, and that these salaries should be brought up commensurate with them. I do not feel that that is sound philosophy at this time. Just because these other people have such salaries it does not necessarily follow that the amount of salaries they are not drawing is logical and proper, and if it is, perhaps this is the wrong time to bring these salaries in line.

There has been a great deal of debate in this House that the appropriation bills that came up do not adequately meet great humanitarian needs. It has been conceded by Members on both sides that a number of projects which have a great deal of merit are either going to have to be postponed or somewhat curtailed.

We are all big boys and girls in this House and we might just as well recognize that the organization of the Senate and the House in one sense is a patronage job of whichever party happens to be in the majority. As I say, I do not feel that we can reconcile it with the people of Pennsylvania to go back to them and tell them that we have had to short certain projects such as, perhaps, education, mental welfare, or any one of the others that you want to look at. We have said to certain groups that we had to curtail or refuse their requests for increases in wages or for more proper pension plans.

There is hardly one of us in this House who has not, in view of this program of holding the line, been willing to forego some particular project he had in mind that he felt was meritorious, and I do not see how we can honestly vote today to raise the salaries of these positions.

Again I want to stress that I have no grievance with the people who hold them. But I do not see how in all honesty we can vote to raise these salaries here today, and at the same time deny the people the things we have denied. I believe the people in this Commonwealth are intelligent enough to see that, and I am frank to admit that I could not vote for this bill and go out and honestly defend it with the voters.

For that reason, Mr. Speaker, I ask the Members to oppose this bill, and request a slow roll call.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, this is a bill that I can defend, a bill that I am prepared to defend in any quarrel.

Salaries paid by this House and by the Commonwealth should follow a pattern. Every Member of this House knows my position concerning, for instance, the speaker-ship. The Speaker of this House should outrank as a matter of fact, any department head. The Chief Clerk of this House renders a service commensurate with the service rendered by the heads of any bureau under any department. The Secretary of this House renders a service commensurate with the service rendered by the head of any bureau in any department.

This House for years rambled along ashamed to confess that the services of a Member were worth more than $3,000 a year. We have cheapened ourselves over the years. We have felt that we could spend the money hither and yon, but that we had to go about shamefaced if we placed ourselves and our employes upon a self-respecting basis. This is a department of the General Assembly of the great state of Pennsylvania. We deal with billions. The Chief Clerk has a job which, if he is to perform right, requires his best talents.

So, Mr. Speaker, I make no apologies for my advocacy. I only regret that the Speaker was not compelled to accept a sizeable contingent account in lieu of the salary which we denied the Speaker of this branch of Pennsylvania's General Assembly. To ramble along with a salary of $3,000 to Members and $500 additional for being Speaker.

Now, the first step in deserving the respect of the Commonwealth is to respect ourselves, and we have downgraded ourselves for years. I can speak freely because I have been Speaker. Therefore, I can speak for the Speakers in common. I have seen Chief Clerks and the other servants of this House come and go and we have never paid them adequately with the salaries paid by the Commonwealth. Our employes are worth just as much as any employe in the Governor's office. It is a shame and a disgrace that the Secretary to His Excellency, the Governor, is salaried to outrank any employe of this House. I can go over the payroll here on Capitol Hill and find executive secretaries who rival, in the size of their salaries, what we have been paying members of our staff.

So I say to you, take your courage in your hands. Face his Excellency, the Governor, if necessary defiantly. It is a step we can defend. I say as far as I am concerned I am prepared to defend it before the bar of public opinion.

Mr. STROUP. Mr. Speaker, it would be idle indeed to try to add to the wisdom of the words of the gentleman from Cambria.

I can only say that he has said what I would have said had I had the fluency of expression that he enjoys. Too long indeed, it seems to me it has been a lamentable situation in this House that we have had insufficient funds with which to sustain the objective that should be ours for research and otherwise.

We are, I believe, woefully inadequate. The gentlemen for whom we now consider a raise in salary well merit that raise. They do their jobs well and thoroughly, and we look to them at all times. I therefore heartily endorse the expression of the gentleman from Cambria, and ask all the Members of the House to support the bill.

Mr. VAUGHAN. Mr. Speaker, I just want to say at this time that I concur in every word the gentleman from Cambria and the gentleman from Bedford said, and state at the same time that we have the best working officers on the Hill. Let us give them what is duly their right.

Please vote for this bill.

Mr. MAXWELL. Mr. Speaker, it is a well known fact that many states in this Union furnish private secretaries to each Member of the House, and we all know that we do not have any private secretaries. In lieu of a private secretary for each Member of the House we must depend on the courtesy and the help we receive from the Secretary and the Chief Clerk's Office. They are, in all respects, the private secretary to each Member of this House.

In view of that fact anything we pay them will be far too little. So, I ask every Member of the House to vote for this bill.

Mr. MOSCRIP. Mr. Speaker, I speak in order to clarify some of the thinking. I received the impression that the gentleman from Cambria felt that I did not believe the positions in the House were worthy of the proposed increases. In case he did so misunderstand me I wish to correct him.

I have as much respect for the dignity of this House and its position in the administration of our state government as anyone else. As I have stated before my objection is one of a matter of timing. We assume that these positions are worthy, and that they rate the increases that are proposed, and perhaps more when you put them on a comparative basis with the executives. But I say this, we have embarked on a policy where we have said to a great many projects and people, this is the time when you must tighten your belt, and this is what you must make do, because we are trying to hold the line. And if we are to stand up and say to them tighten your belt and hold the line, I think it is only proper that we have the courage to set that example.

Mr. AMARANDO. Mr. Speaker, it seems that every time we want to give a few pennies more to a Member of the House or to the officers of the House we have a lot of Members here who are afraid to go back to their public.

Well, we have the best of material in the House, we expect to keep the best of material in the House, let us pay them the best price. We in Philadelphia will go along with this bill 100 percent.

Mr. GOODLING. Mr. Speaker, I do want to give a demonstration of how not to win friends and influence people. The men in question here are among my best friends, and I hope they will continue to be so after I have said the few words I propose to say.

Each of us, both the Members of this House and the employes, know exactly what we are to receive when we aspire to these jobs. I submit to you if we are not satisfied with the remuneration that comes with these jobs, we should not seek them in the first place.

Just recently one of my very good friends in the County of York, an office holder there, approached me asking if I would not support a bill which would give him a lot of financial benefit. I told him he is not indispensable in the County of York, and I told him I am not indispensable in the County of York. There are a lot of people who would be delighted to have our jobs and have them right now.

Since I have been in this House I heard a lot about taking care of the so-called little fellow. Not more than a few hours ago one of my friends walked down to my desk there at the corner and asked me what I could do about a salary increase for him. That gentleman is making $2700 a year, and he has a five-day week job. It is not a part-time job, he is here five days a week. He is working for $2700 a year. These people get up here and say, "Well I can go back and defend my vote to the people"; I would like someone to tell me, what shall I tell the gentleman from York who is working for $2700 a year, when I stand here and vote to give the high salaried people an increase?

Mr. ANDREWS. My sole reply to the gentleman from York is that if he will bring in a bill raising the salaries of the underpaid employes, I will vote for it.

On the question recurring.

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

REASONS FOR VOTE

Mr. THOMAS H. W. JONES, filed the following reasons for his vote on Senate Bill No. 377.

My vote against this bill should not be construed to indicate any personal dissatisfaction with the service provided by the official staff of the General Assembly. They have earned both my respect and my affection.

But in a year when we are asking various groups of our citizens to live with greater economy, it seems inequitable and contradictory to me to raise once again the salaries of the staff of this Legislature. If economy is to begin, it should begin first of all at home.

RESOLUTION INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

By Mrs. B. Z. MILLER, BRUCKER and

AUSTIN M. LEE.

RESOLUTION No. 141.

In the House of Representatives, June 13, 1957.

The present disparity in population of the various wards of the City of Philadelphia has been a matter of great concern to many citizens and civic groups in Philadelphia.

There has been no comprehensive realignment of Philadelphia's wards for many, many years.

It is desirable that this problem be thoroughly studied with a view to determining an effective, orderly procedure for the realignment of wards in the City of Philadelphia including the desirability of enabling or other legislation to this end.

Therefore, Be It Resolved

That the Joint State Government Commission be authorized and directed to study ward realignment for the City of Philadelphia and make its report together with its recommendations to the next Session of the General Assembly.

Referred to the Committee on Rules.

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk return the same to the Senate with information that the House of Representatives has passed the same without amendment.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1722, entitled:

An Act imposing a tax on real estate for public school purposes in school districts of the first class A for current expenses

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. KAMYK. Mr. Speaker, the Democrat Members of this Assembly from the city of Pittsburgh have made every effort to secure legislation sufficient in scope to solve the problems in school districts not only in Allegheny County but throughout the Commonwealth.

Bill 504, which was sponsored by Members of the majority, we wholeheartedly endorsed. Similar legislation was sponsored in the prior sessions and then with Democrat sponsorship it was passed into law.

With passage of House Bill 504, the problems of Pittsburgh's school districts would have come close to being solved. This bill, however, is still hidden in the recesses of the Republican controlled Appropriations Committee.

Earlier this week we were required of necessity to vote for House Bill 183 which in its present form short-changes the Pittsburgh school district to the tune of $1,210,000 for the biennium.

House Bill 183 is still under consideration in the Senate. Until the action on House Bill 183 is completed and the bill is passed finally, I think we ought to be prepared to vote for a higher millage on Pittsburgh taxpayers.

During the last session of Legislature we proved that we had the courage to raise taxes to finance the school program by voting an increase of one and one half mills on the real estate tax. We did this even after the people of Pittsburgh overwhelmingly defeated an increase in millage in a referendum passed by the session of 1953.

Now we are called upon to raise the tax an additional three-quarters of a mill. This raise is necessary because this Legislature short-changed the Pittsburgh school district in House Bill 183 and this Legislature also refused to pass House Bill 504.

I refuse to submit to this kind of pressure and I urge my fellow Pittsburghers to vote against House Bill 1722.

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Kamyk, consent to be interrogated?

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Allegheny permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. KAMYK. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. Will the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Speaker, advise the House as to the difference in the amount which the city of Pittsburgh school district would receive under House Bill 183 as originally introduced and if finally passed?

Mr. KAMYK. I believe that the difference is $210,000.

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. Mr. Speaker, since the difference is $210,000, and admittedly the deficit under the existing financial situation would be at least $600,000, does he not admit if the school district requires additional revenue it will have to have additional taxing power?

Mr. KAMYK. I am also arguing about House Bill 504 which would have almost taken care of that situation.

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. That is all, Mr. Kamyk.

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. Mr. Speaker, I want to be brief in this matter. This is probably the most important bill in the 1957 Legislative history for 70,000 school children in the city of Pittsburgh.

In 1955, I was proud to have been one of the co-sponsors with the now Senator Dr. Sarraf of a bill which raised the millage empowering the Board of Education to have additional revenue power. I now appear before this body and ask for the same bipartisan support which we Republicans gave to the then majority in passing such legislation.

It is not easy to ask to tax yourself, but as I indicated, when I vote for House Bill 183 in its final form, we have to consider the rights and the problems of the taxpayers of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania as a whole. We have to consider the right of all the school districts of the city of Pittsburgh. We reached a compromise and a compromise, as I stated, is best for all the people of the state.

I was proud last week to have voted on behalf of the hundreds of thousands of school children in the city of Philadelphia to give that school board additional taxing power.

Without this bill the city of Pittsburgh school children will be $1,200,000 short in the next biennium. Will you vote for this bill? You are not voting for the Republicans, you are not voting for the Democrats; you are voting for 70,000 school children in the city of Pittsburgh.

Mr. DEVLIN. Mr. Speaker, as Dr. Sarraf's successor in this House, I was very happy to join with our distinguished colleague, Mr. Goldstein, last week in co-sponsoring amendments that we proposed to House Bill 183 that would have taken Pittsburgh off the hook.

As the result of the many conferences that were held in preparation for final consideration of 183, these amendments were disregarded, as I stated on the floor at that time, we had no other choice than to take the lesser of two evils and vote for the bill as it was submitted to us.

I think it is common knowledge that 183 is still being considered by the other body. Until such time as they reach a determination as to the actual structure of the bill, we do not know what Pittsburgh will need.

I think, therefore, we are premature in wanting to pass an increase of three-quarters of a mill at this time.

In view of this fact, together with the fact that the committee refuses to disinter House Bill 504 and the further fact that the referendum of the voters of Pittsburgh was strongly against permitting a millage increase two years ago, I feel that I have no alternative other than to go along with my colleague, the Chairman of our delegation, Mr. Kamyk, and vote against this bill.

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Devlin, consent to be interrogated?

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Devlin, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. DEVLIN. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. Mr. Speaker, is it not true, Mr. Speaker, that if House Bill 183 has been passed, as I desired in my heart to have it pass, that still the city of Pittsburgh school district would have required additional tax power?

Mr. DEVLIN. It is my understanding, Mr. Speaker, that if the amendments that Mr. Goldstein and I co-sponsored had been accepted, we would not have needed additional taxing power.

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. That is all, Mr. Devlin.

Mr. Speaker, I wish to comment on the disagreement between Mr. Kamyk, the Democrat leader from Allegheny County and his colleague Mr. Devlin.

Mr. Kamyk frankly admits that 183 in its original form would still have required additional taxing power on the part of the school district.

Everybody wants to do the right thing for this district. As the beloved historian on the other side, Mr. Andrews, often says perhaps with local representation we become parochial. But I want to become universal. I want to become statewide here. I want to do the right thing for all the citizens of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

I do not think Pittsburgh was short-changed. I think we had a problem. I think we solved it in the interests of all the school districts of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. I want to impress upon all of you gentlemen on both sides of the House that the millage in the city of Pittsburgh is not as high as in many other school districts in Allegheny County.

We are not sharing a greater burden than Monroeville, we are not sharing a greater burden than Mt. Lebanon. Those people are taking the task to heart. I say we should take the task to heart here tonight.

Mr. DEVLIN. Mr. Speaker, to clarify what is apparently a misunderstanding or a misconception my colleague, Mr. Kamyk, agreed with the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Goldstein, that in the original bill as proposed, namely, the pink copy of 183, it would have cost $210,000 less than the final bill.

My answer to Mr. Goldstein had nothing whatsoever to do with the pink copy of 183. It had to do with the amendments that I co-sponsored with him which, as a result of conferences, were not introduced.

Mr. VAUGHAN. Mr. Speaker, may I interrogate the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Kamyk?

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Kamyk, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. KAMYK. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. VAUGHAN. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman was a Member here in 1953, when Mr. Richter and myself sponsored the parity bill?

Mr. KAMYK. Yes, I was a Member, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. VAUGHAN. This body and the Senate both passed it and it was signed by the Governor?

Mr. KAMYK. I admitted that, Mr. Speaker. I said that in prior sessions such a bill was passed.

Mr. VAUGHAN. Answer the question please, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. KAMYK. Yes.

Mr. VAUGHAN. The same thing happened in 1955?

Mr. KAMYK. That is right.

Mr. VAUGHAN. We introduced the same bill this year?

Mr. KAMYK. That is right.

Mr. VAUGHAN. And this body has turned it down, is that right, as of right now?

Mr. KAMYK. It is still in the Appropriation Committee.

Mr. VAUGHAN. As of right now it has been turned down? It isn't on the floor, is it?

Mr. KAMYK. Well, it is in the Appropriations Committee. We did not turn it down on the floor of the House.

Mr. VAUGHAN. In other words what you are saying tonight is that it is dead, I take it?

Mr. KAMYK. I do not even know if the Appropriations Committee considered it.

Mr. VAUGHAN. Well, the point I am trying to bring out, Mr. Kamyk, is this, that if we are denied the parity which we are asking for, do you feel that the city of Pittsburgh, which is in arrears right now, I understand, about $580,000 to $600,000, do you feel that you know another way that we can get that money for the city of Pittsburgh if this body turns us down, and if you do, I would like to know which way we can get it?

Mr. KAMYK. Mr. Speaker, I am trying to impress on the Members of this House that Pittsburgh consistently is being short-changed by our Legislature as far as the school district is concerned.

Mr. Goldstein mentioned about the millage not being as high as another district. However, we have other taxes in the city of Pittsburgh, school taxes that supplement some of that, and then again there is such a thing as market valuation which is so confusing, I found out, to so many Members in the House. It also has an effect on Pittsburgh.

It so happens that every time we come here, Pittsburgh is short. There may be some other districts that will just get enough to take care of their mandated salaries, but Pittsburgh was short last session, the session before, and again this session, and the citizen of Pittsburgh, I think, do not want to get all of that financial responsibility. Especially in cases of mandated salaries I think the Commonwealth is responsible to a certain extent.

Mr. VAUGHAN. Mr. Speaker, I believe I am being interrogated instead of my interrogating the gentleman.

Mr. KAMYK. I am sorry, Mr. Speaker, I ran away with myself.

Mr. VAUGHAN. That is quite all right, Walter. I understand the point. The only thing I was trying to find out is if you knew of a way for the city of Pittsburgh to get the money that they are in the red?

Mr. KAMYK. Mr. Speaker, the only way I know is for them to ask the state Legislature to help the Pittsburgh district.

Mr. VAUGHAN. That you.

Mr. Speaker, I agree with Mr. Kamyk a hundred percent. We are being short-changed in Pittsburgh. In fact, I think the House proved it in 1953 and 1955, when they gave us a parity equal to Philadelphia and straightened us out.

Naturally, as of now I am of the opinion that we are not going to get that parity as it is in appropriations bill in 504. I realize that things are the way they are and we are not going to get it, but we do have to get it. How we will get it we will know after this vote.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 99, entitled:

An Act amending the act of June 25, 1947 (P. L. 1145) entitled as amended "Local Tax Enabling Law" changing the over-all limit of tax revenues for certain taxing districts.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. ASHTON asked unanimous consent to offer amendments at this time.

The SPEAKER. The amendments will be read by the Clerk for information.

Amend Sec. 1 (Sec. 1) page 3, line 7 by inserting after "the" latest

Amend Sec. 1 (Sec. 1) page 3, line 11 by inserting a bracket after "of" where it appears the first time and inserting immediately thereafter "In"

Amend Sec. 1 (Sec. 1) page 3, line 12 by striking out the bracket after "class" where it appears the third time

Amend Sec. 1 (Sec. 1) page 3, line 12 by inserting brackets before and after "Provided That"

Amend Sec. 1 (Sec. 1) page 3, line 13 by inserting after "of" all

Amend Sec. 1 (Sec. 1) page 3, lines 13 and 14 by inserting brackets before "by" in line 13 and after "district" in line 14

Amend Sec. 1 (Sec. 1) page 3, line 16 by inserting brackets before "fifteen" and after "by"

Amend Sec. 1 (Sec. 1) page 3, line 18 by inserting after "Board" by twelve (12) mills.

Amend Sec. 1 (Sec. 1) page 4, lines 2 and 4 by inserting a bracket before "The" where it appears the second time in line 2 and after "1959" in line 4

Amend Bill, page 4, by inserting after line 5 Section 2. This act shall take effect immediately.

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent to the offering of amendments at this time? Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

They were agreed to.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading as amended?

It was agreed to.

Ordered, that the bill as amended lie over for printing.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1340, entitled:

An Act requiring the approval of the electorate prior to the erection and construction of public housing projects

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. HOLT. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia explain to us the motive and purpose of this bill?

Mr. BRUCKER. The motive and purpose of this bill is to provide a referendum before a housing project can be put in a particular area. Is that a satisfactory explanation?

Mr. HOLT. I would like for the gentleman to explain that again.

Mr. BRUCKER. The purpose of the bill is exactly what the bill does. It provides a referendum; in other words, a vote in the immediate area by the people in that area before a public housing project can be erected.

Mr. HOLT. Will the gentleman explain what individual, group or organization requested the introduction of this bill?

Mr. BRUCKER. I do not know of any group or organization that instituted this legislation.

Mr. HOLT. You say a group did not think of it?

Mr. BRUCKER. Pardon me. I did not understand the question.

Mr. HOLT. Are any of the groups that you know of in favor of this Bill 1340?

Mr. BRUCKER. Yes, sir.

Mr. HOLT. Would the gentleman name the group?

Mr. BRUCKER. The Frankford Taxpayers Association and the United Civic Organization of Philadelphia, which comprises about six or seven local civic organizations.

Mr. HOLT. Will the gentleman explain to this House what group of people would be affected if this bill becomes law?

Mr. BRUCKER. Mr. Speaker, I do not know what people would be affected by this. As far as I can see I do not see where any people would be affected by this law.

Mr. HOLT. I thank the gentleman.

Mr. Speaker, the Philadelphia Housing Association is against bill 1340. I have a letter here in my hand stating that the Philadelphia Housing Association is opposed to House Bill 1340 because it has destructive effects upon urban renewal. The bill would require referendum of local voting in connection with public housing and it is quite clearly aimed at forbidding new low rent housing developments.

We therefore urge you to help defeat this bill which would impair and endanger programs to renew Pennsylvania cities.

Ladies and gentlemen from both sides of this House, this piece of legislation has a gimmick in it. There is a gimmick in this piece of legislation apparently designed to open the door for debating the law that was ruled upon by the Supreme Court in 1952 on the Housing Act. This is a bad piece of legislation, and I ask the Members on both sides of the House to vote down this legislation.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, would the sponsor of the bill, Mr. Brucker, consent to be interrogated?

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Brucker, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. BRUCKER. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman from Philadelphia tell us if the bill that we are acting on here is a Philadelphia problem?

Mr. BRUCKER. No, this is a statewide bill. Of course, being from Philadelphia, I speak more of the city of Philadelphia with which I am more acquainted.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, you have made the statement that this bill covers every county in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, is that right?

Mr. BRUCKER. That is correct, sir.

Mr. McCANN. Would you consider the situation that if you have this problem locally the bill should pertain to Philadelphia, a town of the first class so that the balance of our counties would be able to handle the housing problem in the same manner as they do at the present time?

Mr. BRUCKER. No, I would not say so, Mr. Speaker. I feel if you have the problem in one area I think it should be on a basis that covers the entire state. I do not know, as I say. I speak just for Philadelphia because I am more acquainted with Philadelphia.

Mr. McCANN. Would you believe it if I told you that there are counties in Pennsylvania in which the entire county is a part of a housing project and therefore covers all the people in the county now?

Mr. BRUCKER. I would not dispute the gentleman, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. McCANN. Well then, in those counties where such housing projects are in operation, the entire county is a part of the project, and they are satisfied with the operation of the installation of housing projects in the county. Would you not agree that in those counties which are satisfied with the situation as it is now handled we should not require a prior vote of the electorate?

Mr. BRUCKER. Mr. Speaker, if the county is entirely a housing project or made up of a group of housing projects, I do not see how this bill would hamper them in any way.

Mr. McCANN. I am sure you understood the question better than that. There is no county such as that in this Commonwealth.

Mr. BRUCKER. I am sorry, Mr. Speaker, I misunderstood your question. I thought that the gentleman had stated that an entire county was made up of housing projects.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, I would like to clear the point once more. Does the gentleman believe that this should be handled in all the counties in this manner, by a vote of the electorate before any housing projects are approved in any area?

Mr. BRUCKER. I do, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, I thank the gentleman.

Mr. Speaker, House Bill 1340, at least in my opinion, I thought was a Philadelphia problem, a problem in which Philadelphians were deeply interested and desired to try to remedy, or to change a situation, but if you take time to read the bill you will find, of course, that it applies to the entire state of Pennsylvania. On those grounds, Mr. Speaker, I shall be forced to vote "no" on this particular bill.

Mr. GAILEY. I would request permission of the Chair to interrogate Mr. Brucker.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Brucker, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. BRUCKER. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. GAILEY. Will the gentleman concede that housing, the sort that is the subject of this legislation, is a necessity in our modern urban communities?

Mr. BRUCKER. There is no question in my mind, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. GAILEY. Will the gentleman concede also that if this legislation were to pass, the very people whose houses would have to be torn down in many cases, or who would be living next to a housing project, would be the people voting whether or not such a housing project could be erected?

Mr. BRUCKER. They would be part of them, that is correct, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. GAILEY. Will the gentleman tell me, in his opinion, whether there is any likelihood whatsoever of the people in this area in so voting, whether there is any likelihood whatsoever of their voting "for" a housing project to be located in their area?

Mr. BRUCKER. That is a very difficult question for me to answer. If I may just elaborate a little bit on that—

Mr. GAILEY. Mr. Speaker, I believe it is a fairly definite question. If the gentleman says he has no opinion on it, I think he can so state.

Mr. BRUCKER. No, sir, I do have an opinion on it, Mr. Speaker.

This bill provides for a referendum. I cannot say how the people will act in a referendum. That is the purpose of the bill, I want the people to speak whether they do want a housing project or not.

Mr. GAILEY. I thank the gentleman.

Mr. Speaker, I would like to say just a few very brief sentences in opposition to this particular legislation.

While the initial purpose of this legislation would appear at first blush to be laudable, I think the final impact of this cannot help but prevent any effective program of housing, public housing, or housing projects anywhere in our Commonwealth. I cannot conceive, even though the gentleman from Philadelphia professes that he is in doubt, I cannot conceive how anyone whose house is about to be torn down by a housing project could run and vote in favor of a housing project granted these people are harmed. There is no question but that no one likes to have to move out of his home, but with the problems that we in urban areas face by virtue of slums which must be cleaned up if our cities are to continue to grow, by virtue of the necessity for moderate income housing, to house the very people who are dispossessed when these housing projects are placed, by virtue of all these necessities, we must be able to go forward here in Pennsylvania with redevelopment and housing projects.

This legislation would effectively kill this type of progress here in Pennsylvania, and I respectfully suggest to the Members that in respect to those of us who do live in urban areas with these problems, that they vote "no" on this bill.

Mr. MAXWELL. Mr. Speaker, you can debate this bill all night, but if you want to know the end result in a nutshell, what this bill is going to do to our housing projects in Pennsylvania, I can tell you. It will stop all housing projects in Pennsylvania. I will guarantee that if this bill passes, there will never be another housing project erected in the state of Pennsylvania, because if there are only two taxpayers adjacent to that housing project, they will vote against it. So the end result of this bill, if it passes, will be to stop all housing projects in Pennsylvania.

Mr. FINEMAN. Mr. Speaker, I seek leave to interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Brucker.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Brucker, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. BRUCKER. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. FINEMAN. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman from Philadelphia stated in reply to an interrogation put to him by the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Holt, that he knows of no particular group of persons that would be affected by this legislation. I would again put that same question to the gentleman and ask him if that is his firm answer?

Mr. BRUCKER. Mr. Speaker, my answer is the same as it was to the previous speaker.

Mr. FINEMAN. Does not this bill as a matter of fact affect persons of low income by so many words expressed in the bill?

Mr. BRUCKER. Mr. Speaker, I do not quite understand just what you mean by affecting people of low income. This bill provides for a referendum for public housing, which is low income housing, if that is what the gentleman means, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. FINEMAN. Will the gentleman tell me why the bill was restricted in language to persons of low income?

Mr. BRUCKER. Mr. Speaker, my understanding is this public housing is for people of low income.

Mr. FINEMAN. Is it not a fact that the determination that will be made by the voting public on this question, either "yea" or "nay," will affect persons of only one type of income, namely, low income?

Mr. BRUCKER. As I said before, Mr. Speaker, public housing is for people of low income, and if the gentleman states it in that way, yes, it would affect the people with a low income.

Mr. FINEMAN. I thank the gentleman.

Mr. Speaker, once again the Members of this House are called upon to make a determination on a bill that is completely devoid of political implication.

Here is a bill on which we can cast our vote without regard to party affiliation. Let us look at the merits of this bill and see if we can come to some equitable determination. As for myself, I rise to oppose this bill. I do so because the bill is unfairly arbitrary, the bill is discriminatory in nature in that it is directed specifically and exclusively to persons of low income.

This bill is violative and flies in the teeth of all of the principles of democracy that we are constantly espousing. It is one thing for us to utter pious platitudes about not kicking a man when he is down, but it is another thing for us to take courageous action on a bill that does in fact kick a man when he is down.

I think it is immediately and readily recognized that persons are loath to permit the intrusion, or the invasion in their neighborhood of any particular type of public housing project, no matter what the type of existing housing may be in that particular neighborhood. This bill is an effective and total stopgap to any type of public housing in the future.

Now all of us decry the great incidents of crime and juvenile delinquency that are to be found in families of low income. All of the persons who acquaint themselves with the problem of crime, and the incidence of crime, are of a firm mind that inadequate housing contributes substantially and materially to the great incidence of crime and juvenile delinquency in these areas. Notwithstanding that fact, here we find ourselves today entertaining a bill that will only compound the gravity of this situation.

As was stated by one of the other speakers, this bill will prevent urban redevelopment. It will have the further effect of making it impossible for any municipality to take advantage of any Federal aid program, where the local township or municipality can participate in the Federal housing program, because under the Federal housing aid programs, before any municipality can participate, it must by a certain date give a definite commitment to the Federal government as to choice of site, and a definite green sign to go ahead. Because of the fact that this will have to be submitted to a vote, the municipality will be unable to place itself in a position where it can give such word to the Federal government.

Although I am taking up the cudgels here tonight for persons of low income, I am certainly not doing it at the sacrifice of persons who have invested their money in housing. This is particularly applicable in the city of Philadelphia. I am familiar with the problem in the city of Philadelphia. I know that before any housing program can get under way in the city of Philadelphia, that proposed program must first be submitted to the City Planning Commission. It must then be submitted to the City Council. Before City Council can vote on that program there must be public hearings, to which the public is invited, at which time they have an opportunity to voice and to vote any opposition they may have to this bill. I know that one of the responsibilities of the City Planning Commission is to look to the orderly development, the economical development of land in the city of Philadelphia. They do this keeping in mind at all times the best interests of the health and welfare of the people of the city of Philadelphia. If a proposed housing program is not in the best interests of the city of Philadelphia, they will not approve of any proposed construction of low rent housing.

I ask the Members of this House to indicate to the citizens of the Commonwealth that we genuinely have at heart the interests of persons of low income, and show them we are receptive to democratic processes and opposed to measures that are undemocratic in nature by voting down this bill.

MOTION TO RECOMMIT

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, I think we have heard a great deal of debate on this bill and I understand it is falling. I therefore move that we recommit it for further study.

On the question,

Will the House agreed to the motion?

Mr. BRUCKER. Mr. Speaker, I rise to oppose that motion. As I said earlier today, this bill has been in the State Government Committee, was discussed on two occasions and reported favorably to the House. I would like to have it voted on tonight and I would also like the state-wide viewpoints on it tonight. Therefore, I ask the House to vote down this motion.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion?

The SPEAKER declared the "nays" appear to have it.

Whereupon,

A division was called for, fifty Members having voted in the affirmative and one hundred eleven in the negative, the question was determined in the negative and the motion was not agreed to.

On the question recurring,
Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, there is always a vested interest in low standard houses, dwellings, by and large a good investment. Dwelling houses that are substandard obtain a larger proportionate rent than is obtained from more magnificent dwellings, and so we always find opposition to public housing from those who have a vested interest in bad housing.

There is a community interest, a community concern, in substandard dwellings which depress the general level of taxable property. Eventually housing projects will reflect benefits that enable the community to collect a gradual increase in tax revenues.

No city can grow and have festering housing sores in its very center. This bill has no effective date. So I presume it would become operative, next September if passed. What the dampening effect of this delay would be upon housing projects being projected, no one can tell.

The interest I have in a ramshackle building that has been my home, and a great many people have that kind of an interest, must be balanced against the concern of those who are not parochial as far as a ward is concerned. Housing projects are either good or bad for the city as a whole. If they are bad for a city as a whole, they should not be tolerated. If they are good for a city as a whole a few people in a particular ward should not be privileged, simply because they have become attached to a place, to halt a project that reflects benefit to the community as a whole.

So the basic problem arises in the type of public housing proposed. Is it good for the city or is it bad for the city? If you believe that public housing is bad for a city then you are for this bill. If you believe that by and large public housing is a good thing for a city, then you are opposed to this bill.

Mr. TOLL. Mr. Speaker, I would like to point out to the Members of the House that in the cases where communities are not interested in public housing, there is ample protection in the law today in their zoning boards and in their building codes.

Last year in Philadelphia there was an effort to obtain some federal money which was allocated for housing projects in the city. There was a deadline date, July 1st. The applications had to be processed through city council and through the zoning boards. The effort took so long that it passed the July 1st deadline and the problem arose as to getting the federal money.

This could arise in any community in Pennsylvania. If you wanted a project for one of your communities, maybe for western Pennsylvania or one of the other congested areas, the project would have to go through your local boards. Your own zoning boards would decide the question as to where it is to be located and if you were put to the trouble of having a referendum 60 days after the petition is filed, not less than 60 days after the petition is filed, at the following primary or general election, you definitely could not be in time for any federal subsidy which would have a time label on it.

In other words, what you are doing by this bill is absolutely destroying any possibility of having a project that you may be contemplating or that may be in progress in your area.

The Housing Authority Law and the Housing Redevelopment Assistance Law have been subsidized also by Pennsylvania funds. Why would you want to destroy these projects with a bill of this nature when you can adequately control it through your present zoning laws?

I think it is unfair to our Pennsylvania communities and in the light of what I am now telling you, I hope you will vote against it.

Mr. POMEROY. Mr. Speaker, I cannot say that I am in agreement with this legislation. I intend to vote against it, but it has become very evident to me during the course of debate that the opposition intends to make this a cause celebre.

I would, therefore, like to interrogate the co-sponsor of this bill, Mr. Comer.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Comer, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. COMER. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. POMEROY. Mr. Speaker, I have heard a good deal this evening about the personal and the political motivation of Mr. Brucker who is one of the co-sponsors of this bill. For the benefit of this House, I would like to know what motivated him in co-sponsoring this bill?

Mr. COMER. Mr. Speaker, being a Democrat, I believe in the democratic way of life. The democratic way of life advances the interests of the majority.

Now previous speakers have spoken about people having the right to protest. I have found that the peoples voices many times have meant nothing in this matter. There is no appeal from the Housing Authority, whose ruling is final. I believe this bill is a fair bill. The person who has his life savings invested in a home should have a voice in what is going to be built in his neighborhood. That is why I think this is a good bill. I think both sides should vote for it.

Mr. POMEROY. I thank the gentleman.

Mr. BRUCKER. Mr. Speaker, I would like to make a few brief remarks in favor of this bill.

This is not a new type legislation in the United States. The State of Montana and the State of California now have this type of legislation. They make out very well with their federal subsidies. They have no difficulty as far as that is concerned.

Now it appears, Mr. Speaker, that House Bill 1340 has been construed as a bill against public housing. That is not so. All this bill does is to try to keep our democracy the way it should be and let the people speak.

I speak again of the city of Philadelphia. In the city of Philadelphia we have received numerous projects. Each time, as Mr. Toll has pointed out, we had a public hearing, but the public hearing means absolutely nothing. I have attended public hearings where the room was jammed to the doors with no one in the room in favor of the housing project but it went through anyway. The housing project went through despite the expressions in the hearing. I feel that the people should have a right to vote for a housing project in their area.

We who own property and own our own homes are interested in this bill. I am not a tenement owner, as somebody has mentioned. Maybe one of the sponsors might be, but I own my own home and also my business properties. I am interested in protecting them the same as every other person is. It takes a long while to save a $1,000 or more. I certainly think the people who got their money together, skimped and saved to make a down payment and acquired a property, should have a right to say whether they want a housing project in their particular area.

In my field I am familiar with the depreciation of real estate when a housing project comes into an area. Conservatively, I would say it would depreciate five to ten percent.

Again I say I am not gainst public housing. House Bill 1340 is not against public housing, and, please, I do not want it construed as such.

Mr. ANDREWS. I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia who has just spoken so eloquently and ably.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Brucker, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. BRUCKER. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, your co-sponsor says he believes in democracy. Would you be willing to submit the question of particular housing projects to a vote of all the electorate in Philadelphia?

Mr. BRUCKER. No, Mr. Speaker, if that was my intention, I would have drawn the bill differently than it is now stated.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I thank the gentleman.

And there you have the crux of the whole business. Philadelphia is a unity, it is a community. The gentleman says that he would not submit a question affecting the entire city although these housing projects do affect the entire city, that he would not get a community opinion. He wants to base democracy in that particular line of endeavor upon democracy solely as it flourishes in a ward.

So I submit to you, as I have said before, these are questions to be decided not on a block basis. There is no more reason why you should have the verdict of a ward than there is why you should have a verdict of a block or two blocks or three blocks. There is no sanctity about a ward. It is a matter of community, not parochial concern.

Mr. IDE. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Comer.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Comer, permit himself to be interrogated.

Mr. COMER. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. IDE. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman is from Philadelphia, is he not?

Mr. COMER. That is right.

Mr. IDE. Mr. Speaker, in Philadelphia they have a zoning board, do they not?

Mr. COMER. That is right.

Mr. IDE. And they have a planning commission?

Mr. COMER. Right.

Mr. IDE. These housing projects are brought up before the zoning board or the planning commission, are they not?

Mr. COMER. So they tell me.

Mr. IDE. Isn't it true?

Mr. COMER. Sometimes I wonder.

Mr. IDE. Mr. Speaker, if you disagree with the planning commission or zoning commission, can you take it to the council of the city of Philadelphia?

Mr. COMER. I am sorry, Mr. Speaker, I thought he was finished with me. Will the gentleman give me that question again please?

Mr. IDE. If you disagree with what the planning commission or the zoning commission decides about a housing project, can you take that to the city council for their opinion?

Mr. COMER. In the past, Mr. Speaker, this has been done and from all I understand there is no appeal after the housing authority picks a site.

Mr. IDE. That is all.

Mr. Speaker, I am a member of the planning commission of the city of Easton and we have had several housing projects started and finished there, and all cases have come up before the planning commission.

You have heard it said here tonight that a housing project is good for the community. That is true. If the people who object to a housing project find that it interferes or lowers their real estate value, or for any reason they dislike this housing project, they have the perfect right to take this before the city Council. After all, the planning commission or the zoning commission must report to the town or city council. They can suggest only. They can say "yea" or "nay" to the plan submitted to them by the engineers.

Now then, if there is sufficient objection, city council before they authorize the project to be started may send a notice or publish a notice of a public appeal. The people can go to city council and appeal the case. If they are overruled, they can then enlist the support of the judge of appeals, and those two bodies will decide whether or not this housing project is good for the town, the city, the village, or what have you.

I find nothing wrong with that plan. It is American. I am against this legislation as all good Americans should be. I ask the members to vote against this bill.

Mr. PETROSKY. Mr. Speaker, I was very glad to hear the last spokesman on the floor make the remarks he did. In my tenure of office in this House I have witnessed the debate and the ultimate action on measures similar to the one upon which we are acting at the present time. I disagree with some of the inferences that have been placed before this House by some of the spokesmen that this legislation has political implications. In the past, after debate and consideration of similar legislation I have found that our brethren on the other side of the aisle, as well as many on this side of the aisle, rose to the challenge of the occasion and in their wisdom this august body voted down just this type of proposal.

I implore each and every one of you on both sides of the aisle to take the same position at this time without any political consideration. I know that in exercising that same judgment and wisdom the membership of both sides of this aisle see the adverse impact that this will have upon the communities throughout Pennsylvania, and in their judgment will vote down the proposal that is before us.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken.

A verification of the roll was requested by Messrs. LOPRESTI, PETROSKY and WILLIAMS.

The roll was verified and was as follows:

Less than the majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the negative and the bill falls.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 745, entitled:

An Act amending the act of April 9, 1929 (P. L. 177) entitled "The Administrative Code of 1929" by increasing the salaries of the chairman and other members of Pennsylvania Public Utility Commission.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, because of my consuming desire to "hold the line," I must needs vote for this bill.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from McKean, Mr. Johnson, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. JOHNSON. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, in connection with this bill does the Majority Leader feel that he needs any help in "holding the line?" If so, I would gladly help him.

Mr. JOHNSON. In answering to the gentleman, these salary increases are paid by the industry itself through an assessment on the gross receipts, so this is not what you would call a General Fund budgetary item. It would, of course, appear in the appropriation to the Commission, but it also appears on the other side of the ledger in the form of increased receipts by reason of a higher assessment against the utility companies themselves.

Mr. ANDREWS. A further question. If we increase the burden on the industries are we "holding the line?" I thought we were against increased expenditures, anything that increased the burden on industry, and if this is going to be passed along, do you think the industries can stand it?

I want to be very careful. I do not want to do anything to hurt business and the utilities, goodness knows.

Mr. JOHNSON. Go ahead, I am enjoying your speech.

We are afraid these days to commend the salaries that are being doled out in the several departments. Each day you pick up a paper and you see that a carpetbagger from Ohio has been hired for $22,500 a year. The Auditor General reports tremendous salaries around Capitol Hill that we, the Legislature, apparently do not have too much to do with, and this mere pittance that we are giving to the Public Utility Commissioners I am sure is well earned and is well deserved.

Mr. ANDREWS. I simply conclude that the path to affluence is to save your pennies if you are going to have dollars.

Mr. GARLOCK. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the Majority Leader.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from McKean, Mr. Johnson permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. JOHNSON. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. GARLOCK. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask if this cost would not ultimately be passed along to the consumer?

Mr. JOHNSON. I am sorry that I cannot answer that question. Whether the assesment on the gross receipts of a public utility will go to pay the cost of running the department down here, I do not know. I cannot say whether it is an item for rate-making purposes or not.

Mr. GARLOCK. I thank the gentleman.

On the question recurring,
Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

MEMBERS OF PRESS WELCOMED

The SPEAKER. The Chair welcomes to the Hall of the House tonight the more acceptable and more attractive members of the press. We ask the members of the press to be seated and to have their more attractive counterparts rise.

The Chair is sure the gallery of the fourth estate never looked more attractive than it does tonight.

BILLS ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1616, entitled:

An Act amending "The Mental Health Act of 1951" approved June 12, 1951 (P. L. 533) transferring certain functions from the Department of Revenue to the Department of Welfare.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Westmoreland, Mr. Lovett.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Westmoreland, Mr. Lovett, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. LOVETT. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, I have but one question to ask this gentleman, what one word can he say in favor of this bill?

Mr. LOVETT. The gentleman is unfair.

The SPEAKER. The Chair also thinks the gentleman is unfair in limiting the gentleman from Westmoreland to one word.

Mr. LOVETT. Mr. Speaker, if I can stay in order, I would like to talk a little about this bill.

The SPEAKER. The Chair also hopes the gentleman can stay in order. The Chair recognizes the gentleman.

Mr. LOVETT. Mr. Speaker, somebody informed me that my caucus opposed this bill. I did not happen to be there at the time.

I want to say to the members that this is a companion bill to a bill that has already been passed by this House and is now in the Senate, I believe. I do not know whether it has been passed in the Senate. Therefore, I think it is only fitting and fair that the House should pass this bill because it is a companion bill to the bill that we have already passed.

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, I do not believe that in all my 21 years I have ever heard such an eloquent defense of a bill.

However, I think we had better lay the companion bill aside and debate this bill on its demerits. I think I have heard something of the background which brought about the instigation of this iniquitous piece of legislation.

It reminds me of two kids who meet each other on the street and both of them felt more or less like fighting, so they get arguing about whose old man could lick whose old man.

If I understand what this bill means, it means that the members on the majority side of this House believe that our Secretary of Welfare is a better collector than our Secretary of Revenue. They probably believe it because, I understand, he said so himself. If that is the case I am very happy to see the great confidence that has been engendered in some manner on that side in favor of our Secretary of Welfare.

Seriously though, it would be a mistake to put this on the law books. The Department of Revenue is not only setup to collect money, but its personnel is trained to collect money. It has the machinery by which the money is now being collected, and to turn this function over to the Department of Welfare, to have all new personnel on some kind of a merit rating system selected by the Secretary of Welfare, set loose to collect money from the patients in these institutions who are able to pay, would not only be a great waste of money but it would be a great act of folly. If we want to conserve the assets of this Commonwealth and make the people pay who are able to pay in these institutions and thereby keep our revenues high, then let's kill this bill without any further to-do.

Mr. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, this bill is a companion bill to the bill that we passed about a week ago to amend the different sections of the code. As a matter of fact this amends the Mental Health Act and the bill that we passed a week ago amends the Administrative Code.

As I explained when the bill was before us previously, that as a result of testimony before the Appropriations Committee by the Secretary of Welfare to the effect that if he was given the job of collecting the moneys owing to our welfare institutions, he would increase the collections by at least ten percent. I believe that was his testimony in front of the Committee.

I am reliably informed that privately he has said to others that he would raise the $20 million in collections up to $30 million if he had the job.

Having studied the question transferring the function to the Department of Welfare, contrary to what the Minority Leader says, it appears to be a very fine idea. The idea would be that if the transfer is made to the Department of Welfare the collectors presently holding the jobs would remain, but they would be transferred to the Department of Welfare payroll. There would be one change. They would be under the supervision of the superintendent of the hospital. They would be amenable to him, he would be their boss, and a much stricter scrutiny would be had over these collectors who are now controlled by an absentee boss here in Harrisburg. With the whole function working together and these collectors under the Department of Welfare, it is felt that much more money could be collected and as I stated a more efficient collecting job effected. We believe that more money will be collected by a closer scrutiny of the law with respect to this type of activity.

We feel it is good legislation. We ask the House to vote "yes" for the bill.

Mr. LOVETT. Mr. Speaker, I want to thank the Majority Floor Leader. I am suffering somewhat from the effects of our air conditioning and I am not sure that I will be able to stay for the remainder of the night.

I have been very much interested in this legislation, not only in this session of the Legislature, but in previous sessions of the Legislature. As the Majority Floor Leader has stated, it makes sense to have this type of legislation. If you have ever visited some of these institutions and found a gentleman sitting in there from the Department of Revenue that is supposed to take care of the fees to be collected from those who are able to pay, you would realize that the situation is not good and that the control should be placed in the hands of the Secretary of Welfare who has authority over the rest of the institution. Our revenue from that source would naturally be greater, due to the fact that he would have the whole situation under his own control. As our Majority Floor Leader has said, I cannot see where there would be any difference except in the transferring of the personnel, possibly to the Department of Welfare to be controlled by and be responsible to the Secretary of Welfare.

I think it is a pretty good piece of legislation and we should pass it.

Mr. GELFAND. Mr. Speaker, may I interrogate the Majority Leader?

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from McKean, Mr. Johnson, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. JOHNSON. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. GELFAND. Mr. Speaker, did I understand the Majority Leader to say that one of the reasons for this bill was because the Secretary of Welfare suggested that it might be a good idea?

Mr. JOHNSON. I would say, in answer to the gentleman, Mr. Speaker, that it went beyond the suggestion stage. He practically gave an earnest invitation that he be given the privilege of making the collections.

Mr. GELFAND. Mr. Speaker, then would the gentleman say that the suggestions of the Secretary of Welfare are good ones?

Mr. JOHNSON. In this particular instance I would say he does, for the first time, come into accord with my thinking.

Mr. GELFAND. Mr. Speaker, I would like to make a few brief statements pertaining to this legislation. Let me first preambule my statements with this. I am heartily against this type of legislation because I believe it strikes at the treatment of the mentally ill.

It is well and good for us to sit here or have someone stand here in front of the microphone and say that all we will be doing is changing the collectors who sit in the offices of the institutions from one department to another so that these people, instead of working for the Department of Revenue, will be working for the Department of Welfare in the future and they will pursue the same duties. However, it goes beyond that; it goes into the philosophy of collection. When you work for the Department of Revenue you are working for the unit of the Commonwealth which is in the business of collecting funds. When you work for the Department of Welfare you work for the unit of this Commonwealth which is interested in the treatment of the mentally ill. Those departments operate under completely different philosophies. Because these collectors would be assigned to the Department of Welfare and would have the job of collecting money for the Department of Welfare, and human beings being what they are, it will be important to the Secretary of Welfare and to the people under him to get as much money as possible from the people responsible for these inmates, from their families and the people who support them. I feel that if we inject the business of collection into the Department of Welfare, we will, in the future, be responsible for some dereliction in the treatment rendered to the patients in the institution.

It is only human nature for the individual responsible for obtaining money for services to render treatment to those people in the proportion for which they pay for the services. It is a perfectly good theory, I believe, to say that this Department, inasmuch as it has complete control over the institutions, should also have control over the collection of the funds for the patients in the institution. I want to reiterate, and most emphatically, that we do not merely deal with theories. We have to deal with actualities.

I am also going to further state that in many, many instances individuals will be deprived of treatment in one of our institutions because of his complete inability to pay for the treatment, in favor of patients who are able to pay for it.

I could continue in line with this thinking. However, I know the hour is late and possibly more emphasis on my part will not sway a vote. However, I do want it on the record that this is of great importance, and despite the fact that some legislators can glibly pass over this type of legislation, it strikes at the heart of our desire to assist the mentally ill. I think we should consider this bill carefully when we cast our votes and I suggest that we vote against it.

Mr. LOVETT. Mr. Speaker, I hesitate to disagree with my friend from Philadelphia but, having investigated the system under which we work, I do not think the gentleman knows too much about how the collections are made.

The Department of Welfare now sets up the standard fee that a person is supposed to pay in accordance with their ability to pay. So there is no question there. I do not know if the gentleman realizes that in some cases, where people may have a son or a daughter, or a husband have a wife, in the institutions, that the attorneys enter suit and place mortgages against their properties for these bills in their respective counties. Does the gentleman realize just exactly how the thing is being done at the present time? I do not agree with the gentleman that the Department of Welfare would be any harder on people than the Department of Revenue is now in collections. In fact, if anything, I would think they would be somewhat easier on those who are not able to pay than on those who are able to pay. I certainly have no sympathy for those who can pay, let them pay.

Mr. GELFAND. Mr. Speaker, just to respond to the statement which the gentleman, Mr. Lovett, made.

I am fully aware how the collections are made at the present time and I would not speak this way if I were not. The question is one of responsibility. At the present time the Department of Welfare is not responsible for collections and because of that it does not in any way demean on the treatment of patients. If the Department of Welfare becomes responsible for the collection of the funds from the patients' family, then I fear it would affect in some way the treatment of the patients, because those in the department would have a natural tendency to give better treatment to those from whom they collect more money.

Mrs. DONAHUE. Mr. Speaker, I would like to make a few brief statements.

I am sorry that Mr. Gelfand and probably others have misinterpreted this bill.

This bill is not one for collections. We passed that bill several days ago in the House. This bill is merely a companion bill and what it does is this: it gives the Department of Welfare, in other words the nurses and the physicians in charge, the right to determine if the person is mentally fit to be discharged. That is the meat of the bill.

Mr. GELFAND. Mr. Speaker, I have read this bill thoroughly, and I fear the lady is not speaking on the bill on which we are voting.

Mr. AMARANDO. Mr. Speaker, will the Chair tell us what bill we are working on?

The SPEAKER. The Chair will be happy to inform the gentleman. We are now considering House Bill 1616, Printer's No. 885, on page 16 of today's calendar.

Mr. PETROSKY. Mr. Speaker, may I interrogate the Majority Leader?

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from McKean, Mr. Johnson, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. JOHNSON. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. PETROSKY. Mr. Speaker, I would like to know whether or not the Majority Leader considers passing a measure that would require the collections that are now being made by the Department of Revenue for those health units which are under the Department of Health?

Mr. JOHNSON. I would say that under similar circumstances I believe the same principle would apply to the Department of Health.

Mr. PETROSKY. It is not contained in this measure which is before us, is it?

Mr. JOHNSON. No. As I stated ten days ago when we debated the other bill, this bill was, you might say, in the nature of an experiment to see whether the Department of Welfare with its institutional physicians in charge of the institutions and with the immediate control they would have over these collectors would not produce the greatly increased sum of money which Mr. Shapiro said it would. That is the reason for the bill.

Mr. PETROSKY. A further question, Mr. Speaker.

Then in effect you would have a dual collection system in the event this bill were passed, one by the Department of Revenue and one by the Department of Welfare, is that not so?

Mr. JOHNSON. I would say that the measures which have been before this session have been confined entirely to institutions of the Department of Welfare, that is correct. The Department of Revenue agents at the state surgical hospitals would continue as heretofore.

Mr. PETROSKY. The state medical and surgical hospitals are now under Welfare, however, there are other health institutions under Health, which would necessitate the Department of Revenue making the collections there, is that not so?

Mr. JOHNSON. I believe the gentleman is correct in that the Department of Health, presently having their collections made by the Department of Revenue, would so continue.

Mr. PETROSKY. A further question Mr. Speaker.

Does the gentleman know what the cost of this collection system to the Department of Welfare would be in the next biennium?

Mr. JOHNSON. I can only say that the total cost to the Department of Revenue for this particular item appears in the budget as $1,200,000. Conceivably, if this bill is passed we would have to in House Bill 1700 split the appropriations, in House Bill 1700, some to Welfare and some to Revenue to pay the collectors under the Department of Welfare. It is not contemplated that it would cost any more money than it does at the present time. The $1,200,000 should be adequate for the service.

Mr. PETROSKY. Then the gentleman would disagree with the theory that two collection systems with basic operations coming out of Harrisburg and extending to each individual institution, would necessitate a greater expenditure than one collection agency would expend in its collections?

Mr. JOHNSON. In answer to the gentleman, Mr. Speaker, I would say conceivably it would cost a little more money having the Department of Revenue making collections at other institutions. But, to repeat, if the Secretary is correct, and if he collects ten percent more, as he stated before the Committee, it would pay for itself.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. ANDREWS. I rise to a point of order.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state it.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, the lady from Clinton was absolutely right in her discription of what the bill does and that the pending discussion is not germane to House Bill 1616.

The SPEAKER. The Chair is of the opinion that the gentlemen were confining their remarks to the bill before the House.

Mr. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, the lady was correct. One small paragraph in the bill covers what she has stated, and the amendments added to the bill in committee, I believe, cover the present debate. So they are both correct.

Mr. PETROSKY. Mr. Speaker, I would like to further interrogate the gentleman.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from McKean, Mr. Johnson, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. JOHNSON. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. PETROSKY. Mr. Speaker, my information from reliable sources is that the cost of setting up this collection system in the Department of Welfare is in the neighborhood of $1 million. I do not think that a pro rata division of appropriations under House Bill 1700, in conference, would be a 50 percent division.

I would like to ask the gentleman if he is prepared to pay for the full cost of these additional moneys, or will the moneys be taken out of the allotments given to the Department of Welfare for the necessary services to the people of the Commonwealth who are in need of such services?

Mr. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, the figure of $1 million is an astronomical figure. I would like to have the contract to do the job at that price. I could afford thirty Cadillacs, I would say, gold Cadillacs.

Mr. PETROSKY. Has the gentleman made a survey to arrive at the cost of setting up this collection system in the Department of Welfare?

Mr. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, in answer to the query, yes. Consideration was given to it by reason of the fact that in each of the hospitals there is at present a department set up for this collection wherein the so-called agent of the Department of Revenue sits and does the collecting. Really the only change that would occur is one of supervision, one of immediate control by a superior officer located at the institution. The person making the collections would come to work at the usual office hours of Commonwealth employment, would work diligently at his job under the supervision of the superintendent, who has the job of not only running the grounds of the hospitals, the farms and so forth, but would also be in immediate charge of this agent. We cannot see how it would cost but very, very, very little more money than it is costing today.

Mr. PETROSKY. Mr. Speaker, I am sure the gentleman recognizes that investigations such as are provided for in Section 705, on page 2, is an item that would cost additional moneys, as well as for the clerk that sits at the institution and collects the money. I am sure that the gentleman will agree with me when I say that there is a necessity for investigating the financial status of the patients and so on.

Mr. JOHNSON. Was that a question or a statement?

Mr. PETROSKY. That was a question. Do you agree with me that that is an additional cost?

Mr. JOHNSON. No, Mr. Petrosky. In answer to that I say the present revenue agent sitting at the hospital generally has a secretary to help him and they make investigations. The Department of Revenue agent makes field trips into the various counties, to the courthouse of the area being served, checks the titles generally for real estate, checks bank accounts in various banks and is carrying on the job at the present time. To repeat, we think that under the supervision of the superintendent of the hospital a more thorough and able job would be done.

Mr. PETROSKY. I thank the gentleman.

Mr. Speaker, just a word or two I certainly am opposed to this measure. I believe it is ill-timed. I do not think we have sufficient information to vote upon it intelligently. I think this change that is being made is being made more or less as a nuisance proposal and until such time as a proper survey is made and the facts are before us that would substantiate such a move, I would suggest we vote down the bill.

Mr. GELFAND. Mr. Speaker, I would like to make one final brief statement.

The venerated gentleman, Mr. Andrews, tells me that Mrs. Donahue was correct to some extent in what she said and having reread this bill I believe perhaps she is. However, that is only one portion of this legislation. If the statement she made is accurate, it only shows how really bad this legislation is, because it would require the actual people who are rendering the treatment to the patients to decide how much the patient could pay.

For that reason I think the bill is very, very bad and should be voted down.

On the question, recurring.

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. ANDREWS. I rise to a parliamentary inquiry.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state it.

Mr. ANDREWS. Would it not be possible, Mr. Speaker, to continue right on until the next legislative day and then proceed from there and work until about 6:00 o'clock tomorrow and then go home? What is the use of quitting?

The SPEAKER. The Chair would say to the gentleman that if that is the pleasure of the House, the Chair will be glad to stay.

Mr. ANDREWS. So will I. All these youngsters who can't stand it can leave.

The SPEAKER. It appears from the number of Members rising in their places that there is some opposition to the proposal.

Vol. 35.

HARRISBURG, PA., FRIDAY, JUNE 14, 1957.

No. 67.

SENATE

FRIDAY, June 14, 1957.

The Senate met at 10:00 o'clock, a. m., Eastern Standard Time.

The PRESIDENT (Lieutenant-Governor Roy E. Furman) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The following prayer was offered by the gentleman from Berks, Mr. RUTH:

Our dear heavenly Father, today as we celebrate the anniversary of the birth of our flag, the symbol that has stood for liberty and equality for man for many years, not only in our great Nation but throughout the world, we pray that everything we do in our time may be to continue that spirit of liberty and equality so that it may always be an emblem of which we can be and are proud, and that we may so do our work today that it may merit the fact that we are citizens of the greatest Nation on earth.

Bless us in all that we do that it may redound to Thy honor and glory. We ask it in Thy Holy Name, Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED

The PRESIDENT. A quorum of the Senate being present, the Clerk will read the Journal of the preceding session.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of the preceding session, when, on motion of Mr. PECHAN and Mr. WHALLEY, further reading was dispensed with, and the Journal was approved.

L. 512) entitled 'An act providing for the joint construction by any two or more counties of industrial farms and workhouses providing for the acquisition of sites and the erection and equipment of buildings providing for their government and control and for the commitment admission employment and discharge of inmates the appointment of an advisory board and defining its duties authorizing counties to incur indebtedness and issue bonds for the purpose of paying their share of the cost of erection imposing the cost of maintenance of inmates on the counties and repealing inconsistent legislation' permitting any county to commit inmates to any industrial farm and workhouse in the Commonwealth and providing for payment of their upkeep."

GEORGE M. LEADER.

June 13, 1957.

To the Honorable, the Senate of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

I have the honor to inform you that I have this day approved and signed Senate Bill No. 227, Printer's No. 80, entitled "An Act amending the act of June 16, 1836 (P. L. 715) entitled 'An act relating to Reference and Arbitration' making awards upon approval by the court, judgments of the court and giving them the dignity of judicial proceedings."

GEORGE M. LEADER.

June 13, 1957.

To the Honorable, the Senate of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

I have the honor to inform you that I have this day approved and signed Senate Bill No. 271, Printer's No. 202, entitled, "An Act amending the act approved the twenty-seventh day of July one thousand nine hundred fifty-three (P. L. 641) entitled 'An act prohibiting the erection and maintenance of obstructions to the operation of aircraft in certain areas and prescribing penalties' by requiring notice of construction in the vicinity of airports."

GEORGE M. LEADER.

SENATE BILL No. 257, PRINTER'S No. 95, RETURNED WITHOUT APPROVAL

June 13, 1957.

To the Honorable, the Senate of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

I return herewith, without my approval, Senate Bill No. 257, Printer's No. 95, entitled "An Act amending the act of May 3, 1909 (P. L. 408) entitled as amended 'An act authorizing the merger or consolidation of certain corporations' providing for the merger of a domestic corporation into a foreign corporation and for the merger into a holding company of a subsidiary corporation incorporated under or subject to the Business Corporation Law and eliminating any requirement of stockholder approval and any right of objecting stockholders to payment for their stock if the holding company is the owner of all the outstanding stock of the subsidiary corporation."

This bill proposes to permit any domestic or foreign subsidiary corporation, subject to the Pennsylvania Business Corporation Law, to merge into a holding company, which is not subject to the Business Corporation Law.

This bill further provides that if the holding company owns all the outstanding capital stock of the other corporation parties to the merger, the joint agreement and merger need not be submitted to the stockholders of any domestic party to the merger; that in that case, the Secretary of each party to the merger shall certify the fact of stock ownership and that the agreement of merger has been approved by the board of directors.

The provisions in existing law relative to the rights of dissenting shareholders to a merger would not apply to a merger of a subsidiary corporation into a holding company owning all of its capital stock. While it is true that these provisions would facilitate the approval of the merger by a subsidiary corporation of which all its capital stock is owned by a holding company, this bill is highly objectionable since it would deprive the dissenting shareholders of the domestic holding company from stating their opposition to such merger and would further deprive them of their right to surrender their shares as dissenting shareholders and receive the fair value thereof.

It is true that dissenting shareholders have no power or right to prevent a merger of a corporation in which they are shareholders with another corporation, but it is equally true that shareholders in a corporation should not be compelled, against their will, to become shareholders in some other corporation. Dissenting shareholders, therefore, should, if they comply with all the requirements set forth in an act and do nothing to waive any of their rights, be entitled to insist that the surviving or new corporation pay them the fair value of their stock in cash as of the date of the merger.

For these reasons, the bill is not approved.

GEORGE M. LEADER.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. VAN SANT asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. VAN SANT. Mr. President, as indicated in the prayer of our good Senator Ruth in opening today's Session, today, June 14, is known as Flag Day and is a legal holiday here in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

We, of the city of Allentown, are quite proud that the Flag Day Committee of that community, headed by Joe Hart, the then Secretary of Commerce in this city, saw fit to have the State adopt this day as Flag Day and a legal holiday.

Since that time, of course, Mr. Hart has passed on, but annually members of the Elks of the city of Allentown make a pilgrimage on this day to his grave.

On this occasion, it pleases me to present, with the co-sponsorship of my colleague, Senator Miller, from Beaver County, this resolution.

SENATE RESOLUTION

COMMEMORATING FLAG DAY

Messrs. VAN SANT and MILLER offered the following resolution which was twice read, considered and agreed to:

In the Senate, June 14, 1957.

On June 14, 1777, the Continental Congress adopted, as the symbol of our then young and struggling colonies, a new flag, composed of thirteen stripes, seven red and six white, with a union of thirteen stars on a blue background. The first flag after the authorization of this new design was hand sewn by Betsy Ross under the direction of George Washington. All the States of the Union celebrate the anniversary of this day as "Flag Day" a day upon which we pause to survey the wondrous glory of our great banner of freedom. As we look back over the history of our Nation and the symbol which represents us, we have a feeling of deep pride in the advancement which our flag has seen us through from its humble beginning. The field of stars has grown to forty-eight, with the contemplation of an addition of several more in the near future. The standard which originally represented a struggling colony now waves with the greatest of dignity over the most powerful nation in the history of the world. That symbol to which all nations of the world look with awe and respect has led the youth of America into battle against the forces of evil time after time, always to emerge victorious; therefore be it

Resolved, That we pledge anew our allegiance to that beautiful banner of democracy, the flag of the United States of America and to the Republic for which it stands; and be it further

Resolved, That we shall forever strive to uphold and advance our Nation and the colors which we so proudly bear.

REPORTS FROM COMMITTEE

Mr. RUTH. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to make reports from committee at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. YOSKO asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. YOSKO. Mr. President, the other night we debated Senate Bill No. 919, relating to a budget item that involved reimbursement to counties for the conduct of classes for mentally retarded children. It was a rather complicated situation and, as a result, I made some inquiries. I think I have the answers to the questions that were involved which I would like to explain and, at the same time, make a plea to the Republican leadership to go along with the request for an increase in that appropriation.

After many years of effort, this Legislature finally, I think in the last Session, authorized classes for mentally retarded children and made an appropriation to the counties in the amount of $2,000,000. To that was added $189,000 from the Federal Government as a contribution, making a total of $2,189,000.

This money, I understand, was allocated to the counties which set up those special classes. I understand if those classrooms and the program is to be maintained at its present level, the same amount of money will be needed for the next biennium. Someone apparently slipped up on the amount of money that was needed. I cannot blame this Senate for it because the Senate, with the $1,000,000 that is in Senate Bill No. 919, plus the $524,000 that will be contributed by the Federal Government, would meet the budget request, but the deficiency apparently lies with either the Department of Welfare for not putting the correct amount in the budget, or with the Budget Bureau or a combination of both. The result is that $665,000 additional is needed to make up the $2,189,000.

I certainly hope that the leadership on this side will instruct the leadership on the other side—that is the Republican leadership—to go along with an amendment to Senate Bill No. 919, which will be sponsored by Marian Markley of Lehigh County, one of the pioneers in this program.

Mr. President, if anything deserves the consideration of this General Assembly for funds, it is this group of mentally retarded children. They have been a forgotten group for many, many years. This money, Mr. President, will not be spent on Democrats or Republicans, because these children are the children of both Democrats and Republicans, and in so far as their disabilities are concerned, the laws of nature and the laws of God up there above do not make a distinction between Republicans and Democrats. These children are not the children of the rich or the poor, because there is no distinction made there. These children represent both classes. These children are not children of the Protestant, the Catholic or the Jew, because children representing all of those groups are involved and are attending these classes.

I have been informed that prior to the setting up of these special classes in the counties, many of these children never saw the light of day inasmuch as their parents never took them outside because they were ashamed. Now that these classes have been set up, the parents send the children to school and there is great improvement in their conditions.

I hope that these classes can be continued, that they will not be curtailed, that this program will not be abandoned for the sake of these poor unfortunates and that the necessary funds, totalling $2,189,000, will be provided.

A Supplement to the act of June 12, 1931 (P. L. 588) entitled "An act authorizing the Department of Property and Supplies to acquire lands in Harris Township Centre County for the use of the Department of Military Affairs . . ." transferring the control supervision and management of the lands to the Pennsylvania Historical and Museum Commission requiring the commission to complete the "Twenty-eighth Division Shrine" thereon.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. VAN SANT. Mr. President, in connection with House Bill No. 259, I desire to make this editorial, which appeared in The Bethlehem Globe-Times, a part of the record.

The PRESIDENT. There being no objection, the editorial will be made a part of the Legislative Journal.

PROTECTING THE GUARD SHRINE

In these days when National Guardsmen feel that the regular army, and Defense Secy. Charles Wilson in particular, is moving toward the elimination of this army of the reserve, it is interesting to note that Pennsylvania guardsmen are taking steps to perpetuate the shrine they have developed at Boalsburg.

Though the 28th Division had enviable battle action records in both World Wars and in Korea, Pennsylvania has done nothing to establish a lasting memorial which would preserve for posterity a record of the valor of its citizen soldiers.

Nearest thing to a tribute to the Red Keystone Division is the dedication of a section of the Pennsylvania Highway system as "28th Division Highway." This is part of Route 22 leading out of Harrisburg, through Boalsburg and State College in Center County.

Organization of the Society of the 28th Division followed World War I. Today veterans from all over the world are affiliated with the organization.

The initial project of the society was the establishment of the Shrine at Boalsburg, made possible through the donation of 70 acres of land by Col. Theodore Boal. From 1920 to 1931, the 28th Division men raised funds for the development of the site. The project became too big for them to handle and each spring the State Department of Military affairs, through friendly governors or adjutants general, sent men to the site to keep the grass trimmed and the roadways in shape.

Time has cut heavily into the ranks of the World War I veterans. They see the need for a permanent structure for the preservation of the Shrine. To this end a joint bill has been introduced in the legislature to place the maintenance of the Shrine into the lap of the Pennsylvania Historical and Museum Commission. A biennium appropriation of $25,000 is needed to carry out the plan.

Pennsylvania couldn't acquire a state park and maintain it for such a low figure.

Guardsmen feel gratified over the fact that half a dozen senators and a dozen assemblymen readily became co-sponsors of the bill.

With its passage the many beautiful monuments the impressive memory wall, the open air chapel, the replica of the bridge across the Fismes, the pieces of captured armament and weapons—historic items will be preserved before they disintegrate through lack of care and the ravages of time.

The 28th Division Shrine is one of Pennsylvania's show places. It is within the power of our legislators to keep it so.

And the question recurring,
Shall the bill pass finally?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

"Section 2325. Powers and Duties of the Department of Public Welfare.—The Department of Public Welfare shall have power, and its duty shall be—

"(a) To administer and carry out the provisions of the Public Assistance Law, and in so doing, to supervise local boards and to allocate to them on the basis of need and, as may be required for blind pensions, funds with which to provide assistance and funds for administrative expenses.

"(b) To take any other action authorized or required by this or any other law.

"Section 2326. State Board of Public Assistance.—The State Board of Public Assistance shall have the power, and its duty shall be—

"(a) To approve or disapprove and adopt rules, regulations, and standards, consistent with law, recommended by the Department of Public Welfare and local boards, as to eligibility for assistance and as to its nature and extent. To establish for the department and local boards rules and regulations concerning the administration of this act as provided by law.

"(b) To study the work of the Department of Public Welfare and, from time to time, to recommend to the Governor changes in administrative policy or in the law.

"(c) To take any other action authorized or required by law.

"Section 24. Article XXV-A of the act is repealed.

"Section 25. The annual salary of the Secretary of Public Welfare, payable in semi-monthly installments, shall be twenty thousand dollars ($20,000.00).

"Section 26. The Governor shall appoint a committee consisting of representatives of the two merged departments, the General Assembly and others interested in the functions and duties of the departments involved herein, to complete the details of the merger in an orderly and efficient manner, reorganize the various bureaus and agencies so that they perform their tasks with maximum effectiveness and efficiency, and with authority to make recommendations and prepare additional legislation, if needed, to the end that the purposes of this bill may be effectuated and functions and programs be appropriately assigned to the various departments and agencies.

"Section 27. All personnel, appropriations, allocations, contracts, agreements, equipment, files and obligations of the Department of Welfare and the Department of Public Assistance are hereby transferred to the Department of Public Welfare with the same force and effect as if the appropriations had been made to the Department of Public Welfare in the first instance, and said contracts, agreements and obligations of the said departments had been incurred or entered into by said Department of Public Welfare.

"Section 28. This bill is not intended and shall not be construed to repeal or affect Reorganization Plan No. 5 of 1955.

"Section 29. The act of June 22, 1931 (P. L. 871), entitled "An act conferring upon the Department of Welfare, subject to the approval of the proper board of trustees, the power of fixing and establishing charges for services rendered by any State-owned medical and surgical hospital," is repealed.

"Section 30. This act shall become effective on or before June 1, 1958."

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the amendments?

They were agreed to.

Ordered, That the bill as amended lie over for printing.

The resolution was read by the Clerk as follows:

DIRECTING THE JOINT STATE GOVERNMENT
COMMISSION TO EXPLORE METHODS WHERE-BY THE EMPLOYMENT OPPORTUNITIES
OPEN TO OLDER PERSONS MAY BE EXPANDED

In the Senate, June 12, 1957.

Whereas, the employment problems faced by our older citizens are of vital concern to the Commonwealth; and

Whereas, employment opportunities for many older persons are effectively restricted by the provisions of existing pension and retirement plans which impose a cost differential upon those employers who would employ older persons; and

Whereas, the benefits to the Commonwealth from a reduction in the number of unemployed older persons are such that ways and means need be found to eliminate the cost differential to employers incident to the employment of older persons; therefore, be it

Resolved, That the Joint State Government Commission be directed to explore methods whereby the employment opportunities open to older persons may be expanded by eliminating the pension cost differential to employers; and be it further

Resolved, That the Joint State Government Commission report to the next regular session of the General Assembly its findings and recommendations with drafts of legislation necessary to carry the recommendations into effect.

On the question,

Will the Senate adopt the resolution?

SENATE RESOLUTION, SERIAL No. 49, ADOPTED

Mr. PECHAN. Mr. President, I move that the Senate adopt the resolution just read by the Clerk.

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I second the motion.

SENATE INSISTS UPON ITS AMENDMENTS NON-CONCURRED IN BY THE HOUSE TO HOUSE BILL No. 1481, AND APPOINTS COMMITTEE OF CONFERENCE

Mr. PECHAN. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do insist upon its amendments to House Bill No. 1481, and that a Committee of Conference on the part of the Senate be appointed.

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair announces, on behalf of the President pro tempore, the appointment of Messrs. SCOTT, WALKER and McMENAMIN as a Committee of Conference on the part of the Senate to confer with a similar committee of the House to consider the differences existing between the two houses in relation to House Bill No. 1481.

Ordered, That the Clerk inform the House of Representatives accordingly.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. YOSKO asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. YOSKO. Mr. President, there has been a little confusion, at least in my mind, concerning a few programs involving child care. It reminds me of the statement Senator Dent made the other night when he said, "If you are not confused, you ain't listening."

I must confess that I was confused, and I think we should straighten out the record. I was confused not because I was not listening, but perhaps because I was listening to the wrong people. I was talking about a program involving special classes for mentally retarded children, and I was applying figures applicable to reimbursements to counties for dependent, neglected and delinquent children. My figures, Mr. President, were right, but they were applied to the wrong program.

Senator Berger was right the other night when he was debating this subject. He said the appropriation for the mentally retarded and special classes was contained in the appropriation to the Department of Public Instruction and not the Department of Welfare. He was right about that.

According to the budget—and I think we should straighten this out, too—during the last biennium there was appropriated for the mentally retarded $9,845,535. The Governor requested, for the next biennium, a total of $14,500,000. This amount was reduced, but since over on the other side, at least one of the Senators objected to the word "cut," I will explain that just a little. He said it was not a cut because there was more appropriated for this biennium than was received in the last biennium. That is true. The increase over the last biennium amounts to $1,400,465 but that is $3,650,000 less than the Governor requested.

I am still a little confused because I was told by some gentlemen on the other side that the cut, or the reduction, in the Governor's request, from $14,500,000 to $10,850,000, was satisfactory to the Department of Public Instruction and that the department could get along with that sum of money.

I checked with the Department of Public Instruction and I learned that no one of responsibility in the Department of Public Instruction made that kind of a statement, and that if the appropriation as requested by the Governor is not granted, if this reduction in his request goes through, the program will have to be curtailed. When that message was conveyed to me, I asked the head of the department to put it in writing. I understand that is being prepared and will be delivered to me on Monday.

I bring this up because I understand that the Conference Committee on House Bill No. 1700 will meet over the week end. I do hope that this matter will be taken into consideration, will be given favorable consideration, and that the reduction from $14,500,000 to $10,850,000 will be restored so that this program can continue on its present basis and will not necessitate curtailment.

BILLS ON FIRST READING

PETITIONS AND REMONSTRANCES

Mr. PECHAN. Mr. President, this is not a petition nor a remonstrance. However, I would like to have permission to read into the record an editorial that was in the Titusville Herald, in relation to my very good friend and leader, Senator Mahany. I think it should be made a matter of record.

I am sorry Senator Mahany is not in the room, but I think, perhaps, he has read it. If I may, I would like to read it.

"Titusville's Senator Rowland B. Mahany announced in Harrisburg the other day that he was retiring from the Legislature.

"The Senator first went to Harrisburg in 1943 and served two terms in the House. He is now on his third term in the Senate. When this expires in December 1958, he will have completed fifteen years of service in the state capital.

"During this time his constituents have had the ablest kind of representation. The Senator has a keen mind and works hard at his job. He has the knack of being able to absorb a great deal of information, to analyze it rapidly and bring out the important points.

"Like all really smart men, Senator Mahany makes it a point never to try to overawe others with his knowledge and intelligence. He will listen patiently to anyone with a problem or a grievance. He will try to reason things out with even the most cantankerous caller.

"The Senator refuses, however, to be pushed into anything, even by close friends, which he does not sincerely believe is right. Not that friends and associates would have him do wrong—far from it. It's just that everyone has pet projects, but the Senator won't buy any unless he feels that it is the best thing for his state.

"This is not to be construed to mean that the Senator does not make mistakes. It is impossible to take an active part in state government and not make a great many blunders. But the Senator is correct far more times than he is in error.

"Since he combines diplomacy with wit and wisdom, Senator Mahany has been twice honored by his colleagues by being elected majority leader. This is a more sincere tribute than any praise with a pen.

"Because the Senator is so able, this newspaper hopes that his retirement is from the Legislature only and not from public life. There are other jobs in Harrisburg and in Washington. The people, and the Republican party, still need the services of this extremely able man."

I would just like to say, for the record, that Senator Mahany is qualified for anything, and anything Senator Mahany wants, from the Governorship down or the United States Senatorship, Al Pechan is for him and will do anything he can to promote it.

I want to concur in what his editor said. I am just sorry that I do not have the prose and words of wisdom to put it into words, but I want the Commonwealth to know that no matter what Rowland Mahany wants, Al Pechan is for it and I will be glad to promote it.

The PRESIDENT. The remarks of the Senator from Armstrong, Mr. Pechan, will be printed in the Legislative Journal.

Mr. MCGINNIS. Mr. President, I heard the remarks the other day of Senator Mahany and I was rather surprised and, in a way, sorry. He did say though that when he gave up control of the Senate, he wanted to turn it over to an editor in his District. I want to remind him now, if he still feels that way, in order to be sure that he has an editor down here to take control of the Senate, he should have that Republican candidate get the Democratic nomination up there so he will be assured of being elected. If he does not do that, and if Senator Mahany does not run in that District, I am convinced the Democrats will elect a Democratic Senator from that District.

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I was about ready to blast Joe Barr on his $100 ticket advertisement which was carried in this morning's paper, in which he says they are selling their tickets to the Joe Smiths and not the Joe Pews. However, after all those kind remarks that have been made about me, I do not have the heart to blast anyone.

Mr. McMENAMIN. Mr. President, I do not know what is in the offing, but should it turn out that Rowland Mahany runs next year for another Senate, I hope his opponent is the able Minority Leader, John Dent. That would be one election the people could not lose.

ADJOURNMENT

Mr. PECHAN. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now adjourn until Monday, June 17, 1957, at 10:00 o'clock, a. m., Eastern Standard Time.

Mr. MULLIN. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

The Senate adjourned at 5:22 o'clock, p. m., Eastern Standard Time, until Monday, June 17, 1957, at 10:00 o'clock, a. m., Eastern Standard Time.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

FRIDAY, June 14, 1957.

The House met at 9:00 a. m. EST.

The SPEAKER (W. Stuart Helm) in the Chair.

PRAYER

Reverend Walter Kennedy, Pastor of the Templeton and Goheenville Presbyterian Churches, Armstrong County, guest Chaplain and guest of the Speaker, offered the following prayer:

O Lord, Thou art the Alpha and the Omega, the first and the last. In Thee all things are gathered up in their infinite total. It is in Thee that we live, move and have our being. Thou dost turn over the leaves of our time and peruse the record, and Thou dost write upon that record a just judgment. We spend our years as a tale that is told. May we set our course by the stars of truth and justice, and not by the lesser lights of policy or passion. May the things which unite us be always greater and stronger than the things which divide.

Bless Thy servants gathered in this legislative hall so that they shall always stand for those things which are morally right rather than for those things which are politically expedient. Grant us faith to crowd out fear and give strength and courage for this day's tasks.

We ask in that name which is above every name, Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVAL POSTPONED

The SPEAKER. If there is no objection, the approval of the Journal for Thursday, June 13, 1957 will be postponed until printed.

The Chair hears none.

KEYSTONE STATE FUNERAL DIRECTORS WELCOMED

The SPEAKER. The Chair welcomes to the Hall of the House a delegation of members of the Keystone State Funeral Directors Association holding their twelfth annual convention in the city of Harrisburg.

The Chair thanks the delegation and hopes they enjoy their visit with us, as well as their convention.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. GRANVILLE E. JONES asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, I am extremely happy to witness the presence of the Keystone State Funeral Directors Association of which I am a member.

First, it is gratifying that they have selected the city of Harrisburg for their twelfth annual convention, making it possible for them to especially visit the House and Senate where the laws are consummated for the Funeral Directors in our great Keystone state of Pennsylvania.

I recall that in the 1949 session of this Assembly, when the proposal came to the floor of this House advocating that the title of the then named State Board of Undertakers be change to the State Board of Funeral Directors and also asking that a vacancy on the Board be filled at that time, I spoke on the measure for the first time as a new Member of this House, urging His Excellency, the Governor, to scrutinize a list of one hundred names from which to select one of the colored Members submitted by the Funeral Directors Association.

I wish to reiterate that statement again today, ladies and gentlemen, on behalf of the resolution adopted in the convention by its Members. Mr. Speaker, in view of the fact that a vacancy will exist between now and August, we trust that His Excellency, the Governor, will set a precedent in this Commonwealth putting us in line with our sister states, namely, California, District of Columbia, Maryland, Ohio, and New Jersey, that are about to name their member to the board, this to prove that a democracy can and must prevail in Pennsylvania.

BILLS ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order.

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 347, entitled:

An Act amending the act of June 2, 1915 (P. L. 736) entitled as amended "The Pennsylvania Workmen's Compensation Act" exempting from the act employees and their employers of other states when such employees temporarily or intermittently within this Commonwealth are covered by workmen's compensation insurance of other states and extraterritorial provisions of this act are similarly recognized by other states.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

Less than the majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the negative and the bill falls.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 353, entitled:

An Act amending the act of December 5, 1936 (1937 P. L. 2897) entitled "Unemployment Compensation Law" making further provision for the lien of unemployment compensation contributions.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Bedford, Mr. Stroup.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Bedford, Mr. Stroup, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. STROUP. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman explain the purpose of this bill?

Mr. STROUP. I believe this bill, Mr. Speaker, is designed to eliminate one of the remaining vestiges of a secret lien.

At the present time unemployment compensation charges which are due quarterly frequently are not entered of record on the docket, and except for real estate mortgages, judgments and chattel mortgages, security instruments, which are recorded, in the event of a judicial sale lose their priority of position and the unemployment compensation claim which either was filed at the same time, or in a certain order on the docket will move into a prior position and take the priority over a previously recorded judgment, chattel mortgage, or security instrument.

The only lien other than the unemployment compensation charges which enjoy this type of priority at the present time are the corporation taxes, and if one should have a judicial sale and an unemployment compensation assessment or charge should not be even filed of record. Although the assessment has been made, that assessment may even move into a prior position and take priority over the previously recorded judgments, chattel mortgages or security instruments.

As to the purpose of the bill, Mr. Readinger, it is to eliminate that secret lien and to protect those who have previously recorded instruments of record.

Mr. READINGER. This would have the effect, would it not, of taking from the unemployment compensation fund some of the money that would otherwise go into it?

Mr. STROUP. Well, it would except for one thing and that is it would require the Unemployment Compensation Bureau to file those charges periodically so that they enjoy their proper place with other recordings and thereby protect themselves.

Mr. READINGER. Real estate taxes become liens before being recorded for a certain period, do they not?

Mr. STROUP. That is correct.

Mr. READINGER. And also corporation taxes?

Mr. STROUP. That is correct.

Mr. READINGER. But you think this one should be singled out and put in a different category?

Mr. STROUP. Yes, I do Mr. Readinger. As to real estate taxes, of course, if one is going to make a search and the certifications are readily available in the treasurers' office and in the chief assessor's office, one could determine that. Here, however, in the event of a judicial sale, we wake up at the last minute and find that there are charges which we have not taken into consideration.

I had an experience where even after filing a sheriff's distribution, we were faced with the fact that we had unemployment compensation charges which came in as a priority and defeated claimants who had relied upon the record, not knowing that these charges were there and had priority on the record as filed in the event of a sale.

Mr. READINGER. Is there not now provision in the law for filing these unemployment compensation charges in the same manner as taxes are filed?

Mr. STROUP. Yes, there is.

Mr. READINGER. That is already in the code?

Mr. STROUP. Yes sir.

Mr. READINGER. And would that require that they file them before the end of three years or how often?

Mr. STROUP. I cannot answer that question whether it requires that they file them once a year or quarterly. Of course, the charges are quarterly, and it would be possible for the department to file quarterly if the payments are not made.

Mr. READINGER. I thank the gentleman.

I think we should vote against this bill until one is drawn that would set up a system similar to that employed for real estate tax liens. I do not think we should compel the State Department to file these liens at its peril or have the possibility of losing these taxes. If some system were set up whereby there could be a lien for a period of two or three years without filing and then preserve the lien only by filing so that other creditors would have notice, I could go along with this idea. This simply puts the Unemployment Compensation Fund in a position where if anybody does go through a judicial sale and if the State has not had time or taken the time to file its claim for unpaid unemployment compensation contributions, the fund will lose them to some other creditors, and it should not be that way. This is a fund that should be protected. It is a fund that all creditors dealing with corporations and business enterprises know about, and I say it should be in the same category as real estate taxes.

I think we should defeat this bill.

Mr. BOWMAN. Mr. Speaker, this is important legislation. It is important legislation because the present law, as I understand it, is one of the remnants of an archaic practice of permitting secret liens.

This does not apply only to corporations per se, it applies to all third persons dealing with corporations in their corporate sale or transfer of their corporate property, and under the existing conditions it is not impossible but it is very difficult for persons dealing with corporations for the purchase or transfer of their corporate property to determine whether or not an unemployment compensation lien exists or does not exist against this corporation.

There is only one secret tax lien provision in the law which I would know, and it is the law today, and that relates to corporate taxes themselves. It does not apply to sales taxes. There is no secret lien for sales taxes, and in no other place in the law is there or should there be secret liens.

I urge you to consider this bill seriously and to vote in favor of it.

Mr. STROUP. Mr. Speaker, in the matter of further supplementing the comments of my colleague, Mr. Bowman, practically all state tax acts that have been enacted within the last 30 years, for example, the gasoline tax, the state personal property tax which, of course, has been repealed, the soft drink tax, which has been repealed, and the one and three percent sales and use taxes have protected the creditotrs' positions, other than a mortgage creditor, from subsequently filed state liens.

The bill, therefore, before the House is in keeping with the philosophy against the remaining vestige of a secret lien and therefore should be enacted into law, and I ask all members of the House to vote in favor of this particular bill.

Mr. READINGER. There has been so much talk about secret liens that some of the Members are going to get the idea that there is something subversive about the present law.

The fact that they are not written on the record in your own county as a claim by the Commonwealth does not make it by any means a secret lien. Anybody in business knows about the unemployment compensation law and the fact that it calls for contributions by employers, and why anybody who is engaged in purchasing and so forth would fail to obtain the proper clearances from an office such as the Unemployment Compensation Bureau, I would not know.

I doubt very much if anybody would pay the purchase price for the assets he is buying if he were not sure that all liens were removed. It might be a nuisance to bother to get the clearance, if necessary, but nevertheless they can be obtained, and I still say we should have a better written law than this to provide for a reasonable period within which the state can file these liens, or must file them to preserve the liens, but to simply say they should take their position with all other liens no matter when they are filed is not right.

Mr. BOWMAN. Mr. Speaker, there is a misunderstanding as to the value of a clearance certificate that can be obtained from the Department incident to the transfer of property of a corporation. The obtaining and delivering of a clearance certificate is not the answer to this problem. One can get a clearance certificate from the Department and one is still not protected from liens which have not yet been actually filed but which are pending. The question of getting a clearance certificate is not in issue here. The question is that even with a clearance certificate you are not protected against a secret lien.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, I will not say that I am thoroughly familiar with the bill.

I am sure we are all familiar with the work that is being done in this state with respect to establishing the permanent record for our taxing assessments in various counties. Some counties have moved at a surprisingly fast pace, others have done a reasonably fair job at it, and there are those who still have not finished the job, or even started on it. One of the reasons for not doing it is lack of immediate funds. We all know that the job eventually will be done, and this is just an extension of time to January 1st of 1958, as I read the bill, to do the job.

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. Mr. Speaker, when was this act passed, the effective date originally?

Mr. JOHNSON. The Act of 1943.

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. Mr. Speaker, the counties have had 15 years. Do you not think that should be enough time for them to do the job which was mandated by the Legislature back in 1943?

Mr. JOHNSON. I am sorry, I should have said 1953 instead of 1943.

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. It is 1943.

Mr. JOHNSON. I was corrected from 1943 to 1953, but I feel reasonably sure it was 1943 that the law was enacted, and the law has been amended continuously since that time. I am thinking of some of the smaller counties. For instance, in my county I think it cost $171,000 to do the job, or some figure like that. You take some of these other counties and it is quite a big sum of money out of their budget. The job eventually will be done, but we are just giving them an opportunity to get it done in an orderly way.

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. Mr. Speaker, if this bill had been put into effect, would it not have had a salutary effect upon the reimbursement fraction in connection with school subsidies?

Mr. JOHNSON. There is no question but that it is tied into that particular phase of education.

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. Thank you.

Mr. Speaker, it seems to me that one of the most pressing problems we have in the state of Pennsylvania today is the question of market values and state subsidies. Many districts have complied with the law so that the State Equalization Board has better material on which to base the reimbursement fraction. The continuous postponement of this thing for the fourth class counties is detrimental to the determination of subsidies for the school districts of the state as a whole, and we feel they should comply with the mandate of the previous Legislatures. We therefore ask all Members, regardless of their party affiliations, to vote against this bill.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Less than the majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the negative and the bill fails:

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 637, entitled:

An Act amending the act of April 12, 1951 (P. L. 90) entitled "Liquor Code" excepting certain clubs from the quota limitations

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. MCINROY. Mr. Speaker, Senate Bill 637 exempts country clubs from quota limitations. We feel this is class legislation, and therefore unconstitutional.

A few years ago a bill was passed permitting veterans clubs to be exempted from the quota limitations. This was declared unconstitutional.

I ask all of you how can we turn down veterans clubs like the AMVETS, American Legion, the Veterans of Foreign Wars, and others, and give licenses to a small group of country clubs?

Through years of experience it has been found that the quota method is the best way to control the issuance of liquor licenses. Let's not start now to weaken that structure by making this exception.

Here is an opinion from the Liquor Control Board. I will read just the last paragraph, because I know we have a lot of other things to do.

We would also deem such an amendment to be class legislation, providing special privileges to a group without regard to necessity. For these reasons the board opposes this bill. Signed Frank J. Shay, Secretary.

Therefore, I ask all Members of the House, on both sides of the House, to vote down this bill.

Mr. VAUGHAN. Mr. Speaker, may I interrogate the Chairman of the Liquor Control Committee, Mr. Price?

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Mifflin, Mr. Price, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. PRICE. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. VAUGHAN. Mr. Speaker, is it true, Mr. Price, that you checked with the Justice Department regarding the constitutionality of this bill, and would you tell the Members of this House what they told you about the constitutionality of the bill?

Mr. PRICE. Mr. Speaker, I did check with the Attorney General's office as to the constitutionality of this bill. The representative from that department informed me it was his opinion this particular piece of legislation was not unconstitutional.

However, we also have a different opinion from the Liquor Control Board, in their opinion the bill is unconstitutional. So it is just a toss-up between two different opinions.

Mr. STROUP. Mr. Speaker, just a few words. If this bill is constitutional and is so held, it is potentially possible that we will have a great many country clubs organizing for the purpose and design of securing a liquor license.

It is the opening of the tent, and the camel's nose is coming in. We are opening it very wide.

Less than the majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the negative and the bill falls.

REASONS FOR VOTE

Mr. MOODY filed the following reasons for his vote on Senate Bill No. 637:

My reasons for voting against Senate Bill No. 637: Inasmuch as the Legislature has heretofore refused to enact Legislation which would enable bona fide veterans organizations organized pursuant to an Act of Congress, I do not feel that I can vote for this bill which would enable country clubs to apply for and be granted club licenses so long as legitimate veterans' clubs do not qualify.

I sympathize with the specific purpose of this legislation, but under all the circumstances I must vote in the negative. If legislation for veterans organizations is unconstitutional then this is also.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 662, entitled:

An Act making an appropriation to Dauphin County for defraying expenses incurred by Dauphin County in conducting the Grand Jury investigation of certain officials of the Pennsylvania Turnpike Commission.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

RESOLUTION INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

By Mr. DOWN. (Concurrent) RESOLUTION No. 142.

In the House of Representatives, June 14, 1957.

Pymatuning Dam was built and the Pymatuning Lake area was developed primarily for the purpose of advancing the industrial potential of the Shenango and Beaver Valley communities.

Secondarily, the advancement of recreational and sports activities were to be furnished by the Dam and Lake.

It is of primary importance that accurate information be obtained in order to properly legislate concerning the recreational and sports activities to be fostered on Pymatuning Lake and in surrounding areas; therefore be it

Resolved (the Senate concurring), That the Joint State Government Commission be directed to study and investigate the use of motor boats on Pymatuning Lake, particularly with a view to the size and weight of boats and the size of the motors used therein, and the effect thereof on water supply to the Shenango and Beaver Valley industrial communities, by the necessity of increasing the water level in Pymatuning Lake and maintaining such high water level in the lake to the possible detriment of water power in Shenango and Beaver Valleys, if larger and more powerful boats with more powerful motors are authorized to be used on Pymatuning Lake; and be it further

Resolved, That the Joint State Government Commission report to the next regular session of the General Assembly its findings and recommendations with drafts of legislation necessary to carry the recommendations into effect.

Referred to the Committee on Rules.

ANNOUNCEMENT

The SPEAKER. The Chair would like to inform the House as to our procedure for the balance of the day.

The Chair is about to declare a recess for one hour for the purpose of holding a brief caucus, and with the hope that the Members can get their lunch and return promptly by 1:00 o'clock EST.

If the Members will return promptly and be in their seats at 1:00 o'clock EST, the Chair will exert every possible effort to have the Members out by 3:00 o'clock EST. The Chair would ask the cooperation of the Members in returning promptly to their seats at 1:00 o'clock EST.

Immediately upon the declaration of the recess Members will go directly to their caucus rooms for a brief caucus.

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, I move that the House non-concur in the amendments made by the Senate.

The motion was agreed to.

Ordered, That the Clerk inform the Senate accordingly.

SENATE MESSAGE

AMENDED HOUSE BILL RETURNED FOR CONCURRENCE

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, I call up on page 26 of today's calendar, Amended House Bills Returned for Concurrence, House Bill No. 1622.

The Senate message was read as follows:

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced, returned bill from the House of Representatives numbered and entitled as follows:

HOUSE BILL No. 1622.

An Act authorizing the incorporation of limited life insurance companies for the purpose of issuing insurance upon the health of individuals and against personal injury and disablement and death including endowment insurance regulating such companies and limiting the amounts for which such companies may issue policies.

With the information that the Senate had passed the same with amendments, in which the concurrence of the House of Representatives is requested.

The SPEAKER. The Clerk will read the Amendments.

The Clerk read the amendments as follows:

Amend Section 2, Page 3, line 4, by inserting after the second word "of" the words "the requisite"; line 5 by striking out after the word "funds" the words "equal to the amount of its capital" and inserting in lieu thereof the words "invested as provided by law"; line 15 by inserting after the word "necessary" the words "number and"; line 16 by inserting after the word "of" the words "applications for" and by striking out after the word "insurance" the words "in force"; Page 4, line 10, by inserting after the word "companies" the following: "provided however that each such corporation shall file with the insurance commissioner a written notice of its election to comply with the provisions of section 410 a (the standard nonforfeiture law) of the insurance company Law of 1921."

Amend Section 5, Page 5, line 16, by striking out after the word "The" the word "annaul" and inserting in lieu thereof the word "annual."

There's grandeur in my land's mountains,
Contentment in her vales,
There's wealth in her broad prairies,
There's freedom, in her gales;
In my land men are equal,
Her flag proclaims it too,
No red shall waive in our fair land,
Without the white and blue.

There's majesty in old glory,
Hope in each stripe and star,
It heralds freedom, liberty,
To nations near and far;
Unsullied and triumphant,
Glorified, she floats anew,
No red shall waive o'er our fair land,
Without the white and blue.

RESOLUTION

FLAG DAY

Messrs. JOHNSON and READINGER asked and obtained unanimous consent to offer a resolution and for its immediate consideration.

The resolution was read, considered and unanimously adopted as follows:

In the House of Representatives, June 14, 1957.

On June 14, 1777, the Continental Congress adopted a flag having a field of thirteen stripes and a group of thirteen stars on a blue background. In the years which have ensued, this flag now containing forty-eight stars, has been the symbol of national honor, virtue and stability. To this emblem the people have symbolically attributed much of their national aspirations and honor and the inherent pride of nationhood which a great people justly feels for this bastion of democracy.

The American Flag is today honored throughout the world as a token and symbol of democracy and national virtue, and is a guiding light to those persons living in less fortunate lands who seek to establish for themselves a just and honorable form of government; therefore be it

Resolved, That this House of Representatives pauses to give homage and respect to the Flag of the United States of America, and to renew its faith in and allegiance to the nation and ideals for which it stands.

Mr. RAGOT. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the Members of the House to rise and pledge allegiance to the Flag.

The Members rose and pledged allegiance to the Flag.

Mr. JUMP. Mr. Speaker, I have a little poem I should like to read. It is entitled: "No Red Shall Waive O'er My Land."

There's no other land like my land,
Beneath the shining sun,
There's no other flag like my flag,
In all the world—not one;
One land, one tongue—one people,
To one flag, loyal true,
No red shall waive o'er my land,
Without the white and blue.

COMMUNICATION FROM GOVERNOR

The Secretary to the Governor being introduced, presented a communication in writing from His Excellency the Governor, which was read as follows:

APPROVAL OF HOUSE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION
RECALLING HOUSE BILL No. 711 FROM GOVERNOR.

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,
Governor's Office, Harrisburg, June 14, 1957.

To the Honorable, the House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

I have the honor to inform you that I have this day approved and signed House Concurrent Resolution recalling from the Governor House Bill No. 711, Printer's No. 306, for further consideration.

Accordingly, the original bill is herewith returned.

GEORGE M. LEADER.

COMMUNICATION AND BILL LAID ON TABLE

Mr. PAUL G. MURRAY. Mr. Speaker, I move that the communication from the Governor together with the bill be laid on the table.

The motion was agreed to.

Mr. TOLL. I had a thought to complete the Flag Day observations, but it seems it was missed out completely. I can tell you what the thought is, maybe we can still sing it. I thought it would be appropriate to sing the National Anthem.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair is sorry that he did not recognize the gentleman sooner.

BILLS ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 62, entitled:

An Act granting ambulances and fire apparatus free passage over all turnpikes and extensions thereof under the supervision and control of the Pennsylvania Turnpike Commission.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk return the same to the Senate with information that the House of Representatives has passed the same without amendment.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1476, entitled:

An Act prohibiting the suspension or dismissal of certain professional employees of the Commonwealth except for just cause and making any such suspension or dismissal an adjudication under the Administrative Agency Law.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. READINGER asked unanimous consent to offer amendments at this time.

The SPEAKER. The amendments will be read by the Clerk for information.

Amend the title, page 1, lines 1 to 4 of the title, by striking out all of said lines and inserting: "Amending the act of August 5, 1941 (P. L. 752) entitled "An Act regulating and improving the civil service of certain departments and agencies of the Commonwealth vesting in the State Civil Service Commission and a Personnel Director certain powers and duties providing for classification schedules and certification of payrolls imposing duties upon certain officers and employees of the Commonwealth authorizing service to other State departments or agencies and political subdivisions of the Commonwealth in matters relating to civil service defining certain crimes and misdemeanors imposing penalties making certain appropriations and repealing certain acts and parts thereof" changing the coverage provisions."

Amend the bill, page 1, lines 1 to 2, page 2, lines 1 to 20, page 3, lines 1 to 20, page 4, lines 1 to 6, by striking out all of said lines and inserting:

Section 1. Clause (e) of section 3 act of August 5, 1941 (P. L. 752) known as the "Civil Service Act" is amended to read

"Section 3. Definition of Terms. In this act unless the context otherwise clearly requires."

* * * * *

(e) "Classified service" means all positions now existing or hereafter created in the service of the Commonwealth not specifically included in the unclassified service.

The following professional employees shall also be included in the classified service.

"Any veterinarian who is licensed or registered as such in this Commonwealth and who is employed in that capacity in the Department of Agriculture any person who shall have majored in civil engineering traffic engineering or similar scientific or technical subject related to highways during a course of at least four years in a college or university approved by the Department of Public Instruction and thereafter received a degree and who is employed in the capacity of such scientist or technician in the Department of Forests and Waters and any doctor of medicine dentist nurse or other practitioner of the healing arts who is licensed or registered as such in this Commonwealth or any person who shall have majored in psychology or sociology during a course of at least four years in a college or university approved by the Department of Public Instruction and thereafter received a degree and who is employed in the capacity of doctor of medicine dentist nurse other practitioner of the healing arts psychologist sociologist or social case worker as the case may be in the Department of Welfare. The term "professional employee" shall not mean the Secretary or a Deputy Secretary of any department or any other person in a policy-making as contrasted to an administrative position."

* * * * *

Section 2. This act shall take effect immediately.

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent to the offering of amendments at this time? Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

Mr. STROUP. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Berks, Mr. Readinger.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Will the gentleman from Berks, Mr. Readinger, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. READINGER. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. STROUP. Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman explain the purpose of his amendments and the effect of the amendments upon House Bill 1476, please?

Mr. READINGER. Yes. These amendments would place the same personnel mentioned on pages 2 and 3, I believe of the bill, under the Civil Service Act, would place them in the classified service and give them all of the status of persons with tenure of office under the Social Security Act. These amendments take out of the bill everything pertaining to this Professional Employee Act setup and actually puts them over under civil service.

Mr. STROUP. Then you would agree, Mr. Speaker, that is a complete revision of the bill?

Mr. READINGER. Yes, it is a complete revision in that it does not seek to set up a new class of people with tenure, it puts them in the same classification as those who now have tenure.

Mr. STROUP. And the professional individuals with whom House Bill 1476 is concerned would be placed immediately under the classification and the purview of the Civil Service Act. Is that correct, Mr. Readinger?

Mr. READINGER. That is right.

Mr. STROUP. I thank the gentleman, Mr. Speaker.

I should like to say just a few words if I may, in opposition to these amendments.

Mr. Speaker, I ask the Members of the House to oppose and to vote down these amendments.

We are of the opinion that any effort at this particular time to place this particular classified professional and scientific personnel under the Civil Service Act, is premature. We are of the opinion, after considerable study of this problem for some time, that we are not at this time ready to undertake such a measure as the Minority Leader here recommends to us. Only after careful and exhaustive research, study and comparison with measures similarly utilized in the federal government and in other states, do we feel we should undertake to put a fully classified Civil Service Act into effect. We believe the amendments offered by the gentleman, which change the bill entirely completely avert its intention and purpose, and ask the membership to vote the amendments down.

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, a serious question concerning the Department of Health has arisen in connection with this bill before us.

On page 2, line 5, the bill says a professional employee is any doctor of medicine, dentist, nurse or other practitioner of the healing arts who is licensed or registered as such in this Commonwealth, and who is employed in that capacity in the Department of Health. It then goes on to speak about veterinarians and other professional personnel.

It provides further, in section 3: "No professional employee," including these people in the Health Department, "who shall have been employed as such for two consecutive years or more, beginning after the effective date of this act, shall thereafter be suspended or dismissed from his employment except for just cause, which shall not include his race or religion" and so forth. It sets up no machinery for hearings, that I can find, which hearings would be in conformity with the presently existing Civil Service Law.

The Secretary of Health has communicated with the Federal Department of Health, Education and Welfare and under date of May 24th, one Richard F. Boyd, Regional Medical Director of the Public Health Service, wrote to Doctor Mattison and among other things said the following:

"As you know, the Federal statutes under which grants-in-aid are made to your department require, as a condition of such grants, the maintenance in the programs involved of a merit system of personnel administration in accordance with long established and generally well recognized prescribed standards. This is to advise you that our review of the proposed House Bill No. 1476" which is the bill before us, "indicates that its provisions, if enacted, would raise a serious question under such prescribed Federal merit system standards.

The bill defines a professional employee in the Department of Health as "any doctor of medicine, dentist, nurse or other practitioner of the healing arts who is licensed or registered as such in this Commonwealth and who is employed in that capacity." In the Department of Welfare a professional employee is defined as one "who is employed in the capacity of doctor of medicine, dentist, nurse, other practitioner of the healing arts, psychologist, sociologist, or social case worker." Under these definitions, employees of the Department of Health and the Department of Welfare, serving in the grant-aided programs, who have heretofore acquired permanent civil service status following the completion of satisfactory probational periods, would be returned to probationary status for a period of two years. Suspension or dismissal of an employee during such two-year period would not be subject to the type of appeal provided under our Federal standards. Moreover, after the completion of the required two-year probationary period, the only appeal from a suspension or dismissal is that set forth in your state's Administrative Agency Law.

This bill before us does not have an effective date set forth in it, therefore under the Statutory Construction Act, it would become effective September 1, 1957.

If we desire to do so, we could call this a political bill for the reason that should the governorship of this state be taken over by the Republicans, including the Legislature, during the election of 1958, Heaven forbid, it would be quite possible to dump overboard any professional personnel employed from now on, or those who are now in, simply by the repeal of this Act prior to September 1, 1959. In other words, there is a two-year probationary period and if this thing is effective September 1st of this year, anybody could be dismissed forthwith during that two-year period. So actually these people would not have any real civil service status at all. I think this bill is most objectionable for the reasons which I have just given.

In a memo from Doctor Mattison to the Legislative Secretary, Henry Leader, he says this:

"We receive from the Department of Health, Education and Welfare a total of something like $5 million per biennium. According to Doctor Becroft's letter, "Serious questions would be raised" as to our eligibility for funds following such an undermining of our merit system.

In other words the Secretary of Health vigorously objects to this bill on the ground that it will upset his personnel and raise these questions concerning the eligibility of the department to receive Federal funds. I say for these reasons this bill should not be passed.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, the discussions regarding this measure, according to my mind, involve just so much useless shadowboxing.

There is not any doubt this bill is tinged with political purpose. If it lands on the desk of His Excellency the Governor, the Governor will naturally be inclined to mingle his action on the bill with political purpose. It is inevitable that the Governor would have to veto this bill because it does involve Federal funds. His Excellency the Governor can veto the bill and place, by Executive order, all of these people under a merit routine. All the majority will get, by passing the bill as is, is a brief victory, if you want to call it that, but the measure is such a measure that no Governor in his right mind could sign and sacrifice the Federal funds that are jeopardized. So it is either accept amendments along the line proposed by the gentleman from Berks, along that general line, or pass that bill as is, dump it on the Governor's desk, and you're all going home and you won't get any opportunity to revise the Governor's decision, if happily, he disagrees with you.

Mr. STROUP. Mr. Speaker, briefly, I consider the arguments the gentleman of the opposition advanced as being rather specious in character. They allege there is a question concerning the appropriation from the Federal government, in a communication they have received. It is rather inconceivable that appropriation would come to a cessation under an Act of this kind when it envisions as its purpose the creation of a civil service act after that two-year period. I therefore doubt very much the validity of that contention. Of course, one can always come to the conclusion, if to no other, that a certain bill has a political purpose. So we hear the cry, which frequently we hear, here is political purpose alone.

Since the gentlemen have addressed themselves more to the bill than to the amendments, although I can see that the amendments being so pertinent and relevant to the bill are really inculcated as a part of it, I might state that this is a sincere effort on the part of the majority party on this side of the House to achieve the objective of a really definite, qualified civil service act for the employees of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

I again renew my plea to the membership to vote these amendments down.

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman is entitled to his opinion as to whether an argument is specious or not, but when we are dealing with the possibility of losing $10 million of Federal aid in a biennium we had better be careful of what we are doing.

I agree with the gentleman from Cambria that this bill would very likely be vetoed, if it ever got to the Governor's desk. That is beside the point. It is before us now and the question is, does it make good sense to pass it or does it not?

I think I understand the basic philosophy that is being attempted by this bill, but I do not believe the draftsmen intended to include, as the bill does include, those professional employees in the Department of Health and Welfare who are now under civil service. If you look at this bill on page 3, Section 3, line 14, you will see it says this: "No professional employee," and that includes those persons, "who shall have been employed as such for two consecutive years or more beginning after the effective date of this act shall thereafter be suspended or dismissed from his employment except for just cause which shall not include his race or religion" and so forth.

Now I say to you if this bill should become law, and it was decided to unload some of the professional employees who are now protected by civil service, they could be unloaded without a hearing or without anything else. I do not think that was intended, but that is exactly what this bill does. It is still subject to the infirmities we mentioned before. It could be used for political purposes.

If the gentleman who is defending this bill and the members of the majority party really want these people under civil service, then you should accept these amendments and put them there. We think they should be under civil service and that is the reason we are offering the amendments. It would make for greater ability to recruit these people. They would be much more likely to take positions in the various departments, and heaven knows we need them; we need more of them than we have. This is one way to give the Commonwealth an opportunity to get qualified people and put them in these positions. If you turn these amendments down, then I think you really do not want these people under civil service at all.

Mr. LOPRESTI. Mr. Speaker, at the last session of the Legislature I had the privilege of serving on the committee which investigated the merit system of the Health Department. In the course of that investigation we did learn as a fact that the health funds appropriated by the Federal government would not be forthcoming unless the Department of Health had a system, either a merit system or a civil service system, which was approved by the Federal government. Our present merit system has had such approval.

In all of those areas where Federal money is used, the employees who receive part of the money out of the Federal fund must come under that merit system, regardless of what position they are working in or what their duties are. So, all of the employees at the Elizabethtown Hospital for Crippled Children automatically, by reason of the rules of the Health Board, come under the merit system, as do a great many other persons in the Health Department.

At that hearing it was pointed out to us that the merit system was necessary because of the Federal law that it had to be, and that whatever system was used must be approved by the Federal authorities. If this particular bill were to eliminate and make invalid our present merit system, then we would not be entitled to Federal contributions in my opinion, until such time as this particular law that we are putting into effect now would have the approval of the Federal authorities. I believe there is some question, and some serious question, as to whether or not we can receive Federal funds if we have a system which has not been approved formally by the Federal authorities.

Therefore I believe we must accept these amendments, or risk losing our Federal contribution.

Mr. STROUP. Mr. Speaker, just a brief word. I think the learned attitude of the gentlemen of the opposition can be effectively answered by the fact that there is no repealer in this bill at all. Certainly any possible interpretation of repeal by implication would be very, very farfetched. Therefore, under the Statutory Construction Act, I can see no danger whatsoever to the questions they raise. That is my answer to the specious argument advanced.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

So the question was determined in the negative and the amendments were not agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. STROUP. Mr. Speaker, just a few brief statements in favor of House Bill 1476.

This bill has a laudatory and commendable objective. It was conceived with the overall purpose of according to those professional and technical employes in the Departments of Health, Agriculture, Highways and Welfare, with which it is specifically concerned, an opportunity to find some security within the next two years. It may be compared favorably with the teachers' tenure act.

We believe that this bill will enable the heads of these departments to enlarge their recruitment program because it will make it possible for them to hire employes of this type and assure them that within a two-year period, having satisfactorily discharged their duties, they can qualify under the tenure act. We believe it will be advantageous to the departments and advantageous to the Commonwealth in the discharge of its services to the general public.

We ask all Members of the House to vote in favor of House Bill 1476.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, when I get fuzzy, how fuzzy I get. I actually thought we were voting on the bill rather than the amendments.

You know, we all come to the end of the trail sometime, but I did not think I was going to reach it this soon. I have had a 15 second rest, and I now think I am in possession of such faculties as I enjoyed previous to the consideration of this bill, and irrespective of my past mistakes, I am saying to the Members of this House that my vote now is "no."

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1723, entitled:

A Joint Resolution proposing an amendment to Art IV Sec 9 of the Constitution of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania further regulating membership of and appointment to the Board of Pardons and prescribing powers and duties regarding fines and for forfeitures reprieves commutations of sentence and pardon.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. LORESTI. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Cameron, Mr. Tompkins.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Cameron, Mr. Tompkins, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. TOMPKINS. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. LORESTI. Mr. Speaker, in reading the bill on page 2, lines 9 and 10, I note "such appointment each of whom shall hold office for the term of six years excepting the Lieutenant Governor" appears.

Then on page 3, line 8, we find the language, "excepting the initial appointments made for a period of less than eight years no member shall be entitled to reappointment."

I would like the gentleman to explain the working of that six years and the eight years, just what it means.

Mr. TOMPKINS. Not having read the printed bill perhaps as closely as the gentleman from Cambria has read it, it would appear that the six years appearing on line 10, page 2, is an error in print, it should be eight years.

Mr. LORESTI. Is it not right then Mr. Speaker, as the bill presently exists we have conflicting provisions, one requiring six-year terms and the other eight-year terms?

Mr. TOMPKINS. The bill is designed for eight-year terms on the board.

Mr. LORESTI. My question is, Mr. Speaker, as the bill appears now, we do have a conflict within its sections?

Mr. TOMPKINS. The six-year term on line 10, should be eight, yes.

Mr. LORESTI. Yes.

Mr. TOMPKINS. That is purely a typographical error and should be corrected.

Mr. LORESTI. And now, Mr. Speaker, I believe this board as suggested by the new bill will be set up as follows: one member of the board shall be the Lieutenant Governor, one member shall be appointed by the Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, one member shall be appointed by the President Judge of the Superior Court of the Commonwealth, and two members shall be appointed by the Governor. Is that correct?

Mr. TOMPKINS. That is correct, sir.

Mr. LORESTI. When we turn over to the other section of the bill on line 10, page 3, "The power of removal shall be in the office which made the appointment."

Does that mean that each of these individuals can remove any of his appointments any time during this eight-year term?

Mr. TOMPKINS. For cause, the power of removal would be in the respective offices which made the appointment.

Mr. LOPRESTI. Is there anything, Mr. Speaker, in this bill which specifies that it shall be for cause?

Mr. TOMPKINS. There is not.

Mr. LOPRESTI. There is not. So, as the bill stands now, the appointing power could remove any of these members at any time they so choose?

Mr. TOMPKINS. I believe our Administrative Code covers the question of removal of officers in that capacity.

Mr. LOPRESTI. Under our Constitution, Mr. Speaker, is it not a mandatory provision of the Constitution that the power to remove goes with the power of appointment?

Mr. TOMPKINS. I believe that is true, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. LOPRESTI. That is correct. So we would not be governed by the Administrative Code?

Mr. TOMPKINS. That is right. It is just merely a restatement of your other constitutional provision.

Mr. LOPRESTI. That is correct. So then if you have a constitutional provision which grants the power of removal to the person who appoints, are not these eight-year appointments actually meaningless, inasmuch as the power who appointed them can remove them at any time?

Mr. TOMPKINS. I would not say any more than what it is with any other administrative board or commission.

Mr. LOPRESTI. We specifically give it to them in this bill, do we not?

Mr. TOMPKINS. We do, which is only a restatement of what is already in the Constitution.

Mr. LOPRESTI. Now then, is it correct or not that the power to commute sentences is an executive function, has always been such?

Mr. TOMPKINS. It is considered as a part of the executive arm of the government, yes.

Mr. LOPRESTI. In this particular bill we would be transferring, would we not, some of the members of the board who are advising the executive to the judiciary and, with the exception of the Lieutenant Governor, making them all subject to confirmation by the Legislative body, so that we are bringing a board now under the jurisdiction of the Legislature, the judicial and the executive?

Mr. TOMPKINS. That is right. It was intentionally put in there that way.

Mr. LOPRESTI. That would remove this function from the executive and place it among three different groups?

Mr. TOMPKINS. That is true, which I will debate later, when we are done with our interrogation.

Mr. LOPRESTI. Now then, Mr. Speaker, since the term of these appointments would be for a period of eight years, and the appointments made by one Governor would carry on into the term of the second Governor, would you not be permitting one Governor to appoint members, and the second Governor would have no right to appoint his own unless he dismissed those of his predecessor?

Mr. TOMPKINS. That is true. It was purposely put in there and intended that way.

Mr. LOPRESTI. Then don't we defeat the eight-year provision which the gentleman is trying to have effective in this particular act, by reason of the fact that each Governor will then remove the appointments of the former Governor and place his own in those positions?

Mr. TOMPKINS. I can't see where he can do that any more than what he does to the Public Utility Commission, the Liquor Control Board or a great number of other agencies on this bill.

Mr. LOPRESTI. All right, then we will presume that they cannot. Say that the succeeding Governor cannot remove appointments made by the previous Governor, would he not then be bound to act upon recommendations made by persons with whom he personally disagrees perhaps?

Mr. TOMPKINS. The Governor is not bound by the recommendation of your present Board of Pardons and he would not be bound by the recommendations of the board set up under this bill.

Mr. LOPRESTI. Well, I do not say bound exactly, I mean guided, let's say that. Is that right?

Mr. TOMPKINS. How is that again?

Mr. LOPRESTI. That he would be guided?

Mr. TOMPKINS. Yes, he must be guided. He could not do anything unless he received a favorable recommendation.

Mr. LOPRESTI. That is right. So he would have to be guided by appointments made by a Governor, in which he had no choice?

Mr. TOMPKINS. He has two members on the board.

Mr. LOPRESTI. How would he have two members on the board if they were made by the previous Governor and the terms go on for eight years?

Mr. TOMPKINS. Well, in the succeeding term he would not, that is one of the reasons why we put it in there that way, to try to remove that political influence from the present operations.

Mr. LOPRESTI. Mr. Speaker, I thank the gentleman.

This particular bill, as you may have gathered from the interrogation, has two particular provisions, one in contradiction to the other. Therefore, I would like to ask a question of the Chair, a parliamentary question, as to whether, when a bill carries conflicting provisions, we can just simply take the one out by making a correction in the printing, or does the corrective bill have to be passed by the House?

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The constitution requires that the bills shall be reprinted with the provisions taken out or put in.

Mr. LOPRESTI. Then in that case, Mr. Speaker, are we not wasting time today discussing a bill which the sponsor himself admits must be corrected? Should not we be offering amendments instead?

The SPEAKER pro tempore. There is a possibility that the correction can be made in the Senate if it is not made in the House, in order to save legislative time. It is a House Bill.

Mr. LOPRESTI. Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Speaking on the bill itself, first of all let me say that this is a constitutional amendment. It is a question which requires deep study. As a matter of fact a request has been made to the various law schools of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania asking for an opinion or a discussion of the question of the composition of pardon boards.

In reply, each of the law schools said that the question was very complex, one which would require considerable research and study and they would not attempt to make any suggestion as to the composition of a proper Board of Pardons.

Now I want to lay that before this House. I want to say right now that we, the Members of this House, do not have sufficient information at our command, we do not have the facts, we certainly have not made a study of the question of clemency in the various states, we have no idea as to whether our present system is not perhaps the best system that can be devised. We do not know what loopholes we will get into if we do change our particular setup.

I believe this particular bill is premature, that any attempt to change the complexion of our board should await such a time as a thorough study of the question has been made by either a constitutional committee set up for the purpose of investigating the question, by our Joint State Government Commission or some other body which could make a thorough investigation and determine whether or not this bill or some other bill would be an improvement over our present setup, or perhaps whether or not we already have the best that can be devised.

Speaking on the bill itself, apparently the attempt was to get a board which would remain in existence over a period of eight years; with that particular idea I have no quarrel. I think perhaps if we had a longer period it might be an improvement.

However, we have a bill here which conflicts in itself. It attempts to make eight-year appointments and yet says the power of removal shall be in the office which made the appointment.

In other words it specifically gives the succeeding Governors, each in his turn understand, it does not say the individual who made the appointment, but it says the office which made the appointment—the right to remove all of the people that were appointed before him.

Now it is conceivable that the previous Governor making an appointment would have made it in the last year of his term. The succeeding Governor could come in and relieve that man after just one year of service, or two years or three years of service.

Certainly if there is a member on that board in whom the incoming Governor has no confidence he will replace him just as soon as he can. But then we go further and we require legislative approval, we require confirmation by the Senate and therein comes perhaps the biggest political factor that we could bring into the makeup of the pardon board, because certainly we all know, from the basis of experience, if there is anything political it is confirmation by the Senate. If we had a Democratic Governor and he suggested members of the Pardon Board in whom the Republican Senate had no confidence, you would not get that confirmation, and vice versa. If we had a Republican Governor making an appointment, and a Democrat Senate refused to confirm, or even a portion of the Democrat Senate would refuse to confirm, you would have a man sitting on that board under a cloud.

You would have him serving an interim appointment and when the time came for confirmation, he would not get confirmation. We would be destroying the very thing that we are trying to establish, and that is integrity and non-political actions on the part of the Pardon Board.

Frankly, Mr. Speaker, I do not like to go into an extensive debate. There are many things I feel are wrong in this bill which could be debated at length. I want to go back to my principal argument.

I have no quarrel with the suggestion that the question of the makeup of the board should be studied. I think there should be a thorough investigation made into the question as to what constitutes the best type of a Pardon Board. I think after that kind of a study has been made, a bill carrying with it the background of thorough study should be presented before this House and then we should proceed to act in accordance.

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, this bill was prepared as a result of work in which five other men and myself have been engaged since February of this year.

I am not here to say that we are in full agreement in connection with the contents of this bill. We are not attacking any particular Pardons Board or any particular individual who is now or has previously served on the Pardons Board. We are merely attacking the system itself, which over the years has become subject to the influences from which executive clemency was suffering at the time, the present composition of the Pardons Board was put into our 1874 Constitution.

Our Constitution says that the Lieutenant Governor and Secretary of Internal Affairs, two elective offices, the Secretary of the Commonwealth and the Attorney General, two appointive offices, shall make recommendations to the Governor in connection with applications for clemency.

In its original state and for a number of years it worked as a very good board. I do not say that the present board is not operating as a good board, but there you have four people who are directly involved in politics. You have four people who are beholden in one way or another, perhaps, to some political influences. You have a tremendously increased case load before your Pardons Board today. It is amazing they can handle the number of cases they do with the additional burdens they have to take upon themselves, and their other official duties.

Now to say that no study has been made of this is not so. We asked the Joint State Government Commission to make a study of executive clemency in other states. After we made the request for that information, the Attorney General himself furnished to the committee a copy of the clemency procedures of all of the 48 states as well as of the United States. Those have been thoroughly gone over by the authors of this bill.

You will find in some states the Governor and the Chief Justice of the Supreme Court, together with a couple of appointees constitute the board. You will find other states which have their system patterned after ours. You will find other states that have different systems. Connecticut even insists in its constitutional provision that a physician be a member of the board. The board however composed, or whoever sets it up, does act as an executive arm of the Governor in connection with clemency applications.

So to say that this board, or this proposed board, would not be an executive arm of the Governor is not so. There are clemency agencies in other states that operate on varied bases.

This bill constitutes a combination of what we felt to be the best features of all the 48 states and of the United States.

To say that there is any political influence or anything wrong with Senate confirmation, you will find that in all the offices which are held throughout the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania today in which appointments can be made. You will find it in a great number of other states where it must be subject to that confirmation. Otherwise you would not have the original control and make up of the board.

We have felt that by giving an eight-year term to these members, making them full time members with no other duties, forbidding them to hold other public offices, and forbidding them to be rotated, we have done everything possible to make this board an agency of clemency and do the work for which an agency of clemency is designed, and not to be subject to influences which can operate in a board such as we have now constituted.

We feel this to be an answer to the problems which have arisen in this field in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and we strongly recommend its adoption.

Mr. BELL. Mr. Speaker, since I served as a member of the Pardons Board Investigating Committee, I would like to give some of my reactions in support of this bill.

There were three factors that impressed me tremendously during that investigation. The first is that the board as it is presently constituted is an open invitation for political influence. That was very well covered by Mr. Tompkins.

The second is the Board as presently constituted has inadequate time to properly consider cases before it. Assuming there is a case load of 1,000 cases a year and the board only puts 15 minutes on a case, this would be 15 thousand minutes or 250 hours.

The members of the board, the Attorney General, the Secretary of Internal Affairs and the Secretary of the Commonwealth are all busy public officials. Where can they find adequate time to thoroughly sift through the factors and the facts that are submitted in these cases? The third factor that impressed me was the position of the Attorney General as a member of this board. This board is a board of mercy, but the Attorney General is the chief law officer of this Commonwealth. He is the head of the prisons. He is the head of the State Police. He is a super district attorney. Look at the Turnpike situation here in the Dauphin County Court. He has a special Attorney General conducting that hearing. He handles the appeals before the Supreme Court of the United States. Now how can a man with all those duties serve as a member of the Pardons Board?

We have the situation in the Darcy Case, where Mr. Cohen said one thing in the Supreme Court of the United States and then reversed himself when the Pardons Board made its decision. We have a definite conflict of interests there.

Then you have another factor. You have a factor which Mr. Lopresti brought up, I think it is called the division of powers under constitutional law, where he brings in the fact that here we have the judiciary coming into the executive.

Mr. Speaker, I point to the city of Philadelphia where the Board of Judges appoints what I believe is called the Board of Education. I think from our debates here on the Floor we know that education is part of the Executive Department. But through the experience of appointing the Board of Education out of politics, by using the Board of Judges, Philadelphia has a very splendid Board of Education. That is what we are endeavoring to do here.

The gentleman from Cambria, Mr. Lopresti, said there has been no thorough study made in this case. I believe that the gentleman from Cambria, Mr. Lopresti, is too modest. The members of this Pardons Board Investigating Committee spent three months in hearings. They spent one month in study. Who in this Commonwealth is better qualified to say what should be done in the composition of the Pardons Board, to suggest to this honorable House what should be done, than the people who have devoted so much time. I challenge that there is anyone in this Commonwealth more familiar with the troubles of the Pardons Board and the composition of the Pardons Board than the six men who investigated it.

In closing, I believe in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania there is a public mandate to do something about the composition of the Pardons Board. It came into focus with the Darcy case. This House today has a choice of doing one of two things; doing something or doing nothing. But I say, ladies and gentlemen of this House, support this bill. Send it over to the Senate. Let the Senate change the typographical error and let us go back to our people and say we have done something. It will lay in the laps of the people. We then have another session under the Constitution, and if there is error in this proposition it can be corrected. If we do nothing, may I remind you that the Pardons Board as presently constituted will continue to be so constituted until at least the fall of 1961 and only God knows how many of us will even be alive then.

Mr. LOPRESTI. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman from Cambria, Mr. Lopresti, is not too modest. He is just too honest to say he has made a thorough study of this question.

It is true that we have spent several months on the question of the investigation of the Pardons Board. But those months have not been spent on the study of the question of the makeup and the composition of our board.

Now the remark has been made that this committee has made a study and that this bill arose out of the investigation by that committee. I do not believe it will be breaching any ethics for me to tell you Members of the House here today that the majority of the board, and that majority consists of two members on the majority side of this House and one member on the minority side of this House, does not subscribe to the principle of this bill. So I do not want you to get the impression that this represents the will of the committee investigating the Pardons Board, because it does not represent the will of that committee. As a matter of fact, the majority opinion of that committee is the other way.

Now then, there has been some question raised here about the Attorney General making his study of the various Pardons Boards in the 48 states. That is correct. He did make a study and he has that report. And mark you, ladies and gentlemen, that report gives the Pennsylvania system a most favorable consideration. It does not condemn our system but it gives it a favorable consideration, and perhaps more states should look into it.

So we cannot take that report as saying that our present system is not good. We feel, the majority of us, that the question should be studied. I am not opposing and I do not want it to be construed as such, an investigation to determine whether or not we have a good board. But I say before we interfere, with the present setup that we have, we should know where we are going. Certainly at this point I can say truthfully and honestly that the members of the committee themselves do not know where they are going, and I am quite certain that you Members sitting here in this House do not know where you are going on this particular proposition.

Now, what we are going to ask is proper. We are going to ask that a Constitution Revision Committee be created, and that committee inquire into this subject. If such a constitutional committee is not constituted, then that the Joint State Government Commission inquire into it. After we have inquired into it, if we do find a system which is better than that in effect in Pennsylvania, I will be the first one to vote for such a resolution.

All I am asking is that you do not allow hysteria, do not allow your personal feelings, perhaps in one case, to destroy that which has been built up over a period of years, without proper consideration as to what you are doing when you do it. That is my point; in addition to the fact that this bill does not accomplish the purpose set out to be accomplished.

The remark has been made that the present system lends itself to politics. I want to reemphasize, what could lend itself any more to politics than confirmation by the Senate. Men who have been confirmed by the Senate after a period of delay, would they not be subject to contact by those Senators? Would that not place all of our Senators in the position where they could be approached to seek out the man they had confirmed after perhaps a long debate, and then ask our Senators to get into the political act?

I say, ladies and gentlemen, this is the wrong time to make such a change, to vote on the bill. I believe if each and every one of us is sincere we will have to acknowledge the fact that we do not know at this stage what we are doing, and we had better not do it.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

RESOLUTION

CONGRATULATIONS

Messrs. WOOD, ROYER and ESHLEMAN asked and obtained unanimous consent to offer a resolution and for its immediate consideration.

The resolution was read, considered and unanimously adopted as follows:

In the House of Representatives, June 14, 1957.

The Honorable Paul G. Murray, a highly esteemed member of this House of Representatives since 1944, has on this day reached the sixty-second anniversary of his birth.

The Commonwealth of Pennsylvania is indeed fortunate to have a champion such as Paul G. Murray in its law-making body. As a tycoon in the fields of banking, insurance and related businesses Mr. Murray could spend his time much more profitably furthering these endeavors. Yet he sees fit to unselfishly devote his time, energies and great wealth of knowledge and experience toward the enhancement and well-being of his fellow citizens.

It is highly appropriate that the birthday of this outstanding American shall fall on Flag Day. His deep sense of patriotism and earnest interest in our government and our way of life fully justify the association of Paul G. Murray with the Flag of our nation and recall to us the high ideals which both he and our Flag represent, therefore be it

Resolved, That the House of Representatives extends to Paul G. Murray its most hearty congratulations on his 62nd birthday and looks forward to the pleasure and honor of associating with him for many years to come, and be it further

Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be transmitted to the Honorable Paul G. Murray.

The SPEAKER. The Chair recognizes the tycoon from Lancaster, Mr. Murray.

Mr. PAUL G. MURRAY. Mr. Speaker, I did not quite understand that one yord. Was it "typhoon" or "tycoon?"

The SPEAKER. The Chair thinks both would be appropriate.

Mr. PAUL G. MURRAY. Mr. Speaker, I must say many thanks to everybody who tried to draw up that very illustrious resolution. I have reached the age of 62. I would rather be 26. Thanks a lot.

MEMBERS CONGRATULATED

The SPEAKER. The Chair would also like to extend birthday greetings to the gentleman from Crawford, Mr. Merry, the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Jenkins, and the Chair is also informed that the birthday of the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Scarcelli is on Sunday. The Chair congratulates and wishes a happy birthday to those three gentlemen.

PERMISSION GRANTED COMMITTEES TO MEET DURING SESSION

Mr. KELLER asked and obtained permission for the Committee on State Government to meet during the session of the House.

Mr. DOWN asked and obtained permission for the Committee on Counties to meet during the session of the House.

ADJOURNMENT

Mr. PAUL G. MURRAY. Mr. Speaker, I move that this House do now adjourn until Monday, June 17, 1957 at 10:00 a. m. EST.

The motion was agreed to, and (at 4:34 p. m. EST) the House adjourned.

Legislative Journal.

Session 1957.

142nd of the General Assembly.

Vol. 35.

HARRISBURG, PA., MONDAY, JUNE 17, 1957.

No. 68.

SENATE

MONDAY, June 17, 1957.

The Senate met at 10:00 o'clock, a. m., Eastern Standard Time.

The PRESIDENT (Lieutenant-Governor Roy E. Furman) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The following prayer was offered by the gentleman from Armstrong, Doctor PECHAN:

"Thou has said, Father, 'It is more blessed to give than to receive.' Give us the grace today to think not of what we can get, but of what we can give, that a new spirit may come into our work with a new vision and a new purpose that Thou wilt delight to bless.

"Make our people everywhere in our land willing to share the good things they enjoy, lest in our selfishness our food should choke us and, in our indifference, our blessings turn to ashes.

"Help us to give according to our income, lest Thou, O God, make our incomes according to our gifts.

"In Jesus' Name, we ask it. Amen."

I might say that this prayer was offered by the late United States Senate Chaplain, Peter Marshall.

JOURNAL APPROVED

The PRESIDENT. A quorum of the Senate being present, the Clerk will read the Journal of the preceding session.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of the preceding session, when, on motion of Mr. MAHANY and Mr. SEYLER, further reading was dispensed with, and the Journal was approved.

RULE 21 SUSPENDED FOR REMAINDER OF SESSION

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I move that Rule 21, which requires amended bills and reports of committees of conference to be noted on the Calendar, be suspended for the remainder of the Session.

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, I second the motion. The motion was agreed to.

SENATE RESOLUTION

CONGRATULATING THE BOROUGH OF WINDBER ON ITS SIXTIETH ANNIVERSARY

Mr. WHALLEY offered the following resolution which was twice read, considered and agreed to:

In the Senate, June 17, 1957.

This year of 1957 marks the sixtieth anniversary of the Borough of Windber in Somerset County.

This thriving typical Pennsylvania Community was formed through the efforts of the Berwind-White Coal Mining Co. in 1897. It has given to Pennsylvania in addition to outstanding citizens, athletic teams and athletes of which it can justly be proud.

The Windber area has been one of the great coal producing areas in the state. In the past few years many new small industries have located in this section, the Bestform Corporation which will employ five hundred persons being the most recent to settle there.

Much of its social and economic progress can be attributed to the tireless unselfish efforts and civic pride of Charles Dunlap and Charles Berwind, president and vice-president of the Berwind-White Coal Mining Co., who have been instrumental in making possible the construction and maintenance of a modern hospital and educational, athletic and recreational facilities; therefore be it

Resolved, That the Senate of Pennsylvania congratulates the Borough of Windber on its sixtieth anniversary; and be it further Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be transmitted to the Burgess of Windber, M. J. Klena, Jr., and to its benefactors, Charles Dunlap and Charles Berwind.

RECESS

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now take a recess until 1:00 o'clock, p. m., Eastern Standard Time, for the purpose of holding a Republican Caucus and a Democratic Caucus.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I second the motion. The motion was agreed to.

AFTER RECESS

The PRESIDENT. The time of recess having elapsed, the Senate will be in order.

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. McMENAMIN. Mr. President, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The PRESIDENT. The gentleman will state it.

ACTION RESCINDED ON HOUSE BILL NO. 531, PRINTER'S NO. 664, AND BILL RESTORED TO CALENDAR

Mr. McMENAMIN. Mr. President, I now move that the Senate rescind its action taken on House Bill No. 531, Printer's No. 664, on June 13, 1957, when this bill was defeated for the second time, and that the bill be restored to its rightful place on the Calendar.

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, I second the motion.
The motion was agreed to.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. WADE asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. WADE. Mr. President, in the Highways Committee we have had a bill regarding which, I think it is an honest statement to say, we have had a sharp division of opinion. This bill is House Bill No. 1185 and it would purport to adopt the use of radar in detecting motor violations. I think, too, it is an honest statement to say that in the States which now have adopted the use of radar, they are not unanimous in alleging that it does what it purports to do. An officer in the State of Virginia, for instance, told me, personally, that almost eighty-five per cent of the violations detected by the use of radar were out-of-State motorists. I think he purported to tell me, or to create the impression, that out-of-State motorists in Virginia were the ones who violated the law. I would rather accept the analysis that the police department, in the State of Virginia, was prejudiced against out-of-State motorists visiting in their State.

Then, too, we have had a resolution, already adopted in this Senate, to require a study of our own State Police. We have always been very proud of our State Police organization in Pennsylvania and we still are proud of that organization. I do not believe those who sponsored that resolution had anything in mind except to improve it.

During the year of 1955, according to the Department of Revenue, the Bureau of Highway Safety, we had 57,193 suspensions of automobile drivers' licenses for speeding and other causes. In 1954, we had even more; we had 62,455. During the present Administration, the Department of Highways and the Governor's Office have adopted a point system, which I think is doing a great deal for motoring in Pennsylvania.

I might say also, Mr. President, that we are prone to talk about our automobile drivers and the tremendous number of accidents we have in Pennsylvania. I do not think this is entirely fair to our motorists. As a matter of fact, the fatality rate has been reduced one-third in the fifteen years prior to last year, on a miles traveled basis. If we would go further to get a man-hour basis for those traveling in automobiles, I think we would find that traveling on our highways in Pennsylvania is as safe as farming and many other occupations. The information which comes to me is that there are fifteen times as many fatalities in Pennsylvania because of swimming pools or swimming as there are as a result of traveling on the highways. Therefore, we should not be too ready to condemn the Pennsylvania motorist who is, by and large, a safe driver. Of course, there are those who offend but they exist in every instance. However, if there are fifteen times as many fatalities per man-hour in swimming as there are in riding in an automobile, we are not prone to stop building swimming pools or to demand that those who wish to go swimming not be allowed to do so.

Mr. President and Members of the Senate, there are many other sides to this argument. I think the only logical and proper approach is for the Joint State Government Commission to study the entire problem, to study the use of radar, to obtain the experience of other States and to find out, before we purchase very expensive equipment and try to put it in use, whether it really would bring down the fatality rate among motorists in Pennsylvania.

Mr. President, I asked the head of the Bureau of Highway Safety for those figures on Saturday morning. I grant that he did not have much time to provide them. However, I stayed in my office until noon on Saturday and I have been available practically all the time since, and I have not yet received figures showing any reduction or showing any fatality rates in the States which use radar.

Therefore, Mr. President, it is my considered judgment that instead of hurrying a bill through, which would demand the use of radar in Pennsylvania, or at least, authorize the use of radar in Pennsylvania, the matter would much better be studied until every phase of it has been developed and until we get the information which is necessary for this Senate and the House of Representatives to act on a measure of that kind intelligently.

Mr. President, I am now going to present to the Senate a resolution which would require a study of the use of radar as it pertains particularly to those States which now have radar.

SENATE RESOLUTION

DIRECTING THE JOINT STATE GOVERNMENT COMMISSION TO INVESTIGATE THE PROBLEM OF DETECTION OF SPEED VIOLATIONS ON THE HIGHWAYS BY USE OF RADAR

Mr. WADE. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to offer a resolution at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. WADE offered the following resolution which was twice read as follows:

In the Senate, June 17, 1957.

The problem of detecting speed violations on the highways by radar has caused much earnest discussion among legislators, in the public press, and among the residents of the Commonwealth who would be affected by such a method of detecting law violations; therefore be it

Resolved, That the Joint State Government Commission is directed to study and investigate the problem of detection of speed violations on the highways by use of radar, with special emphasis on the experience of those States which have used radar in this manner in the past; and be it further

Resolved, That the Joint State Government Commission report to the next regular session of the General Assembly its findings and recommendations, with drafts of legislation necessary to carry the recommendations into effect.

RULE 39 SUSPENDED

Mr. WADE. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Rule 39, which requires resolutions be referred to an appropriate committee, be suspended and the Senate do now proceed to the consideration of the resolution just read.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection?

The Chair hears none.

On the question,

Will the Senate adopt the resolution?

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION, SERIAL NO. 52, ADOPTED

Mr. WADE. Mr. President, I move that the Senate adopt the resolution just read by the Clerk.

Mr. PECHAN. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Cumberland, Senator Wade.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Cumberland, Mr. Wade, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. WADE. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. LANE. Senator Wade, is your resolution in answer to the editorial which appeared in today's Harrisburg Patriot?

Mr. WADE. No, Senator Lane, it is not.

Mr. LANE. Did the editorial predicate the sponsoring of this resolution?

Mr. WADE. No, it is not in response to any editorial whatever, or any publicity whatever.

Mr. LANE. Senator Wade, is it true that there was a deal on that they would pass the bill in the House and kill it in the Senate?

Mr. WADE. I appreciate that question, Senator Lane, because it gives me the opportunity to flatly deny that I talked with anybody from the Administration or outside the Administration, or anyone in Pennsylvania or outside of the State of Pennsylvania. I talked with no one about a deal. I entered into no deal. I was not approached about a deal, nor did I approach anyone else about a deal.

Mr. LANE. Senator Wade, you made a statement that we would have to legislate intelligently on this particular piece of legislation. Do you take the position that the House of Representatives was unintelligent in this legislation?

Mr. WADE. I did not say that, Senator Lane. I will not reflect on the House of Representatives. It is a body of intelligent men, properly equipped I think to decide any question which comes before it.

Mr. LANE. I wish to thank the gentleman.

Mr. President, this resolution is sponsored by the Chairman of the Senate Committee on Highways. It is going to postpone for two years the enforcement of traffic regulations in regard to the use of radar upon our public highways here in Pennsylvania.

I might say to the Majority Party, if you people vote for this resolution, having the majority of votes, you have a responsibility. I have never objected to the immediate consideration of any resolution and I am not going to change my position now. However, I do say that we should act on this legislation at this Session of the Legislature. If we do not, the blood of the many people who might be killed upon our highways is going to be on the hands of the Majority Party.

Mr. SCHMIDT. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Cumberland, Senator Wade.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Cumberland, Mr. Wade, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. WADE. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. SCHMIDT. Senator Wade, may I ask whether or not this resolution is the result of a discussion of this legislation by the Committee on Highways and the considered opinion of that committee that this would be the proper manner of arriving at a solution to this problem?

Mr. WADE. Mr. President, with apologies to the gentleman who made the interrogation, I would like to take some length to answer.

First I want to say to Senator Schmidt, and to the Members of the Senate, that we had, as nearly as I can count from the record, around twenty to twenty-four meetings of the Senate Highways Committee. During that time we considered over 190 bills and reported 152 of those bills to the floor of the Senate.

There were two radar bills introduced in the House. There was non introduced in the Senate. We received this particular radar bill last Friday. On Friday, I believe we had something like one hundred fifty some bills on the calendar. I beg your pardon, Mr. President, I want to amend my statement. We received the bill on Thursday. On that day we had approximately 150 to 160 bills on the Calendar. On the following day, we had about the same number.

I think you will agree, Mr. President, as well as the gentleman making the interrogation, that those days were just filled with legislative matters and long past the time when we should have had any committee meetings. Anything as important as this change would be to the citizens of Pennsylvania, certainly should be considered.

I again apologize to the gentleman for making my reply so lengthy.

Mr. SCHMIDT. Mr. President, may I further interrogate the gentleman?

The PRESIDENT. The gentleman will proceed.

Mr. SCHMIDT. Does the Chairman of the Committee still consider it too late to ask for a meeting of his committee to discuss this most important piece of legislation?

Mr. WADE. Yes, Mr. President. In view of the fact that the committee has been unable to gather the information it did ask for, and much of which is very pertinent information, before this very revisionary step is taken, I think it is entirely too late.

Mr. SCHMIDT. Mr. President, I want to thank the gentleman.

Mr. President, I believe that some figures were given by the Chairman of the Committee, showing the number of violations that took place in a particular year due to violation of the law on speeding.

For every speeder who has been apprehended, a police officer has had to chase that speeder. Some of the speeds for which some of these people have been apprehended were anywhere from 70 to 90 and, yes, even 100 miles an hour. Under the law, as it now exists, the only way a violator can be apprehended is for him to be either followed by a police officer in a motor vehicle for, I believe, an eighth of a mile at the same speed the violator is traveling or, in other cases, where they have a measured stretch. The measured stretch method is not looked upon very favorably by the courts, because of the difficulty in timing the violator when he approaches or enters into the measured stretch and taking the time when he leaves the measured stretch. At the present time, the best method is to follow.

Now as I say, we expect our police officers, which include our State Highway Patrol and our local officers, to follow that speeder at the same speed he is traveling for a distance of one-eighth of a mile. Sometimes the officer has to go at a greater speed in order to catch up to the speeder and then follow him. By such method, we are jeopardizing the life and limb of every police officer who must follow a speeder of that type. We can avoid this by this previously approved method, recognized by the appellate courts as a method of apprehending speeders on the highways.

I am a member of the law profession and I sometimes defend speeders. As a member of the profession, I might not want to see this method accepted because it is a sure-fire method by which we are going to catch more speeders. However, I am more interested in the life and limb of our police officers. It is not fair of us to ask a police officer of our State Police or of our municipalities to follow these people, who practically commit suicide at such great speeds, and expect that police officer to function and carry out the law.

Therefore, I say to you that a study is not necessary. We know that speeding is unlawful in Pennsylvania. We know the only way to catch a speeder is to detect him. We know the radar system is an accepted method of apprehending speeders. Why insist on jeopardizing the life and limb of our police officers? I ask you, in all fairness to the police officers of Pennsylvania, and I ask you, in all fairness to the people who use our highways, to vote this bill down and insist that the Committee on Highways, at this Session, act upon the bill they now have before them.

Mr. WADE. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Allegheny, Senator Schmidt.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Schmidt, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. SCHMIDT. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. WADE. Senator Schmidt, I am sure you are familiar with the bill about which we are talking. Does it apply to local officials as well as the State Police officials?

Mr. SCHMIDT. I cannot answer that.

Mr. WADE. I submit, Mr. President, that the gentleman has not studied the bill.

May I further interrogate the gentleman and ask him why he uses the words "accepted police method"? What figures do you have, Senator Schmidt, to say to this body that this is the accepted method?

Mr. SCHMIDT. I do know that appellate courts have upheld the conviction of speeders who have been apprehended by the use of radar.

Mr. WADE. Mr. President, may I further interrogate the gentleman and ask him how many States now use radar?

Mr. SCHMIDT. I cannot answer that.

Mr. WADE. Mr. President, may I further interrogate the gentleman and ask him to relate the experience of any States he knows which are now using radar?

Mr. SCHMIDT. I believe there were read to me figures from the State of New Jersey. Their figures show an appreciable decrease in the number of persons either killed or injured on the highways of that State since they have used the radar method of detection.

Mr. WADE. May I interrogate the gentleman further and ask him what "appreciable" means in the matter of definite figures?

Mr. SCHMIDT. I believe for the year that was given me, in the State of New Jersey there were some nine fewer deaths in that State and some twenty-seven or thirty-two, I am not sure, fewer people injured by reason of accidents on the highways.

Mr. WADE. May I further interrogate the gentleman and ask him what appellate courts in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, to which he refers, accept radar?

Mr. SCHMIDT. I did not hear that question.

Mr. WADE. I thank the gentleman very much.

Mr. SCHMIDT. I did not hear that last question, Senator.

Mr. WADE. What appellate courts within the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania accept radar information?

Mr. SCHMIDT. There are none in the State of Pennsylvania because we do not have that method, but there are appellate courts throughout the United States which have upheld convictions based upon apprehension by use of radar.

Mr. WADE. Thank you very much, Senator Schmidt.

May I say, Mr. President and Members of this Body, that the interrogation, I think, clearly brings out that this is a matter which should be studied, rather than to jump in and buy a lot of expensive equipment. I have the highest regard and respect for Senator Schmidt, and I am sure that he is interested as much as I am and as every Member of the Senate is in safety on the highways.

Mr. President, I now desire to interrogate the gentleman from Washington, Senator Lane.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Washington, Mr. Lane, permit himself to be interrogated.

Mr. LANE. With pleasure, Mr. President.

Mr. WADE. I should like to ask the gentleman his knowledge of this radar matter and his experience with it in statistics from other States?

Mr. LANE. I do not believe there are any statistics which I know about.

Mr. WADE. Thank you.

Mr. LANE. However, I do know that most of the civic groups in Pennsylvania are in support of this legislation, with the exception of the Pennsylvania Motor Association.

Mr. WADE. Mr. President, I should like to further interrogate the gentleman and ask him if he is familiar with statistics that show there are fifteen times as many fatalities from swimming or bathing, as we know it, as there are per man-hours traveled in automobiles?

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, may I answer the gentleman by saying that I heard him make that speech. He may have those statistics, but I question them to a great extent.

Mr. WADE. That is the gentleman's privilege and I appreciate his answering the interrogation. Mr. President, to conclude my part of this discussion, let me repeat what I said a moment ago. I do not believe there is anyone in the Senate or in the House of Representatives who is any more interested in highway safety than the Republican Members of the Senate. I might say, too, that I fully believe the Democratic Members of the Senate are just as much interested as we are.

I frankly do not like the statement that the bloodshed of those killed on the highways of Pennsylvania will fall on the shoulders of the Republicans of the Senate. That is a ridiculous statement, Mr. President. The gentleman introduced no radar legislation. We had none in this State Body until last Thursday. If it was such a burning problem, I ask Senator Lane why he did not introduce legislation to provide for the use of radar in Pennsylvania.

That is an entirely unfair statement. It is ridiculous for any Member of this Body to get on his feet and say that the blood of those people, shed on the highways of Pennsylvania, will fall on the Members of the Republican side. Such a statement just does not belong in this deliberative body.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President and Members of the Senate, I might say to you that it is my honest conviction that this resolution is sponsored by Senator Wade in order to get him off the hook. He used a lot of subterfuge here today. I will not object to the immediate consideration of this resolution and in all probability it will pass.

The reason I did not put legislation of this type in his committee is because he knows very well that rarely does he consider any Democratic legislation. He is the kingpin with the Department of Highways and he is the boss. He has a responsibility to the people of Pennsylvania because he is Chairman of the Senate Committee on Highways.

All the excuses and all the subterfuge, Senator Wade, will not relieve you of your responsibility to the motor-ing public.

Mr. SCHMIDT. Mr. President, as I understand it, this bill was part of the Governor's Highway Safety Program. This bill is the result of recommendations made by a nonpartisan group which the Governor appointed in order to make the highways of Pennsylvania safe for the traveling public. There are no politics involved in this bill. It is for the safety of the life and limb of the people who use our highways daily, which includes each and every Member of the Senate here today.

I believe all of the information that might be necessary to warrant the passage of this bill is within the realm of possibility of being furnished by the Highway Safety Bureau of our Commonwealth. I think we have a good Highway Safety Bureau. I think they are interested in it. I think every bit of information that might be gleaned through a study to be made by the Joint State Commission is right here at hand, if only it is requested by the committee.

Mr. Shipley is head of the Bureau of Highway Safety. He has a very competent group of people working with him, and they have all types of information ready and available. There is no reason why this should be postponed until, first, a committee meeting is held and the head of that bureau is invited to appear before this committee with the information which it may deem necessary toward reporting the bill to the floor of the Senate.

Therefore, I ask Senator Wade if he can reach the bureau here by telephone. He can call his committee meeting from the floor. I know the committee will be glad to permit him to hold that meeting. Let us get that information before the committee. Let us bring the bill out and have an opportunity to pass it at this Session.

Mr. YOSKO. Mr. President, I think it is wonderful that we have radar. It serves some very useful purposes, especially in the air and on the sea. However, I do not know whether we are ready to use it on the highways. I am a little fearful that many fining mills will spring up. All of us know there are plenty of them in existence without radar.

Mr. President, speeding on the highways involves the human element. Everybody can read signs and they know what the speed limits are. I am not too sure that radar will change that. As I said before, as a result of radar, you will have the springing up of many fining mills, to the detriment of those who travel the highways.

I see nothing wrong in giving the subject further study.

Mr. McMENAMIN. Mr. President, if this matter of radar on the highways comes under the jurisdiction of Mr. Shipley, Director of the Bureau of Highway Safety, as it has been said here that it does, I do not think we need any legislation on the subject.

I have a letter, dated June 10, 1957, from Mr. Shipley. I presume other Members of the Senate received a similar letter or, perhaps, only those serving on the Highways Committee received the letter. This communication is in connection with House Bill No. 1206, which had to do with speed limits and reduced gear signs on the highways. Mr. Shipley writes, in part, to me as follows:

"Dear Senator:

"I have amended HB-1206—Printer's No. 571 by limiting the reduced gear and speed limit signs for Commercial vehicles traveling down-grade as follows:"

Mr. President, it seems to me that this is as glaring an example of bureaucracy as I have ever seen. Perhaps, I misunderstood what he has said or, perhaps, he has used an unfortunate choice of language. However, here we have a director of a bureau who just writes us and tells us that he has amended a House Bill before we get a chance to act on it. Therefore, if that is his attitude, I do not think the Highways Committee has to meet or that the Joint State Government Commission can do much about it. Mr. Shipley will just go ahead and pass this bill or amend it, as he see fit.

Mr. SEYLER. Mr. President, I do not wish to speak on the merits of the bill, but I do want to reply to the last statement made concerning the letter from Mr. Shipley. I am certain that it, perhaps, is an unfortunate choice of language. However, as the gentleman very well knows, Mr. Shipley has not, within his power, the ability to amend any bill in this Legislature. Mr. Shipley is an intelligent man, and I am sure he realizes that he suffers from that disability. As a matter of fact, Senator McMenamin or I do not have the ability, since we only have two votes between us, to amend any bill.

Therefore, Mr. President, I think this is a rather picayune way, if I may say so, to attack the proposition under consideration. I think if we want to speak on the merits of the bill, very well. However, I do not think it is a very good criterion to take a letter from a person which has an obvious misuse of language, perhaps, and generalize from that that Mr. Shipley is, therefore, dictatorial or has any evil designs upon the legislative function. I know Mr. Shipley is an intelligent gentleman. Although others may disagree, it is my opinion that he is doing a good job in his office.

Quite apart from the merits of the bill, Mr. President, I simply rise in defense of Mr. Shipley.

Mr. McMENAMIN. Mr. President, Mr. Shipley certainly has a very able advocate and defender.

I wanted to speak on the merits of the bill because I am a Member of the Highways Committee. As such, I think I would have to agree with the chairman that in the closing days of the Legislature, we could not very well consider this bill intelligently and get all the necessary information which I would like to have, for one, before voting on it.

More importantly, Mr. President, I did not want to point this out and, perhaps, it was just an unfortunate use of language. However, it seems to me, during the time I have been a Member of the Senate, there is a growing feeling among administrators that they are supreme and the Legislature is something which is considered while we are here and forgotten when we are not here. I very much deplore this trend toward bureaucracy. I think it has been in Harrisburg, regardless of Party. Whenever I can, I like to speak against it and fight against it.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

(A voice vote having been taken, the motion was agreed to and the resolution was adopted.)

REPORTS FROM COMMITTEES

Mr. RUTH. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to make reports from committee at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. RUTH, from the Committee on Rules, reported as committed, House Bill No. 1721, entitled:

An Act relating to employe welfare and pension benefit plans providing for the registration reporting and disclosure of such plans for the administration of the act by the Insurance Commissioners and creating an Advisory Council.

He also, from the Committee on Rules reported as committed, House Bill No. 1724, entitled:

An Act amending the act of April 9, 1929 (P. L. 177) entitled "The Administrative Code of 1929," requiring the Board of Pardons to adopt rules and regulations controlling its actions in all cases except those involving applicants under sentence death.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. BLASS asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. BLASS. Mr. President, at this time, I would like to speak on what I consider a matter of importance to the Senate, and, particularly, to Senatorial courtesy.

As is customary in every Session of the Legislature, Mr. President, omnibus highway bills are prepared and passed in the dying moments of the Legislature. These bills usually originate in the House and, when they come to the Senate, they receive amendments from the various Senators as to roads to be added or deleted in their respective Senatorial Districts.

On Friday, House Bill No. 1421 passed third reading. When that bill first came to the Senate from the House, it was carefully examined by the Senator from the Forty-ninth District, and one road within the confines of Erie County was properly included. This morning, I was very much perturbed when the Chairman of the House Committee on Highways called my attention to the fact that an amendment was offered in this Senate, on Thursday, which deleted the particular road in my particular Senatorial District.

I communicated with the Chairman of the Committee on Highways and he and I went over to the Clerk of the Senate to find out who offered this amendment. It was not offered by the Senator from Erie. That road was known as Pittsburgh Avenue, bordering on the township of Mill Creek, and being the western limit of the city of Erie, with divided responsibility, it was very important that the road should be added to the State system.

When we reached the Clerk's office, we secured the amendment, and on the amendment was the name of Senator Barr. The amendment consisted of a few lines, deleting lines 11 to 17, Section 5. It would have been impossible for even the Chairman of the Committee on Highways to have detected that this amendment did not refer to lands or roads in Allegheny County. It would have been impossible for him, except on close examination, at this late stage, to have ascertained that the subject in this amendment referred to roads in another Senatorial District.

Mr. President, I consider that to be one of the greatest and most outrageous breaches of Senatorial courtesy that I have seen in my thirteen years of experience in this Senate. Whether it came from a Republican Senator or a Democratic Senator, no one should have the right to offer amendments affecting the roads in another Senatorial District, without first bringing the matter to the Senator's attention.

Senator Barr later came into the Senate Chamber and denied that he was the author of the amendment. This is when I considered that something must be done. When an amendment is offered, it is assumed that the amendment, signed by the Senator, is his responsibility. When Senator Barr said that he did not offer the amendment and that someone else had signed his name and offered it, then it is time for the Senators, on this side or on any side of this Chamber, to strenuously object.

Mr. President, it is sad, indeed, to have a lack of consideration paid to the districts represented by each Senator in this Body; when some Senator can transpose and transgress that idea and do things which would be deleterious to the interests of a particular Senator, when the Senator offering the amendment has no interest at all in the Senatorial District which is affected.

Mr. President, I say, without any sense of partisanship, it would be bad for any Democratic Senator to invade another Democratic Senator's District on a matter of this nature. It would be just as bad for a Republican Senator to invade another Republican Senator's District in a matter which concerns only one of the gentlemen.

I am not charging that Senator Barr was the author of the amendment, when he denied it. However, he denied the responsibility. What I am objecting to is that these amendments can be offered in the name of a Senator when the Senator says they are not an act of his own. I say we should stop this procedure in the future. When an amendment is offered, with the name of a Senator on it, that Senator should assume full responsibility, from this time on, for the amendment which is offered, particularly when the bill is passed to which that amendment was introduced.

There is just one other thing, Mr. President. Of course, this can be cured and it will be cured in the Conference Committee. I am not worrying about that. I think this road will be reinstated by the Committee of Conference. However, I am making these remarks on the floor of the Senate, at this time, in order to avoid any further repetition of this kind in the future.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. BARR asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I am sorry that I did not hear all of the remarks of Senator Blass. What I did hear was quite amusing. His remarks were just about as amusing as the Conference Committee which I was just attending.

I want to say to Senator Blass that I did not offer the amendment, as he already knows. However, if he is talking about the way things are done here, I think that is just about where I should come in.

I want to say to the Members of the Senate, on this side, that according to what has happened during the last hour, over in this Conference Committee, it will be long past Wednesday when this Session adjourns sine die.

Mr. President, the utter disregard for the Minority in this State Senate is the most appalling thing that I have ever witnessed. I think I can speak for our side when I say we will stick on our nonpreferred bills until such time as we do what the law states. The law simply says that the Legislature shall appropriate only for, and up to, the estimates of tax revenue which are given to them by the Governor. That, Mr. President, is the only thing we are asking for. Lo and behold, since 7:00 o'clock last night, something has happened. I do not know who did it nor for what reason, but I just want to say to the Republican Members that we do not scare easily.

Regarding Senator Blass' bill, I presume it will be in the same position as House Bill No. 1700. I hope, for Senator Blass' sake, that Pittsburgh Street is replaced in the bill. It is a good name, but I do not know how good the street is. I suspect it is no good, or Senator Blass would not want to give it to the State. I hope, however, it will not get lost like $28,000,000 got lost overnight.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. WEINER asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I want to join with Senator Blass in his remarks. If he will speak to some of the Members on his side and ask them to keep out of Philadelphia and stop invading our District with their bills and sitting on some of our legislation, I will be very happy to vote for whatever resolution he wants to offer in this regard.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. WEINER asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, the two discharge resolutions which I am about to introduce are directed to the Standing Committee on Labor and Industry. They deal with Senate Bill No. 179 and Senate Bill No. 180.

Senate Bill No. 179 has to do with a safety measure, providing for flags on trains standing on the main right-of-way. Senate Bill No. 180 deals with the repeal of Section 662, Section 663 and Section 730 of the Penal Code.

Concerning both of these measures, one of which deals with a safety measure, I was under the impression that all of us were enlightened to the point where we understood, in this day and age, that anything we can do to make travel safe and working conditions easier for the workers, so they do not end up being maimed individuals or being killed and not being able to provide for their families, was a matter of course, and that all of us went along with this type of thinking. Apparently, that is not true. Based on the resolution I introduced a number of weeks ago dealing with the very same problem of safety, which was ignored, this is not a matter of enlightenment or a matter of general knowledge and belief.

Therefore, Mr. President, I ask that this discharge resolution which I am about to introduce, relative to Senate Bill No. 179, be considered and adopted at this time.

I further ask, Mr. President, consideration of the discharge resolution, which I am also about to offer, directed to the Committee on Labor and Industry and dealing with Senate Bill No. 180. This bill deals with the problem of repealing sections of the Penal Code wherein anyone who is injured due to a strike or due to any type of labor difficulties, where the result is death, would suffer the death penalty in the State of Pennsylvania. Those sections should be repealed.

I think the background of that legislation should be understood. When the bill was first introduced and subsequently placed in the Code, the purpose was to punish people who were trying to organize under the labor movement. The result was that many people who were engaged in a strike—and a strike, basically, was a chance or an opportunity to survive economically when there was no other weapon with which to fight—were punished by being put to death if anyone died as a result of this type of thing.

I just want to say this was passed at a time when the railroad industry was very powerful in this State and had a great deal of influence, as well as affluence, and could make itself felt in the Legislature. I do not want to be guilty of using the wrong tense. Therefore, I will say they are still active in the Legislature and still wield a great deal of influence. That is probably one of the reasons why Senate Bill No. 180 will not pass until that influence is on the decrease or on the wane, or the people here realize they represent all the people and their purpose in representing them is to give every one of them a fair break.

The day and age of serious strikes is past. We have not had, in the past number of years, any very serious railroad strikes or any fatalities as a result of strikes or labor difficulties.

Apparently, the gentlemen sitting on the other side of the aisle feel they must still hold the line inasmuch as they are beholden, as it were, to the people who have been good to them during the times when they needed them, primarily at election times. As a result, I imagine this legislation will not see the light of day. Therefore, I ask that the Standing Committee be discharged and I ask that this resolution be considered.

SENATE RESOLUTIONS

TO DISCHARGE COMMITTEE ON LABOR AND INDUSTRY FROM FURTHER CONSIDERATION OF SENATE BILL No. 179

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to offer a resolution at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. WEINER offered the following resolution which was twice read as follows:

In the Senate, June 17, 1957.

Resolved, That Senate Bill No. 179, entitled "An act requiring Common carriers by railroad to furnish flag protection to all trains occupying the main tracks; imposing duties on the Public Utility Commission; and providing penalties," having been referred to the Committee on Labor and Industry on February 12, 1957 and the committee not having reported the same to the Senate for a period of over ten days, the committee is discharged from further consideration thereof.

RULE 39 SUSPENDED

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Rule 39, which requires resolutions be referred to an appropriate committee, be suspended and the Senate do now proceed to the consideration of the resolution just read.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection?

The Chair hears none.

On the question,

Will the Senate adopt the resolution?

MOTION TO ADOPT DISCHARGE RESOLUTION

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I move that the Senate adopt the resolution just read by the Clerk.

Mr. DONOLOW. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, I am rising to oppose the adoption of these discharge resolutions as they regard Senate Bill No. 179 and Senate Bill No. 180.

In that connection, Mr. President, I can only reiterate to the Senator from Philadelphia the fact that these bills were considered by the committee and were not approved for reporting to the floor. Passing from that, which is sufficient to say on the subject because that is the way the committee acted when the bills were given consideration, I want to say to the Senator that the remarks he made concerning the support of this resolution are very much resented. There was no influence brought in connection with these bills as to either keeping them in or reporting them out, except I was approached by a representative of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen who suggested that we could do something for him by reporting these bills out. I told him they would be considered by the committee and they were considered by the committee. I further stated that I considered the subject of Senate Bill No. 179 a matter for negotiation rather than legislation.

I still believe that is correct, Mr. President. I reiterate my request that these resolutions be defeated.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I do not know, from my remarks, where the gentleman who is Chairman of the Labor and Industry Committee would adduce the fact that I had said he was under any undue influence. I did not say that. I do not believe my remarks will bear out that statement.

Mr. VAN SANT. Mr. President, I am a co-sponsor of Senate Bill No. 179 and I sincerely believe in the intent of the bill. However, since we operate under the committee system, I will vote against discharging this committee.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

(A voice vote having been taken, the question was determined in the negative.)

TO DISCHARGE COMMITTEE ON LABOR AND INDUSTRY FROM FURTHER CONSIDERATION OF SENATE BILL No. 180

Mr. WEINER offered the following resolution, which was twice read as follows:

In the Senate, June 17, 1957.

Resolved, That Senate Bill No. 180, entitled "An Act to repeal sections 662, 663 and 730 of the act of June 24, 1939 (P. L. 872) entitled "The Penal Code" relating to the imposition of penalties against railroad employes and other persons for certain activities during strikes and against transportation employes for injuries or death resulting from their actions," having been referred to the Committee on Labor and Industry on February 12, 1957 and the committee not having reported the same to the Senate for a period of over ten days, the committee is discharged from further consideration thereof.

RULE 39 SUSPENDED

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Rule 39, which requires resolutions be referred to an appropriate committee, be suspended and the Senate do now proceed to the consideration of the resolution just read.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection?

The Chair hears none.

On the question,

Will the Senate adopt the resolution?

MOTION TO ADOPT DISCHARGE RESOLUTION

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I move that the Senate adopt the resolution just read by the Clerk.

Mr. DONOLOW. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I request a roll call on this motion.

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. WEINER and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—19

Camiel,	Lane,	Murray,	Silvert,
Derk,	McGinnis,	Ruth,	Stiefel,
Donolow,	McMenamin,	Sarraf,	Weiner,

Flack,	Mahany,	Van Sant,	Whalley,
			Wolfe,

So the question was determined in the negative.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. YOSKO asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. YOSKO. Mr. President, I just want to say I agree with the sentiments expressed by Senator Blass in so far as amendments to the omnibus bill are concerned.

I do not know who slipped the Mickey Finn to him. I had a sad experience; I think it was the first Session I was here. It was not a person from this Chamber or from the Chamber across the hall who slipped in the amendments. The Chairman of the Highways Committee, at that time, permitted the Republican County Chairman from my county to go into the Highways Committee Meeting and submit amendments. Therefore, when the bill was voted out of committee, it was not in the same shape as it was when it went into committee. When I tried to re-amend it, I was told there were not enough legislative days left before adjournment to put the bill back in its original condition.

I got a worse deal than the gentleman did. I hope in the future those of us here will be consulted before someone on the outside submits amendments, not only to a highway bill but to any bill.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. WADE asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. WADE. Mr. President, in all fairness, I think you will agree, as well as the other Members of the Senate, that we had these bills and the attention of all the Members was called to the bills and to the fact that amendments would be offered in the Senate. I do not think it is fair to let Senator Barr take the blame for this amendment, even though he signed the amendment and it was his amendment and when the amendment was prepared, it was prepared on his behalf.

However, I cannot let my colleague, my second Senator from the Thirty-first District, be blamed for something of which, perhaps, he is quite innocent. As a matter of fact, this Pittsburgh Avenue in Erie County is an avenue that has had the attention of the Highways Department for a long time, over a period of years. While it is not long, the part which would be taken over, if the bill had not been amended, is one mile and three-tenths. Nevertheless, it has seven railroad crossings and the Highways Department today advised that their estimate of the department's portion of eliminating these crossings and bringing the street into a modern street would be $700,000. The department further expressed the opinion that the Governor might not sign the entire bill if this amendment were not included therein.

That is the explanation coming today. I would say—although I do not know because I am speaking primarily from speculation—that the amendment was prepared by the Highways Department and sent to Senator Barr, who passed it on to the committee.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. STIEFEL asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. STIEFEL. Mr. President, it is most impertinent of me to offer a discharge resolution, especially when it involves the chairman of a committee who is highly respected, very capable and dedicated to his tasks. However, the gist of the resolution which I am about to offer dealing with Senate Bill No. 54, involves a matter of great importance to the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Each time I cross the Delaware River Bridge and go into Camden, I am surprised to see the palatial buildings which house the liquor stores. I know those palatial stores are built on the money of the taxpayers of Pennsylvania, because all the stores in Camden are stores from which liquor is purveyed into Pennsylvania without paying any tax. Therefore, on January 22, 1957, I introduced a bill which provided very stiff penalties for liquor apprehended by the police in Pennsylvania which has no Pennsylvania tax stamp on it.

I know Senator Watkins is a man who stands for good government. I know that any source of taxation, which will enable Pennsylvanians to pay less taxation will always be highly endorsed by him. Somehow, despite his efforts, according to what he tells me, the committee declined to act upon this bill. Some student should make a study of the reasons which are offered from time to time for not reporting a bill from committee.

It reminds me of the saying, "Come after breakfast, bring your lunch and leave before dinner." This is the same kind of experience. Anyway, Mr. President, this bill which would have been most helpful for the liquor industry in Pennsylvania, for the taxpayers, for additional income and would have curbed the infiltration of illicit liquor which comes into Pennsylvania from all adjacent States, was totally neglected.

For this reason, Mr. President, to bring this matter to the attention of the public and pave the way for the passage of such a bill in the future, I, with great reluctance, am offering this discharge resolution.

SENATE RESOLUTION

TO DISCHARGE COMMITTEE ON LAW AND ORDER FROM FURTHER CONSIDERATION OF SENATE BILL No. 54

Mr. STIEFEL. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to offer a resolution at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. STIEFEL offered the following resolution which was twice read as follows:

In the Senate, June 17, 1957.

Resolved, That Senate Bill No. 54, entitled "Liquor Code" changing penalties for unlawful possession of importing of alcohol and liquor, having been referred to the Committee on Law and Order on January 22, 1957, and the committee not having reported the same to the Senate for a period of over ten days, the committee is discharged from further consideration thereof.

RULE 39 SUSPENDED

Mr. STIEFEL. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Rule 39, which requires resolutions be referred to an appropriate committee, be suspended and the Senate do now proceed to the consideration of the resolution just read.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection?

The Chair hears none.

On the question,

Will the Senate adopt the resolution?

MOTION TO ADOPT DISCHARGE RESOLUTION

Mr. STIEFEL. Mr. President, I move that the Senate adopt the resolution just read by the Clerk.

Mr. DONOLOW. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. WATKINS. Mr. President, I would like to thank Senator Stiefel for his kind remarks and for his kind feeling toward the Senator from Delaware. I am sure he is sincere, and I feel the same about him. He is a wonderful gentleman, I appreciate his friendship and the pleasure of serving in the Senate of Pennsylvania with him. However, This is a different subject, Mr. President. We have considered this bill, Senate Bill No. 54, and the committee has found it to be bad legislation. We found it was not to the best interests of the State of Pennsylvania. At no time has the Senator appeared before the committee, other than to ask about his bill. He has given us no information that would add merit toward the passage of the bill. Therefore, the committee did consider it and the committee turned it down, feeling it was bad legislation.

Therefore, Mr. President, I ask that my colleagues vote "no" on this resolution.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. STIEFEL. Mr. President, I ask for a roll call.

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. STIEFEL and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—18

REPORTS FROM COMMITTEE

Mr. FLEMING. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to make reports from committees at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. FLEMING, from the Committee on Rules, reported as amended, House Bill No. 1723, entitled:

A Joint Resolution proposing an amendment to article four section nine of the Constitution of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania further regulating membership of and appointment to the Board of Pardons and prescribing powers and duties regarding fines and forfeitures reprieves commutations of sentence and pardon.

He also, on behalf of Mr. SCOTT, from the Committee on Highways, reported as committed, House Bill No. 1262, entitled:

An Act amending the act of May 1, 1929 (P. L. 905) entitled "The Vehicle Code," requiring coroners to make a report of each case in which a fatality occurred as a result of an accident.

He also, on behalf of Mr. SCOTT, from the Committee on Judiciary General, reported as committed, House Bill No. 1423, entitled:

An Act validating and quieting the title to certain real estate in this Commonwealth heretofore purchased in redemption.

Mr. PECHAN. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to make report from committee at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. PECHAN, from the Committee on Public Health and Welfare, reported as committed, House Bill No. 1255, entitled:

An Act amending the act of April 23, 1956 (P. L. 1510) entitled "Disease Prevention and Control Law of 1955," eliminating the provisions for providing financial assistance to typhoid fever carriers and to persons subject to isolation and quarantine.

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. SEYLER. Mr. President, I rise to a question of parliamentary inquiry.

The PRESIDENT. The gentleman will state it.

Mr. SEYLER. Mr. President, did I understand the Chair to imply a ruling that a discharge resolution requires unanimous consent for immediate consideration?

The PRESIDENT. The Chair was in error.

Mr. SEYLER. Mr. President, I did this, not to correct the Chair, but just for my own information.

HOUSE BILL No. 1697 CALLED UP

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I call up, from page 9 of today's Third Reading Calendar, House Bill No. 1697, Printer's No. 955.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

APPROPRIATION BILL ON THIRD READING AMENDED

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1697, entitled:

An Act making an appropriation to the Department of Welfare for the maintenance of certain homes.

And said bill having been read at length the third time,

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to offer an amendment at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

The Clerk read the amendment as follows:

Amend Sec. 1, page 5, line 8 by striking out "$752,875.00" and inserting in lieu thereof: "$768,875.00."

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the amendment?

It was agreed to.

Ordered, That the bill as amended lie over for printing.

BILLS ON THIRD READING CALLED UP

Mr. PECHAN. Mr. President, I now call up bills on the Third Reading Calendar, beginning with House Bill No. 56, Printer's No. 214, on page 9 of today's Calendar.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

BILL ON THIRD READING AND FINAL PASSAGE, AMENDMENTS OFFERED

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 56, entitled:

An Act amending the act of June 24, 1939 (P. L. 872) entitled "The Penal Code" prohibiting the sale or other disposal of morphine or facilitating or conspiring to sell or otherwise dispose of heroin to minors under eighteen years of age.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. MULLIN. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to offer amendments at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

The Clerk read the amendments as follows:

Amend Section 1, line 15, page 2 by deleting after the word "life" and before the word "in" the words "or shall be sentenced to suffer death"; Amend Section 1, line 19, page 2 by deleting after the word "imprisonment" the words "or death The clerk of court"; Further amend Section 1, page 3, by deleting lines 1, 2 and 3.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the amendments?

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I object to these amendments.

Mr. MULLIN. Mr. President, when I was about to offer amendments the other day, there was an agreement that they would be received on third reading.

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, we did not mean to object to the offering of the amendments, but we are objecting to the amendments themselves.

Mr. MULLIN. That is right.

Mr. MAHANY. We are not objecting to anyone offering amendments to any of the third reading bills.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the amendments?

(A voice vote having been taken, the question was determined in the negative.)

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. MULLIN. Mr. President, I have already introduced a bill, Senate Bill No. 43, which would abolish capital punishment in Pennsylvania. This bill which is before us, if enacted, will increase the number of offenses for which capital punishment will be the penalty.

I rise to object to this bill and to the purposes and intents of it. I do not have any sympathy with people who sell drugs. However, the taking of life, as such, is a legacy of our barbarian forefathers. Today it is the refuge of gangsters and dictators. It is not an effective deterrent.

I would like to quote a statement of the Governor of Wisconsin, where the death penalty has been abolished. Governor Kohler whose many views I do not agree with but on this I do agree, said:

"... I have yet to see any evidence which indicates that the death penalty is effective as a deterrent to major crimes. As a matter of fact, the murderer more often than not is one of the best prospects for parole. In most instances the crime for which he was sentenced was his first serious offense—a single violent act committed under extreme provocation which it is unlikely would ever be repeated. Here in Wisconsin (an abolition state) all murderers who are sentenced to life terms are eventually paroled, and experience has shown that they generally establish outstanding records while on parole, ultimately are pardoned and continue to live as useful and productive citizens."

This was in a letter to The Nation, April 28, 1956.

I want to call attention to the fact that this bill is the most drastic thing I ever heard attempted to be perpetrated in any Legislature. I have no doubt in my mind that should this ever reach the Governor's desk, he will veto it in very short order. The bill provides:

"Whoever having attained the age of eighteen years knowingly sells gives away furnishes or dispenses facilitates the sale giving furnishings or dispensing or conspires to sell give away furnish or dispense any heroin unlawfully imported or otherwise brought into the United States to any person who has not attained the age of eighteen years is guilty of a felony and upon conviction thereof shall be sentenced to pay a fine of not more than twenty thousand dollars ($20,000) and to undergo imprisonment for not less than ten years nor more than life or shall be sentenced to suffer death in the manner provided by law at the discretion of the jury trying the case which shall fix the penalty by its verdict. The court shall impose the penalty so fixed as in other cases. In cases of pleas of guilty the court at its discretion shall impose sentence of fine and imprisonment or death. The clerk of the court wherein the conviction takes place shall within ten days after such sentence of death transmit a full and complete record of the trial and conviction to the Governor."

They get everyone into it; the jury, the judges, the Governor and everyone else.

A person one day over eighteen could make a sale, the first crime he ever committed in his life, to someone one day under eighteen. He would be subjected to punishment by death. This will naturally make every case such as this a trial by death and, therefore, it will be an expensive proposition. It costs more to inflict a death penalty, experience shows, than it does to keep a person in prison an entire lifetime. The average cost, according to what has been said by others, and I have nothing except the statements of others, is $56,000 to send a man to the electric chair. I might say only the poor and friendless are executed. It is rare that any person of affluence or any person who has friends is ever sentenced to the electric chair.

This kind of trial, naturally, is publicized to the world, with headlines in the newspapers. Experience has shown this kind of publicity has a sadistic effect on the community. Waves of murders have been noticed to follow widely publicized murder cases.

I could go on, and I am going on, to tell you of a few of the innocent who were convicted. First, I will take the Chrystie case.

"In England in 1950, Timothy Evans was arrested on the charge that he had murdered his wife and child. After a long period of questioning, he confessed, but subsequently repudiated it. He was convicted and hanged. Later, one of the witnesses against Evans, John Chrystie, confessed to having killed at least seven women, one of them Mrs. Evans. All the victims had been strangled in the same manner, the same way Mrs. Evans and her child had been killed. Mr. Chuter Ede, Home Secretary responsible for the execution, stated formally to the House of Commons that the hanging of Evans had been a miscarriage of justice."

This was one miscarriage, as in all of these cases, which could not be remedied.

"In 1953, a sailor named Edward S. Bates was bludgeoned to death in Queens County, New York. Paul Pfeffer, after making and then repudiating a confession, was convicted of second-degree murder. Later, John Francis Roche confessed that he had killed Bates in a six dollar robbery, and Pfeffer was freed." This was an article in The Nation, of March 10, 1956.

"Louise Butler was a Negro woman who lived with her daughter Julia, aged twelve, and a small son, as well as two nieces, Topsy Warren, aged fourteen, and Anne Mary, aged nine. Louise Butler had won the affections of George Yelder and she was very jealous of his attentions. One day upon returning home she learned that George had visited in her absence and had found in the house only Topsy, who was then in possession of a new half-dollar. Louise Butler's jealousy was aroused and she beat the young girl severely, even threatening to kill her. After this incident, Topsy was seen no more.

"Rumors that Louise Butler had killed her niece brought the police into the case. The two children, Anne Mary and Julia, accused Louise Butler and George Yelder of having killed Topsy, and gave gory details. First Louise denied having killed Topsy, but later she confessed and even showed the authorities the spot where she said she and George had thrown Topsy's body in the river. She later withdrew her confession, but both Louise Butler and George Yelder were found guilty and sentenced to life imprisonment. Shortly after their imprisonment, Topsy was found alive and well, staying with some relatives in another county. The sheriff learned that the children had been coached by an enemy of George Yelder's to make the false accusations. This took place in Alabama in 1928."

"... In May of 1909 in Scotland, Oscar Slater was sentenced to hang but was saved forty-eight hours before execution by a commutation to life imprisonment. Sir Conan Doyle, after reading the report of the case, believed the man innocent and started a campaign on his behalf. Nineteen years later the sentence was annulled by the Scottish Court of Criminal Appeal, and Slater was awarded 6,000 pounds compensation."

There are many other examples to be found and cited in the annals of justice, particularly in The Annals of the American Academy of Political and Social Science, November 1952; in Arthur Koestler's book, "Reflections on Hanging," Chapter 8; and Erle Stanley Gardner in "The Court of Last Resort."

Mr. President, there has been a decline in the use of the death penalty. Originally, there were 142 offenses wherein the death penalty was used. The people of England were disgusted with the gory killings that were going on in the name of justice and gradually cut down on the penalty of these offenses.

There are religious and humane considerations involved in this matter. The only thing a Christian has to do is turn to the Sermon on the Mount. I have the quotation here, but I will not take the time to read it as the print is very small. You have heard, "An eye for an eye and a tooth for a tooth." Christ said, "If thine enemy smite thee on one cheek, turn the other cheek." Everyone knows and many may laugh at such a thing, but prior to this time people murdered without thinking it was wrong. Whole civilizations, whole cities were murdered and modern dictators have tried to do the very same thing.

In 1935 the number of prisoners executed under civil authority in this Country was 199. There has been a fluctuating decline since that time. In 1948 the number was 119, in 1952 it was eighty-three and in 1956 there were only sixty-five. The Federal Bureau of Prisons noted this decline in its official report of executions for 1956.

Thirty-six jurisdictions throughout the world have abolished the death penalty, in Europe, South America and Asia. Of the Western democracies, only France and England retain it, and Britain has been involved in a sharp debate over it. Holland has not executed any criminals since 1860, Belgium since 1863, Norway since 1875 and Denmark since 1892. In South America, the eight countries making up eighty per cent or more of the population and the land area have abolished capital punishment. It has also been found that more jurisdictions had abandoned the death penalty for murder or other serious crimes in 1948 than was the case in 1939.

Michigan was the first State to abolish capital punishment in the United States, in 1847. Four other States prohibited it in 1907 and 1911, and seven more States between 1913 and 1918. Five of these restored it after an average period of about three years. Maine abolished it in 1876, reinstated it in 1883 and abolished it again in 1887. South Dakota restored it in 1939. The State of Michigan has had no executions since 1830. Six States today are abolition States, with exceptions in some cases such as murder in prison by a lifer; Maine, Michigan, Minnesota, North Dakota, Rhode Island and Wisconsin.

One of the major reasons given for keeping the death penalty is to deter others from murder. This is not borne out by the experience of States which have abolished capital punishment. Five of the abolition States have murder rates consistently among the lowest in the Country. A comparison of the homicide rates of Rhode Island, an abolition State, with Massachusetts, a death penalty State, shows a remarkable similarity in the period from 1920 to 1948. From the Federal Bureau of Investigation's Uniform Crime Report, containing the urban murder rate in each State per 100,000 population, it can be seen that Michigan, Minnesota and Wisconsin—all abolition States—have a lower rate than the roughly comparable States of Illinois, Indiana and Ohio. In 1954 the rate in Michigan was 4.3; Minnesota, .5; Wisconsin, 1.1, while in Illinois it was 5.4; Indiana, 3.5; and Ohio, 3.8. In that same year, North Dakota without the death penalty had no homicides, while South Dakota had 1.4 and Nebraska had 2.6.

I only say this because I do not believe it is a deterrent. Experience has shown that it has not been a deterrent.

Leading penologists all over the world and some of the outstanding ones in the United States, such as Warden Lawes, all oppose capital punishment and have written extensive treatises opposing capital punishment.

I do not believe it should be the punishment in this drastic bill. As I said before, I hope we do not pass this bill; I hope we vote it down here. I feel positive if it should ever pass here, the Governor will veto the bill.

Mr. PECHAN. Mr. President, I am not going to talk about capital punishment, as did my distinguished colleague. However, I feel very strongly about this measure. We passed Senate Bill No. 191, which was sponsored by Senator Camiel, Senator Fleming and myself, to provide mandatory sentences for peddling dope.

Since 1919, heroin has been outlawed as a drug in the United States. It is one of the most dangerous drugs now used by addicts. I do not think any penalty is great enough for those who would spoil the lives of other people. There is no penalty great enough for people who sell dope, heroin especially, which has been outlawed as I said, since 1919, whether they ruin the lives of young people, middle-aged people or old people because once these people become addicts, they will turn to crime, they will steal, they will murder and they will do anything. Therefore, I feel very strongly that any penalty which would be mandatory could not be strong enough to take care of those who peddle dope.

Mr. DONOLOW. Mr. President, I very seldom disagree with my colleague from Philadelphia who, I am sure, is most conscientious in his presentation and his objection to capital punishment.

Mr. President, if you will pardon me for going into my personal experiences, I think as a defense attorney in criminal cases I have handled murder in every form. I have defended every type of criminal who has perpetrated murder in this Commonwealth, and in other States in this Union, both for profit and otherwise. However, Mr. President, I agree with Mr. Pechan. This is one of the few times in my career in the Pennsylvania Senate that I have seen eye to eye with the good Senator.

If this were a matter of morphine or marijuana, I feel the punishment would be much too severe. Heroin, Mr. President, is the most vicious drug that could find itself in traffic among our young people.

Secondly, Mr. President, this bill revives confidence in the jury system. It does not make the death penalty mandatory. It gives the jury the right to select either ten years to life or, in the alternative, it can come in with the verdict of a death sentence.

Regardless of the many mistakes which have been made by juries throughout the many years,—and God knows there have been mistakes made in every phase of life—we still have not found any system of justice which supplants the jury system. I think juries are generally fair. I have been before many juries and lost many cases, Mr. President, in which I felt the jury was wrong. However, after I left the courtroom and went back home and meditated, I said to myself, "If I were sitting in that jury box, I would have brought in the same verdict." Perhaps I just did not have the ability to fool that jury.

Generally that jury of twelve men and women, coming from every walk of life, will bring in the right verdict. In any case where the death penalty is too severe under the circumstances, I am sure that jury will bring in a verdict of either life or ten years or whatever their prerogative may be. I feel that most of our judges in this Commonwealth, if they should ever think the jury brought in too severe a sentence, certainly would grant a new trial on some basis to give that defendant another crack at his charges.

I have seen the effects of heroin, Mr. President. I have seen young people go down to the lowest stage of life and commit the most vicious murders because of taking this drug. I have seen men become rich and wealthy at the agony of young people in our Commonwealth and in our Country. When you see these young people whose brains are racked with pain, demanding this drug of heroin when they do not have the funds to get it and who perpetrate the most vicious crimes to secure funds, there should be no mercy for he who would sell this drug to high school children and others in our community.

Mr. President, I think this is a good bill. It not only reassures our faith in the American jury system that they will do the right thing, but it will inform those in our Commonwealth who would take part in this business that we, in the Pennsylvania Legislature, mean business.

Mr. MALLERY. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate any Member of the Senate who can inform us as to what the Federal law provides concerning the age of the parties selling or dealing in this heroin traffic.

The PRESIDENT. Does the gentleman from Armstrong, Doctor Pechan, wish to answer the Senator's inquiry?

Mr. PECHAN. Mr. President, what I want to do is put this bill over in order temporarily.

As I understand it, this bill is to conform with the Federal law and if the Federal law is eighteen years of age, the bill should stand as it is. I understand the Federal law says eighteen years of age and this bill is drafted to conform with the Federal law.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, what is the action on the bill now? Are we going to put it over temporarily?

The PRESIDENT. The bill is now before the Senate on final passage.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I would like to speak on the bill.

Mr. President, I believe in our zeal to stamp out dope traffic, we are becoming overenthusiastic in passing legislation to accomplish this. I, for one, would like to see the dope traffic stamped out, but I do believe that we, as Members of this great legislative body, should stop and meditate just a little bit.

For example, this legislation is applicable to a youth eighteen years of age. I heard a famous speaker talk about the ravages of drugs and what they do to the young people of our great State. All that, I believe, is true; very true, unfortunately. However, if we pass this legislation, it would place the death penalty on a young boy or girl eighteen years of age who might become involved, and who might himself be a dope addict or who might peddle this drug. Therefore, they would stand before a jury and the jury would recommend the extreme penalty whether or not, in his lifetime, he had ever committed any other crime. If the jury were to recommend the extreme penalty, the way I understand the bill, the court would have to impose the death penalty upon this young boy or girl eighteen years of age.

It seems to me this is wrong. It seems to me, too, that when a young person of eighteen years of age would stand before the court and plead guilty—according to House Bill No. 56, "the court at its discretion shall impose sentence of fine and imprisonment or death." Just imagine that, for a first offense.

I do not believe this is sensible legislation. I believe if you would change the age to twenty-one, or possibly twenty-five, when a person is supposed to be mentally mature, I could vote for this legislation. In its present form, I think it is wrong because, I wish to repeat and impress upon you, a young man or woman might become addicted, peddle dope, be prosecuted and be taken before the courts. In the event this would happen, the court could recommend the death penalty. That is what it says in the bill. I believe it says: "any person who has not attained the age of eighteen years is guilty of a felony and upon conviction thereof shall be sentenced to pay a fine of not more than twenty thousand dollars ($20,000) and to undergo imprisonment for not less than ten years nor more than life or shall be sentenced to suffer death in the manner provided by law at the discretion of the jury trying the case which shall fix the penalty by its verdict. The court shall impose the penalty so fixed as in other cases. In cases of pleas of guilty the court at its discretion shall impose sentence of fine and imprisonment or death"

That is the way the bill reads, and I cannot vote for it.

Mr. PECHAN. Mr. President, this bill is necessary, as I said awhile ago, to conform with the Federal law. If we, in Pennsylvania, are lax in enacting legislation to conform with the Federal law, we are going to have a larger influx of dope peddlers into Pennsylvania than we presently have.

One of the reasons we introduced Senate Bill No. 191 is because New York, New Jersey, Ohio and our surrounding States all have stiffened their penalties and made mandatory penalties on dope peddlers. They have found a haven in Pennsylvania, especially since at the last Session of the Legislature, Ohio stiffened their penalties. The dope peddlers from Cleveland and that area are moving into Pittsburgh, and those from New York and New Jersey are moving into the Philadelphia area.

This is necessary legislation. It does not mean this first offender is going to be given life. The boy or girl is given a jury trial and it is up to the jury to bring in its verdict, just as it does in the case of murder or any of the other crimes which may come before a jury.

Again, I say, this is legislation which is designed to conform with the Federal law.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I believe everything that could be said about this bill has been said except one thing. This bill, to me, smacks of a little bit of sensationalism. I think the purpose of the bill is to attract attention where the death penalty is given for this type of crime.

The people who engage in this type of activity are sick people. They are mentally sick and some are even physically sick. To visit death upon someone who is sick in order to take him out of society, I do not think is an intelligent way to handle this problem.

Mr. SCHMIDT. Mr. President, I am in complete sympathy with making severe sentences for this type of crime, but I will not go to the extreme of the death penalty.

So long as I am a Member of this Senate, I shall never vote for any legislation that will place the death penalty for any crime.

Mr. Mullin. Mr. President, anyone who heard Senator Donolow, who states that he has many years experience with criminals, probably heard him emphasize the crime of peddling dope so well that I can imagine he might have convinced a lot of people here or even a jury. However, I wish to point out that in every case I mentioned, where the innocent were convicted, the jury was convinced by some prosecuting lawyer that this person was guilty and was convinced also, by a striking description of the offense, that harsh penalties should be inflicted.

I can mention a few recently, this year. I introduced a bill in the Senate to compensate a person named Willie Green, who was sentenced to life imprisonment for a murder which he did not commit. Just a few weeks ago, the Supreme Court, by its order, freed a man named Treetop Turner who had been convicted by a jury five times, and the Supreme Court said there was not enough evidence to convict him.

This is not in compliance with Federal law. If there is such a Federal law, it is there. Why duplicate the Federal law? There is no necessity for it.

I might say this bill tries to ape the Federal law. I believe some of the words were even copied from the Federal law. For instance ". . . heroin unlawfully imported or otherwise brought into the United State." If that is true, I would say we are stepping on Federal jurisdiction and this law probably would be outlawed on that count.

Over and above all of that, I say we should not extend the death penalty.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

(During the calling of the roll, the following occurred:)

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I missed the debate on this very important issue. However, I did hear the part dealing with the death penalty on those who, up until this moment at least, have been considered minors in so far as voting and every other requirement except dying is concerned. Therefore, I wish to be recorded as voting "no."

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, how is Senator Berger recorded as voting?

The PRESIDENT. The gentleman is not recorded.

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, now having heard my name called, I desire to be recorded as voting "aye."

The PRESIDENT. The gentleman from Potter will be so recorded.

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—35

Barr,	Flack,	McMenamin,	Taylor,
Berger,	Fleming,	Miller,	Van Sant,

A majority of all the Senators having voted "aye," the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk return said bill to the House of Representatives with information that the Senate has passed the same without amendments.

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The PRESIDENT. The gentleman will state it.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President and Members of the Senate I have before me a daily newspaper, called the Patriot, published in the city of Harrisburg, Pennsylvania. Its headlines of this morning say, "Demos"—I imagine that means the Democrats—"Set $18 Million Goal for Restoration to the Budget." Whoever wrote this article said that I talked to him and had told him that is the amount which the Democrats would seek to restore to the budget.

Mr. President, I met with the Conference Committee yesterday afternoon and, as we always do in conferences of that kind, which are continuing and where we have not reached a solution to the problem, each of us recognized the importance of not making any statements prior to the final adjudication of the case before us. Therefore, whoever wrote this newspaper article, cut it out of the whole cloth. It is an unmitigated lie; it does not have an ounce of truth in it.

The only man I spoke with last night was a person who invaded the privacy of my home, by telephone, late at night. He called me and asked me what had happened. I told him—and I want this for the record—that we were progressing and that we were hoping to work out this problem in a cooperative manner. That was the entire extent of my conversation. It so happened that from the time we left the meeting last night, until I went to bed, Senator Barr was in my company. He knows exactly with whom I talked and with whom I did not talk.

Over the years, I have not minded reading articles in newspapers with which I did not agree, because that is the news writer's prerogative. He can write anything he wants to write. One of the most famous of all politicians said, "You should never get into a fight with a newspaper because it goes to press too often." That, however, does not interest me. I only want it clear with the members of the Conference Committee that I have not betrayed any of the actions of that Conference Committee to anybody. I have given no one any information whatsoever. If they want to print lies, let them print them.

BILL ON THIRD READING AMENDED

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 57, entitled:

An Act amending the act of June 24 1939 (P. L. 872) entitled "The Penal Code" prohibiting sales by publishers or distributors of magazines newspapers periodicals or other publications which require purchase of other such publications

And said bill having been read at length the third time, On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. RUTH. Mr. President, at the request of the Attorney General's Office, I ask unanimous consent to offer amendments at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

The Clerk read the amendments as follows:

Amend the title, page 1, lines 1 to 5 of the title, by striking out all of said lines and inserting: "Amending the act of June 1 1956 (P L 1997) entitled "An act relating to comic books magazines and other publications prohibiting and regulating the sale thereof in certain instances and imposing penalties" by including books pictures and periodicals and authorizing the courts of common pleas upon institution of proceedings by a district attorney to enjoin the sale resale distribution or consignment of such publications;" Amend the bill, page 2, lines 1 to 20, and page 3, lines 1 to 19, by striking out all of said lines and inserting: "Section 1 Section 1 act of June 1, 1956 (P. L. 1997) entitled "An act relating to comic books magazines and other publications prohibiting and regulating the sale thereof in certain instances and imposing penalties" is amended to read:

"Section 1 It shall be unlawful for any person to sell offer for sale attempt to sell exhibit give away keep in his possession with intent to sell or give away or in any way furnish or attempt to furnish to anyone under the age of eighteen years any comic book magazine book picture periodical or other publication which is obscene lewd lascivious filthy indecent or disgusting or which teaches or advocates the use of narcotics. "Any person violating any of the provisions of this section shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and shall upon conviction thereof be sentenced to pay a fine not exceeding five hundred dollars ($500) or to undergo imprisonment not exceeding one year or both. "Section 2 Section 2 of said act is amended to read: "Section 2 It shall be unlawful for any person to require any distributor or retail seller as a condition to a sale or delivery for resale or consignment of any comic book magazine book picture periodical or other publication or any commodity or goods whatsoever to [require that the purchaser or consignee receive for resale any other comic book or magazine] purchase or take by consignment for purposes of sale resale or distribution any comic book magazine book picture periodical or other publication which is obscene lewd lascivious filthy indecent or disgusting. "Any person violating any of the provisions of this section shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and shall upon conviction thereof be sentenced to pay a fine not exceeding five hundred dollars ($500) or to undergo imprisonment not exceeding one year or both. "The act is amended by adding after Section 2 a new section to read: "Section 2.1 The District Attorney of any county in which any person sells distributes consigns or is about to sell distribute or consign or has in his possession with intent to sell resell distribute or consign any comic book magazine book picture periodical or other publication which is obscene lewd lascivious filthy indecent or disgusting may institute proceedings in equity in the court of common pleas of said county for the purpose of enjoining the sale resale distribution or consignment of such comic book magazine book picture periodical or other publication contrary to the provisions of this act and for such purposes jurisdiction is hereby conferred upon said courts A preliminary injunction may issue and a hearing thereafter be held thereon in conformity with the Rules of Civil Procedure upon the averment of the District Attorney that the sale resale distribution or consignment of such publication constitutes a danger to the welfare or peace of the community The District Attorney shall not be required to give bond. "Section 3. This act shall take effect immediately."

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the amendment?

They were agreed to.

Ordered, That the bill as amended lie over for printing.

BILL ON THIRD READING AND FINAL PASSAGE, AMENDMENTS OFFERED

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 147, entitled:

An Act amending the act of May 1, 1929 (P. L. 905) entitled "The Vehicle Code" providing additional enforcement procedures on traffic violations in cities of the third class.

And said bill having been read at length the third time.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. RUTH. Mr. President, again by request, I ask unanimous consent to offer amendments at this time. I might say that these amendments may not fare as well inasmuch as they amend radar into the bill.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

The Clerk read the amendments as follows:

Amend the title, page 2, line 11 of the title, by inserting after the quotation mark: "authorizing the use of radiomicrowave equipment in timing speed in certain cases further regulating certain convictions under the act conferring powers and imposing duties upon the Secretary of Revenue and;" Amend the bill, page 2, by inserting between the enacting clause and line 1: "Section 1 Section 1002 act of May 1, 1929 (P. L. 905) known as "The Vehicle Code" amended June 27, 1939 (P. L. 1135) is amended by adding after subsection (d) a new subsection to read: "Section 1002 Restrictions as to Speed

"(d.1) (1) The rate of speed of any vehicle may be timed on any highway by State police officers through the use of radiomicrowaves commonly referred to as electronic speed meters or radar. "No conviction shall be had upon evidence obtained through the use of radar apparatus unless. "(I) it is of a type approved by the secretary. "(II) it has been calibrated and tested for accuracy and adjusted for accuracy if necessary within a period of thirty days prior to the alleged violation. "(III) the highway on which the alleged violation occurred was posted with signs warning of the use of radar in timing speed which shall be located within five miles but not nearer than one thousand feet of the radar apparatus used. "(2) The secretary shall have authority to appoint official stations for calibrating and testing radar apparatus and may prescribe regulations as to the manner in which such calibrations and tests shall be made and shall issue to such stations official inspection certificate forms. "An official certificate from an official inspection station showing that the calibration and tests required by this sub section were made within the period required and that the radar apparatus was adjusted for accuracy if necessary and the degree of accuracy shall be competent and prima facie evidence of the fact that such certificate was issued by an official inspection station appointed by the secretary and of the accuracy of the radar apparatus in every proceeding where an information is brought charging a violation of this section;"

Amend Section 1, page 2, line 1, by striking out "1" and inserting: "2;" Amend Section 1, page 2, lines 1 and 2, by striking out "act of May 1, 1929 (P. L. 905) known" in line 1 and "as "The Vehicle Code"" in line 2 and inserting: "of the act."

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the amendments?

Mr. WADE. Mr. President, I rise to oppose these amendments offered by the gentleman from Berks, Senator Ruth, for various and sundry reasons.

At the end of the title of House Bill No. 147, Printer's No. 712, which is the bill we are considering, it reads:

"Providing additional enforcement procedures on traffic violations in cities of the third class"

If I read the amendments correctly, they would approve the use of radar throughout the Commonwealth, not only in cities of the first class but on every public road in the Commonwealth; at least, on every road in the highway system.

As the gentleman will agree, that is a matter which we resolved here this afternoon, for the simple reason that the majority of the Senate, by vote, indicated their belief that the matter should be studied completely and it was debated, at some length, this afternoon.

Therefore, Mr. President, I ask my colleagues to vote against the amendments.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the amendments?

Mr. BARR. I ask for a roll call, Mr. President.

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. BARR and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—19

Barr,
Camiel,
Dent,
Derk,
Donolow,

BILL ON THIRD READING AND FINAL PASSAGE

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 163, entitled:

An Act amending the act of May 16, 1945 (P. L. 594) entitled "An act providing for the disposition of fines penalties and forfeitures collected in summary proceedings and imposing penalties" Imposing penalties for violations of the act and in certain cases removing from office magistrates aldermen and justices of the peace wilfully failing to make monthly settlements with certain political subdivisions.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

A majority of all the Senators having voted "aye," the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk return said bill to the House of Representatives with information that the Senate has passed the same without amendments.

BILL ON THIRD READING AND FINAL PASSAGE, AMENDMENTS OFFERED

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 183, entitled:

An Act amending the act of March 10, 1949 (P. L. 30) entitled "Public School Code of 1949" changing certain definitions providing additional definitions changing basis for reimbursement by the Commonwealth on certain accounts consolidating certain provisions further providing for reimbursement by the Commonwealth to school districts and vocational school districts and harmonizing the language.

And said bill having been read at length the third time,

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. RUTH. Mr. President, by request, I ask unanimous consent to offer amendments at this time which would, in effect, raise the ceiling of the Public School Building Authority to $1,150,000,000.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

The Clerk read the amendments as follows:

Amend the title, page 2, line 1 of the title, by inserting after "districts": "changing limitations on approval of projects for reimbursement purposes"; Amend Section 13, page 36, line 19, by inserting after "2575": "and subsection (a) of section 2577;" Amend Section 13, page 36, line 20, by striking out "is" and inserting: "are;" Amend Section 13, page 38, by inserting between lines 5 and 6: "Section 2577 Limitations on Approval of Projects for Reimbursement Purposes (a) The Superintendent of Public Instruction shall not give his approval for reimbursement purposes to any phase of any project or any project to be undertaken by the State Public School Building Authority or by any municipality authority or nonprofit corporation or by any school district that would cause the approved reimbursable costs of projects to exceed six hundred and twenty-five million dollars ($625,000,000) during the school year 1955-1956 seven hundred and twenty-five million dollars ($725,000,000) during the school year 1956-1957 [eight hundred and twenty-five million dollars ($825,000,000)] nine hundred twenty-five million dollars ($925,000,000) during the school year 1957-1958 and [nine hundred and twenty-five million dollars ($925,000,000)] one billion dollars ($1,000,000,000) during the school year 1958-1959 one billion seventy-five million dollars ($1,750,000,000) during the school year 1959-1960 and one billion one hundred fifty million dollars ($1,150,000,000) during the school year 1960-1961 in the aggregate for all the authorities nonprofit corporations and school districts combined for projects already undertaken and to be undertaken."

* * * * *

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the amendments?

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, speaking for these amendments, I want to suggest that this is carrying out the provisions of an act sent over from the House, House Bill No. 1437. What we are up against in the School Building Authority is just this. We limit, each year, the amount which can be spent for new schools in subsidies. However, there are some school districts in the State that go out and form their own authorities, and they borrow money at anywhere from four to five and three-eighths per cent. Then, under the law of the Commonwealth, they are to be included in the subsidy program. This works to a disadvantage to the school districts that are not overly supplied with revenue. They find themselves in the position where they must wait to come under the construction program of the State School Building Authority, which has a limit of four per cent interest on its bonds. The result of this is exactly what we are trying to remedy by these amendments.

Right now, the law stands that we have a $100,000,000 increase for each of the next two years, or a $200,000,000 increase. However, there are $360,000,000 worth of school projects laying over in the Department of Public Instruction, under the School Building Authority. Out of the $200,000,000 which we are allocated in the ceiling increase for this biennium, over $100,000,000 is for schools which have already been built under local authorities, which will come under the Subsidy Act, and which takes away from us over $100,000,000, or better than half of the allocation in the next ceiling increase.

As long as that continues, the poorer school districts will be unable to get in under the wire. Therefore, we are asking that we increase it for the next two years, and then stop at the end of the two years, just to pick up the schools that are now waiting for school construction.

Mr. President, this is a sensible piece of legislation. In the end, it saves the taxpayers money in the local districts. It keeps the districts that are a little better off, financially, from raiding the ceiling which we increase every two years by law.

Therefore, Mr. President, in order to do that, the House passed a bill. However, the bill was killed in committee here in the Senate. If we cannot go the whole way, let us at least go to the limit we have, and already applied for, and approve school buildings, approved on the basis of need and approved on the basis of financial ability to pay for them. This does not increase the debt of the Commonwealth, except in the respect that we pay a certain amount of subsidy back, as part of each school construction job.

There is nothing wrong with this legislation. The only thing it does is stop the raiding by the school districts which are better off, over the little school districts which do not have the financial ability to go out and pay five and one-half and five and three-eighths per cent interest, tax exempt, on bonds.

I say that you should think very seriously, because you have in your districts needy school districts which require school buildings at this time. It is wrong to defeat these amendments.

Mr. WAGNER. Mr. President, I, personally, am quite a bit disturbed by trying to attach this provision onto House Bill No. 183. My concern arises from these facts.

House Bill No. 183 has been over, through and under the barrel on a number of occasions. Happily, last Friday, we seemed to have established a form of the bill which had rather universal approval in both Houses of the General Assembly.

While that was going on, a bill came over from the House which went to the Rules Committee, I believe, which would have increased by $100,000,000 the ceiling on State school building construction for 1957-1958. I would call Senator Dent's attention to the fact that no matter how he or I may personally feel, there are a great many people who feel that we are accelerating this public school building program fast enough, monetarily. Just today, a Member of the House, who returned recently from a trip West, told me that he could not help but marvel, during his travels, at how much more new school building construction is being done in Pennsylvania than in any other State through which he traveled.

Personally, I would not lie awake at night being too disturbed about this $100,000,000 jump. However, I know that many Senators do not want to further expedite or speed up those allocations for public school buildings. If these amendments get in this bill, which is apparently now in good shape, then I am afraid we are going to endanger, either in the Senate or in the House, this House Bill No. 183.

I would say, Mr. President, that I am especially disturbed because this very proposal has had its day in court. Many of the Senators know that the Rules Committee did not see fit to report out the House Bill which jumps the school building construction ceiling by $100,000,000 additional a year.

From the standpoint of caution and balance, and preservation of the good features of House Bill No. 183, my recommendation would be that the amendments be voted down, aside from their desirability, because they should not be associated with the legislation which is before us at this moment.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, it is imperative that on important questions, where a position is taken in a small group such as a committee, the Membership of the Senate be permitted to vote as to their desires in such a matter. Therefore, being a legislator, you seek out the vehicle upon which you may attach any particular action that you want decided by the Body, rather than by a committee.

It is not new to present amendments here to a bill that can carry the amendments. I might say that when you get into the picture of House Bill No. 183, you will find that any agreement which was made was not made between the Republicans and Democrats. It was a proposal worked out in the Republican Caucus. They came up to us with that proposal and, being in the abject minority in which we find ourselves, it was put on the basis of whether it is a good piece of legislation. I agree that it is good for some districts. Particularly, I think it helps my district more than some other districts. If I were a District Senator, the best thing I could do would be to immediately vote for House Bill No. 183 and run over to the Governor and ask him to sign it, because it would help the Westmoreland County School District. However, this is a whole State and we are voting for a whole State. My county would be a lot better off, and I believe every county in this State would be a lot better off, if you left House Bill No. 183 as it came from the House, and took the added $1,000,000 that you added to the expense of government in that committee. If you are worried about increased costs of government, you added $1,000,000 to House Bill No. 183 in the Republican Senate Caucus. You give us the $1,000,000 in the School Building Authority and let that $1,000,000 go for State subsidies, and we will have many more school districts in Pennsylvania with the brand new schools that they need.

We have some schools in our district that are fifty and sixty years old. We have schools in many districts in this State that are not fit for habitation, let alone for teaching children. I think one of the most important things we can do is to expedite the building of new schools.

Very seriously, what has happened in Pennsylvania is that the financially better off school districts, which can meet the requirements, are the ones that have the schools now and the poor districts remain poor. I guess it has always been that way through life. It appears to be the philosophy of some people that the poor shall remain poor, whether they are peoples or whether they are entities of government, and the rich shall, of course, multiply their riches.

I say to you that House Bill No. 183 needs some looking at.

Mr. WAGNER. Mr. President, I simply repeat that I feel we should treat the school building program separately rather than as part of these reimbursements.

I think it was Senator Dent and I who sponsored the school building program as it now stands, in Act No. 417, which was passed last Session. However, I would suggest to Senator Dent that he would not be very magnanimous by taking the $1,000,000 that the Senate added to House Bill No. 183 and adding it to the school building reimbursement appropriation. He would be taking that $1,000,000 from the schools which need it most, if they are going to get in shape to try to build any schools. You cannot help those who need it most by taking it from those who have received the least.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Schuylkill, Senator Wagner.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Schuylkill, Mr. Wagner, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. WAGNER. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. WEINER. Senator Wagner, would you vote for a separate bill on this very subject?

Mr. WAGNER. Would I vote for the bill?

Mr. WEINER. Would you vote for a separate bill?

Mr. WAGNER. Are you asking whether I would vote on the bill or whether I would vote "aye" on the bill?

Mr. WEINER. Would you vote "aye" on a separate bill on this very subject?

Mr. WAGNER. My friends may be surprised when I say that I am not certain whether I would. I have been so interested in building up this school building program, in all its spheres and facets in Pennsylvania in recent years, that I would certainly be reluctant to contribute in any way toward the possibility of the thing blowing up in our faces.

Mr. WEINER. Thank you.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the amendments?

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I ask for a roll call.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I ask for a roll call.

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. BARR and Mr. DENT, and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—21

Barr,	Kalman,	Mullin,	Seyler,
Camel,	Lane,	Murray,	Silvert,
Dent,	McGinnis,	Ruth,	Stiefel,

Flack,	Mahany,	Van Sant,	Wolfe,
Fleming,	Mallery,	Wade,

So the question was determined in the negative.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

And the amendments made thereto having been printed as required by the Constitution,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. SEYLER. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Schuylkill, Senator Wagner.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Schuylkill, Mr. Wagner, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. WAGNER. I will, Mr. President.

My SEYLER. Senator Wagner, you have had quite a bit of business on this bill so far and I do not wish to add to your troubles. However, I would like to clear up in my mind, and in the minds of many other people in the Commonwealth who are interested, a matter which may seem small but which I believe is quite important.

I would direct your attention to page 30 of the bill. On page 30, you will find there is a description of how the subsidy, given by the State to local districts on account of approved extension classes and the instruction of home bound children, shall be computed. It makes a specific exception for one type of instruction, as follows. It says, on lines 10 and 11: "except adult extension recreation classes."

It seems to me, and I hope it seems to you, Senator Wagner, that this has to be taken in its entirety as referring to recreation classes for adults and not referring to recreation for youth or children.

For the record, Senator Wagner, does this correspond with your view of the interpretation of this particular phrase?

Mr. WAGNER. Mr. President, I think I would be obliged to agree with the gentleman's interpretation of that phraseology.

We do start, on line 8 or thereabouts, to describe for what things we are going to reimburse. After that exception is made, we continue to describe the items which are reimbursable. Therefore, I would interpret it as excepting adult extension recreation classes.

Mr. SEYLER. Thank you.

Mr. President, I think the importance of this is obvious. I certainly would want it in the record that it was not the intention of this Legislature to include, in the exception, any funds for youth or children's recreation. The problem of juvenile delinquency and other youth problems, being as they are, I think this is important. I think the gentleman from Schuylkill certainly is in a position to know the intent of this bill.

Therefore, Mr. President, I thank the gentleman for that interpretation.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I presume there is nothing I can say here today which will keep this bill from passing. However, I hope the people back in Pittsburgh will realize what the Republican Caucus has done to them.

Each time this bill has been amended, it has been amended upward for the many, many Republican districts in the State and downward for Pittsburgh, which happens to be a Democratic city, with a Republican school board.

A few years ago, they held a special election in Pittsburgh, in regard to increasing the millage for school purposes. That was defeated at the polls by a vote of ten to one. Last year, in this Legislature, they passed a bill increasing the taxes in the city of Pittsburgh for school purposes by one and three-quarter mills. I know there is a bill on the Calendar, which I will strenuously object to today, calling for Pittsburgh to equalize what they will have to pay in this bill, and thereby Pittsburgh will have to raise, supposedly, the millage by three-quarters of a mill once more.

This bill will cost the citizens of Pittsburgh over $1,000,000. This supposedly new, engineered—amendment was made up in the Republican Caucus the other day I cannot understand where my friends from Allegheny County were. They may not live in the city but they live in the county, and I cannot understand why they did not strenuously object to it, when it cut down the amount of money we would receive per teaching unit once more.

As I said before, I do not think anything I could say here today would contribute to the defeat of the bill. I realize the Members must vote for their own districts and, for this, I do not blame them. However, I want the people of Pittsburgh to know that this bill is a creature, body and soul, and one hundred per cent, of the Republican leadership.

Mr. WAGNER. Mr. President, I will try not to prolong this debate. I certainly have no fault to find with the gentleman from Allegheny, Senator Barr, in seeking as much as he can get for the school district of Pittsburgh. However, I would like to call the Senators' attention to the fact that the original House Bill No. 183, as it was intended to be passed in the House, was, by its last amendment, changed so that Pittsburgh was given an additional couple of hundred dollars subsidy per teaching unit. By that amendment, it was given an extra $217. On the other hand, 48.6% of the school districts, out in the brush country, as we call it, had a reduction of $67.00 for every teaching unit. Sixty-seven dollars was taken off the country units and $217 was added to Pittsburgh.

The latest amendments, in the Senate, still give Pittsburgh most of that increase, taking off only $17.00 per unit. However, we did replace the $67.00 for the county districts. I think it is common fairness; I think it is reasonable. I think the educators of Pittsburgh, on second thought, if not immediately, will agree that there is equity and there is fairness in the treatment of Pittsburgh, as well as the rest of the State, in House Bill No. 183, as it now is written.

Mr. SARRAF. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Schuylkill, Senator Wagner.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Schuylkill, Mr. Wagner, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. WAGNER. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. SARRAF. Is there not a difference of $42,000 in the amended bill, which takes way from Pittsburgh $42,000 in the second year?

Mr. WAGNER. The only change made has been a change of $17.00 per reimbursable teaching unit. The gross figure would be found by multiplying seventeen by the number of teaching units. However, we are not dealing in bulk figures; we are dealing in teaching units all over the State. Therefore, $17.00 is the exact differential involved.

Mr. SARRAF. I would like to put the question this way, if I may. Is there not a difference of $42,000 in toto being granted in the subsidy in House Bill No. 183 as it is now written? I do not know about the units. I am talking about the $42,000. Is that not true?

Mr. WAGNER. Was that an interrogation?

Mr. SARRAF. Yes, I just want to ascertain whether there is a definite $42,000 difference to the Pittsburgh School Board, to be utilized under House Bill No. 183 as amended in the Senate.

Mr. WAGNER. I will tell you in a moment.

Yes, the gross amount would be $42,500.

Mr. SARRAF. When you mention $17.00, that sounds like a small figure. However, there is $42,000 additional taken away from the city of Pittsburgh—that is the school board—to be utilized for mandated things that we must take care of back in our city. Our school board must satisfy the needs of the school district.

Mr. SCHMIDT. Mr. President, the original attempt of House Bill No. 183, as introduced in the House, was to take care of a mandated increase which the Session of 1955-1956 required the city of Pittsburgh to pay to its teachers. That is all we are asking for. That is all that each and every school district in Pennsylvania was entitled to receive. We, in Pittsburgh are put in a very peculiar position. There are 2,500 school units and now $17.00 per school unit is being taken away. We figured it to be $42,500, but there is not much we can do about it. We have just got to take the best of the bargain. However, we want you to know that throughout this entire consideration of House Bill No. 183, the school district of the city of Pittsburgh has taken it on the chin.

In addition to this, as I understand it, House Bill No. 183 is now restricting the subsidy for the next two years. God knows what it will be the next time the Legislature meets. For the first time since I have been in the Senate, politics has, in this way, been invoked in a school subsidy bill. It is made political when it is put on a two year basis.

We, in Pittsburgh, do not now know how to plan from year to year. You are going to increase the local effort and we are going to have more taxes to raise back home locally, and the only way we are going to be able to get it is by these increases in real estate taxes which you propose the city of Pittsburgh shall invoke.

The people in Pittsburgh resent very much the treatment they are receiving from this Legislature.

Mr. WAGNER. Mr. President, I heard a story one time about a man who owned a very large corporation and at the end of a very successful year, he told some of his friends that they had lost $3,000,000. The friends could not understand that, because business seemed to be so prosperous. The businessman said, "It is true. We had expected to make $5,000,000 profit and we only made $2,000,000."

Lest Senator Schmidt go home burdened down by this $42,500, let me say to him that if we killed House Bill No. 183, Pittsburgh would lose $500,000 which we are going to give it in House Bill No. 183. He cannot see the $500,000 for the $42,500, which is peanuts on a biennial budget of $54,000,000 for the school district of Pittsburgh.

Mr. SCHMIDT. Mr. President, would the gentleman from Schuylkill permit himself to be interrogated?

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Schuylkill, Mr. Wagner, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. WAGNER. I will permit myself to be interrogated after stating if there is any thought in mind of raising a voluntary fund of $42,500 to give to the Pittsburgh district, I will be glad to make a nominal contribution, in keeping with my resources, because I like Pittsburgh. I am just trying to show the light of day here in these relative figures.

Mr. SCHMIDT. Mr. President, I would like to ask the gentleman whether or not he, as a Member of the Senate, does not feel there is a moral obligation upon the part of the Legislature—this Senate—to see to it, in view of the subsidy which was mandated last Session, that the various school boards be reimbursed for those amounts of money that were paid out?

Mr. WAGNER. Mr. President, if the gentleman has Pittsburgh specifically in mind, I do not think there is a moral obligation, because Pittsburgh was given a handout over two successive Sessions and each time we were promised they would never ask for it again. Do you mean, Senator Schmidt, do I feel obligated to restore that gift when I bought it?

Mr. SCHMIDT. Not only to the city of Pittsburgh, but to any other school district in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania which, by mandate of this Legislature, paid an extra subsidy to the schoolteachers of Pennsylvania and were promised reimbursement from the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Mr. WAGNER. I do not like to go back over that target. We all voted for that, Senator, and Senator Barr can probably tell you who spoiled it. Remember, we did vote that money for the local districts last Session.

Mr. SCHMIDT. That is correct.

Mr. WAGNER. Something happened outside of the Chamber here which negated that action.

Mr. SCHMIDT. Do you feel there is a moral responsibility on the part of this Legislature to reimburse the school districts of Pennsylvania which, upon a mandate of this Legislature, made payment of subsidies?

Mr. WAGNER. I feel obligated to participate as largely as is possible for the State to do so without new taxes for those mandated increases.

Mr. SCHMIDT. Do you, Senator Wagner, feel that House Bill No. 183 should be used as a method of changing the entire reimbursement method in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania?

Mr. WAGNER. I do not have any qualms about that, Mr. President, because I think it more thoroughly and more wisely further develops the program of equity under which we operate.

Mr. SCHMIDT. Thank you, Senator Wagner.

Mr. President, again I say that reluctantly we, of Allegheny County, and those of us in Pittsburgh particularly, are compelled to cast an "aye" vote on House Bill No. 183. However, in so doing, we feel the Legislature in Pennsylvania is short-changing the school board of the city of Pittsburgh in not carrying out a moral obligation which it owes to the residents of the city of Pittsburgh to pay back to the city the exact amount of money it was compelled to pay to the teachers by reason of an act of this Legislature, mandating an increase.

Mr. HAYS. Mr. President, I think Pittsburgh is very important. However, I am only going to speak about Pittsburgh very indirectly. It is quite evident, from the debate, that House Bill No. 183 is a very important piece of legislation. This represents, I think, the most radical change in the distribution of funds to the local school districts since this concept was presented about ten years ago.

It was my hope that when the big change came, it would come about in a slightly different manner. I have great respect for the Senator from Schuylkill, and I think he handles the Committee on Education in a fine manner. However, I believe we would have a better bill of the bill would have been developed by consulting the experts and the theorists in this field, and then bringing in practical school directors, Parent-Teacher Association representatives, representatives of the teaching and administrative profession, and legislators and hammering out these ideas based on the opinions expressed by representatives of these groups.

It seems to me since this is such a complicated problem that we should—because many of us must work with rural school directors and municipal school directors—try to have the trend toward simplification rather than complication.

I would be much happier about this bill if it had been developed in that manner. I have a feeling that if the bill had been developed that way, it would not have experienced as many printings as have been necessary since its introduction early in this Session.

I hope it is not only a bill of expediency.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I think the time comes, every now and then, when we should lay before the people the problems as they really are and what causes the problems to arise.

I have never taken the floor in my long career in the Senate and delved into the problem of State-aid or the lack of State-aid to parochial schools. However, when the existence of these parochial schools reaches a position in government where a community which has parochial schools is penalized for having them, then the time comes for some clear thinking on the part of the legislative body of this great State.

There is four hundred and some dollars difference between the subsidy paid on each teaching unit in the city of Philadelphia and the city of Pittsburgh. The main factor behind the difference in the various districts' subsidies and the prorated subsidy of the city of Pittsburgh is the factor that is compiled because of the fact that somewhere close to fifty per cent of the children of school age in the city of Pittsburgh attend parochial schools. Because of this, the subsidy program in Pennsylvania works against the taxpayers of that city. The subsidies are not based upon the number of children of school age, but the subsidies are based upon the wealth behind each teaching unit.

When a city like Pittsburgh has almost half of its entire student body attending schools for which they pay their own costs and maintain themselves, it is wrong to penalize those who attend the public schools by making them pay more taxes because of the fact that half of their children attend a private school.

That is the basic wrong and error of the entire bill which is before us. It has been wrong in the past, and all we are doing is adding more to that wrong.

I will not vote for the bill regardless of what might happen in my own district, because it is inequitable. I do not ask that the parochial schools be given State-aid. I know the Constitution and I uphold it, as I am sworn to. I do not ask that you give any money to the parochial schools, but I do believe you should not penalize the citizens who send their children to the public schools of Pittsburgh because they have neighbors who send their children to the parochial schools.

Basically, that is the answer to this problem. It is the only answer, and we are degenerate in our thinking if we do not wake up to this realization and do the right thing by making some kind of an adjustment in House Bill No. 183, to give Pittsburgh's citizens the same amount of money for their schools, out of the public till, to which they are entitled. Do not penalize the non-Catholics for sending their children to public schools by making them pay more taxes. You are doing that because you have another bill coming up, adding three-quarters of one mill to the taxes in the city of Pittsburgh because they have to meet that much more money to meet the lack of money that is not forthcoming from the State of Pennsylvania.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, to add to Senator Dent's argument, you only have to turn to today's Calendar and see House Bill No. 1722, which would never be there if it were not for House Bill No. 183. I say right now that the Republican leadership in the House and Senate are saddling the people of Pittsburgh with $1,500,000 more taxes by shortchanging them in this bill. If you do not believe me, vote against House Bill No. 1722. If you do believe me, vote for House Bill No. 1722.

Mr. President, how unrealistic can they be? I love my brothers in the "City of Brotherly Love," Philadelphia, and I am all for what they are getting out of this bill. However, if you can't tell me any reason why the teaching units in Philadelphia should get $438 more for each teaching unit than they do in Pittsburgh, I am willing to be convinced.

True, it was the last Session of the Legislature and the Session before, through our friends in the House and friends here, that we were able to get an equalizer; in other words, equalizing the subsidies per teaching unit in Pittsburgh and Philadelphia. This year, that bill is again over in the House and, if my memory serves me right, I think it is House Bill No. 504. The thing I am accusing you of is rightfully so and honestly so, and my conscience is clear while I am doing it. If you want to correct the evils you have done, you will write House Bill No. 504 into House Bill No. 183 in a Committee of Conference.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—42

Berger,	Kalman,	Mullin,	Stiefel,
Blass,	Kessler,	Murray,	Taylor,
Camiel,	Koprivier, Jr.,	Pechan,	Van Sant,

HOUSE BILL No. 797 CALLED UP

Mr. PECHAN. Mr. President, I call up, from page 12 of today's Third Reading Calendar, House Bill No. 797, Printer's No. 369.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

THIRD READING CALENDAR

BILL ON THIRD READING AND FINAL PASSAGE

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 797, entitled:

An Act amending the act of May 22, 1933 (P. L. 853) entitled "The General County Assessment Law" designating items to be included in the valuation of industrial property.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, this is the machinery tax bill which just deals with Allegheny County. I understand the Republicans, as usual, in anything affecting the people, have taken a position. Whether it be for or against the people, this time, as usual, it is against the taxpayers.

As you know, Allegheny County is made up of quite a number of political subdivisions, of which the city of Pittsburgh is the largest, and this bill does not affect the city of Pittsburgh as an entity. However, it does affect many boroughs and townships in Allegheny County and particularly those boroughs and townships where everyone punches a clock, those who work in the mills and in the factories.

I am given further to understand there are some letters of committal from some members of some corporations, stating they will not ask for any change in their assessments. Mr. President and Members of the Senate, I have seen those letters of committal before. If the Republican Members of the Senate would read those letters of committal that we have in connection with the Industrial Re-development Authority, we would have a bill providing for $5,000,000 instead of $1,500,000. They do not believe in them down here, but they do believe in a few letters they have received from some of our largest corporations in Allegheny County.

The only place I have heard about since the machinery tax bill was passed is the city of Monessen. Incidentally, the machinery tax bill was put through during the Fine Administration, and I would like to say it was one of the smartest things Governor Fine did. He made you fellows re-pass the bill and said, "You will not make this effective as long as I am Governor." The Mayor of the City of Monessen is sitting behind me here tonight. The steel companies there told the city officials they would not have to change the assessment because they would take the figure as it is.

I have thought a lot about this bill and I cannot think it through. Why do they want this bill when they say they do not want their assessment changed? There is something wrong somewhere.

I presume the debate on this bill will go on for quite a long time tonight. I understand that General Wolfe is not feeling well and wants to go home. He was here when the bill was called up, and I say to him now that the bill is up for final passage and he can cast his vote before he goes. I do not want to be the one to keep an older gentleman here on a silly bill, such as this, if it may injure his health.

The number one point I was trying to make is that in the County of Allegheny there are triennial assessments. How this will fit into the triennial assessments, I do not know. However, there is a gentleman on the other side who lives in the county. I see he is ready at the mike and I am anxious to hear from him. Until such time as he tells me how this is going to affect the triennial assessments, I am going to sit down, because it will be a long time before the final vote is taken on this bill tonight.

Mr. FLEMING. Mr. President, I listened with a great deal of interest to my colleague from Allegheny County, Senator Barr, and one of the questions he posed was, "Why do they want this bill?" I think the answer to that might be fairly simple. Whether rightly or wrongly, the fact remains that we have eliminated the machinery tax in all of the counties which did have it, with the exception of Allegheny County. We have, therefore, created an economic barrier around Allegheny County which will not permit our county to secure its rightful share of any type of industrial expansion.

We would like to have the small, fabricating plants come into our county. One of our officials in the county said we had no room for expansion in Allegheny County.

I certainly hope very few people share that viewpoint with him, because it would be a sad state of affairs if we did not have room for expansion in Allegheny County. I would particularly draw the attention of this gentleman, and anyone else, to the numerous sites along all the railroads, if you please, particularly up in the Allegheny Valley portion of my District, in which there is room for that type of expansion. However, I believe we would all agree that as long as the machinery tax is not levied in our neighboring counties of Beaver, West moreland and Washington, it is going to be a pretty hard job for us to secure any of these smaller companies who want to come into Allegheny County, if by merely going a few miles across the border into another county, they step into a tax climate where this machinery tax, peculiar only to the County of Allegheny, is not assessed. I can readily understand that they would go to the other counties.

It has been stated, and has been alleged, by many of the opponents of this bill, which would remove the tax from Allegheny County, that we would create chaos in the communities which now depend upon it for a measured portion, or at least a large portion, of their tax revenue. That was met, I believe, head-on just a few weeks ago when representatives of the various big industries called upon the taxing bodies, both the councils, the township commissioners in the political subdivisions and the school boards of those communities affected, and assured them that if this bill becomes law, they will not lose any money by virtue of it, and that they are satisfied to pay their present tax on their present assessments. What they do want, however, is the assurance that if the machinery is to be replaced at a later date, the new machinery will not be subject to the machinery tax. They want to, also, make possible the entrance into Allegheny County of many industries which now will not come in by virtue of the fact that we are still levying the tax.

The United States Steel Corporation, the Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company, the Westinghouse Electric Corporation, the Allegheny Ludlum Steel Corporation, the Struthers-Wells Company and the Blaw-Knox Steel Company have had their emissaries call on these various communities and have assured them that they are willing to pick up the present tax load and are willing to pay the taxes they are presently paying.

I have in my possession, and if the Senate desires I can read into the record, a number of letters. Yes, I would like to read one into the record and, if the Senate desires, I will read them all into the record. However, if the Members do not want to be troubled by having them all read, I do want to offer them for the record.

I want to read a letter from the United States Steel Corporation addressed to me, and I quote:

"Dear Senator Fleming:

"We refer to House Bill 797 relating to the exemption of machinery and equipment from property taxes in Allegheny County, which bill is pending in the Senate. In recent weeks representatives of United States Steel Corporation have been in touch with representatives of the following Monongehela River communities, namely, Clairton, Duquesne, Homestead, McKeesport, Munhall, North Braddock, North Versailles, Rankin, West Homestead, and West Mifflin, to discuss the implications of this pending legislation on the future revenues of these communities. It is certainly not the intent of United States Steel to support any legislation which would result in imposing unreasonable financial burdens or upset existing revenue structures in these communities. Accordingly, this Corporation has made definite proposals to these communities, which proposals would, of course, apply to all communities in Allegheny County in which United States Steel has operations, that we will continue paying property taxes on all machinery and equipment on the tax rolls as of December 31, 1957, until such equipment should be retired or replaced in future years. The taxes on the existing machinery and equipment would be in addition, of course, to taxes on real estate. Our proposal has been made with the further understanding that any acquisitions of machinery and equipment occurring on and after January 1, 1958, would be exempt from tax. We made this proposal to these communities believing it to be a fair and equitable solution to the problem presented by House Bill 797, which, as you know, provides for the elimination of the present tax on machinery over a five-year period beginning in 1958.

"It is our feeling that while House Bill 797 is certainly desirable in principle in so far as it seeks to correct a situation which results in Allegheny County being non-competitive with other counties, we can see that by a strict application of the legislation some hardships might result to the various communities whose revenues have been provided in substantial amounts by the tax on machinery and equipment, and the proposal which we refer to above has been made in order to insure that no hardship would result. We wanted you to know that this offer has been made on behalf of United States Steel Corporation with the full intent that it would be honored should House Bill 797 be enacted into law.

"Yours very truly,

L. C. Simmons
Vice President"

I have a similar letter from Westinghouse Electric Corporation, in which they state

"We understand that you would feel more inclined to support House Bill 797, now before the State Legislature, if you received from some of the large corporations with plants located in Allegheny County written assurance as to their oral commitments concerning means of alleviating the financial distress to Allegheny County boroughs, in the event HB 797 becomes law.

"I am attaching hereto a statement made by Leonard E. Kust, General Tax Counsel of the Westinghouse Electric Corporation, to members of the borough councils and school boards of East Pittsburgh and Turtle Creek on the evening of May 27, 1957. This statement was distributed at that meeting, and was orally amplified by Mr. Kust. The company's position was also made known to the Allegheny County Board of Assessments, Appeals and Review, by Mr. Kust.

"The nature of our commitment, in the event HB 797 becomes law, is contained in the fourth paragraph of the attached statement of Mr. Kust, which I repeat and confirm herewith:

"Under this proposal the Company would voluntarily continue to pay the machinery tax on existing machinery, provided that machinery acquired in the future will not be taxed. The Company also proposes that, in return for voluntarily continuing to pay the machinery tax, the communities agree that any future increase in the assessments on land and buildings will be reduced by the amount of the machinery assessment, and that, in the event of substantial removals of machinery presently taxed, the Company's tax bill will be adjusted proportionately."

Attached thereto—and I do not want to read it into the record, but I do want to offer it, Mr. President, as part of the record—is a statement of Leonard Kust to the various municipalities in which the Westinghouse Electric Corporation is located.

The Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company sent a similar letter, which I want to offer for the record. I would like to state that the school boards of East Deer and Frazer Townships have come to an agreement with Pittsburgh Plate Glass in which they state they were satisfied, and they are satisfied, that the Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company will meet their commitments.

The Allegheny Ludlum Steel Corporation, in the Upper Allegheny Valley, has written me a similar letter, in which they have been assured by the school board of Harrison Township that the offer is all right in so far as the school board is concerned and they feel it will be satisfactory.

In fact, I would like to read into the record, Mr. President, the answer to Mr. Hanley, President of the Allegheny Ludlum Steel Corporation, from the Harrison Township School District, signed by Stanley Szarnicki, Secretary. The letter is as follows:

"Dear Sir:

"I have been instructed by the Harrison Township School Board to inform you of the results of the meeting held this evening.

"Your Mr. McDonough presented the proposal to the School Board and, as it were, to their satisfaction. After an executive session, the meeting was called to order, a motion was made accepting the proposal as was presented. Of the members present, four having voted in favor and one passing.

"There were remarks made by Mr. Henschel and Mr. Korpanty for cooperativeness in the progress, development and growth of Harrison Township. Mr. Korpanty further expressed himself by stating that we should strive to keep industry in Pennsylvania and that the Board appreciates Allegheny Ludlum Steel Corporation being vitally interested in this Community's problems."

I would also like to state for the record, Mr. President, that the Blaw-Knox Steel Corporation, whose mills are located at Blawnox, Pennsylvania, in my Senatorial District, made a proposition to the School District of Blawnox and to the Borough Council of Blawnox. I was called by long distance phone by Carl Ferraro, the Burgess of Blawnox, who told me that on behalf of the council and on behalf of the authorities in Blawnox Borough, they were satisfied with the proposition of the Blaw-Knox Steel Company, and they were satisfied the Blaw-Knox Company would continue to pay the taxes they are now paying.

The question might well be raised as to why these corporations, if they want to continue paying the taxes they are paying now, would want to eliminate a tax that is now being levied on them. I think the answer to that might be relatively simple in view of the fact that they, too, are interested in the industrial expansion of Allegheny County, and we cannot have industrial expansion in Allegheny County if we have created, around the county, a barrier and thrown up a barrier in which we, in that county, assess a tax on industry which is not assessed by any other county in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. We, in Allegheny County, are certainly not being fair to the citizens of Allegheny County if we keep expansion away from our people, because only by the bringing in of new plants, and only by adding job opportunities to the residents of Allegheny County can our county go forward.

I would be the last person in the world to stand up for or vote for this bill if I thought for one moment that we were going to hurt any community in the county of Allegheny. Many of these communities, where the tax is now being paid, lie in my Senatorial District. I want to assure every Member of the Senate of Pennsylvania that I would do nothing in any manner, shape or form to hurt them. I am satisfied that the great majority of those taxing bodies, whether it be the borough councils, the township commissioners or the school boards, are satisfied themselves that these companies will keep their word to them, and that their tax income will not be lowered by virtue of the passage of this bill. They are also absolutely convinced, as I am, that these corporations, contrary to the belief of some people, want to have more business in Allegheny County. They want to bring, if you please, fabricating plants into the county of Allegheny and they are doing everything within their power to do it.

I would like to urge upon every Member of the Senate, whether he be a Republican or whether he be a Democrat, that he support this measure to abolish the machinery tax in Allegheny County. It has, if I may repeat myself, Mr. President, placed an economic barrier, an insurmountable barrier, if you please, around our county of Allegheny which cannot be passed over, and will not be passed over, as long as this obnoxious tax remains on the books.

There being no objection, the statement, letters and articles were ordered to be printed in the Journal as follows:

Statement by Leonard E. Kust, General Tax Counsel Westinghouse Electric Corporation

Effective January 1, 1956, Allegheny County became the only County in Pennsylvania to impose taxes on industrial machinery and equipment. In all other counties imposing a machinery tax, Westinghouse Electric Corporation along with other industrial concerns agreed to retain its then existing machinery assessment to alleviate any sudden economic burden on the communities and at the same time to improve the climate for industrial expansion. Westinghouse proposes the same solution for East Pittsburgh and Turtle Creek.

This year, House Bill 797 was introduced in the Legislature. It would gradually eliminate the Allegheny County machinery tax over a five-year period. The Bill follows the recommendations of tax study groups which have unanimously reported that the Allegheny County machinery tax, when added to extremely high state taxes, creates an economic barrier to new industry, or the expansion of existing industry.

Westinghouse now pays more than 70 per cent of all of the tax revenue of the borough of East Pittsburgh. Thirty-seven per cent of the borough's tax revenue comes from the tax on Westinghouse machinery. Westinghouse pays approximately 53 per cent of the property tax revenue received by the borough of Turtle Creek. Twenty-seven per cent of that borough's property tax revenue comes from the tax on Westinghouse machinery.

Westinghouse recognizes that the sudden withdrawal of these very large revenues would cause a financial crisis for the taxpayers, the councils and school districts of both boroughs. Therefore, the Company advised the councils and school districts at a joint meeting tonight of a proposal it has made to the Allegheny County Board of Assessments, Appeals and Review. Under this proposal the Company would voluntarily continue to pay the machinery tax on existing machinery, provided that machinery acquired in the future will not be taxed. The Company also proposes that, in return for voluntarily continuing to pay the machinery tax, the communities agree that any future increase in the assessments on land and buildings will be reduced by the amount of the machinery assessment, and that, in the event of substantial removals of machinery presently taxed, the Company's tax bill will be adjusted proportionately.

We feel that this solution is fair to the communities of East Pittsburgh and Turtle Creek, and to Westinghouse. It is the same solution adopted in the other counties where the machinery tax has been eliminated in the interest of industrial expansion and diversification. It is fair to the communities because it removes this burdensome industrial tax, thus giving the Turtle Creek Valley equality with communities in Pennsylvania's 66 other counties in seeking new industry and related commercial development for their area.

It is fair to Westinghouse because, over a period of years, machinery now taxed will wear out and will be replaced with new machinery which, under the solution we offer, would not be taxed. Since industrial machinery lasts many years, this tax reduction will be quite gradual and the communities will thus have the opportunity to adjust their tax revenues carefully and equitably.

Honorable Robert D. Fleming
Senate of Pennsylvania
Capitol Building
Harrisburg, Pennsylvania

Dear Senator Fleming:

By direction of Mr. Harry B. Higgins, Chairman of the Board, and Mr. David G. Hill, President of Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company, I was authorized to inform the officials of certain political subdivisions the position and policy of this company regarding the exemption of machinery from taxation, in Allegheny County. Mr. Hill now asks that I write to you about this policy and what has transpired to date.

It is the considered opinion of company officials that the exemption of machinery from taxation in Allegheny County will encourage expansion and/or modernization of existing industries located in Allegheny County and will attract new industries to the County. Our company is well aware of the tax disadvantages of Pennsylvania state level taxes when compared with other states wherein it has manufacturing operations; it is also very cognizant of the local tax disadvantages of its Allegheny operations when compared with all of its other glass operations, no matter where located.

Notwithstanding these tax disadvantages, this company has and does recognize its responsibility to the communities wherein it has for years represented a substantial part of their economical and financial structure. This is not a brand new conscience, initiated by the pending legislation, but a policy we have shown in other communities wherein we have plants.

In East Deer Township, where the company pays over sixty per centum of local school and township taxes, I met with school board and township commissioners at the request of the school superintendent to restate our policy to all interested officials. This meeting is accurately reported in the Tarentum Valley Dailey News, a copy of which is attached and made made of this letter.

We firmly believe that the passage of House Bill 797, exempting machinery from taxation in Allegheny County, will be in the best interest of the communities located therein. Responsible industry will not take advantage of this gradual tax relief. This company—as have others—is so recorded.

Respectfully,

/s/ George P. Cheney

PPG PLEDGES
NO TOWNSHIP INCOME LOSS

There were indications from Pittsburgh Plate Glass Co. last night that if the industrial machinery tax in Allegheny County is abolished, East Deer Twp. would not suffer any financial loss.

The firm has its biggest plant in Creighton and is the heaviest taxpayer in the township.

PPG pays about $50,000 annually in machinery tax to East Deer-Frazer School District and about $25,000 to East Deer Twp.

Loss of this source of income would seriously affect the financial structures of the school district and township.

George Cheney, assistant secretary and tax attorney at PPG, briefed East Deer-Frazer school directors and a group of East Deer commissioners and political leaders at the school board meeting last night in the high school.

"If the tax were abolished we would not seek any reduction in our assessment," Cheney said. "We would not do anything that would upset the financial structure of the township and school district."

With no reduction in PPG's assessment, the revenue source for the township and school district would be expected to continue.

School directors and commissioners feared that without the revenue they might be forced into levying a wage tax or hike real estate taxes.

There were reports that property owners were also concerned.

Emil Rometo, chairman of the township's Democratic committee said that if the "assessment is taken off the book, it would have a serious impact on the community."

Speaking for the Board of Commissioners, Commissioner Walter York said:

"We'd like to thank you (PPG), for such a generous offer."

Cheney replied: "We don't treat it as a generous offer. We feel we are a part of the community."

William Kovick, president of the union school board, also commended the firm.

Other commissioners attending were Stanley Benecki and George McMurde.

Honorable Robert D. Fleming
Senate Offices
State Capitol Building
Harrisburg, Pennsylvania

Dear Senator Fleming:

It is gratifying to report that the Harrison Township School District, through action by its School Board on June 5, accepted the proposal made by our company on the machinery tax assessment problem prevailing in Allegheny County. Knowing of your interest in the matter, we are enclosing photostatic copies of (1) the School Board's letter of acceptance to Mr. E. J. Hanley, our President, (2) press reports of the Board's meeting which appeared in the June 6 issues of the Valley Daily News and the New Kensington Dispatch, and (3) an editorial on the subject taken from the June 10 issue of the Valley Daily News.

Allegheny Ludlum's proposal, similar in every respect to those made by other industrial companies in Allegheny County to communities most concerned with the problem, was essentially that the company would continue to pay, on a voluntary basis, the taxes based upon the present machinery assessment with the understanding that new machinery would be exempt. The members of the School Board fully realized we are at a competitive disadvantage with manufacturers located elsewhere due, in large part, to the machinery tax burden in Allegheny County.

Although the Commissioners of Harrison Township have rejected our proposal, we are still hopeful they may reconsider the question and adopt a position similar to the School District's. It is significant, we believe, to point out that the School District derives about $159,000 from the machinery tax, whereas the Township's revenue from this source is much less, being approximately $82,000.

It is our hope that the pending legislation, represented in H.B. 797, will receive your full support when it comes before the Senate. Certainly, the managements of our Allegheny County companies have displayed evidence of their good faith in attempting to work out a sensible solution to this most troubling question.

LUDLUM PROPOSAL ACCEPTED SCHOOL BOARD FAVORS TAX BID

MACHINERY LEVY OFFER GIVEN OKAY

Harrison Twp. School Directors last night accepted Allegheny Ludlum Steel Corp.'s compromise offer on repeal of the machinery tax.

The approval places the school board at the opposite end of the pole from Harrison Twp. Commissioners who rejected the steel firm's proposal last week.

"We've got nothin to lose," declared School Board President Gracian Korpanty.

A bill to repeal the right of municipalities in Allegheny County to tax machinery is now before the State Legislature. Latest indications are that the measure will come out of committee, possibly this week, for final consideration.

The repealer would discontinue the machinery tax on a 20 percent a year basis starting in 1958 and ending in 1962. Those opposing the measure argue that it would deal a heavy financial blow to some 20 Allegheny County municipalities and school districts which depend on the machinery tax for a good-sized portion of their tax revenues.

HOLD PRESENT LEVY

Those backing the repealer argue the machinery tax is a stumbling block for new industries to locate in Allegheny County.

The compromise offer made by Allegheny Ludlum calls for the company to continue paying present assessments on machinery already installed until it is either scrapped or replaced, while new machinery installations would be tax exempt.

School directors heard the proposal from Allegheny Ludlum's representative, T. J. McDonahue of Pittsburgh, and then went into secret executive session to discuss the matter.

When the executive session was dissolved,

Board Member Vincent Henschel moved that the proposal be accepted. The motion was seconded by Vernon Edmonds.

DAN FRIEL "PASSES"

Joining Henschel and Edmonds in approving the proposal were Korpanty and Kenneth A. Young. Dan V. Friel recorded his vote as "passing." He said he wanted more time to study the matter. Two other directors, Dr. Clark T. Rollins and Atty. Charles J. Jacques were absent.

KORPANTY SUPPORTS OFFER

The school directors said Allegheny Ludlum pays about $222,000 taxes on a $14,179,000 assessment each year to the school district. Of this amount, about $159,000 is collected from the tax on machinery assessed at $10,149,000.

"Allegheny Ludlum is the backbone of our community," declared Korpanty. "They came to us voluntarily. There's no sense in biting the hand that feeds you."

"If the Legislature repeals the machinery tax, we would lose $159,000 in taxes a year anyway. By accepting the company's offer, we have nothing to lose."

Korpanty said McDonahue had assured the directors that once a company makes such a pledge, it is not broken or revoked, even if there is a change in top-level management. McDonahue said his company, and other industries which have made similar offers in other municipalities are endeavoring to have the machinery tax eliminated "without causing financial chaos."

Henschel said "Allegheny Ludlum is here in this community to stay and we hope they always will stay."

He added the board should cooperate in every way possible to keep industry in Pennsylvania.

In rejecting a similar offer made by the steel company last week, Harrison Twp. Commissioners said the offer was merely a "gentlemen's agreement" and has "no legal basis."

Board Chairman Henry C. Lamparski said Allegheny Ludlum's offer and similar proposals by other industries in the area should be written into the tax repealer bill to make it legal.

NEW KENSINGTON DISPATCH

HARRISON SCHOOLS OK A-L TAX OFFER

PARALLEL OFFER TURNED DOWN BY COMMISSIONERS

BY HARRIS W. SACKS
Dispatch Staff Writer

The Harrison Twp. School Board approved Allegheny Ludlum Steel Corporation's compromise proposal on machinery taxation at a meeting in Har-Brack High School, Wednesday night.

The board's voting, affecting in excess of $10 million in machinery, was made in a session following an executive gathering. The vote was four for the proposal with one abstention. Two members were absent.

Voting "yes" were President Gracian Korpanty, Vincent Henschel, Vernon Edmonds and Kenneth Young. Dan B. Friel abstained. The motion was made by Henschel and seconded by Edmonds.

Absent members were Dr. Clark E. Rollins and Attorney Charles Jacques.

The vote was the late development in steps which may help passage of House Bill 797, eliminating taxes on industrial machinery levied in Allegheny County, to become a reality.

Said Korpanty in the presence of Attorney T. J. McDonough, manager of Taxes and Insurance Dept., Allegheny-Ludlum:

"We feel if Allegheny-Ludlum would happen to leave the community, it would be very detrimental to development and expansion of Harrison Township.

"The sole aim of elected public officials is to expand and develop a community, not to deteriorate it and have local community become a ghost town due to lack of employment.

"We never bite the hand that feeds us."

Korpanty congratulated Allegheny-Ludlum "for coming to us" "You asked us" he said.

"We're not here to drive industry out of Pennsylvania," he said. He pointed out that the board had kept millage at 16 this year and "cut the budget to the bone."

Three board members had attended a meeting with Harrison Township, Commissioners and Allegheny Ludlum on May 27, when the corporation made the same offer and was turned down.

If passed, existing machinery would be taxed on assessments as of Jan. 1, 1958, and there would be no more counties with a machine tax in the state.

The Allegheny County Board of Property Assessment Appeals and Review, is for the removal of machinery taxes if individual communities back the measure said Attorney McDonough.

The Ludlum official said that should the machinery tax go, not only would industry come to the state, but existing plants would expand.

Chairman Henry C. Lamparski of the township commissioners, in explaining the commissioners' opposition to the Ludlum offer has stated, "It has no legal bases."

Allegheny County Commissioners' latest position is that they will back the measure if each municipality will accept the compromise offer of industry.

EDITORIAL IN VALLEY DAILY NEWS

June 10, 1957

SCHOOL BOARD TAKES WISE ACTION

Harrison Township School Board acted very wisely, we think, in accepting Allegheny Ludlum's compromise offer which would be effective if the present tax on machinery in Allegheny County is junked.

Gracian Korpanty, a member of the board, summed the whole matter up in five words when he said, "We've got nothing to lose."

Under the plan suggested by the company, Allegheny Ludlum will continue to pay taxes at the present level on machinery now in use until it is either abandoned or replaced. Newly installed equipment will be exempt from taxation.

Members of the Harrison board, far more far-sighted than many other municipal and school officials in Allegheny County, recognize that the machinery tax is acting as a barrier to industrial expansion in the county.

They realize that Allegheny Ludlum owns excellent plant sites in Armstrong and Westmoreland Counties within a very few miles of its Brackenridge and West Leechburg operations. The firm can easily build new plants there instead of in Harrison Township. Thus the township would face a situation wherein machinery now taxed would be depreciating in value and with little or no prospect of plant expansion.

Industry throughout Allegheny County is going more than half-way in its efforts to find ways and means by which the machinery tax can be dropped without working a financial hardship on municipalities and school districts. The policy of Allegheny Ludlum, which is always deeply concerned about the welfare of communities in which it has plants, is typical.

It is hoped that the General Assembly will take note of what the Harrison School Board and some other tax levying agencies have done and disregard the carping of those misguided public officials who are doing all they can to make difficult the elimination of the tax.

The present and future economic welfare of Allegheny County and its people depends upon elimination of the tax. Thousands of jobs are at stake. Your job may be among them.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Allegheny, Senator Fleming.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Fleming, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. FLEMING. Mr. President, it is always a pleasure to be interrogated by Senator Dent.

Mr. DENT. Senator Fleming, when the bill was passed exempting machinery from taxation in all of the counties of the State, except Allegheny, how did you vote?

Mr. FLEMING. I voted for the bill.

Mr. DENT. Will you tell the Senate why Allegheny County was not included in that bill?

Mr. FLEMING. The only reason I could give you would be that they were probably fearful they could not pass the bill if Allegheny County were included.

Mr. DENT. Who was in the majority in the Senate at that time?

Mr. FLEMING. The Republican Party.

Mr. DENT. If Allegheny County would have been included, how would you have voted?

Mr. FLEMING. At that time, Senator Dent, I probably—I want to be very honest with you, sir—would have voted “no.”

Mr. DENT. Thank you very kindly.

I have always respected Senator Fleming, and I do more tonight than I ever have, because he stood up on this floor and gave the answer to a very important question.

At that time, they were exempting machinery from taxation all over the State. However, Senator Fleming, Senator Koprivier and Senator John Walker, at that time, decided that Allegheny County should not have its machinery exempted. Therefore, they imposed upon us, the residents of the other sixty-six counties in this State, the bill which exempted machinery from taxation. Fearful of their own county's welfare, they imposed upon the Republican Majority a restriction that the bill should only contain sixty-six counties and exempt Allegheny.

Senator Fleming's argument tonight is based upon the very argument I made upon this floor at that time. I said, “You Allegheny County Senators feel secure in your position because you are allowing the rest of the counties in the State to be deprived of this sort of taxation, feeling that so long as it does not affect you, you are safe.” I said on this floor, “As time goes by, you will come before the Senate of Pennsylvania and plead that a barrier has been built up, that a wall has been stretched across your borders, and that you no longer can invite industry in because other counties are free from machinery taxation. You will be forced into the position where you will fight upon this floor to have the very thing you are fighting against tonight imposed by law.” In truth, that is what has happened.

Let us measure the thing as it really is. Machinery is the greatest invention from the time primitive man learned to make a wheel because, instead of carrying a load upon his shoulder, he learned that a wheel could carry the load for him. From the primitive invention of the wheel has come all of the machinery which has given many blessings to the human race. In giving these blessings, it has left somewhat of a problem because as we now enter into the electronic, the atomic and the nuclear age, we find that all of the inventions of the past are as of nothing compared to what is now being developed in the sciences as we know them. These new sciences are creating greater machines, and these machines are going to deprive more and more human beings of the work of labor and of the handicraft of doing things with their hands. When you do that, you displace them.

We are faced tonight with the same problem with which we are faced then. As we exempt machinery from taxation and as we exempt corporations from taxation, do we not develop a situation where fewer and fewer people are able to earn a living in the productive industries, and more and more people must earn their living in the servicing industries? As we do that, do we not place a greater burden of taxation upon those left in the productive industries?

Senator Fleming said tonight that they have a wall built around Allegheny County. You built that wall; we did not. In my county, industry has done exactly what you are saying they are going to do in Allegheny County. They came before the county commissioners and they said, “We will accept the same valuation which we had before.” Why did they do that? They did it because, out of good common sense, the taxing authorities in our county taxed industrial plants at the lowest possible rate of taxation. We have industries in our county which have investments of seven, eight and nine millions of dollars, which are taxed on the basis of seven, eight or nine hundred thousand dollars. However, we have a man who builds a home on a hillside, without streets, without sewers and without the conveniences of everyday life. He builds a home for $7,000 and he is taxed at a valuation of $3,000 to $4,000.

What are we doing here tonight? We are further adding to the burden of the people, the ordinary people. You say that industry has written to your local communities and said to them, “Because of the bigness of our hearts, we will not allow the tax duplicate to go down in your community. We will pay the same tax as we paid before." What relief is that to industry? Where is the fakery in this bill? If it is needed to help industry to come into this State, why do you say they will pay the same tax as they paid before? They admit the weakness of their argument. They admit their real estate is taxed at the lowest possible rate. They admit the home owner is paying the entire tax burden of the community. So what? They have come before the communities and said, "You do not have to lose any of your tax duplicate. We will make it up. Just keep taxing us the same, but if we move in new machinery, it will be tax-exempt."

We are now moving into a situation where most of the productive machinery of this Country of ours is antiquated. Most of it is absolutely obsolete, and we must produce new machinery. Therefore, they want to get rid of the old machinery and make a deal with the communities and say, "Now look, we will let you have the same tax money only as long as we have the old machinery." What happens when it is over and they move in their new productive machinery, which they are bound to do? The people will continue to pay the heavier tax burden.

I have said on this floor that the Boston Tea party was as mild a revolution as there has been in American history. Yet, it was sufficient to light a spark which took a people away from dependence upon their mother country. We in these United States, will live to see the day, and particularly in Pennsylvania,—perhaps I will not witness it, but there will be those who will—of the greatest tax revolution on the face of the earth because during this entire Session of the Legislature, there has been the greatest deprivation of the rights of peoples to keep some of the earnings they make of any time in the history of this State. Every bill which has been passed, since I have been here this Session, has been aimed at relieving the burden upon those able to pay and placing it upon the shoulders of those least able to pay.

I understand that Senator Fleming has a letter from United States Steel. They should be glad to give you a letter; it should be engraved. You should get letters from everyone in the entire district and they should be engraved. They should be engraved with the receipt of taxes paid by the little people, because you cannot relieve taxes on one group except to put them upon another group.

Mr. Eisenhower is the President of the United States and this statement he made during this Session of Congress. He said, "There will be no tax reductions on corporations or business during this Session of Congress, because I cannot stand idly by and watch people paying more taxes while industry pays less." That is your President and my President; by your election, not mine. However, he knew we had arrived at a situation which was getting beyond control. Mr. Humphrey, the Secretary of the Treasury, said recently that these tax privileges are beyond the comprehension of a sensible man. We are now passing into the stage of opulence and over-prudence. We are allowing ourselves to get to the point where the door is open to a special few and the door will be broken down by the lessers, asking the same privileges. That is what is happening now.

The next thing you will be asked to do will be to exempt from machinery, the butcher's scales, the butcher's meat-cutting machine and the contractor's concrete mixer. You will be asked to exempt from taxation all of the productive machinery, whether it is small or large. Today, we are voting on a bill which exempts from taxation the machinery of big corporate interests. The day and the day after, we will be asked to exempt from taxation the machinery of every productive entity in the State of Pennsylvania. Where do we go from there, back to the people? Keep taxing the people, keep hitting them, keep putting the load on their shoulders and then where do you go? You go to chaos, you go to disaster and you go to catastrophe.

All of us realize that I fought bitterly upon this floor against the exemption of machinery from taxation as real estate. You do not have to tax it is real estate. Let us tax it for what it is.

There are fifty Senators in the Senate today. I think there are a lot of people who believe that with one IBM machine, Harvey Taylor and I could run the Senate. That is all we need; one IBM machine, Harvey Taylor and myself. We could run the Senate because it is mechanical when you get to know the roll call, and that is what industry is. It is mechanical. Tomorrow, we get rid of forty-eight Senators and we put in an IBM machine and what happens? It works automatically. We buy the machine and we amortize it over the years. However, what do the people lose? They lose the taxes of forty-eight Senators, and so it is in industry. Tomorrow they make a new spinning mill. A spinning mill today can produce 18,000 yards of thread a minute. Tomorrow there is a new one which produces 180,000 yards a minute. Therefore, ten men lose their jobs and one man remains.

The problems of government are the same. The schools must go forward, the streets have to be built, the highways have to be constructed, mental health has to be taken care of and the people in the hospitals must have care. Therefore, we still must have taxation. However, we do not tax that spinning mill. Oh no, we tax the nine men who lost their jobs. That is the kind of philosophy we are dealing with today. We are dealing with the philosophy that you get rid of people on jobs, but tax them as they lose their jobs.

What is our problem here tonight? Our problem is that the State of Pennsylvania requires a certain amount of money; not because we ask for it and not because we wanted it that way. There is not a man in this Senate who asked for a $671,000,000 bill for the schools in Pennsylvania. There is not a man in this Senate who demanded or required $221,000,000 a biennium for mental health. There is not a man in this Senate who has asked for the load of $144,000,000 a biennium for relief. We did not ask for that. We just happen to be the voices of the people, and we stood here and we had to vote for the required needs.

What are we doing tonight? We are exempting from the responsibilities of the needs, the industry of Pennsylvania. We have exempted them all along the line. In 1927, the tax duplicate in this State was paid ninety-six per cent by industry and business, and four per cent by the people. Today what are we up against? The tax duplicate of the State of Pennsylvania today is $1,600,000,000, and the people are paying seventy-two per cent and industry is paying twenty-eight per cent. I own stock in corporations, not many and not much stock, and I like dividends. However, I cannot see how you can put dividends over and above the peoples' welfare.

This is the worst Session of the Legislature in which I have served in twenty-three years, in so far as the people are concerned. There has been more done to exempt those able to pay and less done for those least able to pay than has ever been done in the twenty-three years in which I have served. I think it will catch up with us. I think we Members of the Senate will suffer for it. People do not distinguish between Democrats and Republicans. When they go to the polls, they do not decipher who is right and who is wrong. They only know that this Session of the Legislature has created a situation in which the people are going to carry a burden beyond their means to carry.

Today, on this same Calendar, you have a program and here is what it is, according to the Harrisburg Evening News:

"The State GOP Retains the Upper Hand. Balks Any New Tax Step."

Are you balking any new tax step on people? However, you are balking any new tax step on industry. On this Calendar tonight, you have a bill to increase the taxation on the home owner in Pittsburgh, and you will vote for it. Everyone of you will vote for it. Every man on the other side will vote to increase the taxes on the people of Pittsburgh who are living in their homes, but you are balking tax increases in Pennsylvania. On whom? On industry, but not on people. You voted to put a three-quarter of a mill per cent tax on the city of Philadelphia's residents. Everyone of you are going to vote tonight to increase the taxes on the people of Pittsburgh. However, you brag and say, "State GOP Retains the Upper Hand. Balks Any New Tax Step." On whom? Not on the people; you have not hesitated, in this Session of the Legislature, to increase taxes on people. You have not hesitated to cut taxes on industry.

Mr. President, industry is a valuable thing, but what good is the creation of jobs if, when you create those jobs, you put the people who work at those jobs in a situation where they have to pay the burden of those who receive the profits from the jobs they created? I like profits; we all do. However, money is not the only king in this State of ours. The people of these United States have certain elementary rights and those rights are that they should not pay beyond their burden of the cost of government.

For instance, take a community like Bucks County, Senator Watson's county. Senator Watson is a wonderful, good man; a man who has the kind of a heart that realizes the problems. You circumscribe him in your Caucus but if he were left alone, voluntarily, I know his feelings. Bucks County was one of the most peaceful communities on the face of the earth, without too much expansion, without too much growth and without too much prosperity, but the people were happy. All of a sudden, they became big. Industry moved in and, all of a sudden, the streets became crowded, the schools became inadequate and the taxes became unbearable. Why? Industry moved in, and it was a great thing for that community. It was great and beautiful. For whom? For whom was it good? Who did it benefit? Industry moved in, and every resident of Senator Watson's community is now paying the highest taxes they ever paid in their life. Senator Watson can recognize this from actual facts. This is true because the people of Bucks County have prosperity.

There is nothing like prosperity to create taxation. There is nothing like prosperity to create a demand for needs. Therefore, we are building a big prosperity. We are moving industry in, and creating problems which create taxation. Who wants the taxation? Not industry, just people. What good are governments, unless they benefit the peoples? Where is it written anywhere in the lexicon of history that prosperity belongs only to machinery? A machine displaces one hundred men and the remaining men must pick up the load. That is the most idiotic prescription of prosperity that was ever written. Never in the history of these United States have we ever reached the stage of stupidity toward which we are now climbing in this great State of Pennsylvania. When we say that you can create a machine which displaces men and the remaining men must pay the tax, that is stupid.

As a young boy, I can remember working in a glass factory in my first job on a full-time pay at eighty-eight cents a day, at the age of twelve. I had a full-time job, working all day, at the age of twelve, in a glass factory. I worked in the glass factory with a paddle, carrying glass from the press to the leers. Then, they produced a machine which took the glass and put it into the leers and I was eliminated. Glass does not cost any less today than it did then. Certainly, we receive more money, but you are taking it from us. You cannot provide the sources of revenue from people. You must take the sources of revenue from the revenue producers. You cannot replace payrolls with dividends from corporations.

I know what is going on because I predicted it on this Senate floor. I predicted, long before it happened, that there would be a great drive to bring the common people into stock ownership in order for the people to become so involved in the dividends which they might receive from their stock they they would become befuddled and decide that industry was more important than people. It is not more important than people. The entire wealth of the world comes from the soil. No matter how many machines are built, if the farmer does not till that soil, no machine can ever take the place of it.

Tonight, you are faced with a problem. I know how you are going to vote. You cannot vote any other way. Your Caucus has told you how to vote. You cannot vote any other way. You are going to vote to take from Allegheny County the right to tax machinery. You took it off in my county of Westmoreland, too. Industry came in and said, "All right, we will pay the same tax." Senator Fleming told you that. Senator Fleming stood up and said he had letters from the big industries. They told him they would pay the same tax that they always paid. Tomorrow or the day after tomorrow or the day after the day after tomorrow, the truckers will come in and say, "We should not pay taxes on our trucks. Our trucks produce jobs." They do produce jobs. The railroads could say, "You cannot tax us because we produce jobs. Tax the people to whom we give jobs." A truck which hauls twenty tons, tomorrow will haul sixty tons. Instead of having three trucks, you will have one, thereby forcing two truck drivers out of work. The two truck drivers will have to pay the tax, although they are out of work, and the fellow who owns the big truck will not pay any tax. That is the scheme of tomorrow.

Mr. President and Members of the Senate, I am going to say to you tonight, as I have said so many times in the past and as I predicted so many times in the past, that this is the second step toward a major revolution among the taxpayers. The taxpayers can only take so much. Continue putting it on people, continue cutting the services to people, continue taking the taxes off of industry, continue taking the taxes off of business, let all the profits go into dividends, let all the profits go into capital gains, and the first thing you will have is the grandest revolution among the people that you have ever witnessed in your lives. As a young man, I predicted it. It came true once in the coal fields, and it will come true again in the polling places of this great State. You are making a serious mistake.

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I wondered whether or not Senator Dent might rise in relation to this bill. I thought, perhaps, he would let Senator Barr carry the ball. I remember, about four years ago, when we were debating the machinery tax exemption bill on the floor and Senator Dent, at that time, made many predictions. Senator Lane also joined Senator Dent in making predictions. I was over here at this very spot also making predictions. I think my predictions have been borne out and their predictions have not been.

I remember, at that time, Senator Dent said that Westmoreland County was going to be in a state of chaos and confusion if we passed that bill. Senator Lane told me that my little city of Titusville would certainly suffer. He could not understand how in the world we were going to get along. He told me that property valuations would drop if we passed the bill.

I want to say tonight that certainly Westmoreland County has done pretty good. I see by a statement here that in Westmoreland County, in 1955, its valuation was $213,000,000, plus; in 1956, it rose to $221,000,000, plus, or over an $8,000,000 increase in that year, since we passed the machinery tax exemption law.

Senator Dent makes many predictions and many forecasts and most of them just do not come true. However, he did say one thing which was true, tonight. He said that he and Senator Taylor might very well run the Senate if they had an I.B.M. machine between them. I would say that they probably would not need an I.B.M. machine. They could probably work the problems out pretty well just between themselves. However, if they displaced the rest of the Members of the Senate, we could then perhaps go home and do something worthwhile, instead of listening to these long, drawn out speeches.

Mr. President, for Senator Dent's information, machinery has done a valuable service to mankind. Perhaps a man is displaced when a machine takes his place, but he, then, can go ahead and get another job in making the machine. He could get a profitable job.

From the humble beginning that Senator Dent had, when he only made forty cents an hour, or thereabouts, he is now making a great deal more, even without the I.B.M. machine to which he referred. I believe all of us are much better off because of the machine age. Instead of our wives having to get out the scrubbing board to wash the clothes, as my mother did, they can now press a button and the entire operation is automatic. They can now go out and play golf instead of sitting home with a scrubbing board. Who is ahead because of that? Some fellow is now making automatic washing machines; somebody else is making automatic dryers. Those fellows, in turn, are making enough money in order for them to buy Chevrolet or Buick automobiles. If they are rich enough, they can buy Cadillac automobiles.

Mr. President, I think Senator Dent and I have come through a marvelous age, since the time he worked for forty-eight cents an hour in a cool place, and I worked in the hot sun, out in the hay fields, for one dollar a day. I think we have lived to see marvelous progress being made in our civilization. We have seen great progress being made in the standard of living. We have seen progress made in all of the things that we like to think stand for America, such as the many automobiles which we have. Bathrooms, according to Senator Kessler, have improved. I am sure Senator Dent will agree with that, because I imagine he and I used the same type of facilities when we were young. All of those things add to the betterment and benefit of the workingman in America.

Senator Dent continues to talk about putting all the taxes on the workingmen. Most of the taxes are paid by people. I have always figured that corporations are just tax collectors and not taxpayers. If you put taxes on them, the only thing for them to do is add the taxes onto the price of their products. Therefore, when the workingman buys a washing machine or a television set or an automobile, those taxes are included in the price of the product.

Senator Dent talks about industry coming in and spoiling Bucks County by putting so many taxes on the people that they can hardly bear the burden anymore. If that philosophy is true, I do not know why Senator Dent continues fighting for the Industrial Development Fund which would bring more industry into the State of Pennsylvania. Why are we going along with Governor Leader in his efforts to raise a lot of money, over $5,000,000, to bring industry into these various places in Pennsylvania, if all it does is put more taxes on the people's backs?

Much of this $5,000,000, which Senator Dent fought for and for which we finally gave in, is going to go into this Industrial Development Fund and will be used for that very purpose. It will be used to attract industry into Pennsylvania. A lot of the tax money that Senator Dent wants added onto the Department of Commerce is being put in the Industrial Development Fund and given over to a man who I believe managed Governor Leader's campaign the last time. He did such a good job of it that Governor Leader figured he would probably be a good man to advertise Pennsylvania. Somewhere, in between the girlie ads in Esquire and Mademoiselle, we find various advertisements prepared by him. They are sent to the magazines and then circulated throughout the Country in order to attract industry into the State of Pennsylvania. If that is not good, I do not know why we are trying to fill up these magazines with that type of advertising. I say to Senator Dent that those advertisements do not do any good unless we have something to sell in Pennsylvania. All those advertisements do, outside of helping the man who helped Governor Leader to get into the Governor's chair, is to try to bring to the attention of people who are looking for locations, the advantages which we can afford industry in Pennsylvania.

What do they do when they write into Mr. Davlin, the Secretary of Commerce, in response to the advertisement? They inquire as to the tax picture in Pennsylvania, as one of the many things in which they are interested. They want to know whether we tax machinery in Pennsylvania. They want to know about the corporate tax structure in Pennsylvania. They inquire regarding the labor situation in Pennsylvania; whether we have harmonious labor conditions here. They ask about the local participation. They want to know whether people subscribe to industrial funds, locally, in order for them to bring industry into their local communities. They are interested in what type of housing we have. Those are the things industry is interested in. You are not going to attract industry into Pennsylvania no matter how much you offer them in the way of a bribe, unless you have something to offer them.

We, up in Titusville, contrary to Senator Lane's prediction of four years ago, have fared pretty good. We have incorporated a development fund and we have attracted the Universal Cyclops Steel Company to expand in the city of Titusville. We have succeeded in getting Struthers-Wells to expand. We have done many things to bring industry into Titusville and to get our present industry to expand further. We have increased the amount of tax assessments in the city over twofold since Senator Lane told us that we were going to go down the drain.

Therefore, Mr. President, I would say to Senator Dent that I probably should vote against this bill instead of voting in favor of it. If I voted against it, I would probably be more able to attract those industries in Pittsburgh, which are dissatisfied and unhappy, and the ones in Allegheny County, to perhaps come up into Crawford County and expand up there. Senator Dent probably could get them to go over into Westmoreland County also.

When Senator Dent points the finger at us over here, as he did a little while ago, and tells us that the die is now cast, everybody is going to vote for the bill over here, and poor Pittsburgh and Allegheny County are going to be out of luck, I would say to him that we cannot enact a law, even though we have a majority over here and a majority in the House. There is a supreme judge sitting over at the other end of the Capitol who seems to have the voice there of either thumbs up or thumbs down, as Nero did in the old days. If he is not satisfied with the action of the Republican Caucus and does not want to vote along with us, all he has to do is write another veto message. He seems to be pretty good at that, because he has vetoed several of Senator Dent's bills and several of mine. However, I do not believe the Governor will veto this bill. Senator Dent did not predict that the Governor would veto it. He usually knows what the Governor is going to do and advises us as to whether or not the Governor is going to veto a bill. One thing which was outstanding in Senator Dent's speech was that he did not predict that the Governor was going to veto this bill. I will just bet you a little hat, on the side, that Governor Leader is going to sign this bill or, at least, let it become law without his signature.

Mr. President, I think we are doing all right over here, and if Senator Dent does not want to go along with this bill, he does not have to. However, let us vote shortly in order for us to get to the other business which appears on the Calendar.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, we realize that they are going to vote shortly, to shorten the people.

Speaking about the Governor and his vetoes, I spoke to quite a large Democratic gathering up at the Zembo Mosque about six weeks ago. I said to the Governor of the State, who was attending the same meeting, that he had better get a good vocabulary and a large dictionary because George Bloom is at the helm, who we know was almost Ed Martin's right-hand bower and we know that Ed Martin, even through a mistake, never voted for anything to help the people. That is true from the time he was Governor and during the time he has been in the United States Senate. With George Bloom at the helm, I am sure a lot of bills will go to the Governor for the purpose of wrecking the people. I told the Governor he better get a good vocabulary and a good dictionary, because he was going to have a terrific number of vetoes to write.

Mr. President, I want to say that Senator Mahany is not a very good predictor. A few years ago, we predicted that if you passed this bill, affecting the other counties, it, in turn, would come back to face us. I want to tell you how you passed the bill a few years ago, in case you do not remember. You had a pretty close count in the House. In order to pass the bill, you had to exempt Allegheny County because the Republican Members of the House, from Allegheny County, would not go along. I do not know whether you remember that or not, but that is an actual fact. I see Senator Mahany shaking his head, indicating that he does remember this.

A few months ago, as I remember, you forced several bus bills through the Senate, in which you allowed school buses to pre-empt business that should belong to the private bus owners who have franchises. Then I think probably up around Titusville, the ceiling started to fall down upon you. I think you then came in with some bills, and I believe the numbers were Senate Bill No. 753, Senate Bill No. 754 and Senate Bill No. 755, if I remember correctly, and tried to undo the wrong that you had done. You tried to take the liquid fuels tax off of the buses and to cut the bus license plates back to ten dollars. At that time, we all agreed—and we also agreed before you passed your first set of bills—that the mass transportation industry was in bad shape. Therefore, when Senate Bill No. 753, Senate Bill No. 754 and Senate Bill No. 755 came up, I had enough sense to vote against them. I said that once you started raiding this Highway Fund, there would never be an end to it.

Saturday, a week ago, I attended my nephew's wedding and reception. Some people who own large cab companies throughout western Pennsylvania, traipsed all over Pittsburgh trying to find out where the wedding and reception were taking place. As I came out, they gathered me in their clutches and told me they were coming down to Harrisburg on Monday. One fellow was from Erie, one fellow was from Crawford and one fellow was from Lawrence, and they told me that if the buses were exempt, the cab companies wanted to be exempt.

We predicted that situation on the floor just a few weeks ago. Of course, here in the Senate, you attempted to take the buses out. I will say, however, there are a few Members in the House who have some sense. They killed those bills. Then, some of your friends, the hobby-lobby boys, came in the other day and said that the Republicans had sort of agreed with them that they would bring out the bill cutting the bus license fee down to ten dollars if I could promise that Mr. Readinger would not get up and attack the Republicans for taking a penny off the gasoline tax. I said, "Gentlemen, you offend my intelligence." I said, "You bring the bill out, and since you said that to me, Mr. Readinger will do twice the job on you that he probably would have if you would have just brought the bill out in its regular form."

Therefore, Mr. President, the door is opened, which is what you did a few years ago with the machinery tax, and that is the reason this bill is before us now. Once you open the doors with your bills, as you did a few weeks ago in trying to undo the wrong you did on the school bus bills,—and the same thing happened on that—there is no closing them.

I think Senator Fleming, when he started his speech, inferred that I had intimated there was no room for expansion of industry in Allegheny County. I do not know how he arrived at that from what I said earlier. We just have lots of territory out there and industry is coming in.

If you are thinking of Pittsburgh and Allegheny County, I want to tell you there is another bill on the Calendar tonight, namely, House Bill No. 1722. That is the one in which you are going to try to raise the taxes by three-quarter mills on the people of Pittsburgh. Pittsburgh, as you all should know, has received international publicity on the great redevelopment job it has done. I just want to say with respect to House Bill No. 1722, one thing these developers do is come in and watch the real estate tax. I never heard any of them ask about the machinery tax. They watch the real estate tax.

Regarding what Senator Fleming had to say tonight about what these various industries wrote, that is just one man writing; that is no contract. None of those agreements are in the bill. Why, if they are sincere, do they not write it into the bill? Why do you not do the same thing which even John Fine made you do when you passed the bill before? Governor Fine made you pass the bill a second time. He said, "You will not make this effective while I am Governor." I am just going to take it upon myself to say the same thing for Governor Leader. If you want to pass this bill, which you are going to do, you better make the effective date after Governor Leader goes out of office.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, since Senator Mahany took the trouble to check on the city of Titusville and Westmoreland County, and talked about the increased assessments, I might say to him that that was brought about, primarily, due to the fact that they had increased the assessments on the common people of Westmoreland County and Washington County also. I dare say the same thing exists in Titusville.

Throughout this Session, Mr. President, I have heard the Majority Leader make some sarcastic references in regard to the Governor. Therefore, Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Crawford, Senator Mahany.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Crawford, Mr. Mahany, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. MAHANY. You can ask two for the same price.

The PRESIDENT. You can ask two for the same price.

Mr. LANE. I am not looking for bargains today. I just want to ask you one question.

It seems that throughout this Session, you have teed off now and then on the Governor. Do you have a personal dislike for Governor Leader?

Mr. MAHANY. No, personally I think he is a grand fellow. I am afraid to get in his clutches at times down at the Executive Mansion, because he tries to work on me and tries to make me do a lot of things that I would not otherwise do.

Mr. LANE. Thank you, that clarifies one thought in my mind. I wanted to have that clarified because you seem vicious every time you take the floor and speak of the Governor.

Mr. President, I now desire to interrogate the gentleman from Allegheny, the Mayor of Duquesne, Senator Koprivier.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Koprivier, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. KOPRIVER, JR. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. LANE. Senator Koprivier, are you familiar with the Third Class City Assessment Act?

Mr. KOPRIVER, JR. Yes, I am.

Mr. LANE. Can you tell me the average assessment you have today in your county? What is your assessment? What is the percentage of assessment to market value, as far as your city is concerned?

Mr. KOPRIVER, JR. About seventy per cent.

Mr. LANE. What is your assessment on industry in comparison with market value?

Mr. KOPRIVER, JR. I do not have any idea. I cannot answer that.

Mr. LANE. Do you have any remote idea? Can you guess?

Mr. KOPRIVER, JR. I can guess as well as you can, but I am not going to guess.

Mr. LANE. Since you are the Mayor, I thought you were familiar with the functions of assessed valuation on industry in your particular city.

What was the budget for the city of Duquesne for this last fiscal year?

Mr. KOPRIVER, JR. One-half million dollars.

Mr. LANE. All right, what was your real estate millage?

Mr. KOPRIVER, JR. Sixteen mills.

Mr. LANE. What was the millage for your school district?

Mr. KOPRIVER, JR. The school district millage was eighteen mills.

Mr. LANE. You then have a thirty-four mill assessment in your city, is that correct? Do you anticipate any reduction in your assessed valuation if machinery is exempted in the city of Duquesne?

Mr. KOPRIVER, JR. No, I do not.

Mr. LANE. You do not anticipate any reduction whatsoever, not even in view of the fact that as of the first Monday I believe of the fiscal year commencing in 1958, twenty per cent of the assessed valuation on machinery shall be reduced. Do you still not anticipate any reduction in your assessed valuation?

Mr. KOPRIVER, JR. I do not expect to have any reduction.

Mr. LANE. How do you expect to beat the problem of a loss of twenty per cent on machinery? What are you going to do?

Mr. KOPRIVER, JR. Senator Lane, I am opposed to this bill.

Mr. LANE. I understand that you are, but I—

Mr. KOPRIVER, JR. Wait just a minute. I have to clarify myself just a little.

Unfortunately or fortunately, I am the Mayor of Duquesne, as you already stated on the floor. I attended a meeting of United States Steel, at which they offered to compromise and offered to pay the tax on all the present machinery in the Duquesne works, disregarding the twenty per cent reduction starting as of next year. Therefore, I do not expect to have any change in our figures, as far as machinery is concerned, involving the city of Duquesne in 1958.

Mr. LANE. Senator Koprivier, I take it that you feel industry is going to make up that twenty per cent. In other words, they are going to pay their full tax, is that correct?

Mr. KOPRIVER, JR. That is what they tell us. I believe they will keep their word and that is all I can say to you.

Mr. LANE. Did you notice, on page 7, line 20, that this Act shall become effective immediately upon final enactment? Did you notice that?

Mr. KOPRIVER, JR. Yes, I noticed that.

Mr. LANE. Do you understand there is nothing binding on United States Steel or any other corporation to pay this tax?

Mr. KOPRIVER, JR. I know that I am opposed to this bill.

Mr. LANE. I understand you are, but I just wanted to make this clear.

Mr. KOPRIVER, JR. I understand it as well as you do.

Mr. LANE. Thank you, sir.

Mr. President, I desire to interrogate anyone who would care to be interrogated on this particular bill. I would like to talk to someone about what constitutes machinery, what constitutes equipment, what is going to be assessed and why the bill is needed right now if they are going to pay the tax.

Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Allegheny, Senator Fleming.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Fleming, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. FLEMING. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. LANE. Senator Fleming, in reading over the provisions of this bill, I wonder if you could explain to me what would constitute machinery, according to the provisions of this bill. What is machinery? What does it consist of?

Mr. FLEMING. Machinery would consist of those things which would not be real estate and which would be in the plants, such as the machines I would presume. I questioned several members of the Board of Assessment and Revision of Taxes in Allegheny County on that and I received varying answers about it. Some of them seem to think that quite a number of the things assessed as machinery, could be assessed as real estate, particularly those things wherein there were foundations connected with them, some of which at the present time are classified as machinery, but which certainly might go over into real estate.

Mr. LANE. Do you notice on page 3 of the Bill, starting on lines 7 and 8, that it says "machinery, tools, appliances and other equipment." I would like to have "machinery" and "tools" clarified. What would be tools and appliances?

Mr. FLEMING. To an ordinary laymen, like myself, tools would be the ordinary tools used in production. I certainly am not conversant enough with some of the types of manufacturing plants in order to tell you exactly what all appliances would be. However, I would presume they would be those which are not a part of permanent real estate.

Mr. LANE. How about "other equipment"? What would that be?

Mr. FLEMING. I would presume that would be a catch-all phrase which would take in anything that was not covered in the other definitions.

Mr. LANE. I wish to thank you. You have made a good case for us. You see, Mr. President, we are repeating the same thing we did four years ago. There is no definite clarification on this legislation. As a matter of fact, I think those who work with local governments fully realize that this is really one of the greatest deals that was ever put over.

As a matter of fact, Mr. President, I should not be up here battling this legislation. The good Senators from Allegheny County took it upon themselves to pass this unto Washington County and all of the smaller counties. As a matter of right and justice, however, I feel what is actually going to happen is that your school districts in Allegheny County, excluding the city of Pittsburgh, are going to have re-assessments. As most of you know, there is a probation as far as the assessment of machinery is concerned on the city of Pittsburgh. I think it went into effect back in 1927 or 1928. If you take the districts such as Carbon, Duquesne, Homestead, West Mifflin and all the industrialized districts,—we had the experience and I speak from experience—what you are going to have is a re-assessment in those districts. They are going to try to increase the assessments, which will probably mean an increase in your school millage in order to make up the difference. It takes money to operate governments; there is no substitute. It is also going to mean they will utilize the provisions of Act No. 481. They will have to do it in every school district in order to supplement for this loss. I see they are doing it gradually. They are going to take twenty per cent off this year and twenty per cent off next year. Then I think they are going to take the whole load off by 1962. They are giving it to you in small doses. That is the story in a nutshell and you people should realize it.

I do not believe I am going to get any votes from the other side. However, I am telling you what I know from experience. You have to do it. You are going to have to increase your assessments. It is going to be, as Senator Dent said, a burden on the poor people. You are going to have to increase the millage. It is not going to hurt your county budgets too much because the increased assessments, locally, are going to supplement, but where it is going to hurt is in your school districts.

I venture to say that you people will be back in a few years asking for some sort of relief. I will give credit to Governor Fine. When we battled this bill here on the floor, four years ago, Governor Fine told me that we were not putting it into effect for two years in order for us to have the school districts prepared. That is the reason why we received that postponement. We have to give Governor Fine credit.

If you pass this bill, I will ask the Governor, myself, to demand that there shall be an outright two year postponement in order to have these school districts prepared. It is going to hit the little people. I am not going to argue about how it is going to benefit business. It may and it may not. If business were so concerned about tax relief, they would not have written these letters and told you that they were going to supplement any deficit you might have. It seems silly to me. I do not believe industry is going to object if you have a postponement of the effective date of this bill for two, three or four years.

I cannot say any more, because it is useless to talk. You people over there have your minds made up. Senator Koprivier said he is going to vote against this bill because he is opposed to it. However, it seems peculiar. You are still making sure there are twenty-six votes on the other side.

Mr. MALLERY. Mr. President, during the debate, I recalled that before the Owens-Corning Fiber Glass Corporation, now located in Huntingdon, decided to locate there, they told the members of the Chamber of Commerce that they first wanted to find out and learn about State taxes on industry in Pennsylvania. I was requested by the Chamber of Commerce to meet with several of the officers of the company and they were satisfied, and they located in Huntingdon. I know that my people in Huntingdon are doing everything they can to bring industry into Huntingdon. The Owens-Corning Fiber Glass Corporation is possibly the latest industry to come into Huntingdon. The people of Huntingdon are mighty pleased that they have this splendid company doing business there.

I further want to make the observation, as everyone knows, that we are endeavoring in Blair County, likewise, to bring in industry. We have a large Chamber of Commerce. Over the past several years, some six or seven good industries have located there. Every one of the industries which have located in Blair County first wanted to know what the tax structure was and how they would be treated if they would come there.

Mr. President, I respect the opinions of my friends on the Democratic side of the Senate. However, my philosophy has always been that it is better for everyone to have a job, who wants to work, in order for him not only to support his family, but it is better to have a job than to have no job. If he has a job, he can support himself and his family and that is much better than having no job at all.

Mr. KOPRIVER, JR. Mr. President, I rise in place to oppose this bill. The Members of the Senate have heard Senator Lane interrogate me sometime ago. However, I want to remind Senator Lane, and this entire Senate, that I have opposed this bill from the very beginning, from its inception. I knew I would be reminded that I voted four years ago to take the tax off machinery in the entire Commonwealth, except Allegheny County. I knew that. Yet, I also know that if we build a barrier around Allegheny County, we are not going to help Allegheny County either.

I want to remind the Members of the Senate that Allegheny County is a county of the Second Class. The Allegheny County Commissioners and the Bureau of Assessment have control of the assessments in the entire county, except in the city of Clairton and the city of McKeesport. In Duquesne, we turned over our assessments some years ago. It was the experience of the men in Pittsburgh, in the Bureau of Assessment, that engineers could make a far better assessment of machinery than the men could from the city of Duquesne. However, in Pittsburgh, in the Bureau of Assessment, they did no different than we did in Duquesne. They took the assessment which the steel company placed on machinery until recently, when they hired an outside firm.

Mr. President, I realize it is going to cause a lot of concern. I worried about it because I have more industry in my District than in any other part of Allegheny County. I cannot say in the Commonwealth because the rest of it, of course, is exempt from the machinery tax.

I want to read into the record a telegram which I received just the other day:

"Dear Sir:

"Please be reminded that on May 15, 1957, at a public meeting held by the County Commissioners of Allegheny County for the purpose of discussing House Bill No. 797, defining real estate subject to assessment for local taxation, at which meeting there were present representatives of industry in Allegheny County and representatives of some 44 municipalities and school districts of Allegheny County that would be greatly affected by House Bill No. 797, the said municipalities and school districts registered publicly their opposition to said bill on the principal ground that it would severely cripple them financially and as an alternative to said bill, passed the following resolution: That House Bill No. 797 be turned over to the Joint State Government Commission for further study with public hearings to be held on the said bill in the interim, and that the said Commission then make its report and recommendations to the next Session of the Legislature. The following taxing bodies so voted: West Mifflin Borough and School District, Glassport Borough and School District, West Homestead Borough and School District, Duquesne City and School District, Swissvale Borough and School District, Harrison Township, Homestead Borough and School District, Collier Township, Neville Township, East Pittsburgh Borough and School District, Turtle Creek Borough and School District, North Braddock Borough and School District, Rankin Borough and School District, Port Vue Borough and School District, and the cities of Clairton and McKeesport and their school districts."

This telegram is signed by Daniel J. Lapp, Jr., Burgess of Homestead; and John J. McLean, Jr., Solicitor, Homestead Borough and School District.

Mr. President, I read this telegram into the record because, at that time, I had hoped we could convince the Members of the Senate and the Committee, where the bill was before it came to the Senate, to have such a study. I know that when such a change in assessment comes about in such a big hurry, there is always the problem of "haste makes waste." There is always a question in somebody's mind that someone is getting away with something or, you might say, "Something is rotten in Denmark." I have heard that back home.

I am opposed to this bill because I think it has been done in haste. I might say tonight that I am glad to see Mayor Stilley, of the city of Clairton, here. He also is very much opposed to the bill. After I received a wire from him, I again tried to check and double check back home over the week end. This is the first telegram I received since the steel company offered the compromise about which I told you, as far as Duquesne is concerned. I have no official communication except this one from Mayor Kenneth L. Stilley, of the city of Clairton, opposing the compromise. I have no official communication from even the city of Duquesne, of which I am Mayor, accepting the compromise. I know more from what I read in the newspapers than I do from my District.

Therefore, Mr. President, I still think it would be much better to have this whole problem turned over to the Joint State Government Commission for further study. The change in assessment, in my mind, can cause chaos. It is not that I do not trust industry, but in my District, in the city of Duquesne, for instance, the only plant there is United States Steel, from one end of the community to the other end of the community. In Clairton, besides United States Steel, they have other plants. I understand the other industries have not made the same compromise. How do we know what they are going to offer in the way of a compromise as far as the assessment is concerned?

Therefore, Mr. President, I am asking and pleading with the Republican Members of the Senate to vote against House Bill No. 797 for the good of the industrial valley of the Monongahela.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Allegheny, Senator Koprivier.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Koprivier, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. KOPRIVER, JR. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. DENT. Senator Koprivier, since you are against this bill, and for very good reasons, would you suggest that the Governor should veto the bill?

Mr. KOPRIVER, JR. I am very glad you brought that up, Senator Dent. Thank you very much. I have petitions on my desk, containing a thousand names, to present to Governor Leader, and I am going over to the Governor and ask him to veto the bill.

Mr. DENT. Thank you very kindly.

That, to me, is the essence of good legislative ability. Senator Koprivier now is going to ask the Governor to veto the bill on behalf of the Republican Party.

Mr. MCGINNIS. Mr. President, I am very sad tonight because I am in the middle here. I have stood on this floor for nineteen years and have denounced any machinery tax or a tax on anything which is made by the hand. However, tonight I am in a different position.

Mr. President, I would like to get down on my knees and vote for this bill, but I am the County Chairman of Allegheny County. I have held that office for eighteen years. I am against machinery taxes. I would go further than that if I had my say, but I do not have my say. I would never tax a thing which is made by the hand.

I had intended voting for this bill until today when all the Democrats from the Monongahela Valley came down here and pressed me. Let me tell you that I ran for County Chairman, I received every single vote on that ballot. However, as I said, I am now in the middle. Everyone of those souls who were down here today turned every vote over to me. As much as I dislike doing it, I am going to bury my conscience in my shoes here tonight and vote against this bill.

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I have always known that being a Democratic County Chairman or even being a Democrat has its disadvantages, but tonight is the first time it became so apparent.

Mr. SCHMIDT. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Allegheny, Senator Fleming.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Fleming, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. FLEMING. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. SCHMIDT. Mr. Fleming, about a month ago I believe you appeared on a television panel, at which the subject contained in House Bill No. 797 was discussed.

Mr. FLEMING. That is correct.

Mr. SCHMIDT. If I recall correctly, you took a position in favor of House Bill No. 797.

Mr. FLEMING. That is correct.

Mr. SCHMIDT. Is it not a fact, Mr. Fleming, that approximately a week later you and Senator Koprivier presented Senate Resolution, Serial No. 33, which I shall read:

"Resolved, That the Joint State Government Commission make a thorough and complete study of the practice of including the value of machinery in a mill or manufactory in real estate tax assessments in counties of the second class, giving attention to all questions and problems involved in the practice, and be it further

"Resolved, That the Joint State Government Commission make a report of its study and findings, together with its recommendations, for appropriate legislation to the next General Assembly."

Was that your thinking at the time of the introduction of this resolution?

Mr. FLEMING. I was a co-sponsor of that resolution. That is correct, Senator.

Mr. SCHMIDT. Mr. Fleming, what has occurred since the introduction of this resolution which has made you change your feeling in so far as the advisability of having this matter studied by the Joint State Government Commission and reported back to the next Session of the Legislature?

Mr. FLEMING. Senator, the county commissioners had a meeting sometime in May, at which representatives of the various taxing bodies, the township commissioners, the borough councils and the school districts, appeared. The county commissioners, prior to that meeting, had publicly stated they had no opposition to the bill and it was perfectly all right to go ahead.

At that meeting, the representatives who appeared raised very great protests over the enactment of this measure. I believe at that time or several days later, the county commissioners completely reversed themselves and said they were withdrawing their support of the measure.

The big companies, if you please, United States Steel, Westinghouse, Pittsburgh Plate Glass, The Blaw-Knox

Steel Company,—there were several others, but they were the main ones—immediately sent representatives of their companies around to visit with the various taxing bodies and outlined to those taxing bodies what industry was willing to do and set forth their position; that they would not permit any of the communities in which they operated to suffer by virtue of the removal of this machinery tax. They satisfied the majority of those taxing bodies that they did not have anything to fear with the enactment of this tax. For that reason, I again changed my mind and decided this was the time to enact the measure.

Mr. SCHMIDT. Mr. Fleming, what evidence did you have that the majority of those communities, to which they spoke, were in accord with the solution which was offered by these companies and that they were willing to abide by the same?

Mr. FLEMING. I read several letters into the record tonight. I do not know where they are just now. I gave them to someone for the record. I remember some of them very distinctly, however.

The Burgess of Blawnox—a Democrat, incidentally, and a very fine gentleman—called me long distance and said that the Blawnox taxing bodies were absolutely satisfied that the Blaw-Knox Steel Company would see to it that they lost nothing in the way of revenue. The School District of Harrison Township advised the Allegheny Ludlum Steel Company that they were perfectly satisfied with their proposition. The township commissioners of Harrison Township did not do that.

Senator, I am very glad you asked me that question, because Henry Lamparski, a Democrat and a very fine gentleman, speaking for the township commissioners of Harrison, said they could not go along with the proposition. I know why Henry Lamparski could not go along. He works for Jim Knox, the County Controller of Allegheny County.

Senator Barr certainly misunderstood me when I said that he said there was not room for expansion in Allegheny County. If I inferred that to you, Senator Barr, I did not mean you, sir. I meant the County Controller of Allegheny County, one James Knox, who stated in the public press that there was no room in Allegheny County for expansion. Henry Lamparski works for him, and I can understand why, in the interest of protecting what in my opinion was a most foolish stand taken by the County Controller,—that there was no room for expansion—Henry, being a good and loyal employee of his, could not see his way clear to accept an eminently fair proposition given to them by the Allegheny Ludlum Steel Company.

Mr. SCHMIDT. Senator Fleming, you are also aware of the fact that your associate, Senator Koprivier, knew of this offer. In fact, his city had been made this same offer and his city had not accepted this offer, is that correct?

Mr. FLEMING. That is correct.

Mr. SCHMIDT. You knew that the other third class city, Clairton, of which Kenneth L. Stilley is Mayor, did not accept the offer, is that correct?

Mr. FLEMING. That is correct.

Mr. SCHMIDT. You knew that the third class city in Allegheny County, McKeesport, of which Andrew J. Jakomas is Mayor, did not accept the offer, is that correct?

Mr. FLEMING. That is correct.

Mr. SCHMIDT. Mr. Fleming, what binding effect, legal effect, would such an offer have in so far as the governing authority of these municipalities is concerned?

Mr. FLEMING. I do not believe there would be any legal, binding effect. I cannot quote verbatim but I can quote, in effect, what the County Solicitor of Allegheny County, Nathaniel K. Beck, said; that there is no agreement they could make which would be binding on them. He said he would stake his opinion that in no instance would any of these industries go back on their word and he felt the communities could take the word of industry, that the word given to them would be kept.

Mr. SCHMIDT. Mr. Fleming, could these same municipal authorities, both borough and school, using these written promises of these companies, go out and borrow moneys based upon any assessment that might have been represented by these so-called machinery assessments?

Mr. FLEMING. Senator, I do not think they are going to have to borrow money. I have every confidence in the agreements which they said would be kept. They kept them in the other counties.

Mr. SCHMIDT. Mr. Fleming, you misconstrued my question. You know these municipalities find it necessary at times to sell local bonds for certain improvements and certain expansions. Their right to borrow this money is based upon an assessment, a legal assessment on the books. If we pass House Bill No. 797 and remove the machinery tax twenty per cent each year for five years, the last half of which there will be no assessment, will these municipal bodies, whether they be school, borough, township or third class cities, be able legally to borrow against these wiped out machinery assessments?

Mr. FLEMING. I would say that certainly their borrowing power is going to be based, as you stated, Senator, on the legal assessment. Big industry has agreed that they can move those present assessments right over into real estate and there will be no objection raised, sir.

Mr. SCHMIDT. Have you any assurances, Senator Fleming, from Continental Can, General Motors, Reliance Steel or Fort Pitt Steel?

Mr. FLEMING. I do not.

Mr. SCHMIDT. That is all, Mr. Fleming.

Mr. President, tonight takes me back approximately eight years, to the dying moments of the 1949 Session, when I was a Member of the House. We had a similar situation when we were called upon to save the Westinghouse Company from the great unemployment compensation assessment, which was known at that time as the Westinghouse raid on the Unemployment Compensation Fund.

Those of us sitting here tonight realize what a situation developed here a few years ago, when the state of the Unemployment Compensation Fund became so precarious that it became necessary by reason of that depletion in the fund to raise the contribution employers pay into the Unemployment Compensation Fund. This affected the State generally.

Here tonight, gentlemen, we find a situation where it is so imperative and so important to this Commonwealth that we act upon House Bill No. 797 that we even have to take it out of order. It is called up out of order in the sense of a Special Order of Business. It is so important to the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, and yet it affects only the people of Allegheny County.

Members of the Senate, this bill was introduced in this Session and became quite a live issue following publication of the findings of the Pennsylvania Economy League, from which the County Commissioners of Allegheny County, on first blush, felt that it might be possible to eliminate this tax at this time and yet not cause the chaotic financial conditions that all of these boroughs, townships and third class cities in Allegheny County are so fearful of and for which we have representatives in this hall asking us to defeat this bill. The findings even state there will be a chaotic condition created, but also state there are certain ways it can be alleviated. Among those was a suggestion that we might increase real estate assessments. It is the thought of the Members of the Senate that we in Pennsylvania and out in Allegheny County, in order to alleviate this tax by taking it away from machinery, shall increase our land assessments out there and place the burden on the average home owner?

There was also a suggestion stated that there would be a great financial condition develop in the school districts of Allegheny County. Again the suggestion was made that the school districts would be in a position to go to the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and ask for increased subsidies. Mind you, here we have House Bill No. 183 on the Calendar, in which Pittsburgh has asked for a little bit of relief from assessing an additional tax on the property owners of Pittsburgh, and then they propose to say that if you take this machinery tax off, you are going to be able to go back to the Commonwealth and the Commonwealth is going to give you sufficient funds to operate your school districts. If any of you who are sitting here this evening accept that, you are more gullible than I thought any of you would be.

The plain matter of fact is that we, in Allegheny County, are just as anxious to have industry in Allegheny County as anyone in any of the other sixty-six counties of the Commonwealth. We do not want to drive industry out of Allegheny County. However, industry has been in Allegheny County for many years and industry in Allegheny County has been paying the tax. All of a sudden this becomes a live issue. It is so live and it is so necessary that even though industry says, "We will give you a gratuity,"—and that is all it is—there is nothing legal and binding behind these letters which have been written.

Let me tell you something. If any of these industries who have written to the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania today, making that offer, should by some means come into the control of some other group of banks who may control that industry, those bankers might say, "We are paying no attention whatsoever to a promise made by management before we came into control. The law says we do not have to pay the tax, and we do not intend to pay it." I do not say that will happen, but it could happen. If any community would rely upon a letter such as that for the money they require to operate governmental duties, and the schools to conduct their educational program, there must be something wrong with the heads of those municipalities. It is just not right. They have no right to accept such an arrangement. The only arrangement they can accept is that which is enacted into law by the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and none other.

If these industries are sincere and are very much interested in these communities, there is no reason why, if they are willing to continue paying their assessment, they cannot wait another two years and let the Joint State Government Commission make the study which is so necessary, and hear the representatives of these communities, hear the representatives of industry, hear the representatives of any branch of government and work something out. No, it has to be done now. They are willing to make any kind of an offer to have this done and you are only going to penalize the communities in western Pennsylvania.

Do you know we have communities out there which receive over sixty per cent of their borough, school, township or city taxes from the assessment of real estate? Again I repeat, they do not want to drive these industries out. They want to work something out. They want to sit down, not with a gun at their heads but as reasonable men and work out this program. They know it is not something to be decided just for today or tomorrow. It is something that affects their immediate future. They have reason to be fearful of what will happen to them if a bill such as this is passed.

I say to these representatives of industry, I say to those who are expounding their cause here on this floor, if you are really interested in those industries, and if you are really interested in the boroughs, townships, school districts and cities, you will vote this bill down and pass the resolution which was offered by Senator Fleming and Senator Koprivier, to see to it that a proper study is made of this entire program. It is not to be passed on lightly. It means a lot to those of us who live in Allegheny County.

My Senatorial District is highly industrialized. These people are very fearful. I had a call on Sunday from Mayor Jakomas, of McKeesport. I had a call from Burgess Jacobyansky, of Port Vue Borough, and then, of course, the other representatives who are here today. They are all pleading that this bill not be passed at this Session, and that they have an opportunity to work out this problem. Representatives of the C.I.O. and all branches of labor who work in our industries are fearful of this bill. They, too, ask that you handle this matter in the way it should be handled. Do not rush this thing through. It has only been thought of in the last three months and all this pressure has been put on us in the last couple of weeks.

The Commissioners of Allegheny County realize what the problem is and they have reversed the decision they took before and want this matter to be decided by an investigation, to be held by the Joint State Government Commission.

Therefore, give us that opportunity so that we, in Allegheny County, will not have to worry as to how we are going to be able to carry out all the functions of government in our various communities.

Mr. SARRAF. Mr. President, I have been listening to this discussion and it amazes me. I believe what Senator Fleming has read. I have asked the Mayor of Clairton, Mayor Stilley, whether he received any letters from these corporations, and the answer was "no."

Mr. President, I now desire to interrogate the gentleman from Allegheny, Senator Koprivier.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Koprivier, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. KOPRIVER, JR. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. SARRAF. Just one question, Senator. Have you received any letters from the corporations in your city?

Mr. KOPRIVER, JR. No, I have not.

Mr. SARRAF. You have not?

Mr. KOPRIVER, JR. No, I have not.

Mr. SARRAF. Thank you, Senator.

Mr. President, it would appear to me—and I have been around here many years, twenty-three years to be exact—there should not be any rush. This is a very important piece of legislation, and I would think the proper thing to do would be to write into this bill exactly what the corporations say, because I want to vote for the bill.

I do not know why Allegheny County should be in this predicament. However, it is peculiar to me that corporations would say to their boroughs or their respective areas, "You go right ahead. We will assume the tax and allow new industries to come in which will not have to pay the tax." It is a rather peculiar situation. I love our corporations, but it does not sound exactly right to me. Why do we not think about this? We have a couple of days yet. Why do we not amend this bill? Why do we not phrase it properly? It can be done. If they wish to assume the tax, let us put it in the bill. I want to vote for the bill and if you put it that way, I am sure the political subdivisions will go along with it.

I spoke to Mayor Stilley and he said, "If I am assured of this being in the bill, I will go along with the industries." If we do that, we avoid all this discussion and delay. Why do we not return it or hold it on the Calendar and amend the bill? If you amend it, we will vote for it, too.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I have said before that this Session has been a mockery on representative government and this bill proves it once again. It has not been more than three weeks ago since one of the gentlemen who was up speaking for this bill tonight, Senator Fleming, joined with Senator Koprivier in a resolution asking the Joint State Government Commission to study this bill and report back to the next Session of the Legislature. This is a new hobby-lobby. Where they came from, I do not know but I think someone should look into it. The old conflict of interest is here once again.

MOTION TO RECOMMIT BILL

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, in view of all the debate and the many suggestions which have been made, I feel it is proper for me to move that House Bill No. 797, Printer's No. 369, be recommitted to the Committee on Local Government. I so move, Mr. President.

Mr. SARRAF. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I also move that the resolution, sponsored by Senator Fleming and Senator Koprivier, directing the Joint State Government Commission to make a study of this particular problem—

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman yield?

Mr. LANE. I will, Mr. President.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman refrain from making a second motion at this time until his prior motion is acted upon?

Mr. LANE. Yes, Mr. President.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. LANE. I ask for a roll call, Mr. President.

Mr. DENT. I ask for a roll call, Mr. President.

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. LANE and Mr. DENT, and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—20

Barr,	Hays,	Miller,	Schmidt,
Camiel,	Kalman,	Mullin,	Seyler,
Dent,	Koprivier, Jr.,	Murray,	Silvert,
Derk,	Lane,	Ruth,	Stiefel,

			Yosko,

A majority of all the Senators having voted "aye," the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk return said bill to the House of Representatives with information that the Senate has passed the same without amendments.

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I rise to a question of parliamentary inquiry.

The PRESIDENT. The gentleman will state it.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I would like to find out from the Chair, through probably the Librarian, how we acted on the resolution offered by Senator Fleming and Senator Koprivier, calling on the Joint State Government Commission to study this problem. I think we passed it. If that is the case, I think we should rescind our action. I do not like to be as foolish as you men are. I would like to know what happened to the resolution.

The PRESIDENT. What is the number of the resolution?

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I do not have the number.
Mr. President, I have the answer to my question. The resolution went to committee. It has not been passed. Therefore, we will not have to rescind any action we have taken.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair would say the gentleman is correct. The resolution is still in the Committee on Local Government.

CONTROVERSIAL BILLS ON THIRD READING CALENDAR TO GO OVER IN ORDER

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I would suggest to the Minority side, if there are any bills on the Third Reading Calendar to which they have opposition, that they ask that the bills go over and we will do the same because we do not want to act on any other controversial bills tonight.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, it appears we are not going to act on too many bills tonight because all the bills I see on the Calendar, with the exception of two, are controversial.

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, as we go along, if they have objection to the bills, we will put them over in their order.

RECESS

The PRESIDENT. The Chair now declares a five minute recess of the Senate.

AFTER RECESS

The PRESIDENT. The time of recess having elapsed, the Senate will be in order.

THIRD READING CALENDAR

BILLS OVER IN ORDER

Mr. PECHAN. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that the following bills, on third reading, go over in their order:

SENATE BILL No. 468 CALLED UP

Mr. PECHAN. Mr. President, I call up, from page 11 of today's Third Reading Calendar, Senate Bill No. 468, Printer's No. 362, which went over in its order temporarily.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

BILL ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 468, entitled:

An Act amending the act of June 5, 1947 (P. L. 458) entitled as amended "Parking Authority Law" changing powers of parking authorities.

And said bill having been read at length the third time.

On the question,

"Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading?"

REQUEST THAT BILL GO OVER IN ORDER

Mr. PECHAN. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Senate Bill No. 468, Printer's No. 362, on third reading, go over in its order.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection?

Mr. SILVERT. Mr. President, if this were not a Senate Bill, I would gladly agree to it. However, if this bill is passed over in order until tomorrow, I am afraid there will not be enough legislative days for the House to pass it, after the Senate acts upon it.

The PRESIDENT. Perhaps we will stay longer than you thought.

MOTION TO READ BILL FOR THE THIRD TIME

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I move that this bill be read for the third time.

Mr. SILVERT. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I think a far better procedure would be to have this bill go over in its order. I think that would be better, rather than having the bill read for the third time.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I think my motion takes precedence over Senator Pechan's motion.

Mr. MAHANY. That is right.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, may I just say this to the Majority Leader. If you are going to kill the bill, like you killed a previous bill tonight, by the slow process of not sending it over to the House, why not act like gentlemen over there and move that the bill be recommitted or dropped from the Calendar? Let us be men about this thing.

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, Senator Barr has made a motion and if he will withdraw it, I will make a motion according to any way he wishes. I will move to either drop the bill from the Calendar or recommit it.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I do not fall for traps like that. I made a motion that the bill be read for the third time.

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I cannot very well make the motion suggested by Senator Barr unless he withdraws his motion.

We will vote on Senator Barr's motion first. I will ask my colleagues to vote "no."

And the question recurring,
Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. BARR. I ask for a roll call, Mr. President.

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. BARR, and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—21

Barr,	Kalman,	Mullin,	Seyler,
Camiel,	Lane,	Murray,	Silvert,
Dent,	McGinnis,	Ruth,	Stiefel,
Derk,	McMenamin,	Sarra,	Weiner,

Elliott,	Madigan,	Taylor,	Whalley,
Flack,	Mahany,	Van Sant,	Wolfe,
Fleming,	Mallery,	Wade,

So the question was determined in the negative.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion that the bill go over in its order?

MOTION TO DROP BILL FROM CALENDAR

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I now move that Senate Bill No. 468, Printer's No. 362, be dropped from the Calendar.

Mr. PECHAN. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. SILVERT. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Crawford, Senator Mahany.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Crawford, Mr. Mahany, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. MAHANY. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. SILVERT. Senator Mahany, will you state for the record why the Republican Caucus is opposed to the passage of Senate Bill No. 468?

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I do not know about the Republican Caucus, but there are those who feel that Senate Bill No. 468 is not advisable at this time because it would interfere with private enterprise in these cities. There are private gasoline stations and people who sell various commodities, used by the motorists, who should not be in competition with the authority-type garage. At this particular time, they feel that would be unfair competition. Therefore, this bill is not advisable.

Mr. SILVERT. Mr. President, I want to thank the Majority Leader for his statement. However, I say it is not based on the wording of the bill.

Under Senate Bill No. 468, we have authorities created. Authorities are self-liquidating. They issue bonds, and the rate of interest they pay on bonds depends on the estimate by the banks as to how well those bonds are protected.

As far as interfering with private business is concerned, it certainly is contrary to the provisions of the bill. The bill states: "the authority shall have the power to lease portions of the street level or lower floors of the parking facilities for . . . the sale of gasoline . . . emergency automobile repair and . . . car wash and lubrication." That surely does not interfere with private business. It is not the authority which will conduct this business. It will be a lessee or a private individual. How they figure that this will be competition with private business is hard to understand.

Supposing there were somebody next door who performed services of that kind. Would they say that the parking authority should not be located where it is because there is a service station alongside which will lubricate or wash your car, or make emergency repairs? There certainly is no logic in their position that this will be an interference with private business. It simply gives a private individual the right to conduct that business under lease from the authority.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, this bill has been discussed for quite some time. I believe if the Majority Leader will look on page 4, he will find, starting on line 4, that the bill says:

"The Authority shall not have the power to engage directly in the sale of gasoline the sale of automobile accessories automobile repair and service or any other garage service except emergency automobile repair service and shall not engage directly in the sale of any commodity of trade or commerce."

Mr. President, that amendment was inserted in the bill to keep the automobile associations happy. I talked with former Senator Pitko on this bill and, for the information of the older Members on the Republican side, Senator Pitko is now engaged and works with the Philadelphia Parking Authority. In view of the amendment which was placed in Senate Bill No. 468, we thought it was acceptable to everybody. Frankly, the way the bill is written, they do not engage directly in competition with private enterprise.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I remember when we had this same argument concerning Allegheny County some years ago. For the information of the gentlemen on the Republican side of the Senate, the only place these parking garages are being erected is in the central part of a business area. If you have one side of an entire block where it is dark at night and where there is no business during the day, you will kill the enterprises on the other side of the street.

Therefore, Mr. President, I do not think the gentlemen fully understand the bill. I think our agreement earlier was that we would not bring up anything controversial. I would suggest that the gentleman withdraw his motion and that the bill go over in order until we can have a full scale debate on this matter.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

MOTION TO DROP BILL FROM CALENDAR WITHDRAWN

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I withdraw my motion to have this bill dropped from the Calendar.

Mr. PECHAN. Mr. President, I withdraw my second to the motion.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion that the bill go over in its order?

The motion was agreed to.

TO DISCHARGE COMMITTEE ON LABOR AND INDUSTRY FROM FURTHER CONSIDERATION OF SENATE BILL No. 195

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to offer resolutions at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. BARR, on behalf of Mr. DENT offered the following resolution which was twice read as follows:

In the Senate, June 17, 1957.

Resolved, That Senate Bill No. 195, entitled "An Act compelling common carriers by railroad to man locomotives, trains and other self-propelled engines or machines with competent employes; providing for the minimum number and qualifications of men so employed and providing penalties" having been referred to the Committee on Labor and Industry on February 12, 1957 and the committee not having reported the same to the Senate for a period of over ten days, the committee is discharged from further consideration thereof.

On the question,

Will the Senate adopt the resolution?

MOTION TO ADOPT DISCHARGE RESOLUTION

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I move that the Senate adopt the resolution just read by the Clerk.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

The roll was called and was as follows:

YEAS—21

Barr,	Kalman,	Mullin,	Seyler,
Camel,	Lane,	Murray,	Silvert,
Dent,	McGinnis,	Ruth,	Stiefel,

On the question,

Will the Senate adopt the resolution?

MOTION TO ADOPT DISCHARGE RESOLUTION

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I move that the Senate adopt the resolution just read by the Clerk.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

The roll was called and was as follows:

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

MONDAY, June 17, 1957

The House met at 10:00 a. m. EST.

The SPEAKER (W. Stuart Helm) in the Chair.

PRAYER

Reverend William F. Woods, Pastor of the Grace Evangelical United Brethren Church, Lemoyne, guest Chaplain and guest of the Speaker, offered the following prayer:

Almighty God, Who hast inspired our forefathers with courage of conviction and the power to see it through, grant that we may in our day be led into the truth and be given those qualities which will enable us to do the truth. May we be conscious of the empowering of Thy Spirit this day, that with conscientious devotion we may work for the good of all our people. We pray through Him who loved us, and gave His life to save us. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVAL POSTPONED

The SPEAKER. If there is no objection, the approval of the Journal for Friday, June 14, 1957 will be postponed until printed.

The Chair hears none.

COMMUNICATION FROM GOVERNOR

The Secretary to the Governor being introduced, presented a communication in writing from His Excellency the Governor, which was read as follows:

VETO OF HOUSE BILL No. 319

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania
Governor's Office, Harrisburg, June 14, 1957.

To the Honorable, the House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

I return herewith, without my approval, House Bill No. 319, Printer's No. 520, entitled "An Act amending the act of May 28, 1937 (P. L. 1053) entitled 'An act relating to the regulation of public utilities defining as public utilities certain corporations companies associations and persons providing for the regulation of public utilities including to a limited extent municipalities engaging in public utility business by prescribing defining and limiting their duties powers and liabilities and regulating the exercise surrender or abandonment of their powers privileges and franchises defining and regulating contract carriers by motor vehicle and brokers in order to regulate effectively common carriers by motor vehicle conferring upon the Pennsylvania Public Utility Commission the power and duty of supervising and regulating persons associations companies and corporations including to a limited extent municipal corporations subject to this act and administering the provisions of this act authorizing the commission to fix temporary rates placing the burden of proof on public utilities to sustain their rates and certain other matters authorizing a permissive or mandatory sliding scale method of regulating rates providing for the supervision of financial and contractual relations between public utilities and affiliated interests and supervision and regulation of accounts and securities or obligations issued assumed or kept by persons associations companies corporations or municipal corporations subject to this act conferring upon the commission power to vary reform or revise certain contracts conferring upon the commission the exclusive power to regulate or order the construction alteration relocation protection or abolition of crossings of facilities of public utilities and of such facilities by or over public highways to appropriate property for the construction or improvement of such crossings and to award or apportion resultant costs and damages authorizing owners of such property to sue the Commonwealth for such damages providing for ejectment proceedings in connection with the appropriation of property for crossings conferring upon the commission power to control and regulate budgets of public utilities imposing upon persons associations companies and corporations (except municipal corporations) subject to regulation the cost of administering this act prescribing and regulating practice and procedure before the commission and procedure for review by the courts of commission action giving the court of common pleas of Dauphin County exclusive jurisdiction over certain proceedings prescribing penalties fines and imprisonment for violations of the provisions of this act and regulations and orders of the commission and the procedure for enforcing such fines and penalties with repealing legislation supplied and superseded by or inconsistent with this act' providing additional standards for the determination of rates of common carriers by motor vehicle."

This bill would amend the Public Utility Law by establishing additional standards for the determination of rates of common carriers by motor vehicles. It authorizes the Public Utility Commission to take into consideration the motor carrier's need for revenue of a level which under honest, efficient and economical management is sufficient to cover the cost (including all operating expenses, depreciations, reserves, amortization accruals, rents and taxes of every kind) of providing adequate transportation service plus a reasonable profit to the carrier. The relation of carrier expenses to carrier revenue may be deemed the proper test of a reasonable profit.

The focus of the present public utility law allows utilities a reasonable return on their capital investment. This amendment would inject into the law a new concept, disruptive of established patterns of uniformity; that is, a concept of operating ratio, wherein a return is allowed on gross revenues rather than on invested capital. This would permit a utility to place itself in a most advantageous tax position by writing off large items of depreciation on its equipment and, at the same time, use these inflated depreciation figures as a basis on which its fair return shall be computed. The inequity to the rate payers in this Commonwealth of such a provision need only be mentioned to be appreciated.

For these reasons, the bill is not approved.

GEORGE M. LEADER.

COMMUNICATION AND BILL LAID ON TABLE

Mr. STRAUSSER. Mr. Speaker, I move that the communication from the Governor together with the bill be laid on the table.

The motion was agreed to.

EDITORIALS AND REMARKS STRICKEN FROM RECORD

Reading of editorials by Mr. RIGBY and Mr. ANDREWS together with the remarks by Mr. RIGBY, Mr. ANDREWS and Mr. GOLDSTEIN stricken from the record, pursuant to motion by Mr. ANDREWS.

SENATE MESSAGE

SENATE BILLS FOR CONCURRENCE

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced, presented for concurrence, bills numbered and entitled as follows:

SENATE BILL No. 59.

An Act authorizing the inspectors of weights and measures in cities of the first class to test all instruments and devices used in weighing or measuring of serviced commodities.

Referred to the Committee on Cities—Counties First, Second and Second Class A.

SENATE BILL No. 255.

An Act amending the act of March 10, 1949 (P. L. 30) entitled "Public School Code of 1949)" increasing the amount to be paid to school districts for board and lodging of pupils in lieu of reimbursement for pupil transportation.

Referred to the Committee on Education.

SENATE BILL No. 784.

An Act requiring that all meetings of boards of trustees of State Teachers Colleges and state-owned colleges and universities shall be open to the public and prescribing penalties.

Referred to the Committee on Education.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE OF CONFERENCE ON SENATE BILL No. 75

Mr. OGILVIE. Mr. Speaker, I present the report of the Committee of Conference on Senate Bill No. 75.

The SPEAKER. This being a Senate Bill, the report will lie over for printing by the Senate.

PART OF RULES 26 AND 76 SUSPENDED

Mr. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, I move that that part of House Rule 26 and House Rule 76 requiring that bills amended by the Senate Message for Concurrence and Conference Reports be placed on the calendar before consideration by the House be suspended for the balance of this regular session for the specific purpose of expediting the work of the session.

The motion was agreed to by more than a Constitutional majority.

The SPEAKER. The Chair would inform the Members that this same action has been taken by the Senate for the purpose of expediting the business of the session after messages between the two Houses.

MOTION TO STRIKE FROM RECORD

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, it is my opinion that the reading of the editorials and the colloquy that followed have no proper place in the business of the House; the most that should have been requested was leave to print.

I therefore move that the reading of the editorials and the colloquy that follows be stricken from the record. On the question, Will the House agree to the motion?

PERMISSION REQUESTED TO MAKE STATEMENT

Mr. KAMYK. Mr. Speaker, I ask the consent of the House to make brief statement in answer to my colleague, Mr. Goldstein, from Allegheny.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman is not in order at the time. There is a motion before the House.

Mr. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, I am inclined to go along with the Assistant Minority Leader. In this session there has been a minimum of reading and printing of editorials in the Legislative Journal. I can understand that Mr. Andrews today, when we put in an editorial very favorable to the Republicans felt that he, too, had a good one for the other side. I realize that it is a game that two can play and we could go on indefinitely putting editorials into the Journal.

I wanted to answer him about our failure to enact a broad base tax in 1949. I could make quite a speech about that and recall history on this floor, which I did not do. For the purpose of having an orderly closing to this session, I am inclined to go along with the motion at this time and I would ask the House to favor it.

The motion was agreed to.

PERMISSION REQUESTED TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. KAMYK. Mr. Speaker, I again ask the consent of the House to make a brief statement in regard to the remarks of my colleague from Allegheny.

The SPEAKER. For the information of the gentleman, the remarks of the gentleman from Allegheny have been stricken from the record.

Mr. KAMYK. Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

RECESS

The SPEAKER. Without objection, the Chair will now declare a recess until 1:30 Eastern Standard time. That will be a two-hour recess for the purpose of holding a majority and a minority caucus and for the purpose of having lunch. The Members will precede immediately to their caucus rooms. It is suggested that following their caucuses the Members have lunch and return promptly at 1:30 Eastern Standard time.

The Chair hears no objection and a recess for two hours is now declared.

AFTER RECESS

The time of recess having expired, the House was called to order.

The SPEAKER (W. Stuart Helm) IN THE CHAIR

COMMUNICATION FROM GOVERNOR

The Secretary to the Governor being introduced, presented a communication in writing from His Excellency the Governor, which was read as follows:

BILLS ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1721, entitled:

An Act relating to employe welfare and pension benefit plans providing for the registration reporting and disclosure of such plans for the administration of the act by the Insurance Commissioner and creating an Advisory Council.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. AGNEW. Mr. Speaker, I have analyzed over the week end House Bill 1721. It differs in some respects from House Bill 771, which was on the calendar last week, but it is substantially the same bill. It covers the same field and while there are some provisions in 1721 I would prefer the way they were in 771; I believe that 1721 is a most adequate bill.

If the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Toll, is present in the House, I would like to interrogate him.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia Mr. Toll, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. TOLL. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. AGNEW. If the gentleman has a copy of House Bill No. 1721, I would refer him to page 5 line 16, subsection 4 under section 4. I would ask the gentleman if he agrees with me that this subsection 4 would not include as an exemption any employe benefit obtained as a result of collective bargaining?

Mr. TOLL. Subsection 4 just refers to membership in a fraternal benefit society, exempt from taxation under Section 501 of the United States code.

Mr. AGNEW. Does the gentleman agree with me that this section does not apply as an exemption to any benefit obtained as a result of collective bargaining?

Mr. TOLL. I do not know.

Mr. AGNEW. I thank the gentleman.

I was hoping Mr. Toll would know, but if he has not read the internal revenue section he would not know. It is my opinion that it definitely does not. That was my only question about House Bill No. 1721.

Mr. Speaker, I am very happy to state for the benefit of the Members of this House that in my opinion 1721 is a tighter bill than 771. I think, everything considered, it is a better bill. I would like to recommend it wholeheartedly to the Members of this House.

Mr. TOLL. Mr. Speaker, I agree with Mr. Agnew that 1721 is a better bill but it is also, at least in one respect, substantially different from 771. That is with respect to the insurance companies that are exempt from 771 but which are included in 1721.

Furthermore 1721 is almost an exact duplicate of the bill now pending in Washington on the same subject whereas 771 is not.

I am glad to hear that everybody is satisfied with 1721, and let's pass it.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk return the same to the Senate with information that the House has passed the same with amendments in which the concurrence of the Senate is requested.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the consideration on final passage of Senate Bill No. 446, entitled:

An Act amending the act of June 25, 1947 (P. L. 1145) entitled as amended "Local Tax Enabling Law" providing that no tax shall be levied assessed or collected on admissions to motion picture theatres.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. DEVLIN. Mr. Speaker, I rise to voice opposition to this bill. This bill, if enacted into law, will deprive the city of Pittsburgh of income estimated to be in excess of a half million dollars.

This estimate is based upon the income that has been received from this source for the past three years. In 1954 the city received $700,000. In 1955 it received $640,000 and in 1956 it received $600,000.

Now I realize that the decreasing income from this source of revenue does indicate that the industry in itself is regressing. However I contend that this is not due to the existence of the levy of the tax but rather is due to the home enjoyment utilized by various former theater goers who are now resorting to television.

If this bill passes, Pittsburgh, in order to replace the revenue that has been and is expected to be received from this source of taxation, would have to increase real estate taxes to the extent of three-quarters of a mill on improvements.

I might point out that if the various bills passed by this House so far this session are enacted into law, the taxpayers of Pittsburgh will certainly have been penalized to an extreme extent. If they are all passed into law eventually it will be necessary for the city to raise its taxes five mills on land and two and a half mills on improvements.

I need only point out some of the bills we have passed in this House, such as the additional councilman, the school subsidy bill, that is the existing provision of 183 and the reduction in hours for the firemen and police. I ask the Members of the House to bear in mind this lack of revenue and this chopping off of revenue that has occurred, and not take away another source of revenue from the city of Pittsburgh, necessitating an additional burden on its taxpayers.

Mr. VAUGHAN. Mr. Speaker, in 1947 when this tax was imposed, I spoke at the Variety Club banquet which consisted of about 90 percent theater owners. I told them at the time about the pending tax and said something should be done about it. At the time they told me, look, we are citizens, we are making money, and we deserve to pay a tax like anybody else. So they let it go at the time.

At that time in 1947, there were 80 million people a week going to movies. Today, 30 million are going to movies. At that time the city of Pittsburgh took in $1 million in taxes on that particular tax. Today it is estimated that they will take in approximately $350,000, to give you an illustration of how the theater business has fallen off.

Some weeks ago, on television it was estimated that 103 million viewed the "Cinderella Story."

Here in the House during this present session, we have seen fit to try to help business. The Governor himself has asked that the manufacturers' exemption on capital taxes be dropped this year. We saw fit to drop the machinery tax in Allegheny County which just in the county itself without the boroughs and townships amounted to $3 million.

Since January 1st of this year over 100 theaters have closed in the state of Pennsylvania. Now a few people I have talked to about this particular bill have mentioned to me the big producers and so forth and so on. This bill has nothing to do with producers. This has to do with the neighborhood theater. The neighborhood theaters are going out of existence like flies. They are really dropping off.

Somebody behind me just mentioned about the drive-in theaters. Well, the drive-in theaters a few years back started out with a bang but today they are also down, in fact they are about 50 percent off.

We have been appropriating money to keep what business we have and bring new business into the state of Pennsylvania. This Legislature has done lots for business, but what have we done during this session for small business?

I say to you, this is a dying industry. I ask you to vote for Senate Bill 446, and in doing so you are voting for a small business. Both sides of this House can give their neighborhood theaters the break they so richly deserve by voting for Senate Bill 446.

I ask each Member on both sides of this House to vote for this bill.

Mr. DONALDSON. Mr. Speaker, the bill which we are considering is, of course, an amendment to Act 481 of the 1947 session of this Legislature, which increased very broadly the taxing powers of the political subdivisions and the school districts in the Commonwealth.

I might say while that Act is very properly known as the "tax anything" law, it is not a "tax anything" law. It was a determination by the General Assembly that certain particular types of activity could be permissibly taxed by these local political subdivisions. Maximum rates were imposed thereon and an overall limitation was imposed which we have in this House increased today.

Therefore, I think the question before us is not necessarily a question of home rule, it is a question of whether this particular tax, the tax on admissions to motion picture theaters, is, now in 1957, no longer a desirable tax. The Federal government has faced up to this problem after studying it for several sessions of the Congress. You will recall that not too many years ago there was a 20 percent Federal tax on admissions to motion picture theaters. That tax is now gone entirely except for admissions in excess of ninety cents, when the tax is levied at a ten percent rate.

The gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Vaughan, indicated to you that the motion picture industry is having considerable trouble. I think we are all aware of that. He mentioned to you the number of theaters that closed in this Commonwealth in this year, and I would ask your further consideration as to what happens when a theater does close. I think I know, because in the community next to mine, a small borough of 6,500 people, we have had two motion picture theaters close in the last year. When those theaters were open and the marquee lights were on, they served as a stimulus to that entire business community. People came to see the motion pictures; they came to eat in the restaurants and to shop in the various stores. When those motion picture theaters were operating, they were paying local real estate taxes for local governmental purposes; their employees were paying an earned income tax; they were paying for utilities to the municipality; they were paying a theater license tax; they were paying a marquee tax. Now those theaters are closed, and in place of a mecca to bring business into that area we have a blight on that area. In one instance we have no local taxation coming in because the building itself has been torn down. The simple fact is, as we all know, that you cannot very easily convert motion picture theaters into some other type of activity.

There is no use going into it in any greater detail. I think we know that this industry needs help badly. I suggest we follow the recommendation of the Federal government and eliminate this tax from our local municipalities. We have given them plenty of other taxing powers. Just today we increased from ten to fifteen mills the taxes they can levy under 481. This is a tax that is tending to destroy an industry which is worthwhile in our communities.

Mr. ISAACS. Mr. Speaker, I rise to oppose the passage of Senate Bill 446. This bill would not only eliminate this tax from covered theaters, but also from drive-ins. I know in my own community most of them are flourishing, the same as are many of the covered theaters. In my own legislative district, at the present time, there is under construction, in a fast growing community where the population has trebled, a new indoor theater which will seat 1,000 persons. The local political subdivision, when that theater was proposed, hoped to benefit from the tax upon that theater.

I might ask you, ladies and gentlemen of the House, by whom is this tax imposed? It is imposed by the local political subdivision, be it a borough, a township, or a city, and who is better qualified to determine from the standpoint of the business one of these theaters is doing than the local political borough councilmen, township commissioners, or city councilmen? Furthermore, if we shoot this local enabling tax law full of holes, the people who really will suffer are our local political subdivisions. They will be here in greater numbers with their hands out. They will be the distressed people, and here we will have to impose other taxes to take the place to this one.

I further want to ask the ladies and gentlemen on both sides of this House to vote "no" on this measure.

Mr. LOVETT. Mr. Speaker, I personally think this is a very, very bad bill.

I have noticed that labor has recommended this bill. I want to disagree with my labor leaders on this particular issue. I feel if you eliminate this tax it will possibly go on as a wage tax. Some municipalities which have wage taxes have reduced them, due to the fact that they have the revenue from this source. If you take it away then it will possibly go on wages. Now everybody in this House admits that the wage tax is not a very nice tax, and I say to you that the "tax anything" law, which we enacted in 1947 and which I very much opposed, is fast becoming nothing but a wage tax law in Pennsylvania. You make this step, next session of the Legislature there will be others in. Their industries will be just as sick. They will need it just the same as the theaters need it today.

The other bad feature of this bill is that today some of our local municipalities do not tax the theaters. That is one of the bad features of the "tax anything" law. You have some of our people paying double tax, triple tax, some more of our people not paying any of the tax.

So, my friends, I am saying to you today that this bill should be defeated. Every Member of this House should vote to defeat this bill because it is a step in the direction of eliminating from the "tax anything" law just one more step on the way to having only a wage tax left. I ask you to defeat this bill.

Mr. VAUGHAN. Mr. Speaker, I would just like to congratulate Mr. Isaacs on his community tripling population, and remind him at the same time that the theater being built in his district is the first theater that has been built in the state of Pennsylvania in the past five years.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

PERMISSION GRANTED COMMITTEE TO MEET DURING SESSION

Mr. WILLAREDT asked and obtained permission for the Committee on Appropriations to meet during the session of the House.

BILLS ON FINAL PASSAGE

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the consideration on final passage of Senate Bill No. 737, entitled:

An Act repealing the act of August 19, 1953 (P. L. 1152) entitled "An act providing for the selection of suitable lands in Delaware County for the erection thereon of a new State mental hospital."

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. AUKER. Mr. Speaker, I am not rising to oppose the bill, but simply to try to get some information with regard to it from anybody in the House who can answer the question.

I specifically want to know what is going to become of the money that was originally appropriated for this hospital.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Cambria is apparently willing to answer the gentleman's interrogation.

Mr. AUKER. Mr. Speaker, I would ask the gentleman if it is not true that there was approximately, in previous sessions, $19 million earmarked for building this particular mental institution, in round numbers? It might have been some odd thousand.

Mr. ANDREWS. That is true.

Mr. AUKER. If this hospital is not built, what becomes of that $19 million?

Mr. ANDREWS. It will revert into the fund at the disposal of the General State Authority to be used in the discretion of the Authority and the Department, with the consent of the Governor, for the construction of an institution at a selected site.

Mr. AUKER. Is there any mandate from the Legislature that it would have to be used for another mental institution?

Mr. ANDREWS. There probably is not. In the original bill raising the borrowing power of the Authority, the General Assembly specifically said that so much money must, of necessity, be spent for an institution located only in Delaware County. In the lack of specific legislation the money would now be spent, as I say, at the discretion of the Department and the General State Authority, with the approval of the Governor.

Mr. LOPRESTI. They could spend that money for any purpose that the General State Authority saw fit without anything otherwise being earmarked by a law passed by this General Assembly, is that not correct?

Mr. ANDREWS. That is not correct. The General State Authority has nothing to say about the policy of construction. That is, it cannot on its own initiative build any institution without the approval of the department for which it is building and with the consent of the Governor. It cannot decide a certain department needs an institution and proceed to build it. It must be upon the request of a specific department.

Mr. AUKER. I understand that, Mr. Speaker. I understand the gentleman perfectly on that.

What I am getting at is, and I will phrase the question a little differently, the General State Authority could use this $19 million to build any particular type of building that they say fit to build upon a specific request by any specific department, with the approval of the Governor? Is that right?

Mr. ANDREWS. That is right.

Mr. AUKER. So that this General Assembly will not have anything to say as to how that $19 million is to be spent, is that correct, except as it comes under the general provisions of the General State Authority Law?

Mr. ANDREWS. That is right.

I would add that the money never will be spent for the proposed institution in Delaware County. That much is decided, and it will be subject to legislation upon the part of this General Assembly now in session, or the money will remain in escrow until—well, I don't know how they will wiggle out of that.

Mr. AUKER. Mr. Speaker, another question.

There was reported out of Committee today a General State Authority bill, in the amount of $40 million, and given first reading. Now, if I understand the gentleman correctly from the answers he has given to my questions, this will then give the General State Authority, not $40 million, but $59 million. Is that correct?

Mr. ANDREWS. That is approximately correct, but the $17 to $19 million will not be spent in Delaware County for an institution, but a considerable part of it will be spent for an institution somewhere in that general neighborhood, in the southeastern part of the state. The General State Authority, the department and the Governor are of the opinion that the institution required need not cost $17 or $19 million, but that they can get what they need in the new system for considerably less.

Mr. AUKER. Mr. Speaker, may I further interrogate the gentleman?

Who will decide the type of institution that will be built?

Mr. ANDREWS. The department will suggest general plans along the lines they desire to develop the institution for whatever kind of an institution it will be, and then the General State Authority can either accept the plans or it can refuse them, but it cannot initiate them. In the meantime, the state will have several hundred thousand dollars invested in land that it does not propose to use, land which will probably sell for more than the original purchase price.

Mr. AUKER. Mr. Speaker, is it not true then that the General Assembly, this body that is raising the money by taxation and appropriating the money, will not have any say whatsoever as to what type mental institution will be built or where it will be built?

Mr. ANDREWS. That is exactly correct and it has been the program from the first. I will give the gentleman a little history.

There were those in both branches of the General Assembly who felt that the borrowing power of the General State Authority should be increased. There were those in a position to stipulate that they would oppose, probably defeat, any measure to increase the borrowing power of the General State Authority unless there was a demand in that one special case that the institution be built in Delaware County. Now those that so stipulated are no longer interested, and we have spent some $475 million, and in no instance, except in Delaware County, has the General Assembly directed what type of building should be erected.

Mr. AUKER. Mr. Speaker, would the gentleman want to say then that it might not be a very serious weakness on the part of the General State Authority that deals are made and then people are no longer on the General State Authority and the deals fall by the wayside and the General Assembly has nothing to say about it?

Mr. ANDREWS. If this House can hold the line so far as the majority party is concerned, where it now has a very, very considerable representation upon the General Authority, and it only needs one Democrat to absolutely control, I think if the conscience of the majority party's representatives upon the General State Authority became troubled, they could find the one Democrat to stop any ill-advised venture proposed by the department.

Mr. AUKER. Mr. Speaker, there might be a difference of opinion even on that.

I just wished to bring it to the attention of the House so that everybody would know it because I have asked this question before, I wanted to know where $19 million was going to go when we pass this bill, and now I know. I hope all the Members will keep it in mind. Here is $19 million going to the General State Authority, and this body will have no control or say whatsoever as to how that $19 million is going to be spent.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I would have this to say, unless the period during which we are in session is prolonged, if the General State Authority were denied the power to operate, the $17 million would just lie idle till the next General Assembly convenes.

Mr. AUKER. Mr. Speaker, in answer to the gentleman, I might say that the information I have received is that the General State Authority has already gone way over its appropriation made in the last biennium in plans, specifications and projects approved.

Mr. McCORMACK. Mr. Speaker, I do not want to debate the bill but I do want to have something cleared up here. I wish the Speaker would clear it up.

The bill on today's calendar is 737, Printer's No. 453. The title authorizes the Department of Property and Supplies to sell at public sale any lands heretofore acquired by the Commonwealth for said hospital.

The Senate bill on our desk has stricken out that provision authorizing the Department of Property and Supplies to sell any land heretofore acquired for the purpose of the hospital, so there is a discrepancy between the two. Would the Speaker clarify that?

The SPEAKER. For the information of the gentleman, the gentleman is correct. The title appearing on the calendar has not been changed to show the corrected title as it appears on Senate Bill 737, Printer's No. 453. The last Printers Number of the bill is 453. The bill we are voting on is Printer's No. 453, and does show the corrected title.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

BILLS ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 1, entitled:

An Act making an appropriation to the Department of Health for payments to municipalities and municipality authorities under the provisions of the act of August 20, 1953 (P. L. 1217) entitled "An act providing for payments by the Commonwealth to municipalities which have expended money to acquire and construct sewage treatment plants in accordance with the Clean Stream Program and the act approved the twenty-second day of June one thousand nine hundred thirty-seven (P. L. 1987) and making an appropriation" and for the repair improvements or additions of certain sewage treatment plants.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. AUKER asked unanimous consent to offer amendments at this time.

The SPEAKER. The amendments will be read by the Clerk for information.

Amend Sec. 1, page 3, line 4, by striking out "the repair"

Amend Sec. 2, page 3, lines 6 to 20, by striking out all of said lines

Amend Sec. 3, page 4, line 1, by striking out "3" and inserting in lieu thereof 2

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent to the offering of amendments at this time? Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, would the gentleman from Blair, Mr. Auker, just take a moment of time and explain to us carefully the change in Senate Bill No. 1 as offered by his amendments?

Mr. AUKER. First of all, to get rid of a very minor point, on page 3 one thing the amendment does is amend out of the bill the words "the repair." On page 3, line 4, at the suggestion of the advisory board to the Health Department, the words "the repair" were taken out as not being necessary to the act. That is the reason for that particular amendment.

The other amendment takes out of the bill all of Section 2. Section 2 added to the old sewerage reimbursement act, first passed in 1953, which made appropriations to municipalities that installed sewage disposal plants in order to clean up streams on the anti-pollution program throughout the state, of two percent of the cost of the sewage disposal plants. This particular section of the act is re-amended, by the way, and then section 2 was added. This added to the bill all communities that established feeder lines into sewage disposal plants wherein 50 percent of the sewage of a community feeding into another community's sewage disposal plant would be included in the bill, and would also be reimbursed under the bill.

The sponsors felt, when they got the full impact and the full implications of it, that the appropriation of $3.2 million would not be nearly sufficient to carry out the original purpose of the act. Everybody would be cut so much it simply would not be particularly worthwhile to pass a bill at all. In other words, the act would be so broadened that the appropriation, which is the same appropriation that we passed in 1955-1956, would not be sufficient to do the job properly, as in the past session.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, do I understand the gentleman from Blair, then is objecting to Section 2 of the bill which permitted the additional items in the sewage treatment plants to be covered as part of the reimbursement? In other words, you are removing Section 2 from the bill by your amendments, is that correct?

Mr. AUKER. That is correct, Mr. Speaker, and I am objecting to it unless the appropriation would be increased sufficiently to pay the bill for all the other people who are being included in the bill. I do not think the appropriation is sufficient to carry out the purpose of the bill.

Mr. McCANN. If I may question the gentleman for a moment, I was a member of the Conference Committee last session which covered the very same subject and we came to the $3.2 million figure as a compromise, I believe. I forget just now if that was the exact figure. At that time it was the Senate that insisted, under certain prerogatives, that certain items in the sewage plants be included dealing with the lateral lines, the plants and the main lines as a part of the two percent reimbursement.

Now would that not be the same thing that you are removing in Section 2 this year?

Mr. AUKER. I do not believe it would, Mr. Speaker, otherwise the bill would not have needed to be amended.

Mr. McCANN. That is what I want to get clear, whether the gentleman is taking out the provision that communities which expand their facilities, as outlined in Section 2 of the bill on page 3, would become eligible under that section for the two percent of that particular project. Is that correct?

Mr. AUKER. Yes, if 50 percent of the particular locality's sewage in the main trunk line from that particular community would feed into the main sewage disposal plant. But they were not included in the 1955-1956 appropriation.

Mr. McCANN. That is correct, but we dealt with only so many million dollars then, and it was my understanding at that time there was no actual way to determine the total reimbursement amount except the ceiling set on the bill. The projects that first applied for reimbursements would be served until the appropriation had been exhausted.

Mr. AUKER. I do not know anything about any understanding, Mr. Speaker. I cannot answer that inquiry.

Mr. McCANN. Does the gentleman not believe it would be sensible to have Section 2 remain in the bill, for those communities that would meet the qualifications outlined in the bill, so that they would have the right to be reimbursed?

Mr. AUKER. If the appropriation was increased over and above the amount raised in 1955-1956 to cover the increased cost. There is no determining how much or how many of these plants there are now, and how far the appropriation will go. In other words, in a lot of communities, I imagine the municipalities have already planned their budgets, and I would remind the gentleman that under this original appropriation act, after that money leaves the treasury and the check is issued, there is no control over it whatsoever; no control, the municipality can spend that money as it sees fit.

Mr. McCANN. I am sure that is correct, because they are spending it for the specific purpose for which it was intended, the expansion of the sewage treatment plant or the lateral or trunk lines as a part of that plant. But are you not cutting back those communities, under Section 2, that would become eligible in this Commonwealth for two percent of that money, when you remove Section 2 from the bill?

Mr. AUKER. That is correct, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. McCANN. Do you have any estimate as to what Section 2 would cost in additional money over the $3.2 million?

Mr. AUKER. The Health Department has told me they have no idea.

Mr. McCANN. Those are the same words they said, two years ago, and that is the same they would say two years from now, because they never have any knowledge until the applications are submitted to the department for the reimbursement when they become eligible under the law. Is there any particular reason why Section 2 should not remain in the bill so that these communities in Pennsylvania should have a right to apply when they comply with the law?

Mr. AUKER. Yes, I think so, Mr. Speaker, in this particular bill. You are broadening the act very considerably and the act only carries the same appropriation as it did in 1955-1956. If you are going to broaden the act, then the appropriation should be broadened. That is sensible. That is just common sense, I think.

Mr. McCANN. May we inform you we have no objection to increasing the appropriation?

Mr. AUKER. Neither do I.

Mr. McCANN. But we do object to your cutting back communities that would be eligible under this program, communities which we feel should be eligible.

The first part of your amendment evidently is very satisfactory. It is a technical error of some type, but the second part dealing with the removal of Section 2, will definitely hinder a great number of communities in Pennsylvania that would become eligible under that part of this law for the two percent reimbursement. On those grounds the gentleman has made the point rather clear that you intend to remove them from becoming eligible, is that right?

Mr. AUKER. That is right.

Mr. McCANN. I thank the gentleman.

Mr. AUKER. May I also say, Mr. Speaker, for those who have been sharing under the act and installed the main sewage plants, they are going to be considerably cut back if this bill passes in its present form. That should be kept in mind, to, by the Members in the House.

Mr. McCANN. That is in error. Those who have made applications and are now eligible will receive their balance from the funds allocated when the appropriation passes. Therefore there could not be any cut back. They are already on the list and receiving their money, and have reached it each year.

Mr. Speaker, we do not, at least I do not, concur in the amendments offered by the gentleman from Blair, Mr. Auker, for this would certainly be a cut back to the various communities in Pennsylvania who would fall eligible under this act for reimbursement of funds under the sewage program that they have now in progress or plan to initiate in their communities in the very near future.

On those grounds, even though the appropriation is a specific amount of money that is set up for this particular project, I would request the Members of the House to vote down the amendments offered by the gentleman from Blair, Mr. Auker.

Mr. AUKER. Mr. Speaker, I might add that this was not my own idea. This came at the suggestion of the sponsors of the bill. I agreed to sponsor the amendments in the House. They felt they had gone too far afield and that it should be cut back.

I ask the Members of the House to vote for the amendments.

Mr. BREON. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask Mr. Auker a brief question.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Blair, Mr. Auker, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. AUKER. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. BREON. Is the amount $3,200,000 the same amount that was in the last bill?

Mr. AUKER. You mean the act of 1955-1956?

Mr. BREON. Yes.

Mr. AUKER. That is my understanding, yes.

Mr. BREON. Do you know how much of that money was expended?

Mr. AUKER. I cannot answer that question. I am sorry, I do not know.

Mr. BREON. That is all.

Mr. Speaker, I agree with the gentleman from Greene. I, too, would ask that the Members of this House vote down these amendments.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

They were not agreed to.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk return the same to the Senate with information that the House of Representatives has passed the same without amendment.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 118, entitled as follows:

An Act amending the act of March 10, 1949 (P. L. 30) entitled "Public School Code of 1949" revising the school health program changing the duties of the Secretary of Health and the Superintendent of Public Instruction relating thereto and changing the basis for reimbursement therefor.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. WEIDNER asked unanimous consent to offer amendments at this time.

The SPEAKER. The amendments will be read by the Clerk for information.

Amend Sec. 2 (Sec. 1401) page 3, line 10 by inserting after "surgery" "or a chiropractor legally qualified to practice chiropractic"

Amend Sec. 2 (Sec. 1418) page 15, line 13 by inserting after "surgery" where it appears the second time "or chiropractor legally qualified to practice chiropractic"

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent to the offering of amendments at this time? Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

Mr. WHITTAKER. Mr. Speaker, I ask for the privilege of speaking against these amendments.

For the information of the House this bill is the joint action of the Joint State Government Commission, in a study with our Health Department, and our Department of Public Instruction. These two departments are vitally interested in this legislation.

This bill came about as a result of a four-year study. At all times during this study the main thought was to incorporate in this bill advantages to our children. At no time was any thought given to personally aggrandize for any individual or group of individuals.

We must recognize the fact that the greatest asset that Pennsylvania has is the physical health and mental health of our two million school children. Proper expenditure of the taxpayers' money, as proposed by the various experts working on this legislation, is embodied in this bill.

Any change in this bill to add any examiners will defeat the purpose of the legislation and will not materially improve any services rendered to the children.

By amending, under the family physician, the chiropractors who are legally qualified to practice in Pennsylvania, gives the chiropractor the right to pass on the physical examination of our school children in his office.

Our school officials, school boards, will have to accept his recommendations as to the physical condition of that child. If our school officials have to accept that physical examination made in his office, what is to prevent them from having him give the physical examination in the school. That will be the next step. I warn you the next step that the chiropractors want is to become legally recognized as medical examiners in the public schools of Pennsylvania.

Let us face facts. The chiropractors are by no means family physicians in the sense as explained in this bill. We do have family chiropractors, the same as we have family dentists. We have family nurses. We employ therapists as family employees. But we who are employed in another category are not qualified to be classified as a family physician.

One of the biggest things we have with our school children are these poor individuals who are afflicted with various heart conditions. I do not believe a chiropractor, in his limited knowledge, has the ability to write on that physical examination card, which the teacher scrutinizes for information regarding the various conditions of rheumatic hearts and congenital hearts. These are important to a school teacher, much more so than the fact that the child had measles, whooping cough, diphtheria, or any thing of that sort.

Heart disease is the number one killer of our children and adults. It is a known fact that the proper diagnosis early in age and proper care will result in a much longer life for every person who is afflicted with a heart ailment of any type.

The dental profession has been a profession for a long time, licensed in Pennsylvania and recognized throughout the world. I dare say that you are never going to find the dentists of Pennsylvania asking to be classified as family physicians, and I am sure that our education goes a great deal further than does any chiropractor's.

Taking care of our children and their various diseases has become what is known as team work, especially with these children afflicted with rheumatic fever. It is a combination of factors and is not carried on by one individual.

I ask that the House vote against these amendments, considering the fact that we are guarding the health of two million school children.

Mr. WEIDNER. Mr. Speaker, I should like to interrogate Dr. Whittaker.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Lycoming, Mr. Whittaker, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. WHITTAKER, I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. WEIDNER. Mr. Speaker, I understand that you are about to introduce amendments to this bill that have been studied by several of the Members and yourself, is that correct.

Mr. WHITTAKER. Introduced amendments to this bill for doing what?

Mr. WEIDNER. I understand that you, together with several others, have studied and prepared amendments to introduce to House Bill 118, is that correct?

Mr. WHITTAKER. We are not considering those amendments at the present time. We are considering the chiropractic amendments.

Mr. WEIDNER. Did you at any time consider using the word "chiropractor" in this bill, as I have included on page 3 of this bill?

Mr. WHITTAKER. I did not understand the gentleman.

Mr. WEIDNER. In other words, can you give me any good reasons why the name "chiropractor" should not be included in this bill the same as any other profession that comes under the category of the healing art profession?

Mr. WHITTAKER. I have no objection. If the chiropractors want to write a special section to the bill, the same as the dentists have introduced here under Section 5, or the same as the nurses are introducing under Section 8, or medical technicians under Section 10, or dental hygienists under Section 9. They are all adjuncts to the practice of medicine. I would consider a chiropractor an adjunct to the practice of medicine and not a family physician in the sense of this bill.

Mr. WEIDNER. In answer to that, the chiropractors are not asking to be classified the same as the others. They are asking to be given the right and to be known under the classification of a family physician.

Let me ask you this question: Do you practice your profession by virtue of being certified by the State Board of examiners in dentistry?

Mr. WHITTAKER. I do have that right or privilege.

Mr. WEIDNER. Can you then tell the Members of this House if a graduate chiropractor must be certified by the State Board of examiners before he is legally qualified to practice in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania?

Mr. WHITTAKER. They now have an examining board.

Mr. WEIDNER. Must they be certified by the board of examiners before they can practice?

Mr. WHITTAKER. They have been since 1940—some.

Mr. WEIDNER. Are you aware of the fact then that many families in Pennsylvania designate a chiropractor as their family physician?

Mr. WHITTAKER. They have that privilege. I have no objection if they want to call him. I also have a chiropractor. I used him once ten years ago. I use him every other Sunday as an usher in my church.

Mr. WEIDNER. Are you aware then of the fact that many families use them as a family physician?

Mr. WHITTAKER. What was that? I did not understand you?

Mr. WEIDNER. Then you are aware of the fact that many families use the chiropractor as a family physician?

Mr. WHITTAKER. You use a chiropractor where a chiropractor is supposed to be used, but he is not supposed to diagnose rheumatic fever and those things on children; he is not qualified.

Mr. WEIDNER. They are qualified to practice within their own rights and for which they are certified.

Mr. WHITTAKER. "Within their own rights" does not put them in the same classification with the legally qualified gentlemen who practice medicine and surgery in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. They do not compare.

Mr. WEIDNER. Well that would say that many of the others listed in this bill are not qualified to practice the same as the medical doctor.

Mr. WHITTAKER. What was your question?

Mr. WEIDNER. Likewise I would not try to tell you that the chiropractor is qualified to practice the same.

Mr. WHITTAKER. He is not qualified to practice the same as the medical doctor.

Mr. WEIDNER. I know he is not. Neither are many of the others.

Mr. WHITTAKER. We are not asking about many of the others. We are talking about the family physician and the chiropractor.

Mr. WEIDNER. Do you realize that if the chiropractor is not included in Senate Bill No. 118, under the classification of a family physician, to make it possible for a parent or the guardian of a child to designate the personal physician of his own choosing, you are not only discriminating against the chiropractor, but far more so against the child who is seeking that service?

I want to ask you this question, doctor. Do you believe it to be fair that a certain group of children should have the privilege, through their parent or guardian, to legally designate personal physicians, while others, if they want one of their own choosing, would have to do it illegally?

Mr. WHITTAKER. They can go to a chiropractor. Nothing in this bill says they cannot go there for treatment. This is not a treatment bill. This is a diagnosis bill. I maintain that a chiropractor does not have the ability to diagnose those things which are important to our school children.

Mr. WEIDNER. We are not asking the chiropractor to go into the school to make the examination the same as the doctor, or the osteopath or the dentist.

Mr. WHITTAKER. You are asking to have the examination done in his office. What is the difference whether he does it in his office or the school room? The school officials still have to accept it. They cannot tell the school officials what they should know about a particular child.

Mr. WEIDNER. Can you define the words "legally qualified" as contained in this bill?

Mr. WHITTAKER. Legally qualified means qualified to practice as a chiropractor, but not as a physician.

Mr. WEIDNER. Does the dentist qualify as a physician?

Mr. WHITTAKER. The dentist does not, he is an adjunct to medicine. There isn't anything that dentist can do that a medical doctor is not allowed to do.

Mr. WEIDNER. Speaking of legally qualified, are you aware that in this Commonwealth there are persons in the medical profession who were certified to practice in their profession without taking the state board examination?

Mr. WHITTAKER. I could not hear you, there was too much noise.

Mr. WEIDNER. Are you aware of the fact that we have in this Commonwealth persons in the medical profession who were certified to practice in that profession without taking the state board examination?

Mr. WHITTAKER. I am not aware of that fact, no.

Mr. WEIDNER. But it so happens that prior to World War II, or during World War II, a piece of legislation was enacted to take care of that very thing. I can truthfully tell you that during the Korean War another bill was enacted to take care of the same thing. On the basis of that, let me ask you this question:

Who is to determine who is, or who is not, qualified? How are we going to assure the people we want to serve whether they are getting a qualified person to administer the proper service?

Mr. WHITTAKER. Would you like to answer this question before I answer yours? How many doctors received their license by that special privilege?

Mr. WEIDNER. I cannot give you the number of doctors. I cannot give you the figures on that. I do know there were some doctors and I do know there were some from the other profession.

Mr. WHITTAKER. Can you tell me why it was given to them?

Mr. WEIDNER. Certainly I can. Because they did not have the opportunity to take the state board examination prior to going into the service.

Mr. WHITTAKER. That was given to them as a special privilege for having served their country in time of war, and I do not think it should be taken care of. You also know they could not receive the same privileges in other states. They had to stay right here in Pennsylvania. Ninety-nine percent of those men have since taken our state board and passed it, possibly 100 percent of them have.

Mr. WEIDNER. I am not arguing about that, but I know that this actually was taken care of in that respect.

Mr. WHITTAKER. I am aware of the fact that most of those men have since taken the board examination. That was only a temporary procedure, and they are now legally qualified to practice in this state and any other state which recognizes, reciprocally the action of our state boards.

Mr. WEIDNER. That will be all, Dr. Whittaker.

Mr. Speaker, in many instances today we find families where the chiropractor is considered to be their family physician, the same as the other medical people, and many of Pennsylvania's citizens can testify by actual experience that the chiropractor does render valuable services to the human body.

Some of you people may question me as to why I am so insistent on having the chiropractor receive the same recognition as the other professions stated in this bill. Members of this House, believe me, I am not here to argue for any individual but I am here to tell you that results from personal experiences, of treatments by the chiropractor, cannot be denied. I shall not go into detail but I want to simply state to you that had it not been for chiropractic treatment in previous years, I doubt whether I would be able to stand here and argue for their purposes. A personal checkup from a medical doctor and an occasional adjustment by a chiropractor is good enough for me and that is why I am here arguing on their behalf.

Another point I would like to bring out is this, let's not deny those kids an opportunity for medical treatment, whether it be a medical doctor, a dentist, an osteopath, or a chiropractor. Remember this, on page 2, line 18, it specifically defines "school physician," and the chiropractors are not asking you to amend this section of the bill. My amendment does not give the chiropractor the same privileges as the medical doctor to examine children in the schools.

I, therefore, ask all of you, in the interest of the boys and girls who request that kind of treatment, that they be given opportunity equal to that of other boys and girls in the schools.

Mr. WHITTAKER. Mr. Speaker, I was glad to hear the gentleman from Berks state that he had to have a medical checkup in cooperation with the chiropractor, which proves my point that the chiropractor is an adjunct to medicine and is not a family doctor in that sense of the word.

If we are going to bring it down to specific cases, I can give you a personal experience. A doctor and a nurse came to my home to inform me that my child had a leaking valve in his "ticker" which gave him a heart murmur, and surely I did not call in the chiropractor. I called the family physician. I think you would do the same.

The same thing goes for other things. You can have a child in a private school, which this bill covers, and if the doctor called you, telling you there were certain things wrong with your child and he was not sure whether it was a virus, appendix, or what it was, I am sure you would not call a chiropractor to punch his or her back. You would call in a physician to properly diagnose the trouble.

Mr. MAXWELL. Mr. Speaker, Members of the House, I want to be very brief. We do not want to waste any more time of this House on these amendments.

First, I do not want any one in this House to understand that I have any ill feeling toward any chiropractor. I believe a chiropractor does a useful and necessary job in certain conditions. I think they are very necessary.

These amendments bring the question before the House not as to whether a chiropractor is qualified to do a certain job or not. The question is, do you want to give to a chiropractor the same rights and privileges of diagnosing school children and their ailments as a qualified physician has? If you do, then you vote for these amendments. If you do not believe that a chiropractor can diagnose all the ills and ailments of your children the same as a qualified physician can do, then vote against these amendments. I am going to vote as I believe, and I am asking the rest to the Members on my side of the House to do the same.

Mr. WEIDNER. Mr. Speaker, I simply want to make one statement in answer to Doctor Whittaker, wherein he seems to think that I made a statement regarding medical treatment. I want to inform Doctor Whittaker and the Members of this House that I have a nephew who is a medical doctor and who insists that I come to see him periodically for a medical checkup. However, not too long ago, I had a particular condition he was unable to correct, and he advised me to consult a chiropractor and the results were very good. On the basis of that, he, himself, has used the chiropractor in a number of instances to take care of the same situation I am talking about. So it is not that I am opposed to the medical doctor or any of the other medical professions, but I feel that the chiropractor has a place in the field of healing arts just the same as others in that category.

Mr. SMITH. I desire to interrogate Mr. Weidner.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Berks, Mr. Weidner, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. WEIDNER. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. SMITH. I just want to ask the gentleman one question.

As I understand these amendments, the only thing they do is to permit a chiropractor to O. K. to the school authorities for some treatment which he had administered, is that right?

Mr. WEIDNER. The only insertion which is made in this bill is in case the guardian or the parent of a child requests the services of a chiropractor for their child, that they should be given that privilege.

Mr. SMITH. And then he would diagnose and treat it and O. K. that he is well to the school?

Mr. WEIDNER. That is right.

Mr. SMITH. Thank you.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

On a rising vote, sixty-six Members having voted in the affirmative and eighty-six in the negative, the question was determined in the negative and the amendments were not agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. Whittaker asked unanimous consent to offer amendments at this time.

The SPEAKER. The amendments will be read by the Clerk for information.

Amend Sec. 2 (Sec. 1402), page 5, lines 16, 17 and 18, by striking out "The" in line 16 and all of lines 17 and 18

Amend Sec. 2 (Sec. 1414), page 12, lines 15 to 20, and page 13, lines 1, 2 and 3, by striking out "and for treatment of any" in line 15, all of lines 16 to 20, page 12 and all of lines 1, 2 and 3, page 13

Amend Sec. 2 (Sec. 1403) page 7, line 10 by striking out "sixth" and inserting in lieu thereof "third"

Amend Sec. 2 (Sec. 1403) page 7, line 10 by striking out "eleventh" and inserting in lieu thereof "seventh"

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent to the offering of amendments at this time? Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

They were agreed to.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading as amended?

It was agreed to.

Ordered, That the bill as amended lie over for printing.

Agreeably to order,
The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1528, entitled as follows:

An Act amending "The Pennsylvania Occupational Disease Act" of June 21, 1939 (P. L. 566) changing the burden of proof and the proportions of compensation to be paid by the Commonwealth and the employer.

On the question,
Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

BILL RECOMMITTED

Mr. GIBSON. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be recommitted to the Committee on Labor Relations.
The motion was agreed to.

BILL ON THIRD READING AND FINAL PASSAGE

Agreeably to order,
The House proceeded to the consideration on final passage of Senate Bill No. 809, entitled:

An Act amending the act of June 21, 1939 (P. L. 566) entitled "The Pennsylvania Occupational Disease Act" making it mandatory that employees submit themselves for physical examinations and further providing for the fees and expenses of such examinations.

On the question,
Shall the bill pass finally?
Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk return the same to the Senate with information that the House has passed the same with amendments in which the concurrence of the Senate is requested.

Agreeably to order,
The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 135, entitled as follows:

An Act to select and adopt the Great Dane as the official State dog of Pennsylvania.

On the question,
Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?
Mr. JIM asked unanimous consent to offer amendments at this time.

The SPEAKER. The amendments will be read by the Clerk for information.

Amend Title, page 1, line 1 of title, by striking out "Great Dane" and inserting in lieu "Beagle"
Amend Sec. 1, page 1, line 1, by striking out "Great Dane" and inserting in lieu "Beagle"

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent to the offering of amendments at this time? Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

On the question,
Will the House agree to the amendments?
Mr. JIM. Mr. Speaker, ever since this bill passed the Senate, I have tried to collect some data on dogs, and finally, I wrote to the Joint State Government Commission for some information and received the following:

"In response to your request relating to the breeds and licensing of dogs in Pennsylvania, the following:

Great Dane—The Great Dane, believed to be from the Mastiff and Greyhound or from the Mastiff and Irish Wolfhound, dates back to early Greek and Roman civilization. The modern Great Dane was largely developed in Germany, and was first registered in England in 1884 and shortly thereafter in the United States.

Now on my second question: "No state-wide data on licensing by breeds are available."

This information on the kind of breeds I got from a magazine entitled "Dog World," April issue of 1957, all breeds, all dog news. Ranking of all breeds for 1956 registration. The first on the list is the Beagle. The Great Dane is listed number three in rank in the United States. That is why I chose the Beagle, because the number of Beagles registered are more.

I will be very brief, but I will say this that if we made the state dog the Beagle, I am sure about 900,000 hunters would like the choice. So, therefore, I will leave it up to you Members of the House to name the Beagle our state dog.

Mr. McCORMACK. Mr. Speaker, I would like to briefly speak against the amendments offered by the gentleman from Westmoreland.

I do not want to bring a sober note to this debate, but I am recalling, in particular, one of the finest speeches I ever heard in this House, which occurred last Wednesday evening during the closing out ceremonies, when the gentleman from Cambria, Mr. Andrews, gave us an insight into the past concerning the House of Representatives in this great Commonwealth. I certainly came away from that event with his speech indelibly imprinted on my mind when he recalled the condition of the House. I think for that reason, when a bill is deliberated on and reported out of committee, even a bill like this about which we are inclined to be a little facetious, there being a lot of merit to it, we, therefore, should not kill it by the many barks.

The one point that I am raising against the gentleman's amendment is that in the state of Pennsylvania we have a state bird, which is a game bird. The lady who is most interested in this bill and has been working for it for many years, ever since I have come up here, informs me that if we were to name the Beagle, which is a game dog as the state dog, we would have an incongruous picture of the state dog, the Beagle, with our revered state game bird in the Beagle's mouth. For that reason alone I think the amendment to name the Beagle should be defeated.

Mr. O'DELL. Mr. Speaker, for the benefit of Mr. Jim, if he would write to the AKC—American Kennel Club, Fourth Avenue, New York—he would be able to get the correct figures. However, in 1956, the Beagle hound was the leading dog as far as registrations were concerned.

I should also like to call his attention to the fact that I raise championship cockers. I am the owner of an international champion and have sired several champions. In 1955 and 1954 the cocker was the leading dog. So, I do not think this should be decided on the dog leading in registrations.

However, after having received some correspondence from the dear lady who is boosting the Great Dane, I wrote to her and told her that while I was a breeder of cocker spaniels I would swallow my pride and go along with her and name the Great Dane for the Pennsylvania dog.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I have only this to say. The Great Dane is a noble dog and a gentleman, and those who have so insistently urged the Great Dane as a fitting representative of what we stand for, are gentle people.

I am very glad that the House has elected not to make this bill a sense of ridicule or ribaldy. For myself, more as a tribute to those who have struggled so nobly in the cause than for any other reason, I shall vote against these amendments.

Mr. TOLL. Mr. Speaker, supplementing the information which was submitted regarding the Great Dane, I want to call this to the attention of the House.

The Great Dane is prominently depicted in the Governor's Reception Room where there is a painting of the best friend of the founder of the Commonwealth, William Penn.

I have information that the Great Dane came from England, just as William Penn did. Later it was further developed by Germany, just as the Pennsylvania Dutch were developed. Authorities attribute the Great Dane's origin to the crossing of Irish Wolfhounds with old English Mastiffs. The name Great Dane is a corruption of an old French term for the breed, and does not signify that the breed is Danish. The Great Dane began as a hunting breed just as Pennsylvania began as a hunting state, and later changed to a leading working breed, just as Pennsylvania changed to a leading working state. The outline of the Great Dane's head resembles the outline of the state's boundaries. The Great Dane is known as the king of the species, just as the Pennsylvania state bird is known as the king of the species, and, finally, the physical and other attributes of the Great Dane, such as, size, strength, beauty, intelligence, tolerance, courage, faithfulness, trustworthiness, stability, exemplify those of Pennsylvania. Therefore, the sponsor of the bill indicates that the Great Dane is worthy of representing the great state of Pennsylvania.

Mr. FILO. Mr. Speaker, I am going to vote for Mr. Jim's amendments, I just want to say that I want to be faithful to the two Beagles in my back yard.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

They were not agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. HOCKER asked unanimous consent to offer amendments at this time.

The SPEAKER. The amendments will be read by the Clerk for information.

Amend Title, page 1, line 1 of Title, by striking out "State"

Amend Title, page 1, line 1 of Title, by inserting after "dog" "of the Commonwealth"

Amend Sec. 1, page 1, line 2, by striking out "State"

Amend Sec. 1, page 1, line 2, by inserting after "dog" "of the Commonwealth"

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent to the offering of amendments at this time? Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

The SPEAKER. For what purpose does the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. McCormack, rise?

Mr. McCORMACK. Mr. Speaker, to interrogate the gentleman from Dauphin, Mr. Hocker.

The SPEAKER. The Chair has ruled that the House has agreed to the amendments. Without objection the Chair will permit the gentleman from Philadelphia to interrogate the gentleman from Dauphin. The Chair hears no objection.

Mr. McCORMACK. What is the intent of these amendments?

Mr. HOCKER. The intent of the amendments is that I have been taught, and I think that everyone else in the Commonwealth has been taught, that this is not a state, that it is a Commonwealth. This will only say that the dog shall be known as the official dog of the "Commonwealth" and not the official dog of the "state."

Mr. McCORMACK. Would you care to tell us the difference between a state and a commonwealth?

Mr. HOCKER. I do not want to get into that, but I think if you will look at the book on your desk it will tell you that this is a Commonwealth and not a state.

Mr. McCORMACK. Would you say that if the language of the bill remained "state" instead of "Commonwealth" it would affect the bill in any way?

Mr. HOCKER. I would think it would be improper. I do not know, that is only my thinking.

Mr. McCORMACK. Would you be satisfied if I gave you a lawyer's opinion that it would be a harmless—

Mr. HOCKER. Yours?

Mr. McCORMACK. The Attorney General's.

Mr. HOCKER. Do you have a letter from the Attorney General saying what a state and what a commonwealth is?

Mr. McCORMACK. Are you interrogating me?

Mr. HOCKER. I am trying to answer you. You wanted to give a version of your thought.

Mr. McCORMACK. I said would you be satisfied with an opinion from the Attorney General's office or a statement from the Attorney General's office.

Mr. HOCKER. No, I would not, because I have talked to some people in the Attorney General's office and they have told me that I am right also.

Mr. McCORMACK. They told you you were right?

Mr. HOCKER. That is right.

Mr. McCORMACK. They told you that if the wording was not changed from "state" to "Commonwealth" the bill would be bad?

Mr. HOCKER. No, they told me this is a Commonwealth and not a state.

Mr. McCORMACK. Very well, I will not debate that.

Mr. Speaker, I would like to make a brief statement against the amendments.

The SPEAKER. The amendments have already been agreed to.

Mr. McCORMACK. I thought the Chair withdrew his decision on that.

The SPEAKER. The Chair asked unanimous consent for the gentleman to interrogate the gentleman from Dauphin.

There was no objection and the amendments were agreed to.

The gentleman will be at liberty to debate the bill on final passage.

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. ANDREWS. I rise to a parliamentary inquiry.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state it.

Mr. ANDREWS. As I understand, the bill as amended will be on the calendar tomorrow.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman is correct.

Mr. ANDREWS. Further inquiry: It will then be a question as to whether the Senate will concur or not concur?

The SPEAKER. That is correct.

Mr. ANDREWS. If the Senate refuses to concur, then, Mr. Speaker, this House will be at liberty to recede?

The SPEAKER. The gentleman is correct.

Mr. McCORMACK. Mr. Speaker, I am sorry that perhaps I was a little tardy in rising to oppose the adoption of the amendments. If the Speaker has ruled that I was tardy and that the amendments have already been unanimously adopted, then there is nothing further I can do.

The SPEAKER. The Chair thanks the gentleman and the gentleman will be given every possible opportunity to debate the bill on final passage tomorrow.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading as amended?

It was agreed to.

Ordered, that the bill as amended lie over for printing.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 191, entitled as follows:

An Act amending the act of July 11, 1917 (P. L. 758) entitled "An act for the protection of the public health by regulating the possession control dealing in giving away delivery dispensing administering prescribing and use of certain drugs and keeping records thereof . . ." changing penalties for illegal sale dispensing or giving away of drugs.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. TOLL asked unanimous consent to offer amendments at this time.

The SPEAKER. The amendments will be read by the Clerk for information.

Amend Sec. 1 (Sec. 12) page 3, lines 17, 18 and 19 by striking out "except in the case of conviction for a first offense the im—" in line 17 and all of lines 18 and 19.

Amend Sec. 1 (Sec. 12) page 5, lines 5 to 8 by striking out "for any" in line 5 and all of lines 6, 7 and 8.

Amend Sec. 1 (Sec. 12) page 5, lines 9 and 12 by striking out the bracket before "(a2)" in line 9 and after "section" in line 12.

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent to the offering of amendments at this time? Is there objection? The Chair hear none.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

Mr. TOLL. Mr. Speaker, I would like to explain the nature of these amendments affecting this very important law relating to narcotics.

When this bill first came out of the Senate Committee where it was introduced, the bill had been subjected to a public hearing and a number of prominent officials throughout the state appeared and testified concerning the nature of the problem. As the result of the hearing the bill first came out of the committee as Printer's No. 165. You will note from your history that this bill went through four changes. It is now Printer's No. 284.

Now, this bill, Printer's No. 165 when it first came out provided that there would be, in the case of the first offense relating to possession, and in cases of the first offense relating to sale, an opportunity by the jurist who imposed the sentence to suspend, or to reconsider, or to put the convicted person on parole.

Thereafter the bill was amended so that the bill now before you, Printer's No. 284, has deleted "in case of sale" that condition relating to first offenders. So that now the only person who is entitled to have a reconsideration or suspension of sentence or a parole by the judge who heard the case is the man who was found guilty of possession but not necessarily a man who was guilty of the sale.

This bill makes the penalties, as changed, quite severe, and properly so, in order to catch the offenders of the law engaged in such an insidious occupation as traffic in narcotics.

I want to call your attention to the fact that a first offender, both for possession and for sale, is fined $2,000 and sent to jail for two years at separate or solitary confinement at labor. Now this is mandatory, and the same mandatory provision applies to those who are caught on a second offense for possession, and the penalty is $5,000 fine and five years imprisonment. A third offense carries penalties of $7,500 fine and 10 years imprisonment.

As to first offenders in connection with cases of possession the court is permitted to suspend sentence or put the man on probation, but, in connection with those who sell or dispense or give away drugs, such privilege is not extended to the court. The penalties are quite severe: $5,000 for the first offense and 5 years in jail, both mandatory. For a second offense, $10,000 and 10 years in jail; for a third offense, $15,000 and to undergo imprisonment in separate or solitary confinement at labor for the term of his natural life. In other words, life imprisonment and $15,000 fine are the penalties for a third offense.

The section which permitted, in the case of first offenders, the right of the court to suspend the sentence or to put the man on probation has been omitted, which means that in cases of pharmacists and physicians who are guilty of technical violations they would have to be given the mandatory sentence, in case of a sale, of $5,000 fine and five years imprisonment.

I would like to read to you from the magazine issued by the Philadelphia Association of Retail Druggists who are opposed to the strenuous provision of this bill relating to sales. They are not opposed to a bill punishing narcotic dealers. They say that the association holds no brief for illegal narcotics traffic and is completely in favor of strong legislation affecting the illegal possession and illegal sales, because despite the exercise of good faith in professional practice, these pharmacists and these physicians could be guilty of certain technical violations as a result of which they would be subject to the stringent penalties that are made mandatory under this law.

I suppose all of you have received these bulletins. There is no point in my reading all of it, but I want to call your attention to something that happened in Philadelphia last week, in Kensington, which is the district represented by Messrs. Limper, Comer, Taylor and O'Brien. A Dr. Blood, 37 years of age, was acquitted after he had been charged with a technical violation of selling drugs to addicts to whom he gave the drugs merely for the purpose of temporary relief and then recommended them for proper treatment. Two hundred persons came into court to testify to the good faith in the practice of this particular M. D.

Now imagine the predicament he would be in if he were found guilty under this law and he would be obliged to receive a penalty of $5,000 fine and five years in jail. Imagine the position it would put the judges in were they not given the discretion to determine the case of the first offense which might justify a temporary suspension or a parole or some other type of relief which a judge could extend to the first offender.

The law removes from the judges the discretion which they normally should have, I think, and that is the reason I am offering these amendments. I feel if we were giving the judges the discretion in the case of a physician, we should give the judge the same discretion in the case of a sale, and that applies to first offenders only. It does not apply to any other type of violation.

Mr. DEVLIN. Mr. Speaker, briefly, I wish to rise to oppose these amendments. I testified at the public hearing about which the gentleman from Philadelphia speaks on behalf of the district attorney of Allegheny County, Edward C. Boyle. I advised the hearing board that Mr. Boyle was in favor of the law as it is now drawn and set forth in Printer's No. 284.

At the same time I talked to the district attorney of Philadelphia County, Mr. Victor Blanc. He advised me that he, too, is in favor of the law as it now appears.

The gentleman made some reference to the representatives of the druggists' association who spoke publicly at the hearing. I want the Members of the House to know that the district attorneys and the investigating officials dealing with narcotic traffic feel that this bill is a must in order that Pennsylvania does not become attractive to dope peddlers since surrounding states all have mandatory imprisonment for first offenders on conviction of sale of narcotics.

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, these amendments would destroy the very purpose of this bill and that would be to take away the mandatory imposition of sentence in the case of first offenders. That is the entire purpose of this bill.

All of the violations to which the gentleman from Philadelphia refers are those of federal violations and have no relation at all to any state law or any technical violations under this bill. We do not think the amendments are right and they should be voted down.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

They were not agreed to.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

BILL ON FINAL PASSAGE

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the consideration on final passage of Senate Bill No. 258, entitled:

An Act amending the act of April 9, 1929 (P. L. 343) entitled "The Fiscal Code" permitting corporate affidavits to be made by persons duly authorized by a board of directors and excluding certain days from the computation of certain tax periods

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

RECONSIDERATION OF VOTE

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, I move that the vote by which this bill passed third reading be reconsidered.

Mr. PETROSKY. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. READINGER asked unanimous consent to offer an amendment at this time.

The SPEAKER. The amendment will be read by the Clerk for information.

Amend the title, page 2, line 18, by inserting after "periods" and providing penalties for fraudulent report or return

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent to the offering of amendments at this time? Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

An Act relating to sewerage facilities in realty subdivisions imposing duties on the recorders of deeds and prescribing penalties.

RECONSIDERATION OF VOTE

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, I move that the vote by which this bill passed be reconsidered.

Mr. PETROSKY. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

It was agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Mr. READINGER asked unanimous consent to offer an amendment at this time.

The SPEAKER. The amendment will be read by the Clerk for information.

Amend Section 5, page 4, line 8, by inserting after "subdivision"

Nothing in this section shall be construed as preventing Department approval of individual on-lot disposal units in subdivisions

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent to the offering of an amendment at this time? Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendment?

Mr. AUKEK. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the Minority Leader.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Berks, Mr. Readinger, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. READINGER. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. AUKEK. Mr. Speaker, I would ask the Minority Leader just what these amendments do. It is pretty hard to get an understanding of them just from fast reading by the Clerk. It might make a good bill out of what I consider a bad one, I do not know.

Mr. READINGER. I agree with the gentleman but I do not have a copy of them before me. They are all up at the desk.

As I recall reading them, they reserve the right of the Department of Health to approve plot subdivisions as far as sewage is concerned. In other words, where the area being developed is not a large municipality, a rather small plot division, they want to retain the right to approve the layout of the sewage facilities. That, it seems to me, is all the amendments does.

Mr. AUKEK. Mr. Speaker, I would like further to interrogate the gentleman. I would ask him then, if the Health Department approved of a sewage disposal plant, say in a little community of five, which the bill provides for, which could be merely a septic tank servicing all five properties, would this make it mandatory that the municipality from then on would have to service that particular small sewage plant, if you could call such a thing a sewage plant?

Mr. READINGER. I could not answer that question, but I would like to read to the gentleman one short paragraph of a memo from Carl Mason, Director of the Bureau of Edinboro Mental Health, to Henry Leader, Legislative Secretary. It might help to explain these amendments. He is the one who requested these amendments for the bureau. He says this:

"It is often the case that subdivisions are developed with such large—

Mr. AUKER. Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman yield? I would ask the House to be a little quiet. This is a pretty important bill to a lot of municipalities and a lot of developers, and I have a hard time understanding—

The SPEAKER. The gentleman is absolutely correct, there is entirely too much disorder.

Mr. AUKER. Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I am sorry I interrupted the gentleman. I ask him to proceed.

Mr. READINGER. I will start again so the gentleman can get the full meaning.

"It is often the case that subdivisions are developed with such large lot sizes that it is economically unfeasible to provide public sewage for these homes. In addition, subdivisions isolated from municipal sewer systems and containing a small number of homes might find it difficult to provide satisfactory sewage treatment. If such subdivisions were to construct sewage treatment facilities, the municipal and state agencies might find it difficult to supervise the operation and maintenance of a large number of small treatment plants. For the above reasons, we believe that it is imperative that Senate Bill 603 permit the Department of Health to approve the installation of on lot disposal units in realty subdivisions.

Mr. AUKER. Mr. Speaker, may I further interrogate the gentleman? If these amendments carry, then it would be impossible for these small units to become a charge upon the municipality unless it was approved by the Department of Health here in Harrisburg, is that correct?

Mr. READINGER. No, I think the approval required would be the initial installation of these small treatment plants. They would have to be approved first by the Department of Health. The question of whether they would become a burden, or a charge, or connected with the municipal sewer plants later on would be determined by the municipalities operating and owning the sewage plants.

Mr. AUKER. A further interrogation: As I understand it then, these sewage plants in these small subdivision plots and so forth would have to be approved first by the Department of Health in Harrisburg before they could become a charge upon the municipality. Is that correct?

Mr. READINGER. No, before they could be built, they would have to be approved by the Department of Health, I suppose as to the manner of construction.

Mr. AUKER. Well, that would be the same thing. They would have to be approved before they are built, and then, of course, if the Department here would disapprove of it then they could not become a charge upon the municipality. Is that correct?

Mr. READINGER. No, I say they could become a charge later on, if they ever hooked into a municipal sewer plant. The only thing that is subject to the approval is the type of construction of these on lot disposal units in subdivisions. The question of whether they could hook in later to a big sewage system would be up to the municipality, I presume, not up to the Department of Health.

Mr. AUKER. Well, Mr. Speaker, as I understand the bill, it is not up to the municipality. It becomes a charge upon the municipality as soon as they are approved. It has to. As I understand the bill, they have to accept that. If they want to hook on, they have to accept it and they have to maintain them after that without any charge to the developer. Is that not true, under the bill now?

Mr. READINGER. I cannot enlighten the gentleman any more than I have, and I am afraid I have not done a very good job in doing that. If the gentleman would like this bill put over until tonight, until he can study these amendments and understand fully what they do, I haven't the slightest objection.

Mr. AUKER. I would like that, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. READINGER. Postpone it temporarily?

Mr. AUKER. That's right.

Mr. READINGER. I so request the Chair.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

BILL POSTPONED

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be placed on the third reading postponed calendar.

The motion was agreed to.

BILLS ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 208, entitled as follows:

An Act making an appropriation to the Trustees of the Pennsylvania State University for the use of the School of Agriculture for the erection of experimental mushroom houses and research in the communicable diseases of mushrooms and other places of the mushroom industry.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. FARABAUGH. Mr. Speaker, I would like to discuss this bill before us, Senate Bill 208.

I have heard very many remarks made in the House in debating problems and otherwise about what has been given to Agriculture during this session. If there is anyone here who would care to answer some questions about this bill, I desire to know some things about it, and I think the people here should know something about it.

This is a bill to appropriate $50,000 to the Department of Agriculture for mushroom research. Personally I do not like the fact that we are giving this money for a cause of this kind, which is of benefit to so few people. There has been a lot said here about keeping down expenses, keeping down costs and holding-the-line. Here is one of the places where only a very few people will ever benefit from this. It is not a food that is necessary in the diet. Of the 124,000 farmers in this state, I wonder if any of them who are going to benefit from this appropriation are really farmers.

I resent some of the statements which have been made here very recently about what agriculture has received. I want you to know this is not one of the appropriations which benefits agriculture. They have been cut short in many ways, in many places where there was money needed, but this is one place it is not needed, and I hope the Members will vote against it.

Mr. ADAMS. I would like to state the case for this bill, Mr. Speaker.

There are hundreds of mushroom growers in my district, the fourth legislative district of Berks County. It is a very important segment of the industry, the agricultural industry, of Berks County. I appreciate the fact that the gentleman who just spoke previously spoke in favor of holding the line in taxes, and I noted he was the only Democrat who voted to hold-the-line on the prison inspector deal that I debated two weeks ago.

I feel that the mushroom industry is entitled to this research fund, and I suggest and would appreciate support from Members on both sides of the aisle for this industry.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

CONCURRENT RESOLUTION

RECALLING HOUSE BILL No. 800 FROM THE GOVERNOR

Mrs. VARALLO offered a resolution which was read, considered and adopted as follows:

In the House of Representatives, June 17, 1957.

Resolved (if the Senate concur), that House Bill No. 800, Printer's No. 831, entitled "An act requiring certain records of the Commonwealth and its political subdivisions and of certain authorities and other agencies performing essential governmental functions to be open for examination and inspection by citizens of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania authorizing such citizens under certain conditions to make extracts copies photographs or photostats of such records and providing penalties for violations of this act," be recalled from the Governor for the purpose of amendment.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

RESOLUTION INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

By Messrs. VAUGHAN, BREON, GEORGE and BRUCKER (Concurrent) RESOLUTION No. 143.

In the House of Representatives, June 17, 1957.

The problem of hiring qualified personnel as guards at State penal and correctional institutions and as employees for the Pennsylvania Liquor Control Board has become acute.

Better pensions in the case of both classes of such employees will help to ease this problem; therefore be it

Resolved (the Senate concurring), That the Joint State Government Commission be directed to study and investigate the problem of increasing the pension benefits of guards employed at State penal and correctional institutions and employees of the Pennsylvania Liquor Control Board; and be it further

Resolved, That the Joint State Government Commission report to the next regular session of the General Assembly its findings and recommendations with drafts of legislation necessary to carry the recommendations into effect.

Referred to the Committee on Rules.

REPORTS FROM COMMITTEES

Mr. WILLAREDT from the Committee on Appropriations, reported as committed, Senate Bill No. 18, entitled:

An Act making an appropriation to the Department of Military Affairs for expenses of a civilian high-power rifle team to the annual High-Power National Rifle Matches presently held at Camp Perry, Ohio.

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk return the same to the Senate with information that the House of Representatives has passed the same without amendment.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 278, entitled:

An Act amending the act of April 9, 1929 (P. L. 177) entitled "The Administrative Code of 1929" regulating powers of the State Board of Public Assistance with respect to rules regulations and standards for eligibility for assistance.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the Majority Leader.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from McKean, Mr. Johnson, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. JOHNSON. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to ask the Majority Leader whether this bill, Senate Bill 278, has any meaning at all unless Senate Bill 279 passes?

Mr. JOHNSON. That is true, Mr. Speaker, these two are companion bills. Senate 278 really amends the Administrative Code to prepare the way for Senate 279, as I understand it.

Mr. READINGER. May I ask the gentleman whether 279, which is the bill following this one, changes the system concerning the administration of the Department of Public Assistance to provide in effect that the Department could not change the standards of assistance between sessions without the consent of the Joint State Government Commission Executive Committee and certain other chairmen of the House and Senate?

Mr. JOHNSON. That is correct. Senate 279 provides that during a session the Governor's office or his cabinet, the Department of Public Assistance would require permission of the General Assembly to increase standards. If we are out of session, the Joint State Government Executive board and so forth would give tacit approval to be ratified by the next session of the General Assembly.

Mr. READINGER. I thank the gentleman.

I am asking the Members of the House to vote against 278 inasmuch as we do not believe that 279 should pass, and without 279 being on the law books, 278 has no meaning. We will debate 279 when we get to that one.

Mr. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, what the Minority Leader has said is true. We need 278 to prepare the way for 279. I believe we will debate 279 when we get to it. Suffice to say now, both bills are highly meritorious and I am asking the Members on our side of the House to vote in favor of 278 and also 279.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk return the same to the Senate with information that the House of Representatives has passed the same without amendment.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 279, entitled:

An Act amending the act of June 24, 1937 (P. L. 2051) entitled "Public Assistance Law" regulating powers of the Department of Public Assistance with respect to rules regulations and standards for eligibility for assistance.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, I am rising to oppose this bill. I would like the Members to be sure they understand what it means.

It not only provides that if we are in session and the Public Assistance Department wants to make changes in rules, regulations and standards which would increase assistance benefits, extend the benefits to new classes of persons or otherwise increase the cost of assistance, that change would have to be submitted by the Governor in the form of a proposed resolution to this General Assembly. If the General Assembly did not disapprove that within 30 days, then those changes would go into effect.

If that were all that was in this bill it would not be too bad. But starting on page 3, line 11, it says, "in the interim between regular sessions any such change unless disapproved at the preceding regular session may be proposed to and may become temporarily effective with the consent of a majority of the chairmen of the Appropriations Committees of both Houses and the members of the Executive Committee of the Joint State Government Commission acting collectively."

In other words, when we adjourn in June of this year and do not return for a full year and a half, no matter what the emergency might be as far as public assistance recipients are concerned, it would be impossible to change any standards whatsoever until sometime after we came back here in 1959. I say this is an unwarranted interference with executive discretion and it is a very dangerous thing to do. We could have a very serious period of inflation in that period of a year and a half, especially in connection with the cost of food and shelter. If we did, the result of a bill of this kind would be to let a small group of people decide whether the emergency was great enough to give the people relief or whether they should not be given relief.

I say it is something that should be left to the discretion of the administrative branch of the government which we have set up and created to handle matters of this kind, and should not be turned over to a group of legislators or any other persons who are inexperienced in these matters.

I say this is handcuffing the Department of Public Assistance. It is not warranted by any facts that have occurred in the past, and it is a dangerous precedent to set up.

I think we should vote against this bill.

Mr. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, our feeling with respect to this bill is this. Our Appropriations Committee tries very carefully in the session and before we adjourn to appropriate an amount which it feels will fairly and adequately provide for public assistance during the interim.

What we do not like is, after we get out of here, to have the Public Assistance Board sit around in a meeting and say, "Oh, we have to raise this and we have to raise that and we have to do this and we have to do that." As a result, we come in here in the next session of the General Assembly and they say, "Well, we are awfully sorry, but we are $15 million short."

I believe if we stick to the standards that are set up at the time we make the appropriation, there will not be any deficiency. During the interim, if the Joint State Government Commission Executive Board and the respective committee chairmen named are given a proposition that is an emergency, or need to avert hardship and virtual starvation because of an unusual rise in the cost of living, and a raise in the grants must be made, I am sure that the bipartisan Executive Board and the committee chairmen would go along on a reasonable proposition, and would earnestly recommend to the next session of the General Assembly to back them up on what they had agreed on with the Public Assistance Board.

It is a part of the watch dog plan of the Legislative body, this body, to keep a tab on moneys after we leave here. We do not object to their spending what has been appropriated, and I am sure the Executive Board would not disagree on reasonable increases if necessary during the interim. But we have heard and heard and heard that the minute we leave this General Assembly, we lose all contact with the departments and they spend the money and raise standards any way they feel like. This is a sincere, reasonable attempt to have some control over the matter of spending after we have left the Halls of the General Assembly.

We ask the Members to vote "aye" on the proposal.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, this is an extremely interesting bill, and the Majority Leader makes a very interesting but naive Defense of the measure. He talks about a watch dog. I am in favor it. But I say to him if he wants to have a watch dog, why does he appoint a puppy? The watch dog is this House, this General Assembly.

He talks about the calamities that may happen and do happen sometimes when we clear out of here. Well, that is the result of a sine die resolution. We do not have to assassinate our power, but if we assassinate our power by means of a sine die resolution, the power naturally returns to the hands of the administration.

Now any Governor with half a brain would be inclined, I am sure, to veto this measure. But it does raise some interesting questions and I would not be averse, personally, to having this bill passed and signed by the Governor for the purpose of ascertaining once and for all the degree to which this House can delegate functions after it become dead. You have one course that you can pursue while we are in being, and there is a very grave question as to whether the course you can pursue when you are in being, when you are a House ready to serve, you can pursue when you attempt to delegate power after you are dead.

I would like to see that question carried to the Supreme Court for a final decision because, in my opinion, we just cannot do it. You cannot take a group of this House and after you depart, clothe them with the full power inherent only in this House. If we want to be correct within the amenities of legislation we will defeat this bill. If we want to see what the Governor might do, and if he did go along with the House, what the Supreme Court would say regarding that power to delegate authority, I think that would be a very, very interesting outcome. I think the Majority Leader recognizes that this bill raises very, very deep and fundamental constitutional issues.

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, one further word on this bill. I think the Majority Leader and the members of the majority party well realize that most of the deficiencies for public assistance with which we have been faced in recent years have not come as a result of changing standards between the sessions, but have come about because the public assistance budget was deliberately short-changed during the previous session. Whenever it was necessary to find money to balance the budget, $10 or $15 million or $20 million was simply arbitrarily chopped off the appropriation for public assistance with the full knowledge that when we came back a year and a half later, we would supply that deficiency with a deficiency appropriation bill.

There is no need for this bill, in my opinion. There has been no abuse of discretion of the Public Assistance Department to my knowledge. When the changes were made in standards, they were made only after a great deal of pressure, and high increase in cost of living, to see that the people who were receiving public assistance would not practically starve to death.

This is a dangerous experiment and it is not based on any need whatsoever.

On the question recurring.

Shall the bill pass finally?

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk return the same to the Senate with information that the House of Representatives has passed the same without amendment.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 311, entitled:

An Act regulating the budgeting and expenditures by departments boards commissions and agencies of the Commonwealth with respect to appropriations and allocations for specific purposes and prescribing penalties.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill ass finally?

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the Majority Leader.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from McKean, Mr. Johnson, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. JOHNSON. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. READINGER. I desire to ask the gentleman to explain this "handcuff" bill?

Mr. JOHNSON. This bill has the power of a Great Dane behind it, not a puppy dog. This bill requires that 30 days before a particular quarter, the department head will have to submit to the executive board, the Joint State Government Commission and the Chairmen of the Appropriations Committees of the House and Senate who shall be deemed to be additional members of such executive committee for the purpose of this act, their prospective budget for the next quarter.

If the Executive Committee determines that the budget conforms to the amount of the appropriation and the time and purpose for which it was made, the board will approve a prospective expenditure for the quarter. Otherwise if the expenditures are unreasonable and out of line and, considering the appropriation as a whole, are unexplained, the board will refuse to put their stamp of approval on the excessive appropriation if they deem it excessive within the facts presented.

It is another attempt, I agree with you, on the part of the General Assembly, during the interium and also while we are in session, to find out what is going on in the several departments. It is prompted by large expenditures in the last months of the biennium. For instance, in the Department of Revenue, where they were spending a normal amount of around half a million a month, last month they spent over two million dollars.

I think you will find that was true in quite a number of departments on the Hill. It is just an attempt to equalize appropriations, to keep down deficiencies, and to live within the budget.

Mr. READINGER. May I ask the gentleman whether during the sixteen years previous to Governor Leader's administration any legislation of this type was ever introduced in this House or in the Senate?

Mr. JOHNSON. I would say, Mr. Speaker, that this legislation is unique as far as this General Assembly is concerned.

Mr. READINGER. Would the gentleman admit that this is purely a political bill then?

Mr. JOHNSON. No. Mr. Speaker. I would say this, that when we were in the majority, the Republican General Assembly was just as much in the dark as to expenditures as we are today when we are in the minority.

I am pretty sure that is true of you folks on the other side. I do not believe you know what is transpiring on Capitol Hill, because of the way our state government is set up by reason of statutory law with a powerful Chief Executive. You just do not know what is going on. You just take a budget every two years and feel that, well, this is it. You have no check.

Mr. READINGER. May I ask the gentleman, whether we did not very recently pass a bill which requires the administrative branch of the government to furnish us periodically with information of this type?

Mr. JOHNSON. I believe that is correct. That is a House Bill over in the Senate and it has been drastically amended, I believe. I think it is in front of us now for concurrence.

Mr. READINGER. But that bill does, as I recall, provide that the budget office must furnish the Appropriations Committee chairman and the Joint State Government Commission with information concerning the quarterly allocations of the funds appropriated to the various departments, does it not?

Mr. JOHNSON. I believe that is correct and this bill is supposed to be a companion bill to that.

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, this, in my opinion, is purely a political bill aimed again at handcuffing the executive branch of the government.

I have before me a memo from Mrs. Horting, Secretary of the Public Assistance Department, in which she says that one of the members of her staff said it would be like budgeting the casualties in a coming battle and dismissing any officer who has exceeded his quota.

This bill would be particularly unworkable in the Department of Public Assistance since situations do arise from time to time in which there are heavy layoffs in industry with the resulting rapid increase in the assistance load.

The head of the department would be in the untenable situation of either denying assistance to needy persons or violating the approved budget and, hence be liable to charges of misdemeanor in public office.

I have another memo from Harrington Adams, Deputy Attorney General, to Henry Leader, Legislative Secretary, dated May 13, in which he says among other things:

This bill makes no allowances for emergencies or situations beyond the control of a department head. This is an attempt to put into a straight jacket the expenditure of state funds. But this is practically unworkable.

"The Department of Military Affairs cannot tell 30 days in advance what disasters are going to occur.

"The Department of Health cannot foretell what epidemics may occur.

"The Department of Public Assistance cannot predict a depression or recession.

The Department of Property and Supplies does not know in advance what the bids will be for the construction of buildings or other projects.

The Commonwealth of Massachusetts is, no doubt, expending funds far beyond its expectations in fighting the forest fires, and the same situation has happened, is happening, and will happen, in Pennsylvania.

There is another memo here from Andrew Bradley, the Budget Secretary, in which he says the following:

It is my opinion that the executive branch may very well furnish the legislative with information as to expenditures but that it very definitely should not permit itself to be placed in the position of being subject to its approval or disapproval on a periodical basis as is contemplated in this bill. I believe that when appropriations are made by the General Assembly it is the sole responsibility of the Governor to administer the functions for which funds are provided to him subject, of course, to the laws of the Commonwealth and that adequate safeguards exist in the fiscal setup against improper expenditures.

Then he goes on to speak about the extreme in flexibility which would be created by the passage of this bill.

I say, if this is good legislation, I am wondering why it was not proposed sometime during the sixteen years of continued Republican administration. This again is just an unwarranted interference with the ordinary and proper discretion of the Executive.

When we make appropriations to the various departments for certain functions we expect those things to be carried out and that the money be used only for those functions. One of the functions of the Auditor General is to see to it that money appropriated for one purpose is not used for some other purpose.

I think we have had, and do have now proper safeguards to prevent misuse or diversion of state appropriations. This goes away beyond that. It says in effect to a department, once you have made up your budget and submitted it to us, if you have made a mistake or circumstances change radically, you are stuck with it. You simply have to stay within that amount of allocation or somebody will go to jail. This is a very vicious and a bad piece of legislation.

While the motive back of it is probably good and sensible, it is certainly not the right way to do it. This bill should be defeated.

Mr. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, in answer to the gentleman, I would say that for any given quarter this bill does not say that the appropriations for a quarter must exactly equal the adequate share of the money for the quarter, as I understand it.

We merely pass on whether the budget conforms to the amount of the appropriation and the time and purpose for which it was made. I would say that it is very, very flexible as far as the executive board clause. Suppose the Department of Public Assistance would say we are in the next four months facing a critical situation of unemployment. We have had a big strike and we are going to need more money. I am sure the board would say, All well and good. That is within the contemplation of the General Assembly, and would agree to the excess appropriation.

I think what we intend to do is again to stop unreasonable, unwarranted and unnecessary squandering of money simply to get rid of the appropriations.

Several Members, since the end of the biennium, have reported to us that our state institutions are stocked with things in an abundance never before seen, with all kinds of food and equipment, bed clothing, linens, that the stuff has just been poured into these hospitals. The reason for that is because of great spending in the last few months in order to get rid of appropriations.

We are for reasonable, sound, sensible, sane and orderly expenditure of the state money, not a wild and
